And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. KAMYK asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Welfare to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I know that in the last few months as the Minority Leader and as the spokesman for his Majesty's loyal opposition, I have not had too much to say. We have been running along on a fairly even keel here, but of late there are some things that have been coming into the public Press that particularly irked me and a good many on this side of the House. I think I am going to take time right now, on unanimous consent, to give vent to some of my feelings and some of the feelings of a good number on this side.

The thing that I particularly want to talk about here today is the excerpt from a speech of His Majesty, the Governor, delivered Saturday evening in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City. The paragraph that I am particularly annoyed about is where the Governor says:

As for my part, I have tried, in every action and in every word, to demonstrate my belief that Pennsylvania's future cannot be secured by a state government guided by a philosophy of politics as usual. I have tried to emphasize this conviction at every opportunity, despite the tedious and sometimes tormenting months of indecision and delay in a Legislature of divided political persuasions.

Mr. Speaker, what I want to point out is, I think that statement is absolutely not true, and I am going to point out to this House why I think so.

The innuendo is there that the Governor in his office, on his white horse, the white charger, is doing great, the only people that are wrong is the Legislature. He is not playing politics-as-usual, we are doing it. And, by inference, the Republicans are doing it in the House and Senate.

Let me tell the Members of the House this: Why is this Session still in progress? First of all, we came here in January and the Governor gave us the largest budget in the history of Pennsylvania, to the tune of $1.907 billion. The Governor asked us to finance for him the largest deficit in the history of Pennsylvania, the sum of $178 million, which has been boiled down to $140 million. It is history that he asked for $400 million in new taxes which is the largest single new tax bite in all the history of Pennsylvania asked to be shouldered by the people of this state.

He presented us with a Highway budget totaling $913 million; he demanded an additional penny gas tax, and he spread word all over Pennsylvania that unless he got the penny gas tax we would have to shut down a portion of the construction on the Shortway. I tried at this microphone to point out the fallacy of that argument, that there was plenty of money in the budget for the Shortway, particularly when, on Wednesday, after the hearing of this House Committee on Monday, Park Martin said we have found $35 million more.

What have we done here so far as the Republican party is concerned for the people of this state? The reason we are still in session? You know by staying here and studying that budget, and by urging the Governor to practice economy and austerity, 'hat deficit was boiled down to $140 million. Had we immediately jumped through the traces when the Governor snapped his whip, saying give me $400 million in taxes, the people today would be paying almost $100 million more in taxes than would have been necessary.

All right, the Senate tried to cut the budget by a modest little sum of $56 million, but finally through conferences and through being clobbered, you might say, by the newspapers all over the state that they were destroying the welfare and so forth of Pennsylvania, we just came up with a modest cut of $44 million. I grant you that is only a savings to the people of about $82 million, but $82 million is a lot of money, and let me tell you the people would be paying that money, had we, the Republican party, stood up and passed that tax program on a bi-partisan basis like the Governor wanted us to do early in March.

Have we practiced politics as usual on this side of the House? I will say we have not. We gave you people votes for the tax program, for the four percent sales tax. There is no question about it. Of course, I am getting slaughtered up in my county for it by Democratic employes all over the county who are saying to the people in my county, see what Albert Johnson has done to you, he put that four percent sales tax on you. I think the Governor, if he were not playing politics as usual, would go through the state and say, the Republican party saved my hide, you people lay off the loyal people on the Republican side who grabbed me up by my boot straps and saved the day for me.

All right, we gave you votes for your non-preferred appropriations and gave them very little scrutiny here in this House. You needed a two-thirds vote and we did not question what you were doing in all those different categories. I say that we have not been playing politics as usual and we only slightly cut this huge budget, as I say, to the tune of $42 million.

We, in this House, have given you votes here for your entire program. There hardly has been a day that you had 106 votes, and you could not move a single thing through this House if Republicans on this side had not stood up and voted. We have not been playing politics as usual as charged by the Governor. We have been right down the line with you and have been working with you with our shoulders to the wheel, even though our newspapers back home are criticizing us Republicans for going along with everything, practically, that you have wanted. Of course, there was absenteeism on your side that by and large made it necessary for us to furnish votes.

Finally, we did not ask you to bring your people in on stretchers, just remember that. That is a sore point with us, and when the Governor says he is not playing politics as usual, I want to point out that we have not done it either. I think the Republican party has displayed the most remarkable branch of cooperation and bi-partisanship that I have seen in this General Assembly in my seven terms.

Let us look at something else. I challenge the Governor to show how he has not been guided by a politics as usual philosophy right here in this House. Let us just see some of the things you people have passed here. We got that big brochure put out by Mr. Davlin on how Pennsylvania has become a great state, with a wonderful business climate. Come to Pennsylvania because you have a friendly crowd here that are running the state now, they say. Of course, I may make a speech on that before this Session is over and show you how this so-called good business climate is the result of developing the principles of the Republican party and the things that we have sponsored and promoted in this state. One of the reasons for the good business climate is because of the Republicans and in spite of you people on the other side.

Let us see what you have tried to do to business right here in this House this Session. I know what I am going to say probably is not very smart politically, but what have you done to the businessman this Session? What have you done about this great business climate? Have you been playing politics as usual? You take the coal industry. If you take the bills that you people would have put through the House had you waited until you had 106 votes here to put them through, you would have practically crippled the coal industry. The little small coal miner you say has to have an assistant foreman. You would have practically made small coal operations impossible through that bill which would require four different consents before they could have electrical machinery in the coal mines and would practically do away with automation in the coal mines. I could bring you a list of the bills that would practically put the coal operator of this state, the small coal miner, on his knees.

All right, let us take the railroads. I know that it is probably not, as I say, smart to talk about the feather-bedding bill that you had here as far as the railroads are concerned, the full crew bill, the bill that would require about five thousand crossings to have watchmen and so forth. That would cost the railroads in this state upward of $150 million a year, just for those bills alone. Let me tell you, the coal industry and the railroad industry—I am just picking them out—are industries in this state that are practically down on their knees and did not deserve the treatment that you people tried to pull over on them this Session.

How about the original sales tax bill that came out of committee, the one that you had to send back to Committee to have amended. That bill destroyed practically every amendment that was ever written into the sales tax which would have made life possible for the businessman in this state, and you know it. I know you disavowed the bill and said you did not know it was written the way it was written, but when Governor Lawrence was in Philadelphia and said, "I am going to make Pennsylvania a great business state," that bill was on this calendar which would have practically ruined the business community of this state and put us in a terribly unfavorable business situation so far as Ohio and the other states were concerned.

Let us say something about the UC bill. I know we all voted for it. It was the smart thing to do politically. We, in our Republican platform, promised to up the benefits from $40 to $42 a week. We were agreed on that. But the newspapers all over the state said, you have to do something to get the chiselers off Unemployment Compensation. You have to make a real Unemployment Compensation bill out of this, rather than one for chiselers, the double-dippers and pensioners and people like that who are costing the fund so much money.

All right, the Governor has fought for it, pushed the bill, had men from Labor and Industry here on the side walls pushing and fighting for that bill. I am not saying that it is not a smart bill, and that it is a clever bill politically. We can go to labor and say what a great job we did on the bill. But the fact remains that we have upped the Unemployment Compensation rates on industry and it is going to cost $75 million extra per year for industry in this state to operate. Maybe it was smart; I do not know. The bill was a political bill, no question about it. I grant you we voted for it on this side. I have an editorial in a newspaper here, criticizing the General Assembly for that particular bill. I say it was politics as usual.

What has happened with respect to appointments? Do not get me wrong, I am not asking for any appointments for one single Republican. We thrashed that out in our caucus early this spring. But I know the Governor says, I am not playing politics as usual, but outside of his Cabinet appointments, which I think by and large are working out fine, and a few other instances, the appointments that he has made to major jobs in this state have been for party workers, his party's loyal people, ward healers and people like that. Rewarding the people! Some of the appointments have been covered in the newspapers now for the last couple of years, in an uncompromising manner, but they are good politicians and it was a smart thing for the Governor to make them.

Of course, we have nothing to do with confirmations. Those confirmations are made over in the Senate. That is not our business here. I am just pointing out that they show there is politics as usual being practiced by the Governor's office.

What about these so-called tedious and tormenting months of indecision of this Session? There has not been any tormenting indecision here. We have had a huge budget to contend with, and I say this administration will go down in history as giving the people the highest budget in history and the highest new tax program in all the history of Pennsylvania.

This was something that could not be solved and could not be resolved in just a few seconds' time. We had to be here to discuss those things and go over them, fight the thing through, decide what was right for the state, and as far as the Governor is concerned, you hear it all over.

I will say one thing about Governor George Leader. He was for that mental health program. He put his teeth into it. He stuck to it. He fought for it. He campaigned for United States Senator on it. He had a principle he was fighting for. He stood for something. I want you to tell me what does that front office stand for that would give us something to put our teeth into so that we could have a quick, short, business-like Session? I say there is no particular program, no particular outstanding thing that this administration stands for. I say in that regard you can take your hat off to Governor Leader. He had some things that he stood out for markedly and he fought for them all the way through, even after he was running for the United States Senate.

Now how about the schools? The Governor gave us a budget for schools. We are here struggling with House Bill 1108. We have not got the money for it, that is true. The original budget provided more money for welfare, for agriculture, for labor, for health and for everything except the schools of Pennsylvania that needed the money. I grant you that he provided money for the normal increase in teaching units and things like that, but there was not a dime for the sorely oppressed school districts, many of which are pretty much on the ropes as far as finances are concerned. And now, in the dying days of this Session the schools are here. There are a bunch of them here in town today, they have been up to my office, they have been up to Mr. McCann's office. They are worrying about where they are going to get the money to run their schools, there is no money in the budget and apparently the Governor says there is no money in his tax program for it. The money is spent. The money is allocated. I say the Governor has been playing politics as usual with this school situation. We have not been doing it, but these months of indecision have not been our fault. We should have had some real strong leadership from the front office. He should have said, this is something you can do, and, if you do not like this try this, but he should be a leader, come out and show us what to do and we could have been out of here long ago. To blame the Legislature for tormenting indecision, I say is absolutely wrong, and I am here at this microphone today registering my indignation to it.

We are coming in on another Session next year. I see where the Governor is going to come before us and give us a message on the state of the Commonwealth. I think he should come before us. He should give us a message, tell us what he thinks ought to be done in the Session of 1960. If there are any deficiency appropriations that he is putting in by executive order, we should know about them. If there are any appropriations that are going to be in excess of what were necessary for this annual Session, he should come in with that information. If there is more money needed for the schools, in his opinion, he should say so and he should tell us how he thinks we should get the money. We need leadership in that front office so we can have short business-like Sessions.

So in answer to that statement of the Governor that he has not practiced politics as usual, I want you to point out to me one instance where he has not practiced politics as usual. He has no liaison with the state Senate. He has had to use this type of squeeze play in order to get through what he wanted. That is what we face here today. There have not been moments of indecision as far as we are concerned. We have struggled with tremendous problems. We, the Republican party gave you votes. We stood up like men, I think we have done our job and I think it is time that the Governor of Pennsylvania stood up and said so.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in the beginning of the gentleman's speech he referred to "His Majesty, the Governor." I believe the Governor would be the first to disclaim any royalty or monarchic privileges. His Excellency, the Governor, so far as I know has not claimed up to now that Pennsylvania is his kingdom, nor has he claimed the right of king over the General Assembly, which the gentleman seems to lament.

We have had a number of editorials written within the last few days from which I want to read excerpts. So they will not be my words, but the words of people and editorial writers who have not always been in our corner.

In commenting on the actions of the Republican Senate the Press has said that in lacking confirmation or refusing to confirm or bring before the Senate for confirmation, the Senate has been playing politics at its worst.

The SPEAKER. Disguise it. The Chair counsels the gentleman by animadversion to refer to the Senate.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I thank the Chair.

We are concerned with the length of our Session. We are concerned for some reason as to the causes for the length of our Session. Why has it been drawn out? Has it been drawn out because the leadership of this House and the leadership of the Senate could not sit down and amicably work out the conflicts in our minds on various questions of legislation? I do not think that has been the case. I believe there are a few issues which stand between us and the Senate which could be resolved very quickly if other considerations, if politics, were not standing in the way of those decisions. We have political considerations, in my opinion, holding up the adjournment of this House.

I said in the very beginning of this Session that we, on this side of the House, felt we were elected as representatives of the people and that our first obligation was to serve the Commonwealth and to serve the people of the Commonwealth rather than to serve our political parties. I said we, on this side of the House, would be willing to accept the suggestions and cooperation from the other side of the House.

I think, by and large, we have received a measure of cooperation in this House from the Republican party. As has been pointed out by the Minority Leader, there were many occasions when we needed votes from the other side and we hoped that those votes would be forthcoming as good Pennsylvanians, as representatives of all the people of the Commonwealth, and not as pure party representation.

We have reasons which I believe are holding up the adjournment of the Session wholly apart from the ordinary legislative matters with which we have to deal. Those matters, I believe, are resolved around the confirmations of the Governor's appointees. Sometime ago there were in the national government certain confirmations which were denied, and before that action was taken, the matter was aired thoroughly. The Committees met and they brought before the Committee and before the public in general the reasons for lack of confirmation. But what do we have here in Pennsylvania? We have had numerous appointments made to important commissions, to important bodies, which are part of the functioning of our state government, and what did we see? We have seen a complete inaction insofar as confirmation is concerned. Now, in the dying days of the Session, apparently without reason, no action will be taken on some and others will be perhaps acted upon. I am wondering whether or not the prolonging of this Session, and many people seem to think so, and the keeping of this House in Session until January 4 is not due to any difficulty in understanding each other on questions of legislation, because I think we could resolve those differences through quick appointments of conference committees and those questions could all be resolved. But, in the background there is a political question which we cannot resolve and that political question seems to be, at least in some part, as to whether or not appointments of the Governor to the Public Utility Commission should be confirmed.

The appointees, and I refer to this because the gentleman in his remarks also questioned the Governor's appointees as being political hacks and ward healers and so forth. I do not remember the exact words, but in terms to that effect, and I think therefore we should at least in several instances point out some of the qualifications and the manner in which some of these appointees are regarded in their community.

For example, we have suggested to be a member of the Public Utility Commission, Robert Anthony of the city of Altoona, a man who has just completed his term as mayor of Altoona. He is a member of the Bar of Blair County, and the Bar of Blair County consists of people who should have knowledge concerning the integrity and the ability of this particular gentleman. The Bar of that county has forwarded to the Governor and to this Legislative body a resolution unanimously endorsing that gentleman; a resolution pointing out that he is eminently qualified as a member of the Bar, that he had trial practice; that he is respected in his community. Apparently there is no mark on that man's character, and yet we have seen no action.

Likewise, the name of a gentleman from Lackawanna was submitted. He is also a member of the Bar, and the Bar Association of his county also gave him an endorsement, a recommendation, and in that resolution said that he was a man of good character.

It is important to the people of Pennsylvania that we have a functioning Public Utilities Commission, and it is important that it function not merely on the basis of a simple quorum. We have only three members remaining on that Commission, which is a simple quorum, and so long as they can agree unanimously the Commission can act, but if there should be an additional vacancy, or if there should be dissention, then we would have a commission which cannot operate because it lacks an operating quorum in case of contest.

I think it is an important function to the people of Pennsylvania, and I believe that those appointments should be brought before the public. If there is any reason that these men do not deserve the appointment, or if they are, as Mr. Johnson has suggested at least in some cases, nothing more than ward healers and politicians and that the Governor's appointments are bad, then I call upon the opposition to point out the defects in the characters, point out the defects in the ability of these men and vote them down. If they are not capable, if they are not honorable, certainly they should not be on the Commission and we would not expect them to be. But it is sad, it is sad, that we here in the House have to be kept in Session because questions that could be resolved are not resolved simply because other matters are holding up adjournment.

I think the Press is probably correct when they say that this is politics in its worst form.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 773, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" prohibiting the closing of schools or departments during the school term and providing for the payment of the salaries of professional employes in such cases.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, what happens to a school that is destroyed by fire or is partly destroyed by fire, what happens to those salaries that are supposed to continue to be paid?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, as a general rule, when a school is destroyed by fire, the teachers are not affected in any way because the school district must of necessity make arrangements to continue the schooling in some other type of building, whatever the arrangements may be, and the professional employes or teachers continue right on working in the new area I believe.

For example, we had two major fires this year one in Bucks County where a school house burned down and one other one, and nothing happened to any of the teachers. They went right on working and were paid.

Mr. HEAVEY. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912) entitled "Bakery Law" changing certain definitions further regulating marking and labeling conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KAMYK asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 6, line 6 by striking out "THE" and inserting: "Upon request to the department and upon its finding of fact that certain requirements of this section are not necessary for the protection of the consumer, the department may grant exemptions from the"

Amend Sec. 2, page 6, lines 17 to 20; page 7, lines 1 to 4 by striking out all of said lines.

Amend Sec. 3, page 7, line 10, by striking out "3" and inserting: "2."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. KAMYK asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 2, second line of Title, by inserting after "Agriculture": "authorizing certain actions by counties"

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 5), page 7, by inserting between lines 4 and 5:

"Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent counties, having boards of health created under the act of August 24, 1951 (P. L. 1304), known as the "Local Health Administration Law," from enacting ordinances or promulgating rules and regulations which impose restrictions or require either licensing or inspection or both in addition to the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations promulgated under the provisions of this act."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman to explain these amendments.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I can explain the one set of amendments, but for the other set of amendments I will yield to the Majority Leader.

I understand the gentleman wants the amendments explained with which I am familiar.

Mr. TOMPKINS. There was a set of amendments that has already been approved. That is the one which grants the right to the department to give exemptions on the wrapping feature, labeling.

Now there is another set of amendments which refers to the right of County Health Boards to set up rules and regulations contrary to the provisions of the Act and the rules and regulations of the department. That is the one concerning which I am asking for an explanation.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, that set of amendments excludes certain counties in the state from the provisions of this bill. Those are the counties that have health departments and have already set up regulations pertaining to bakeries.

Allegheny County is one of those counties that has a health department and it has regulations that have been working in good order in Allegheny County, and we want to keep it that way.

For that reason we are offering amendments to forget those regulations in Allegheny County.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, should we approve this set of amendments, in my opinion, we should throw the baking industry into utter confusion for this reason: If we give county boards of health the right to make rules and regulations of their own contrary to the provisions of this bill, I think we would find there are many bakeries with big branches in the city of Pittsburgh which distribute in nine or ten different surrounding counties. If every one of those nine or ten surrounding counties should see fit to set up a separate set of regulations in connection with baked goods, I think you can see the confusion into which it would throw the baking industry.

The same thing would apply to Philadelphia. The same thing would apply up in the northern tier. I know that bakeries from New York State cover eight or ten counties in the northern tier. If the county health unit in each county set up a separate set of regulations, for all practical purposes, you are going to nullify this legislation. You might better kill the bill rather than to permit every county in the state to set up its own regulations by ordinance or otherwise contrary to the provisions of this bill.

For that reason I am asking that the Members of the House vote down these amendments.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of these amendments.

It is not the first time that we have tried to classify counties because they have been classified in legislation on numerous occasions. In this particular instance there are four counties involved and they have good health departments and they have good regulations as far as food is concerned, including bread. We do not want to fool around with these regulations. We would like to keep them that way. Perhaps the bill will improve as far as the other counties are concerned, but Allegheny County and the other counties would like to be let alone and they would like to protect their present health regulations.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman if there is anything in the present law or in this law, if passed, that would prevent any county or municipality from adding to the state regulations if they so desired.

Mr. KAMYK. Would the gentleman repeat the question, please.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Is there anything in this law, if passed, or the present law that would prevent Allegheny County or any other municipality from adding health regulations to our state regulations if their department so desires.

Mr. KAMYK. Not to the four counties that have health units to take care of that particular phase.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Then, Mr. Speaker, if that is the case now, what is the point in exempting any one district from this law?

Mr. KAMYK. We are not quite exempting them. We are letting them keep certain regulations in addition to this.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, does the law not give you that privilege now?

Mr. KAMYK. It gives it now, but under this bill unless our counties are given the privilege of keeping the same regulations under this particular bill that they were set up under, the bill, if passed, would supersede anything else.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Thank you, Mr. Kamyk.

Mr. Speaker, I have no desire to oppose any health regulations that make food better or safer for the public, but I cannot see why this is not good for them if it is good for the rest of the state. I cannot see any reason why they should be exempt from any part of it when they can add to it when they so desire.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, as I consider these amendments, I first have to consider and I think the whole House has to consider what is the best thing for the consumer.

In those counties that have health departments, and I specifically refer to Allegheny County, the county health department has in the past set down certain rules and regulations that bakeries must abide by. The reason they do this is to protect the consumer.

Under the present law and under the present set-up in the Agriculture Department, our rules and regulations in Allegheny County are a little bit better and if they protect the consumer a little bit more, then why should we not use our own regulations? It is for these reasons that these amendments were put in.

Without these amendments the powers that we have already taken upon ourselves in the local county health department in regulating the various bakeries will become null and void; they will depend solely upon the powers and the rules set down by the Agricultural Department. It is felt that certainly a local bakery is a local issue, and if we through better policing powers and through better health standards can improve and better the product, help and protect the consumer, that is what we ought to do. For these reasons I would ask the House to support the amendments.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, this is not the first time we have had a food bill before this House. The bill as it originally was presented to the House and to the Committee was a good bill. But some powers, presumably somebody beyond the state, cut out on page 7, lines 5 to 9, and added the section which is now to be amended by this new amendment.

I would like to say to this House that the food laws of Pennsylvania are reputed to be among the best in the country, even exceeding the provisions of some of the acts covering food and drugs in the Federal department. The Department of Agriculture has always had top men in the departments of food and chemistry to enforce these Acts. The truth of the matter is that the contention back of this bill, and which was also true of the other bills, was this big argument about artificial coloring of food.

They will not come out openly and say so in this bill, but the items on line 5 to 9 were presumably cut out so that the department would not have any power to look into that matter.

Personally, I do not think there is any call for this amendment. I think if you want to do anything at all pass the bill as is without amendment. Pittsburgh and Allegheny County are now functioning under these health regulations, and I do not suppose, nor do I have any knowledge that the department has tried to stop them. I think this House should not approve these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, ninety-six Members having voted in the affirmative and seventy-two in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SANTA CLAUS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has been informed that we have a very distinguished visitor with us today. The Chair would request our friend to come to the rostrum and greet the members, the boys and girls of the House of Representatives.

The Chair takes a great deal of pleasure in presenting to you Santa Claus.

(Gifts were presented to various Members of the House)

BIRTHDAYS OF MEMBERS

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, today is a special occasion for three Members of this House. Today is December 15th. It is the birthday of Dr. Boies, Sam Floyd and Nick Kornick, all members of this House.

I think it would be appropriate to take care of the birthdays of these three Members of the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Floyd.

Mr. FLOYD. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, this is really a pleasant surprise. I have not told anyone in the House that today is my birthday, so evidently the Speaker of the House or some other leader of this House, has a very good system in tracking down the birthdays of the Members of this House. I think they should be commended for a job well done.

I also would like to thank Mr. Ominsky, the Chief Clerk, and also Mr. Filo for the wonderful cards they sent me. Of the 210 Members of the House, it seems as though some of them would probably forget the birthdays of some of the Members, but evidently they have a very good system in the House. Again, I want to thank each and every one of you.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Kornick.

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, I thought this was going to be a secret until about 2:00 o'clock when I went to the mail box and found a card there. I never told my colleagues or anyone else about this being my birthday, but nevertheless that man McCann keeps a watch on everything. So, I want to thank the Members very kindly for singing "Happy Birthday." Thank you very kindly.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Boies.

Mr. BOIES. I was out getting coffee, Mr. Speaker, so you know that I did not expect it. I want to thank everybody. I have been around here a long time and it seems sometimes as though it was too long.

I want to assure the Members that my years spent here have been probably the most rewarding and gratifying part of my life. I certainly appreciate the associations and the friendships, and I thank each and every one of you.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. CURWOOD asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Fisheries to meet during the session of the House.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1830 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. McCANN offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 15, 1959

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 1830, Printer's No. 1999, entitled "An Act defining the terms 'church' and 'place of actual religious worship' as used in acts of assembly heretofore and hereafter enacted relating to the taxation of real estate" be recalled for further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 762

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 762.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

Mr. McCANN. There will not be a Democrat caucus. We have caucused and covered the calendar, but I ask that all the Members please stay here because we will be voting on House Bill 2093 when the Republicans return from their caucus. It is a highly controversial bill, and we are also going to present the question of dividing the issues, voting section by section.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair declares a recess of thirty minutes.

The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2093, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries and compensation of members of certain boards and commissions and repealing inconsistent acts.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Minority Leader, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the Minority Leader, Mr. Johnson, inform the House if I divided the issues in House Bill 2093, voting each one separately, as to a chairman and the members, or voting it by a section, what the outcome would be in comparison to voting on the bill as a whole, as far as the Republican membership is concerned.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question, our caucus has decided that there will be no votes on the bill by line or by section, and, as far as we know, there are no votes for the bill as a whole, either.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

It was the intentoin on this side of the House to divide the issue. Last week when House Bill 2093 was voted on and defeated, there were many Members who said, for example, I will vote for the Turnpike, I will vote for the Parole Board, but I will not vote for so and so. With that in mind, we agreed that we would bring the bill back today and vote line by line, item by item, or section by section.

Since the issue as to the result of the vote on House Bill 2093 is very apparent, I am satisfied with any type of a roll call that anyone desires because the bill will fall. This will be the end of House Bill 2093 and a salary increase for these boards and commissions.

I certainly am very sorry to see this happen. Therefore, I ask that the bill be voted on at this time and be disposed of. There will be no more increases in salaries for this group in this Session.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, as much as I would like to see this bill passed, with the knowledge of the Minority Leader, and the knowledge that our Majority Leader, Mr. McCann, gave us regarding the vote on this bill, I can see no good reason for any of the Members in this House to be put on the spot.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitment to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2093 was voted on before in the same form as it is now. The Democratic vote on this side is clearly indicated on the bill. The vote today would be the same nay votes of the Democratic Members that existed before three nay votes and the rest yea votes.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I concur to recommit the bill to the Committee on Rules because of not enough votes to insure its passage.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 725, entitled:

An Act providing for the creation and operation of the Juvenile Court Judges' Commission in the Department of Justice prescribing its powers and duties and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 725 calls for a commission to be set up consisting of juvenile judges, I believe nine. With that I have not any particular argument if it would help them in the proper disposition of cases after they have come before the juvenile judges, and that is when the juvenile judges of the state get into the problem.

I cannot see how this commission is going to attack in any way, shape or form, the entire problem of juvenile delinquency over this state. I want to point out, Mr. Speaker, and I think this is very, very serious on the part of this House and on the part of this Legislature, that this bill does definitely put the juvenile judges of this court, and probably from that there would be a step to put other judges, common pleas judges, orphans' court judges, quarter session judges, and so forth, into the administrative field where they have no right to be, under our system of government.

Under our system of government there is a distinct separation of powers, and so there should be between the judicial branch, the legislative branch and the executive branch of our state government. It is rightly so, and it should be kept that way.

But here we have, if we vote for this bill, a class of judges throughout the state moving into the administrative field. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, and to the Members of this House, that is a bad step to take. If we pass it, it may be one—I hope not but I am afraid of it—that this Legislature very, very sorely will regret ever having taken.

In addition to that this bill is in direct contradiction to powers already given in the same field to the Welfare Department. I think, by and large, the Welfare Department, with what they have had to work with, with no overall picture or commission set-up to look at the entire picture of this juvenile delinquency over the state, is doing a good job.

The juvenile court judges of this state, at all times have had the benefit of studies and investigations of the technical personnel in the Welfare Department set-up in the various bureaus to take care of this juvenile delinquency problem. Of course, it can be recognized that the problem has not been solved. We are today as far from solving it as we were ten years ago.

There are so many different angles to this problem of juvenile delinquency that I do not believe one commission composed of one class of people sitting in on juvenile cases can solve the problem by any manner of means. We have the angle of educational retardation; we have the angle of broken homes; we have the angle of misdirected and misguided children; we have the angle of economic conditions in families affecting the problem of juvenile delinquency; we have the angle that juvenile delinquents, no matter what crime they commit, possibly with the exception of murder, cannot be brought before the criminal court of this state but are treated as a separate class. They are treated as a separate class of juvenile drivers between the ages of sixteen and eighteen and do not even come under the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code.

We have the problem that law enforcement officers all over this state are crying out for aid against these hoodlums between sixteen and eighteen, and I am not talking especially about the ones that commit acts of malicious mischief. I am talking about the thugs that use scissors, knives, sharpened umbrella points, table knives, kitchen knives, any kind of an instrument they can sharpen into a lethal instrument to commit assault, mayhem, upon the citizens of this Commonwealth. Certainly they are not being deterred today by the punishment that is being handed out to them. That is for sure.

If penal laws are going to have the effect they should have, and that is to deter people from committing serious crimes that are crimes against society as a whole, then they should have proper administration over acts of hoodlums, even though some of them are in their teens, to act as a deterrent. You can debate all you want to but in my book, if these delinquent children, these juveniles, who are committing these horrid crimes of assault and battery, robbery and mayhem all over the state certainly would know that they are going to be punished to the full effect of the law and not be let off so they can go back and thumb their noses at the judges, laugh at the judges as they are doing today, then I would say it would be a proper deterrent and the penal laws would have the proper effect that they should have.

There was reported out of Committee today House Bill 2016. It was introduced in this House on June 16, 1959. This bill would set up a youth authority under practically the same provisions that the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, our Minority Leader, was prepared to introduce to this bill 725 with some amendments and some changes. That bill calls for a nine-member commission and would put it under Welfare. I think it ought to be under the Justice Department. This bill calls it a youth authority and calls for three members, but certainly any one in this House, any person in this Commonwealth, who is interested in properly attacking this problem of juvenile delinquency—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, while I am sure all the Members of the House are interested in hearing the views of the gentleman from Blair on the problems of juvenile delinquency, I do not think that which he is saying is germane to the bill which is in front of us. As a matter of fact, he is talking about some other bill now, and I do think he should be restricted to the bill which is before us.

Mr. AUKER. If the gentleman from York would hear me out, he would find that my remarks are leading up to debate on Senate Bill 725, and why I do not think it should be passed.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has not been following the course of the debate as closely as the gentleman from York has been following it. We would ask the gentleman from Blair to spend less time leading up and debate the bill.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, to develop an argument sometimes you have to lead up to it, and the gentleman from York knows that as well as I do. He has done it himself in this House and nobody questioned it.

The SPEAKER. We have had so much good humor today with the visit of Santa Claus it would be very lamentable for any evidence of temper, and the Chair asks the gentleman from Blair to bear with the infirmities of the Chair who must, when called upon, keep debate within proper limits. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I wanted to bring out in my mentioning of House Bill 2016 that this, to my mind, would certainly be a very, very fine approach to handling the entire problem of juvenile delinquency, and with the amendments that would go into it tomorrow, if you pass this bill, Senate Bill 725, which we are presently considering and if this House and the Party on the other side of the aisle, and this Administration is sincere in trying to solve this overwhelming and very serious and vital problem of juvenile delinquency, then they would cancel 725, not vote on it and pass 2016, as they still have time to do. If they do pass it, and I very seriously question whether 2016 will ever pass this House, in time in the closing days of this session to get past the Senate and get proper consideration there, I say this emphatically, I very seriously question the sentiments and the feelings of the Democratic Party and of this Administration as to whether or not they really are vitally interested in solving this problem of juvenile delinquency. I am willing to let the people of this Commonwealth decide whether that is not true.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to briefly say a few words in favor of this bill.

I tried with a great deal of difficulty to follow the logic in the gentleman from Blair's argument with respect to the merits of this bill. I just could not understand it, because he clearly in his argument set up the terrible problems that we face in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania today with respect to juvenile delinquents, and he has mentioned another bill that was reported out of committee that would be a step in the right direction.

I have examined the provisions of this bill rather carefully and frankly I am at a loss as to why the great city of Philadelphia, which certainly is steeped in the problems of juvenile delinquency today, is not included in this bill. Why it is not I do not know. I have not heard any reason for its exclusion, but because it is not included in the bill I think that is wrong. Nevertheless, it applies to other countries throughout the Commonwealth.

The bill before us is a step in the right direction, and I say that because it seems to me the ones who are most familiar with this problem, apart from the Welfare agencies that handle these juvenile delinquency problems, and there is no greater source of information and knowledge than that which lies within the judges of the juvenile court who deal with this terrible problem. They almost exclusively have a source of knowledge that they could carry to this commission and they could give this commission sufficient information based upon their vast experience in this field so that they could perhaps work out some revised procedures with respect to the laws pertaining to delinquent children.

This is administered by the Department of Justice and I think the argument that this involves the violation of the concept of our democratic form of government and a separation of powers is without foundation because the judges are the ones who will form this commission and it is only under the Department of Justice which administers the carrying out of justice that there is a relationship. It is a coordination of efforts and certainly this coordination does not violate that principle. I think this is a step in the right direction.

It carries a very modest appropriation, I think $15,000. The original appropriation, I understood, was to be $75,000, but it will enable us to get an insight into the problem from these judges, and as a result of the information which they can give I think we will possibly be able to look closer at this delinquency problem and enact subsequent legislation that would perhaps tend to curb it. Although I do not necessarily say that we would ever be able to do away with it, it would possibly reduce the problem today.

Therefore, I think we ought to have bipartisan support in passing this very good bill.

Mrs. KOOKER. Mr. Speaker, I, too, rise to support Senate Bill 725 because I am very much interested in this bill. The newspapers every day are writing about delinquency. The public and many special groups of interested people have been discussing the juvenile delinquency problem and pleading that something be done about it.

This bill does seek to do something about it. This is, I feel, a step in the right direction. Many people have been complaining that the juvenile courts have failed in its mission. This charge, in some instances, is probably not wholly without foundation. However, it would be unfair to say that the juvenile court's concept has been a failure. It simply has not had a decent chance to declare, by statute, that a court shall be called a Juvenile Court, and to impose the responsibilities of the office on a judge by legislative act. It can accomplish very little of value, unless the juvenile court judge is provided with the proper tools, so that it is possible for him to meet the grave responsibilities that are imposed upon him. Many juvenile court judges in Pennsylvania, recognizing the inadequacy of the tools provided them, have determined to make an appeal of their own for assistance in this problem, not for their own sake, but for the benefit of the delinquent and neglected youths who appear before them. Thus, this bill to create a juvenile court judge's commission has come into being. This bill has the unanimous vote of the members of the Pennsylvania Council of juvenile court judges, at their meeting in January of 1959. It was also approved in April by the Board of Governors of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

Senate Bill 725, if enacted into law, will provide the means to accomplish something constructive. It will give the juvenile court judges a background of understanding and realism when they are faced in their daily dealings with juvenile youths. Nothing that is contained in this proposed legislation will in any way extend the jurisdiction of the juvenile court. It is merely an effort to improve the standards of the juvenile court to enable them to handle more effectively the juvenile court cases that come under their jurisdiction. The Judges interested in this bill have given many hours of their personal time, at their own expense, to attend meetings and conferences to study and to accomplish something of value, and have never asked any reimbursement for their efforts.

The proposals in this bill are the result of their studies. The Commission which the bill sets up, would keep the placement and supervision under the local juvenile court rather than have the jurisdiction under the county commissioners. Creating a juvenile court commission, as set up in Senate Bill 725, would save the taxpayers many dollars in the end, and the best interests of the child will be strongly safe guarded.

Again, I say it is a step in the right direction, and I ask that all who can find it within their means, to give support to Senate Bill 725.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I so seldom have an opportunity to agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack that I would like to take this opportunity to agree with him in most of what he said.

I would like to point out that the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, as I understood him, has stated that there is a tremendous juvenile problem in Pennsylvania, with which we all agree. He goes on to say that Senate Bill 725 is not the entire answer, and with him, I again agree. However, while it is not a giant step forward, it is a step forward. It is only going to cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania $15,000, more or less, and I think we would be fools not to pass this good legislation.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in view of what has been said against the bill, I do not believe that the people who spoke, and maybe some others, fully understand what I was trying to put across.

I agree, too, that this bill is a step in the right direction, but the point I was trying to make, is that it is only a step. We have taken other steps and they have not had any effect. They have not solved the problem.

What I was trying to bring out, is that here we have a chance to go further, and attack the entire problem, not just take a little step but take a giant step, in solving this problem. That is what I was trying to bring out.

I say that 2016, if passed and taking the place of this bill, will do that, but this bill will not. I tried to have the House take a giant step, not a little step, not to approach it piecemeal, but set up a proper commission so that all angles can be studied, and this problem solved in a giant way not by taking little mincy steps and piecemeal legislation which, to my mind, will not accomplish anything.

Let us take, for instance, the juvenile court judges who cannot from the bench, say that no more pornographic literature will be sold on the newsstands. They cannot censor movies, they cannot censor TV, and they cannot go into homes and try to correct economic conditions. They cannot set up rehabilitation centers, they cannot set up forestry camps. They cannot do anything of that nature. But under this bill they can, and that is what I am trying to bring out. Let us take a real step, not a little piecemeal step. Here we have the chance to take it, and I say if we do not take it, we are not doing a proper job.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

DISCHARGING COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL No. 78

Mr. AGNEW offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 15, 1959.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 78, Printer's No. 78, entitled "An act amending the act of August 26, 1953 (P. L. 1476), entitled 'An act to carry out the intent and purpose of Article XV, Section 1 and Article XIV, Section 8 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and to supplement the First Class City Home Rule Act, approved April twenty-one, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (Phamphlet Laws 665), by vesting in the Council of the City of Philadelphia full powers to legislate with respect to the election, appointment, compensation, organization, abolition, merger, consolidation, powers, functions and duties of certain officers, offices, boards and commissions of the City of Philadelphia, providing that such officers may be made appointive or abolished, altering the term of the District Attorney of Philadelphia and establishing the status of the Sheriff, City Commissioners, Board of Revision of Taxes and Registration Commission, the members of such board and commission and the subordinates and employes of such officers, board and commission,' removing the exclusion of the Sheriff, City Commissioners, Board of Revision of Taxes and Registration Commission from the provisions of section 2 and providing that such officers be included within the provisions of the said section so that the Council of the City of Philadelphia shall have full power to legislate with respect to the election, appointment, compensation, organization, abolition, merger, consolidation, powers, functions and duties of the Sheriff, City Commissioners, Board of Revision of Taxes Registration Commission of the City of Philadelphia, subject to approval of the electorate of the City of Philadelphia," having been referred to the Committee on Cities-Counties of the First Class on February 9, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the House for a period of over fifteen days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I desire first to make it perfectly clear that this is a discharge resolution on Senate Bill 78, the Legislative proposal which is the final plan of the city-county consolidation in the largest city of the Commonwealth, the great city of Philadelphia.

This legislative proposal, Mr. Speaker, has the announced support of the Democratic party in Philadelphia, the Republican party in Philadelphia, the Committee of Seventy and all other governmental forces, including the Greater Philadelphia Movement, and is supported by Philadelphia's newspapers. It is supported by Mayor Dilworth, who is such a wonderful mayor he was recently proposed as a possible candidate for president. It was introduced in the early days of this Session in the other body and was passed with a vote of 50 to 0.

Since early Febraury, this bill has been resting, getting warmed up for today I suppose, in the Committee of this House, Cities-Counties First Class, dominated by the Philadelphia Members of the majority of this House. If all the good government forces of Philadelphia, all the journalistic forces in Philadelphia, the titular head of the Democratic party in Philddelphia, all the Democratic state Senators in Philadelphia, everybody else who has made a public utterance on this bill is in favor of it, I think we might ask ourselves why has not this bill been brought before this House for a favorable vote, that the Governor could sign so that the much desired city-county consolidation in Philadelphia would be an accomplished fact.

I am not from Philadelphia but I have the honor of introducing this discharge resolution. The Members of my party from Philadelphia graciously gave me that honor. I would like the Chairman of that Committee, if he will, to give a logical explanation of why his committee has not acted favorably on that bill and reported it to the floor of the House. I am not interrogating him at this time. I intend to have additional remarks to make on this resolution, and for that purpose I am very happy to yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stewart.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to raise a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. McCORMACK. With respect to the last remark by the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Agnew, calling upon the Chairman of the Committee to give an explanation as to why the bill has not been brought up, I submit that that is in violation of the Rules with respect to debate in the Committee on any particular bill that is in that committee.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would hold that the only proper interrogation is whether or not the Chairman of the Committee is or is not prepared to hold a meeting of his committee, but interrogation beyond that point, the Chair would hold is out of order. That is a precedent set a number of years ago, and it happened the Chair was on the floor and helped to make that precedent.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I specifically said I did not wish to interrogate the gentlemen. I merely wanted to say that the gentleman is at liberty to make any remarks on the floor on this resolution he wants to. I am not interrogating him. I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stewart.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 78, known as the City-County Consolidation Bill, is a bill which by the platform of both parties we have endorsed one hundred percent. It is a bill that no one has criticized. It is a bill that has been in Committee eleven months. It is obvious from the last lesson on November 2—I stand corrected, November 3, it was such a terrible beating that I even forgot the date. The Republican party in Philadelphia unfortunately has been on the side which indicates that we are not for good government legislation, but fortunately for us here is an opportunity, and I call upon the Philadelphia Democratic delegation to support this discharge resolution. It is obvious that the Democrat machine along with the rest of Green's ghouls, are gloating over the political spoils.

The SPEAKER. I must request the gentleman not to make such animadversions which may stir up lengthy and not tempered discussion, if he can prevent it.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker, I will try to be more temperate, but in the political battlefield I assumed that forensic ability was one of the legitimate means of attacking one's opponent.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask all Members of the House to think over the fact that this is not a political forum, that this is a legislative body. I could sometimes say that when the Minority Leader is speaking, but I never have.

Mr. STEWART. I will attempt to be more judicious in my speech, Mr. Speaker.

This is one opportunity when those who are for good government can vote to have this bill considered by the whole House. In effect we become a committee of the whole and we discuss intelligently the pros and cons of this legislation. If it is bad, let us have the discussion here on the floor in public. It is obvious that this legislation not only is needed but is a must for Philadelphia if it is to progress. The Greater Philadelphia Movement, the Committee of Seventy and every other civic group in Philadelphia has asked for this legislation. I think it is clear that a vote against this discharge resolution is a vote against good government in Philadelphia.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. AGNEW and TOMPKINS.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. AGNEW, TOMPKINS and LIPPINCOTT.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

RESOLUTION

DISCHARGING COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL,
No. 1047

Messrs. STROUP and STROUSSER offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 15, 1959.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 1047, Printer's No. 1423, entitled "An act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled 'An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code, the Tractor Code, the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership, possession and use of vehicles and tractors' changing provisions relating to and providing for the revocation and suspension of operators' licenses and operating privileges on the basis of a point system," having been referred to the Committee on Rules on September 29, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the House for a period of over fifteen days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, first of all I would like to clarify, in addition to the reading by the Clerk, that this discharge resolution pertains to Senate Bill 1047, which deals with the utilization of the point system in application to the suspension of operating privileges in the Commonwealth.

I was particularly interested in this matter since it came from the other body and has been languishing in delectable composure in the Rules Committee. More so when several of my very good colleagues on the other side of the House several days ago addressed this House under unanimous consent, calling attention to the fact that the present system of suspending operating privileges was inequitable, inept and inadequate under all of the circumstances, citing some of the perfunctory hearings held before the Department representatives and the punitive qualities imposed upon our citizens who make their livelihood by the privilege which the Commonwealth imparts to them by granting them a driver's license.

Senate Bill 1047, presently hiding in our Rules Committee, apparently is favored very much by labor. It has received commendation from thousands upon thousands of our citizens; it has been effectively used and admirably complimented by drivers' associations throughout the United States in more than 23 or 25 states; it has proved very beneficial in Connecticut for example, where it had its initiation. It has every reason, from every standpoint, to at least receive favorable consideration from the Committee and brought upon the floor of this House so that we would have a chance to consider its merits or its disadvantages.

I will not belabor the House longer, Mr. Speaker, or go into the merits of the bill, unless the same should be challenged. However, I do believe that there is, in this House on both sides of the aisle, sufficient attitude and approval toward Senate Bill 1047 and the utilization of a point system, that the Committee should be discharged if it will not grant us the right to consider it on the floor of the House.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 1047 is in the Rules Committee. It does deal with the point system. It was passed by the Senate. The bill has many errors in it; it has been chastised publicly by the newspapers of this Commonwealth, in editorials of the Pittsburgh Press, Sun-Telegraph, Philadelphia Inquirer, Bulletin, Harrisburg Patriot, Harrisburg Evening News, Allentown paper, Washington Observer, the Beaver Falls Journal and other newspapers of this Commonwealth. I believe the full intent of the bill is rather clear. We believe in parts of the bill but it still needs some work to complete a bona fide proper point system. With that I ask that all the Members vote no on the discharge resolution.

Mr. STROUP. In reply to the Majority Leader I would just like to say this one particular thing and that is, first, that this bill passed the other body 50 to 0, I think it was on the 14th of September. Second, that it has been amended carefully and most of the objections that have been made by certain parties against this bill have been removed by amendments.

It is as of the present time in the form I believe which the administration itself would approve. The errors which the Majority Leader points out are no longer in that bill. I ask the Members to vote for the discharge of the committee so that we may have an opportunity to consider this very good measure.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make the comment that this day is a rather historic occasion when the age-old Grand Old Party abandons their "no discharge resolution" system which they have stuck by for many years, and I hope that it is the beginning of a re-birth of activity in the Republican party throughout the state.

I too, feel as the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, does, that something should be done about the arbitrary manner in the way drivers' licenses are taken from citizens—their bread and butter—in this Commonwealth. I would ask that you vote for this resolution.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked to clear one point regarding Senate Bill 1047, and I think it is only fair that I do clear it.

The union that is interested in this bill met with the Governor or the Governor's representative, and I believe there are discrepancies in the bill. Senate Bill 1047, I believe, in a news conference, the Governor said he would veto, which is the point system, if that is the answer you are seeking.

I am confident—I cannot recall all the details—except to say that I know there are sections in which the penalty now is greater than the point system provides. I basically believe in some portions of this bill but I also am a fond believer in highway safety a little stronger than most people because I have watched an awful lot of people get killed. I think that you and I will agree that Senate Bill 1047 has some merit but it has defects. This must be worked out. I believe there was a conference just took place this week in northeastern United States covering those states and which I believe one or two of our people attended.

I ask that you vote no on this discharge.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, If the bill is in the condition that the Majority Leader says it is, then why not get it reported out and we will take care of the defects by amendments on the floor of this House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

INTERROGATION

Mr. AGNEW asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Foerster.

Mr. Speaker, in the December 1 issue of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette the gentleman received front-page publicity with various quotations on the county court salary raise, House Bill No. 936, a bill introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mihm, a county court consolidation bill for Allegheny County.

I will read, Mr. Foerster, the manner in which you were quoted in this article and ask you if you were quoted correctly.

Representative Foerster said the principal reason he voted for the pay raise, was that it would help move the court reorganization bill out of the Judiciary Committee, where it has been bottled up since March 19.

He also said if the court consolidation bill does not emerge from committee next week he will introduce a discharge resolution in an effort to pry it loose.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman if he was quoted correctly?

Mr. FOERSTER. Mr. Speaker, I was not. Some parts of the quotation are correct, but I—

The SPEAKER. What is the relevance of the interrogation with anything properly pending before the House?

Mr. AGNEW. I only have one more question, Mr. Speaker, and then—

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Allegheny desires to answer, he is privileged to do so.

Mr. FOERSTER. I would like to finish my answer. Part of the quotation was correct. What I did say was, the reason that I did vote for the pay raise bill for the judges in Allegheny County is that I had been informed that both bills were going to move through this House and that was just step one to the reorganization of the courts. Then I also said that if the Governor signed that bill and if I was misinformed that the other bill would not come out of Committee, I would introduce a discharge resolution to discharge it from Committee. That was what I said to the newspaper.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says that he qualifies his remark on discharge resolution; is that correct?

Mr. FOERSTER. What I just said right now is correct.

Mr. AGNEW. Then the gentleman was misquoted in the article that appeared in the paper?

Mr. FOERSTER. I would say it was misquoted. The entire statement by me was not quoted in the paper. Parts of it were left out just as I explained here.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I had asked for unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman and if he had been quoted correctly I wanted to give him the opportunity to co-sponsor this discharge resolution. He apparently was misquoted and does not wish that opportunity, so I offer the resolution in co-sponsorship with Mr. Rigby.

RESOLUTION

DISCHARGING COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 936

Messrs. AGNEW and RIGBY offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 15, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 936, entitled "An act amending the act of May 5, 1911 (P. L. 198), entitled 'An act to establish a county court for the County of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties; regulating the procedure therein, and providing for the expenses thereof,' abolishing the court, terminating the terms of office of judges of the court, and transferring jurisdiction, powers and duties of the court to the court of common pleas," having been referred to the Committee on Judiciary on March 19, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the House for a period of over fifteen days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. AGNEW. House Bill 936 was introduced March 18, and has been in the Judiciary Committee ever since.

House Bill 936 is a legislative proposal, much to be desired in Allegheny County. It would abolish our county court and consolidate it with the court of common pleas. This bill has the journalistic backing of all the papers in Pittsburgh. It has the unqualified support of the Governor of this Commonwealth. It has had lip service from the Majority Members of this House. The Pittsburgh newspapers, in connection with the judges' salary raise bill for Allegheny County, strongly intimated that it was the fault of the Legislature that this bill was not law, and and that the Governor of the Commonwealth was doing everything he could to get it out of committee. But I say the Governor was not sincere in the statements he made to the public press in connection with this and the county court judges' salary raise bill. He said one thing and was extensively quoted as saying that he would not sign the Philadelphia bill unless he got the Allegheny bill, too. Then when the papers put the heat on him, the Governor could not take it. The Governor is pretty sensitive about criticism in the press and he reneged. He took another position; he yielded to the clamor in the public press.

I think the record should show, Mr. Speaker, that the Governor of this Commonwealth, if he wanted this bill for Allegheny County—Pittsburgh papers, please copy—he has enough influence with the Majority Members of this House to get it out of committee, and that he has not done.

I also want the roll call record to show, Mr. Speaker, just who is for this bill and who is not. I am willing to accept the last roll call vote on this with Members, wishing to change their votes, given an opportunity to do so in the interest of saving time.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that would be most satisfactory.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. AGNEW and RIGBY and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the resolution was not adopted.

The SPEAKER. As the leaders, the old-timers in this House know, for about 15 years I tried to get the Republican leadership to agree to discharge a Committee with 85 votes. Well, they never would do it. I hold them at one time or other they would change their attitude, they would change their policy and would be glad if the Rules said discharge a Committee with 85 votes.

Another thing—I want to boast a little. I am the only living Member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, present or past, who ever offered a resolution to discharge a Committee, and the Committee was discharged.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask a question in response to the statement the Speaker just made. I would like to ask the Speaker what the Rule for discharging Committees was set at in 1955?

The SPEAKER. Following the example of the majority party then or previous, against my advice, they fixed it at 106. They said they had been kicked around by the Republicans for 20 years and they were going to kick back.

Mr. HELM. I just wanted to call to the attention of the House that at a time when you had the power to change it to 85 you did not do it.

The SPEAKER. I might say too that we know we cast a look forward and knew what was coming, what was the use of making things easy for you after you kicked us around for 20 years.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR

INTERROGATION

Mr. FOERSTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Agnew.

Mr. FOERSTER. Mr. Speaker, during this series of discharge resolutions, Mr. Agnew offered one for the consolidation of the city-county government of Philadelphia. I would like to know if this is to be taken as a sign that Mr. Agnew is for the metropolitan plan for Allegheny County?

Mr. AGNEW. I take it that was a sincere question and I will attempt to give a sincere answer.

I would point out to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, that the county of Philadelphia consists of one municipality, the city of Philadelphia. The county of Allegheny consists of 129 municipalities, one second-class city, three third-class cities, and 125 boroughs and townships. What is good for Philadelphia is not necessarily good for Pittsburgh or Allegheny county, and what is good for Allegheny County and/or Pittsburgh is not necessarily good for Philadelphia.

I introduced the discharge resolution in respect to the city-county consolidation in Philadelphia because everybody, but everybody, in Philadelphia agreed that it was a good thing. I introduced the discharge resolution in respect to Allegheny County because everybody who had taken a public stand on it in Allegheny County, including the Governor of the Commonwealth, all the papers in Pittsburgh, were very much in favor of it.

Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. FOERSTER. No. How does the gentleman stand on the metropolitan plan for Allegheny County?

Mr. AGNEW. I am unalterably opposed to the metropolitan plan as I think the gentleman would describe it. There are some features of cooperation between municipalities that I very strongly favor, and if the gentleman asks me specific questions, I will give him specific answers.

Mr. FOERSTER. I do not want to drag this out. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AGNEW. I do not want to, either.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr.

Foerster, by implication, tried to infer that a vote on this discharge resolution of the city-county consolidation bill was a vote in favor of the metropolitan plan.

I want to make it very clear that the sister plan of the metropolitan plan, which is the 1955-56 regional government plan which was tried to be pushed down the throats of southeastern Pennsylvania in this House, has no more connection with the city-county consolidation bill than the metropolitan plan of Pittsburgh has with it.

I want to make that very clear, and I am sure my associates from my county and other counties in southeastern Pennsylvania want that in the record.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1139, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 5, 1936 (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law" extending the time during which certain persons can make application to the Civil Service Commission.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FISHERIES

Mr. CURWOOD presented the report of the Committee on Fisheries pursuant to House Resolution No. 95.

The report was read as follows:

Submitted to the House on December 15, 1959.

Members of the Fisheries Committee:

William B. Curwood, Chairman
 Van D. Yetter, Jr., Vice Chairman
 Peter G. Schaaf, Secretary
 Herbert Arlene
 Harris G. Breth

Pursuant to Resolution No. 95, adopted by the House on July 28, 1959, the Committee on Fisheries has undertaken to inquire into the reasons why fish license sales have shown a marked decline in this Commonwealth in recent years.

In accordance with powers conferred by the adoption of the Resolution, the Committee has held hearings. These include testimony taken in Harrisburg on August 18, 1959, in State College on August 27, 1959, in Erie on August 28, 1959, and in Harrisburg on September 18, 1959, November 9, 1959 and November 20, 1959.

TESTIMONY AND DISCUSSION

It will serve no useful purpose to detail the testimony taken of more than fifty witnesses. Adding to this volume have been numerous letters and cards received by members of the Committee since the intent of the House was publicized late in July. A review of the testimony shows quite clearly that there is no pat answer to the basic question of license decline. There are instead a number of factors of varying degrees of importance; but since the sale of licenses is the only means of financing the activities of the Fish Commission, all of these factors must be considered.

The Commission's Executive Director testified on several occasions as did various members of the Commission. The position of the Commission is clear: (1) Pennsylvania is in no worse condition than are its sister states, all of whom have allegedly experienced declines and some of which are more extreme than that occurring in this Commonwealth; and (2) stream pollution still is a major enemy of fishermen in Pennsylvania.

The first point is valid only if the Commission is tireless in its efforts to remove sources of irritation. It has tried, but from the testimony taken and communications received, there are still areas of dissatisfaction.

As to the problem of pollution, the Committee found that the Sanitary Water Board was giving proper attention to existing statutes and was moving legally against violators. The prosecution of violators is in the hands of a seemingly very capable and conscientious Assistant Attorney General. But pollution is so great a problem that this man obviously needs help by way of an increased staff if prosecutions and corrective measures are going to be accomplished quickly and with results favorable to the Commonwealth.

Other factors unquestionably contributing to the overall decline in license sales include cost of the license itself, accomplished at a time when a recession was starting to grip this Commonwealth, slowly decreasing accessibility to streams and rivers caused by the increasing reluctance of agricultural landowners to permit the general public on their properties, the phenomenal increase in pleasure boating which in turn upsets the tranquility of once placid lakes and streams, confusion of the fishing public by conflicting regulations and enforcement by the Fish Commission, the literal starvation of streams, particularly the Susquehanna, by huge dams which are nothing more than insurmountable barriers to aquatic life, and lastly and quite simply, no fish.

The problems of the Susquehanna can be solved and the unfortunate events of many years ago can be remedied. Fishways along dams situated at the lower reaches of the River are the obvious cure. However, this will require the active support and cooperation of all parties, particularly the Commission and the utilities involved. There is a great moral obligation to be discharged in constructing these fishways.

It would be well to note a serious problem existing in one of the more remote parts of the State. A tragic economic decline in the commercial fishing industry in Erie has occurred. Although Pennsylvania has only forty-odd miles of shore line on Lake Erie, this area is also the center of the only commercial fishing industry in Pennsylvania. It deserves maximum attention. To this end, the Committee refers to House Resolution No. 93, adopted September 14, 1959, whereby the Joint State Government Commission is to make inquiry into this specific problem. It is hoped that this problem will be considered.

Fishermen are happiest when they catch fish. The majority of fisherman, license purchasers, are not artful and expensively equipped sportsmen. They are the hook and line men—the young boys—the old retired men—the fellows that work at the mills and factories and like to get out where it's quiet and the air is fresh. The Committee cannot argue against scientific fish management. But the prime consideration of the Fish Commission, while pursuing such activities, should be what is best for the little fellow. There is evidence that the little fellow gets short shift from the Commission, while the organized sportsmen exercise great influence. The "little fellow" is the most important of licensees. For it is he who is most easily dissuaded by circumstances from purchasing next year's license.

In enforcing the statutes pertaining to fish in Pennsylvania, the Commission acts primarily through its wardens. Complaints have been received of rudeness and inconsiderate behavior on the part of these wardens. An initial formal training program and continuing on the job education of the wardens is desirable.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Fish license sales have gradually declined for several years. The following is a tabulation:

1954—729,525

1956—741,468

1957—687,732

2. Stream pollution is the largest of many factors contributing to this decline.

3. Administration and enforcement of existing anti-pollution statutes are hampered by an inadequate, albeit an entirely competent legal staff.

4. The scientific fish management activities of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, including its programs of stream stocking and acquisitions of access sites has created an atmosphere of suspicion and frustration on the part of some segments of the fishing public.

5. A formal training program of fish wardens should be initiated.

6. So as to rehabilitate the Susquehanna, fishways around the dams of the lower River should be given serious consideration and the time for such consideration is now.

7. Pennsylvania's commercial fishing industry needs assistance in its present plight.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Executive consideration should be given to increasing the administrative means of eradicating or at least substantially reducing harmful-water pollution by vigilant enforcement of existing statutes.

2. The Pennsylvania Fish Commission should continually reappraise its policies in the light of the needs and complaints of the marginal license purchaser, the so-called little fellow.

3. Fish warden training should be instituted on a formal basis.

4. With the cooperation of the Federal government and private enterprise, the Commonwealth should investigate the feasibility of construction of fishways on the lower Susquehanna, thereby increasing the fish population of this river system.

5. The Joint State Government Commission should pursue an inquiry of the commercial fishing industry pursuant to Resolution No. 93.

6. The Committee believes that the tremendous decline in the stocking of bass and other desirable fish was an important factor in the unusual and rapid drop in fishing license sales.

7. The deterioration in good public relations between Fish Commission personnel and both the organized sportsmen and the average fisherman, was another major factor in the fishing license decline.

8. Since the Committee was obviously limited in its consideration of the multitude of factors contributing to or detracting from better fishing in Pennsylvania, there exists a continuing need for further investigation of these problems.

Respectfully submitted,
Committee on Fisheries
William B. Curwood, Chairman

Mr. McCANN. Tomorrow the Democratic Members of the House will take a 30 minute caucus from the Floor to cover the concurrences which will be a total of 16 on the calendar, and the bills on third reading and final passage, so that they may all be moved tomorrow. In that number will be two highly controversial bills, the harness racing and the Sunday sale of beer and liquor in the hotels.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. JIM and EWING asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 15, 1959.

David Nelson Denman, a former member of the House of Representatives, passed away on Thanksgiving Day, November 26, 1959, at the age of 64.

Mr. Denman was elected to represent the First District of Westmoreland County in 1938 and was re-elected in 1942.

Mr. Denman was married to the former Mary Catherine Thompson, a member of the House of Representatives from 1931 to 1933, and was the father of two sons, David N. Denman and Richard E. Denman. An attorney at law by profession, Mr. Denman also taught in the public schools at Greensburg and Latrobe from 1919 to 1926. He served with distinction in the United States Army Air Corps in both the first and second World War, and was a leading member of many fraternal, professional and civic organizations.

The death of David Nelson Denman was a great loss to our Commonwealth. His contributions to the advancement and well-being of his fellow citizens, and our pleasant association with him will long be remembered; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania expresses its condolence to the family of David Nelson Denman on his death; and, be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to his widow, Mary T. Denman, Orchid Lane, Cedarhurst Manor, Pittsburgh 16, Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1959.

No. 124.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1959.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. NORMAN E. DETTRA, Evangelical United Brethren Church clergyman, Annville, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Our Father, we are grateful for the great builders of the past who left us so rich a heritage of democracy. As we think of the sacrifices, labor and devotion required of them, we feel unworthy, for we have not been as generous with our time and our abilities.

Grant us, O Holy One, new insights into the ideals for which true democracy stands. Forgive us for our lack of devotion and for our contentment with "ease in Zion," while so many people lack and look to us for leadership in the economic, moral and cultural aspects of our corporate life. Grant, O God, that we may express strength and stability and point the people to Thee.

Help us to be worthy of the fellowship and inspiration which comes from gathering in this legislative hall. May Thy Spirit guide us as we strive to serve our fellow men and Thee.

Hear our prayer, O God. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. FLEMING, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Mr. RUTH, on behalf of Mr. WEINER, offered the following resolution which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That House Bill No. 1430, Printer's No. 1871, entitled "An Act amending the act of December 27, 1951 (P. L. 1742) entitled as amended 'The Realty Transfer Tax Act' redefining documents to exclude certain repossessions following defaults in purchase obligations" be returned to the Senate for further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON RULES FROM
FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1376

Mr. MULLIN offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill 1376, Printer's No. 632, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 29, 1956 (P. L. 1803) entitled 'An act providing for the establishment of forestry conservation camps by the Department of Forests and Waters for the development and conservation of the forests of this Commonwealth and for the rehabilitation and training of male youth, giving additional powers to the Department of Welfare and making an appropriation' authorizing the acceptance and return of certain juveniles as campers and providing for reimbursement by the county for expenses," having been referred to the Committee on Rules on September 30, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, House Bill No. 1376 passed the House of Representatives on September 29, and on September 30 it was referred to the Senate Committee on Rules.

Mr. President, this bill amends the Act of May 29, 1956, which established forestry conservation camps for rehabilitation and training of male youths, by expanding the class of youths, who may be transferred to camps, to include those fifteen to eighteen year olds who are committed to any institution, if recommended by the institution and the committing juvenile court. It further provides for their recommitment to institutions from the camps and also for reimbursement by the counties to the Commonwealth for fifty per cent of the per capita per diem operating expenses.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I oppose the adoption of this discharge resolution.

The bill in question is one which has been under discussion no less than three or four different times in the Rules Committee. The committee differed with the philosophy of the Department of Welfare. The department wanted the bill and I talked with them about it on more than one occasion. In many respects, the provisions of the bill I regard as salutary, but due to the rather doubtful situation which has arisen in connection with these forestry camps, the committee did not, at this time, feel it was necessary to extend them or to provide greater ease in admitting the campers.

Consequently, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote against this resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MULLIN and Mr. HAYS and were as follows, viz:

|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Mullin, | Sarraf, |

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, at this time, I would like to offer a number of resolutions, most of which deal with similar subjects.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES AND FEDERAL RELATIONS FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 625

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 625, entitled "A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Art. VIII, Sec. 1 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, permitting citizens eighteen years of age or over to vote," having been referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, June 29, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this resolution and the other resolutions which I will offer to the Chair are for the purpose of discharging these committees and asking that these matters be brought to the floor.

The matters with which these resolutions deal are those having to do with problems which face the workingman, the wage earner. They also deal with problems which face the people who vote in our Commonwealth; for example, the young man who is eighteen years of age. I believe, during the last two gubernatorial elections and also the Presidential elections, it has been stated in both Party Platforms that the young man, eighteen years of age, shall have the right to vote.

These are the bills dealing with the laboring man and his problem of how he shall be paid, the problems with the working conditions under which he must work and also the problems with special clothing or special facilities he must have and which he must provide for himself.

I think we are all aware of the economic conditions, as they exist in this country. We find that the cost of living continues to rise and rise, and that the wages which the workingman earns cannot keep pace with this rising cost of living. It might well be that this problem of inflation is moved by wages or it might well be that the prices charged by the employer for his product are rising at such a rate that the wages have to keep running after them to catch them. It is now the case of which comes first, the chicken or the egg. There have been instances where the workers received a few pennies extra, or fringe benefits, and the cost of the product goes up, proportionately, much higher. It may go up five, six or seven times that of the increase granted the workingman.

Some of this legislation which is being presented here has to do with the people who work for the railroads, as well. We feel that this legislation would provide certain safety measures and loss of life would be reduced.

Mr. President, I am sure that all of these measures, which deal with the humane, social and welfare aspects of our lives, dealing with the citizens of this Commonwealth, are things which we cannot lightly overlook. I think it is incumbent upon the chairmen who have these matters in their committees, to take some action on their behalf. Not to do so, I think is to overlook a problem and bury your heads in the sand and say that it does not exist and, therefore, you will not act on it.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that we have a roll call vote on this measure. I also ask that the vote taken be recorded for all of the resolutions.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Minority Leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, were the remarks made by the gentleman designed to cover all of the resolutions which will be presented here for discharge?

Mr. WEINER. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, does what the gentleman just said apply to all of the resolutions?

Mr. WEINER. It would cover the entire field, Mr. President. I did not go specifically into them, but if the gentleman would like me to do so, I shall be very happy to.

Mr. BERGER. I am sure the gentleman would, Mr. President. I thank the gentleman.

I just want to say, Mr. President, that once again we have a series of discharge resolutions, requesting the Senate to discharge, from further consideration of certain bills, the committees which have had them in their charge.

Mr. President, of course, this is designed to imply that people who offer these resolutions and who vote to discharge the committees voted for these bills, on the floor of the Senate, and were all in favor of them. Our system here would break down if we did not have the committee system in the consideration of bills. I seem to recall that some time ago, there was a resolution offered suggesting that the vote in committee, upon bills, be a matter of public record. Sometimes, I wish that that could be done on certain bills, because it would be, I am sure, a very, very revealing thing to a great many people of Pennsylvania if we were to bring out of committee the information and discussion which goes on in committee regarding certain bills. I, personally, think it would break down the entire system. However, on occasions like this, Mr. President, I feel that now and then, on some of these bills, it would be a very salutary thing.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am asking my colleagues to vote "no" on these discharge resolutions because the committee chairmen have considered the bills and have had them before their committees for consideration. The committee action evidently has been adverse.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, regarding these discharge resolutions, I was keenly disappointed in the statements made by the Minority Leader as he introduced his resolution to the Senate. He opened his statement by saying that these resolutions to discharge certain committees from further considering certain legislation dealt with bills which affected the workingman and the man who voted. That is the portion of his statement in which I was disappointed.

I am certainly surprised that the Minority Leader would consider legislation only from the angle of politics and only from the angle of the votes which might or might not accrue to us. That is the point about which I feel very keenly. I have always held this gentleman in the highest regard. I do not believe that he means that certain committees should be discharged from further consideration of legislation, only because of politics.

It would seem, however, during the last twenty-four or thirty hours, that many of these discharge resolutions presented were for that purpose, from the statement he made just a few moments ago.

Again, Mr. President, I just want to say that I do not believe that we are elected to public office simply to play politics. I believe we are elected to office to do the things which we believe are right for the almost 11,000,000 people who reside in this great Commonwealth.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am sorry that my mentioning politics in this great Body offends the great Senator from Cumberland County. I hope he will forgive me. However, apparently, the message which I have been trying to deliver here, for the entire session, has finally reached him and he is now beginning to talk like a statesman.

What I was trying to mention was—and I am sorry if I, in any way, was ambiguous—that the number of resolutions which I will present here deal not only with the people who work for a living, the workingman and the laboring man, but they also will deal with problems regarding elections. I think that problems dealing with elections must, of necessity, be political in nature. If the gentleman can solve this problem in a vacuum or in some way in which it would not touch on politics, I would be very happy to discuss it with him.

If he wants to take a case in point, I think he will find that the great Chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican Party, who was just mentioned yesterday, said that if the Democrats win the National Election in 1960, the Nation would be gerrymandered in such a fashion that the Republican Party could never again win or elect people to Congress. It might be that he was making this statement in front of the Finance Committee, in the hope of raising some money and he may have been political in that sense. However, I am sure that none of us believe that to be the case, although some of us might be interested in seeing whether this might come to pass. We will be very happy to put it to a test and would appreciate your help in establishing whether the State Chairman is correct or incorrect in his statement.

If I have offended the gentleman from Cumberland in any way about being political in this Chamber, I am sorry. I certainly hope that his actions and his vote will indicate that he no longer is taking any political action, but merely acting on behalf of all the people in this great Commonwealth.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I assure the gentleman who just spoke that we are certain that there is no political implication whatever in the presentation of these resolutions.

I would suggest that we have a roll call.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it seems to me that my friend, the gentleman from Cumberland, has a peculiar notion of the role of an elected representative of the people. When Senator Weiner said that he advanced these resolutions for the benefit of the people who voted, the Senator took exception to that.

When each of the political parties conduct a campaign, they make certain promises to the people who voted on their platforms. The Democratic Party has always been scrupulous to use every means at its command to carry out the promises made to the people at the time when they voted. The only way we can do this, since we do not have control of the committees and cannot report bills out, is to attempt to appeal to the Senators directly and have them vote directly on this matter. More than this, no Party can do.

Certainly, the people who vote are the people to whom the promises are made. If Senator Wade does not feel that he has any obligation to the people who voted, then he has the idea that a Senator, once having been elected, apparently, is entirely insulated from the wishes of the voters. It seems to me that this is probably one of the frankest expressions of the Republican point of view that ever accidentally got into the record. It surely is not the view of the Democratic Party, because the Democratic Party believes that it owes it to the voters to carry out the promises made during the election campaigns.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I just have one more word and then I will remain silent on this subject.

The implication seems to be that the gentlemen on the other side are the only ones who would like to vote for bills on the floor of the Senate, but cannot do so because they remain in committee. I want to assure the gentleman, most emphatically, that that is not the case. There are a number of bills in committee which probably embody more excellent legislation than we have passed this Session. However, I introduced bills at the beginning of the Session and I cannot get them out of the various committees to which they were referred, and those committees have Republican chairmen.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe we have arrived at the stage in this Session where we point with pride and view with alarm. As a matter of fact, I was greatly amused with the statements made by the distinguished gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade. In my opinion, his political footwork is almost unexcelled here in Pennsylvania.

Senator Wade reminds me of the gentleman who yelled bloody murder. As a matter of fact, it was the pot calling the kettle black. As far as politics is concerned, I believe that we, on the Democratic side, have received a liberal education from the Republicans in regard to political maneuvering. When the gentleman gets on the floor and accuses the Democrats of playing politics, I say it comes in very poor grace.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. RUTH, and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON RULES FROM
FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 2240

Messrs. MAHADY and SILVERT offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 2240, Printer's No. 1597, entitled "An act amending the act of May 10, 1939 (P. L. 111), entitled 'An act relating to, and providing for, the promotion and development of business, industry and commerce in the Commonwealth; conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Commerce and other agencies of the Commonwealth; abolishing the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission, terminating the terms of its members and conferring its powers upon, and transferring and appropriating the balance of its current appropriation to, the Department of Commerce; and repealing certain laws,' providing for the establishment and maintenance by the Department of Commerce of a business technical information program," having been referred to the Committee on Rules on September 14, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I would like to say a few words on this resolution. Before I do so, I would say the main intent and purpose of this resolution is to draw to the attention of the Members of this Body that there is a bill, House Bill No. 2240, in committee, which abolishes the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission, transfers its duties to the Department of Commerce, and enlarges those duties in connection with the transfer so that the preparation and dissemination of technical business literature, otherwise unavailable to the small businessman, may become available to him. If this bill were passed, you would be taking an oxcart form of propaganda and making it a working instrument for progress.

I, therefore, submit to you, Mr. President, that the Members of this Body should know that this is lying in committee and lying in boredom, and that it is a worthy piece of legislation, which deserves consideration or further thought by this Body.

I ask, in connection with this resolution for discharge, that a roll call vote be taken.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, there is no question that the bill referred to in the gentleman's resolution is in the Rules Committee. That it has lain dormant there, however, is a misapprehension and a misstatement. The bill is included in a list of bills which the committee had under consideration at its meeting held about a week ago, which meeting was held far into the night until about 11:00 o'clock, and was attended dutifully by the Members of both political parties in this Senate. Among the bills which were up for consideration at that time was the bill referred to by the Senator. This bill was carefully considered and it was the judgment of the committee that it ought not be reported to the floor, and it was not.

That is true of a large number of bills. If all of the bills which are presently reposing in the Rules Committee were referred to the floor, we would have to invoke the rule that in the year in which the Legislature meets that does not terminate the Legislature, but rather it is the month in which the Legislature adjourns, just as we were talking about the hour last night whereby when the Legislature adjourns, that is the end of a legislative day.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MAHADY and Mr. HAYS, and were as follows, viz:

|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Mullin, | Sarra, |
| Camiel, | Mahady, | Murray, | Seyler, |
| DiSilvestro, | McCreesh, | Ripp, | Silver, |
| Donolow, | McGinnis, | Rooney, | Stiefel, |
| Hays, | McMenamin, | Ruth, | Weiner, |

NAYS—28

| | | | |
|----------|----------------|------------|-----------|
| Berger, | Fleming, | Mallery, | Van Sant, |
| Blass, | Harney, | Pechan, | Wade, |
| Chapman, | Keller, | Probert, | Wagner, |
| Confair, | Kessler, | Scott, | Walker, |
| Ehrgood, | Koprivier, Jr. | Shafer, | Watkins, |
| Elliot, | Kromer, | Stevenson, | Whalley, |
| Flack, | Madigan, | Taylor, | Wolfe, |

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON RULES FROM
FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 2070

Mr. MULLIN offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 2070, Printer's No. 1062, entitled "An act amending the act of June 12, 1951 (P. L. 533), entitled 'An act relating to mental health, including mental illness, mental defect, epilepsy and inebriety; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto,' authorizing the Department of Public Welfare to support and foster community clinics and agencies for the treatment of the mentally ill and defective," having been referred to the Committee on Rules on August 31, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, House Bill No. 2070 passed the House on August 26, 1959 by a vote of 188 to 0. This bill amends the Mental Health Act of 1951 by providing for the Department of Public Welfare support of community psychiatric clinics and other community agencies engaged in early diagnosis, care and treatment of mental and emotional disorders. It would permit the Department of Public Welfare to do generally what heretofore has been authorized in successive appropriation acts.

I move for its adoption and ask for a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MULLIN and Mr. SEYLER, and were as follows, viz:

|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Mullin, | Sarra, |
| Camiel, | Mahady, | Murray, | Seyler, |
| DiSilvestro, | McCreesh, | Ripp, | Silver, |
| Donolow, | McGinnis, | Rooney, | Stiefel, |
| Hays, | McMenamin, | Ruth, | Weiner, |

| | | | |
|----------|-----------------|------------|-----------|
| Berger, | Fleming, | Mallery, | Van Sant, |
| Blass, | Harney, | Pechan, | Wade, |
| Chapman, | Keller, | Probert, | Wagner, |
| Confair, | Kessler, | Scott, | Walker, |
| Ehrgood, | Koprivier, Jr., | Shafer, | Watkins, |
| Elliott, | Kromer, | Stevenson, | Whalley, |

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION
OF HB 322

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 322, Printer's No. 1161, entitled "An act amending the act of October 27, 1955 (P. L. 744), entitled 'An act prohibiting certain practices of discrimination because of race, color, religious creed, ancestry, age or national origin by employers, employment agencies, labor organizations and others as herein defined; creating the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commission in the Department of Labor and Industry; defining its functions, powers and duties; providing for procedure and enforcement; providing for formulation of an educational program to prevent prejudice; providing for judicial review and enforcement; and imposing penalties,' prohibiting discrimination in the selling, leasing or financing of commercial housing and discrimination in places of public accommodation, resort or amusement because of race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin, and changing the name of the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commission to the Pennsylvania Human Relation Commission," having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on August 5, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. WEINER, Mr. President, this is a rather vital piece of legislation. One of the reasons why I think so and why it has been brought to the attention of the people of this Commonwealth is due to the fact that there were public hearings held in the House which ran for about a week. Now the proponents and opponents of this bill met at that time, discussed it, and it was an area in which there was some positive action indicated. I think that we have, in this Commonwealth, arrived at the maturity of where we recognize that there are differences among people. Having arrived at that point, I think it is incumbent upon us to act and to make what all of us recite and constantly indicate as our position into public policy. That is all this bill would do. It would indicate that the State recognizes, along with its different functions, that all people are created equal and entitled to equality of opportunity. The hearings on these bills that exceedingly clear.

It appears to me that if you are going to try to satisfy everybody on any kind of a bill which deals with a problem as diverse as this, you are never going to get any legislation on it.

We had the same problem with the F. E. P. C., and we struggled and struggled with it, and I think since we have had the F. E. P. C., it has worked pretty well. No one has been hurt. No great riots have taken place and, as a matter of fact, perhaps a little bit better understanding exists between the different peoples living in this community, who make up our State.

I would like to ask that this measure receive the consideration that it deserves, which is mature and objective consideration. I believe the chairman of the committee was quoted in one of the papers—and if I am incorrect, I wish someone would correct me—that he would give this matter consideration, and might conceivably report this bill to the floor. That has not been done. I would like to know why that has not been done. The reason is not necessary. Merely the reporting of the bill would give all of us an opportunity to take up this measure and to vote on it.

All of the different organizations which deal with minority problems and problems dealing with civil liberties have indicated their position on this matter, and I think that all of us should have the opportunity to do no less.

Mr. BERGER, Mr. President, awhile ago, I mentioned the fact that there had been a resolution introduced into this Senate suggesting or requiring that the vote on a bill in committee be made a matter of record for the edification of not only the Members of this Senate, but the people at large. I said that sometimes I thought it might be a salutary thing if that were the case.

Here again we have a bill which was considered by the committee. A vote was taken on it and the bill was not reported to the floor. Not being satisfied with that, a resolution was introduced to find out who voted for it and who did vote for it in committee which, as I said before, would break down the committee system in this Senate and in the House of Representatives.

Mr. President, in asking my colleagues to vote "no" on this discharge resolution, I suggest that all of the mileage possible has now been gotten out of this particular piece of legislation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. SEYLER, and were as follows, viz:

|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Mullin, | Sarraf, |
| Camiel, | Mahady, | Murray, | Seyler, |
| DiSilvestro, | McCreesh, | Ripp, | Silvert, |

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LAW AND ORDER
FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SB 947

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 947, entitled "An Act prohibiting the sale, transfer, purchase, ownership, possession and use of tear and noxious gas and tear gas guns; providing for certain exemptions; and providing penalties" having been referred to the Committee on Law and Order on July 14, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MILLER and Mr. McCREESH, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON LABOR AND INDUSTRY FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1984

Mr. MILLER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1984, entitled "An Act relating to the payment of wages or compensation for labor or services in private employment; providing for regular pay days; conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Labor and Industry, including powers and duties with respect to the civil collection of wages; * * *" having been referred to the Committee on Rules on August 31, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Chair, and of the Senate, to this discharge resolution on House Bill No. 1984. I would like to point out that the resolution does not state the facts. The bill was reported to the floor of the Senate and it was recommitted to the committee. Consequently, the averment of the resolution is entirely incorrect.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, as I understand the Majority Leader, the bill in question is still in the custody of the committee and, certainly, therefore, the intent of the resolution is correct. It is perhaps no more exactly correct than the History of Senate Bills was yesterday when it stated that Mr. McGlinchey had already been confirmed, fifty to nothing. If the gentleman's point is that he wants us to take time to have the resolution redrawn, this, of course, we will do. Otherwise, we would hold that the intent of the resolution is just as pertinent as it was, because the bill has been recommitted and it has not re-emerged. Therefore, there is a need to discharge the committee from further consideration.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, of course, I might insist upon a new resolution. However, I will take the oral amendment, and we can proceed with the roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MILLER and Mr. McCREESH, and were as follows, viz:

|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Mullin, | Sarra, |
| Camel, | Mahady, | Murray, | Seyler, |
| DiSilvestro, | McCreesh, | Ripp, | Silvert, |

REVENUE BILL ON THIRD READING

SB 1112—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

HB 317—Read at length the third time and agreed to,
And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I believe there are many reasons why we could oppose the passage of this bill. Because of the lateness of the hour, I would like to mention just three of them.

First, I would say, Mr. President, that this bill is not good legislation because it will not accomplish the purpose for which it is intended. As I understand it, this bill is intended to qualify Pennsylvania for some additional money from the Federal Government in connection with the road building program. As the bill is now drawn, Pennsylvania will not qualify under the Federal program and the bill, therefore, is meaningless in so far as its original purpose is concerned.

Secondly, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this bill is premature. No State under the Federal road building program has yet qualified for any money. No State can ever get any money from the Federal Government for this purpose until the middle part of 1961. We have a year and one-half yet in which to work on the proper legislation in order to qualify if we wish to for additional Federal grants. To pass this bill at this time is very much premature.

Mr. President, the third and most important reason I would like to mention tonight is that it is more a matter of governmental philosophy. Inherent in this bill is the question that is recurring more frequently and becoming more important in every Legislature of every State in this Union. That is, how far do we want to allow the Federal Government to encroach upon the powers of the States?

Under this particular piece of legislation regarding the regulation of billboards, twenty-one States have already rejected this type of legislation. It is pending, I believe, in a few other States at the moment.

Mr. President, We have gone a long way in this Country in the last generation toward regulating business. However, it seems to me that for the Federal Government to move in on a business of this nature and one of so minor a nature, in so far as its impact is concerned upon our total economy, is a very far-reaching extension of Federal regulatory powers. In this particular instance, Federal regulation, as designed in this bill, may very well destroy an industry that is an important part of Pennsylvania's economy.

Mr. President, more than that, we have seen time and again in various fields of governmental activity an attempt by the Federal Government to get its foot in the door of the business of the States by holding out a bait or a snare in the form of Federal money. If this bill is enacted and if we should qualify,—this bill, of course, as I have said will not qualify us for additional money—in the case of billboard regulation, the Federal Government is promising at some future date, even though there is no machinery or money yet appropriated for it, to Pennsylvania a little less than $5,000,000 over a period of thirteen years. Yet, Mr. President, if we allow the Federal Government to dangle this bait in front of us and we bite for the bait like suckers, we are giving the Federal Government jurisdiction or some rights over more than 1,000,000 acres of land in Pennsylvania. We are also restricting, in a very serious manner, the rights of property owners along highways in the use of their lands; rights that have heretofore not been circumvented or restricted by legislation of this type. Certainly farmers and other landowners along highways are going to have the right to damages if the use of the land is restricted. Can anyone here tonight calculate how much more this bill is going to cost our Department of Highways in paying damages and how much more than the $5,000,000 we may some day get from the Federal Government?

Mr. President, I think there has been in recent years too much encroachment by the Federal Government upon the legitimate activities of the State. Always the bait is a little extra Federal money. However, in too many cases, in order to qualify for the little extra Federal money, we impose far greater additional burdens and taxes upon our State residents. I think that perhaps this is one of the issues or one of the areas of governmental activity on which we should have a clear-cut decision in Pennsylvania as to just how far we want to go in turning over the rights, lands, privileges and the obligation to pay money on the part of the Pennsylvania citizens to the Federal Government.

Mr. President, for these and many other reasons which there is no need to debate at great length, I would urge all of my colleagues to vote "no" on this piece of legislation.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I hate to take issue with one of my colleagues. However, I believe that one of the problems confronting us with this piece of legislation—it may be that the Senator's points are well taken and I do not doubt that there is a great deal of merit to what he has said—is that it is the same as any kind of a zoning law. I believe our problem in this State and in every State on this matter has been discussed on national television networks. This has been taken up by both party platforms. I remember when I served on the Democratic Platform Committee, we had people representing both sides of this issue come in and spend hours discussing it. I believe the Republican Party did the very same thing for as many proponents and opponents of this legislation.

The purpose of this type of legislation is to set a public policy so that the lands contiguous to our highways are not cluttered with signs instead of landscaping. We are trying to zone out these areas so that people who are out for a ride on the highways will not be looking at billboard after billboard after billboard. They will actually see what nature there is left and what has not become commercialized. I am afraid that perhaps sometimes in doing this, property rights do suffer. However, property rights must always suffer where the welfare of the people is involved.

As between the two philosophies, I personally would like to subscribe to the welfare of the people philosophy. If commercialism must suffer, I feel badly that that is true. If property rights have to suffer, I feel badly that that is also true. However, I certainly think the beautifying of our communities is more important than commercialism, because if that were not the case, many of the residential areas that exist today in most of our fine cities would certainly go to pieces very shortly.

I think we here took a position on the taproom situation to limit them because they were encroaching upon many of our residential areas. It was not that anyone had anything against taprooms or that they, themselves, were bad, but we felt that we must delimit and delineate the areas we are going to have where people can live without commercialism or industrialism encroaching upon them. There are many fine pieces of ground which are available for industrial use, but people also have homes in those areas. If you removed zoning, you would have a chaotic condition.

I do not think the dangling of Federal money has anything to do with it. I think the Governor himself has taken a stand on this very position whereby the purpose that he is trying to achieve is to beautify the landscape and to beautify our city and our country areas, as well as our entire State.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, this bill, I believe, is patterned to carry out the principles of the political parties and their programs. It is also a very progressive measure.

The tourist business is becoming bigger and bigger every year. The people from far and near are using our highways, especially the highways which are considered in this bill. The places farther away from the centers of population are becoming closer by reason of the faster means of transportation and the desire of people to tour their State and the Country, and see more of it.

This bill is merely intended to discourage the blotting out of all the natural scenery of Pennsylvania with a lot of bill boards, signs and so on, which we are trying to get away from in the sections where we live.

I think this is a very constructive measure. I think the people behind it are pure of mind and sincere. I also think that we will be the beneficiaries of it, economically and otherwise, in Pennsylvania, both from the standpoint of income from taxes and the attraction of tourists, commercially, if you look at it that way. On the other hand, however, there are principles of maintaining our countryside, especially for the people who are traveling back and forth. Anybody who travels on the United States highways should take a trip into Canada and up around the area of Niagara Falls where they will find practically no billboards. I think that the contrast is a very pleasant one. I think it is about time that we did something to protect our own countryside for the tourists.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I very much dislike to disagree with my two distinguished colleagues from Philadelphia, who have just spoken. However, I think they missed the point of my remarks.

Certainly, the elimination of some of the billboard alleys which we have in Pennsylvania is a worthy cause. If that were the sole purpose of this bill, and the purpose were to be enacted in a sensible manner, I would certainly support it. We all know about how certain roads are paved with good intentions. I am afraid that somewhere in America there is a group of master planners who, by espousing worthy causes, are gradually paving a road for America into a strait jacket.

If the people who want to eliminate billboard alleys are sincere, why do they not put in a bill which would allow our own Department of Highways to eliminate congestion of billboards on all highways, not just highways which are a part of the Federal-State program. If we would have a bill here which would allow the Department of Highways to regulate, sensibly, billboards all over the State, whether they are on county roads, legislative routes, State highways or Federal highways, then I would be in favor of it and I would speak for it.

I am in agreement with those who think there are too many bill boards in too many areas on our highways in Pennsylvania. However, what I am objecting to—and I think this is the point which this Body should seriously consider—is that here, with the usual bait for the suckers of the States, the Federal Government is trying to get its foot in the door and regulate our problems here in Pennsylvania. That is my objection to this type of legislation.

Mr. President, it might be well to remark at this time that this seems to me to becoming more and more of a pattern. Just yesterday, we returned to a committee one of the most vicious pieces of legislation which I have ever seen on our Calendar; namely, House Bill No. 2388. That bill, in effect, would have given the Department of Highways the right to condemn any person's piece of property, anywhere in the Commonwealth and any time it wanted to do so. I never saw such a far-reaching piece of legislation. That bill listed, by name, twenty-two separate new reasons why the Secretary of Highways could condemn land. The language, in some instances, was so broad that the Secretary of Highways could condemn your house or my house tomorrow morning, without showing any good reason. The day thereafter, he could transfer it or sell it at a private sale to any other person in the Commonwealth. That would have been the greatest land grab in the history of the Commonwealth. I would not have voted for that bill unless we amended the title of the Secretary of Highways and called him "Land Commissar."

Mr. President, a few years ago, in America, there was worry about creeping socialism. However, if legislation such as that and legislation such as this is to continue to appear on our Calendars, I think we have gone from creeping socialism to galloping socialism. We are fast moving down the road, through legislation of this type to one super government, in America, to Stateism or whatever you wish to call it.

It is for this reason, Mr. President, that I am opposing this billboard bill. It is not because I do not believe that billboards should not be regulated or some effort made to clear up the litter on some parts of our highways, but we should do it ourselves as a State problem and not invite the Federal Government in and give it forevermore the right to restrict the uses of property of more than 1,000,000 acres, owned by Pennsylvania's citizens.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, it hardly seems necessary for me to take the floor to express my views regarding this bill, since Senator McMEnamin has so well expressed the case against this bill here this afternoon. However, I want to repeat some of the things which he said.

Twenty-one States of this Union have already considered legislation very similar to House Bill No. 317, and have either defeated the bills or laid them aside without further consideration. That, in itself, is evidence to me that it is an important measure. The fact that the things which Senator McMEnamin has so well pointed out here this afternoon, regarding creeping socialism and the intent on the part of the Federal Government to hold out a bait to us, seems to me to be very pertinent, indeed.

Pennsylvania is a great industrial State. At least, we have ranked high among the States of the Union as an industrial State. We are currently setting aside some $10,000,000 to invite Industry into our Commonwealth. Here we propose to take, by a creeping method, and industry which spends $25,000,000 among our suppliers in the Commonwealth. If we are going to try to build industry on one hand and, on the other hand, destroy industry, it does not seem to me to make such sense.

On July 1, 1961, we must make a decision regarding this matter. The decision is not pressing now and we are not being hurried into it. Only two States have passed it and not a single State has ever received one cent of this bonus which is held out in the hope that we will enact this legislation.

Mr. President, let me remind you, again, that in the Federal fund for interstate highways, all these special taxes go into their General Fund. Those funds then must be reappropriated from that General Fund into the Highway Trust Fund. The further qualification is that the funds again be reappropriated from this Highway Trust Fund for this specific purpose. Through the press, you have read, during the recent months and practically all through this year, the history of that Highway Fund. They purported to raise $40,000,000,000 for this interstate highway system. Now it proves to be entirely inadequate. The possibility of reappropriating any money for the purpose of paying a bonus to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is, indeed, very remote.

Let me read from a recent statement, as follows:

"The payment of such a bonus, however, is entirely dependent upon an appropriation of funds by Congress for that purpose. Up to date, three years after the Federal highway enactment has been made, no appropriation has been made."

We know of the serious condition of this Highway Fund. We know that the permission to go ahead with roads promised to the different States has not been granted for the simple reason that funds are lacking.

In the October 17th issue of the New York Times, an Associated Press dispatch states that a special White House group is reported to be considering a move for major changes in the interstate highway program. One proposal under study is said to be that the States pay a larger share of the $40,000,000,000, originally undertaken. The article states further that a study would indicate the possibilities of cutting the percentage of contributions to all interstate projects.

One wonders, therefore, whether any funds will ever be appropriated by Congress for this project.

Mr. President, let me give you a little history of this bill in the Senate. We received the bill from the House on June 22. If you will look at the House History, you will find that the bill was rereported from committee, as amended, debated several different times and then passed by a small majority. When we received the bill in the Committee on Highways, we appointed a special committee of three. After some consideration, they reported back that they could reach no decision on this legislation. Again, we considered the bill in committee and again we appointed, for the second time, a special committee to study this bill. That committee held hearings and developed very valuable information. It learned, through those harings, which were pretty well attended, that this was a $25,000,000 industry and that this was the first step of getting a foot in the door to destroy this industry in Pennsylvania.

About that time, September 23, prior to the hearings, Senator Wagner, Senator Berger, Senator Stevenson and I joined in Senate Resolution, Serial No. 70, asking that the Joint State Government Commission study this whole problem and report back to the next Session, which would be in ample time for the next Legislature to act.

Let me say further, Mr. President—and I will not attempt to further lengthen the debate on this matter—that this bill board industry has helped to build industry in Pennsylvania. There are scarcely any of our manufacturers who do not make use of this industry, and it is used for many other purposes.

I will now read a letter that was handed to me, about a day or two ago. It is addressed to a Mr. Henry Posner, Jr., and comes from a lady in Pittsburgh. Her name, for your information, is Ruby L. Zener—Mrs. Clarence Zener—Chairman of the County Sale for Girl Scouts in Allegheny County. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Mr. Posner,
"Once again the Girl Scouts of Allegheny County are planning their annual sale. We remember with gratitude how generously you helped us in our 1959 sale by giving us billboard space which we would not afford to buy. These large advertisements encouraged the girls as they went out to call on customers who were expecting them, and our profits were greater than in former years.

"We are all hoping that you will be willing to help us again this year. The sale will run from January 29 to February 13, 1960, throughout Allegheny County. We shall have billboard sheets (108 x 236)" advertising the sale, asking the public to support the Girl Scouts, and with no company name thereon. If you can possibly place some of these announcements the week prior to the sale, i.e. from January 24, our Council will be very appreciative of your kindness."

That is only one example of many where these billboards are used throughout our Commonwealth.

Let me further emphasize one more point. In the building of our interstate highways, it is possible that our Department of Highways, which builds the roads, will take a right of way of 400 or 500 feet for this road purpose. This bill provides—and it is limited in its present form to interstate highways—that we deprive the landowner, from the edge of the right of way for 660 feet on one side and 660 feet on the other side, of a right which he inherently has by being a landowner. I very seriously question the constitutionality of taking that right away from him. We know we have the right of eminent domain to take the right of way for highways. However, we do not know that we have the right to take a right of way beyond what we are using and restrict the purposes of the use of that property.

I submit, Mr. President, that there is a very serious constitutional problem in this. We should have the funds to pay the land owner for that property—North Dakota, by the way, passed such legislation—and provide that we pay for that right which we are taking by the right of eminent domain, which this bill provides. This bill is one restricted form of eminent domain, by going 660 feet on the right and 660 on the left beyond the property we are taking to be used by the Commonwealth or the Federal Government. Very seriously, Mr. President, I question whether we have the right to take that without paying for it. There is no provision in this bill to pay the landowner for our taking of that right.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, in a meeting with a group of Members of the Senate recently, it was suggested that amendments be prepared for this bill on page 3, line 3, after the word "magistrate," to include justice of the peace and alderman.

I have had similar amendments prepared. I also have received a letter from the Legislative Reference Bureau stating:

"I believe the attached amendment is unnecessary as 'magistrate' is defined in Section 102 of The Vehicle Code as a mayor, burgess, magistrate, alderman, justice of the peace or other officer having the powers of a committing magistrate."

I have checked The Vehicle Code, passed in April, and find that is true. Therefore, I will not offer the amendments because I believe this bill is now in good order.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred):

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, having voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 3, by inserting after "322)": "and amended November 19, 1959 (Act No. 551)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 6, by inserting after "proceedings": "or reconveyance by the condemning body of the property condemnation which reconveyance may include property line adjustments provided said reconveyance is made within one year from the date of condemnation"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 16 by inserting after "the": "vendor holding the"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 16 by striking out "mortgagee" and inserting: "mortgage."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over printing.

CALENDAR

BILLS ON THIRD READING

SB 1256 and 1257—Without objection, the bills were passed over in their order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

SB 1272—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill, Senate bill No. 1272, if enacted into law, would allow the school boards in the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh to raise the real estate taxes up to twenty-five mills. This bill would put in the hands of the school board, which is not an elected board in the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh, the authority to raise the taxes up to twenty-five mills. This is quite a jump from the present rate of taxation by the board. It would also provide a means of taxation without the people really being represented which, I think, is basically contrary to what we have always known, and for which I believe the Revolutionary War was fought—taxation without representation.

The people who serve on the school board are honored citizens who receive no pay whatsoever. Many of them attend meetings which are held once or twice a month. Many of them also, during the time when there are no meetings, visit the school buildings and make unannounced visits to many of the school areas or warehouses to see how things are going. They are the board of directors, as it were, of the school building group, the school teachers and the school administrators.

To place this power in their hands without any right of the citizenry to be heard, or without any right of the citizenry to take any kind of action in this matter, is I think a rather odd way of doing things. If these people exceed their authority, the only thing a citizen can do is begin a court action, which is rather a devious method to accomplish a purpose that was never intended to be put into their hands. We have, for example, the Legislative Body here which enacts taxation and recommends it to the Governor. The reverse is many times true when the Governor tells us how much he needs and we, in turn, enact the taxes or the means of raising the revenue and submit this to the people. If the people are dissatisfied with what we do, they vote us out of office, or vote out the Governor or the Executive Branch. We are in a position to be acted upon by the voters.

This measure places in the hands of people who are not elected the same kind of authority that we have, but without the privilege of the people to take any action against them. I think this is a rather unfair way. I also think these limits are excessive as far as the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are concerned, or Allegheny County, and I think this is a bad measure. I think we would set a bad precedent. I do not think that we would give this power to other boards and commissions which now exist in this State or that now exist anywhere else in the Commonwealth.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, to paraphrase a great American, "You can please some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time." However, on the subject of permitting the school board of Philadelphia either to be elected and thus lay its own taxes, or to be appointed and lay taxes as designated by the Legislature, you can never get to first base.

Mr. President, the first two bills on this Calendar would do exactly what the gentleman complains is not being done; that is, to permit the school board of Philadelphia to be elected by the people. The spokesmen for Philadelphia rise up and say, "Do not do that. Do not do that. We will not get a good school board." Then they come along and say, "Well, let the appointive board remain, but let them levy millage up to a certain figure which is limited by the Legislature." They say that if you give them any discretion at all, they are an appointive body and should not be allowed to do it.

Mr. President, I submit that this bill is probably the best answer to the proposition in trying to meet some of the objections. However, I never hope that the Legislature will be able to meet them all because, evidently, what Philadelphia wants is for the Legislature to tell them how much tax they can levy and then complain that they are taxed too much.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that the gentleman will recall that the Members here voted—and I believe that all of them on this side voted—to raise the present tax rate in the city of Philadelphia by two mills. That means that for the next two years, according to the estimates given to us by the school board, this will take care of all of their revenue problems in the coming biennium. If the gentlemen on the other side feel that this matter is tied in with the other two matters about which we are speaking,—namely, Senate Bill No. 1257 and possibly Senate Bill No. 1256—I feel that those are two separate issues which should be discussed on their own merits and on their own grounds. I think if you ask them to raise the school board levy, I do not see that it is any great hardship on the Members of the Legislature to undertake from time to time, when the school board does come here, and they have not been here for awhile other than this Session. They had not been here the Session before that to ask for an increase or the Session before that to ask for an increase in the amount of money they could raise or the amount of money that they needed. I think to just willy-nilly give them this without an investigation to determine whether they need this or not is a rather quick method of accomplishing some purpose best known to the gentleman who have introduced this bill.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, it is customary, when people want a little more power that we wait until they ask for it. I do not know of anybody in Philadelphia who asked Senator Pechan or Senator Propert to introduce this bill to give them more power to levy more taxes. On the other hand, the people in Philadelphia, who have expressed an opinion on this bill along with Senate Bills Nos. 1256 and 1257, are opposed to this bill.

This is the windup of a long Session. We have been here almost a year. A bill such as this, along with the two previous bills, is a matter which is not only controversial, but it is one which goes to the heart of some fundamental problems with the Philadelphia school system. The various agencies in Philadelphia, who are interested in the Philadelphia school system, have expressed their opinions on this legislation as being so controversial and so important that they would probably like it to be left alone at the present moment because they have missed the boat in this Session. Such bills should have been introduced earlier in the Session, and the views of the people from home and school associations should have been heard, along with the views of the people on the Board of Education in Philadelphia and the various other agencies which are interested in such legislation. Coming at such a late time, I think the bill is out of order at this time.

This bill was introduced by persons who do not live in or represent Philadelphia or its problems. The Philadelphia Board of Education is not a political organization. I happen to have been interested in this problem for a little while in an effort to get some of their viewpoints across. As far as appropriations go this year, they have some very controversial problems.

One very active member of the Board of Education of Philadelphia, who happens to be president of the board and who is a very active ex-Republican politician, is using his office, in my opinion, to make it political and has conducted a series of activities which were political. In fact, this has been done to such an extent that Senator McCreesh and I did introduce a bill calling for election of the school board if they continued such activities. Such activities have ceased. I believe that the members were carried away by their desire for this Body to grant more money to the city of Philadelphia to carry out the purposes of the school district.

From all of the letters that I have received from the people of Philadelphia,—not only letters by the hundreds, but also telegrams from every home and school association in the city who have wired me and all of my colleagues from Philadelphia—they would rather that education in Philadelphia be kept away from political action. It is really an administrative and specialized activity, so far as the school board in Philadelphia is concerned, in its field. It is an administrative body. From year to year, the business manager of the school district of Philadelphia has come in here and asked for more money, which the Legislature has always obliged by giving them power to increase the millage and so on. To that, I would say the General Assembly has been very cooperative.

The people of Philadelphia do not seem to want this legislation. We, who represent the people of Philadelphia here, oppose this bill for the various reasons given. I think there is some merit in the general idea that is expressed in these three bills, but I think that the people of Philadelphia—especially the parents of children in the public schools and also the board of education of Philadelphia, which comprises the school district of Philadelphia—are not interested in this particular bill and the other two bills at the present time. Maybe at some later Session of the Legislature they might be given some serious consideration and study. However, at the present, as a representative of Philadelphia, I ask this Body to vote against this bill and the other two bills should they come before the Senate.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I will be glad to yield to my colleague, Senator Watkins.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Minority Leader, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, was I hearing clearly when I heard Senator Weiner say—at least, I thought he did—that he was opposed to taxation without representation?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not know that I would classify myself as an otolaryngologist and could testify as to the gentleman's hearing, but I believe that one of the things I did say was that one basis on which this Country was founded was a stand against taxation without representation. It is a bad thing or, to paraphrase, it is tyranny.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I have been trying to tell that to the Philadelphia delegation for eleven years. Taxation without representation is unfair, unjust and certainly not good government. Therefore, I would like to request of the gentleman that he put into writing a resolution, or join with me in a resolution, asking Mr. Dilworth, the Honorable Mayor of Philadelphia, and the council to relieve Delaware County of the nonresident wage tax which we are now paying to Philadelphia. I certainly am glad that the gentleman has taken the attitude opposing taxation without representation. I shall draft the resolution tomorrow, and hope that he will join with me in sponsoring it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I will have to plead that I do not know where the question began and where the speech ended. However, I would like to interrogate Senator Watkins, if he will allow himself to be interrogated.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us if he is the Senator from Delaware County?

Mr. WATKINS. Without question of a doubt.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman further advise us if the city of Chester is located in Delaware County?

Mr. WATKINS. I think it is in Delaware County. I think you Democrats know that it is in Delaware County, too, after this last election.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I find that the gentleman is not as sure of whether the city is in Delaware County as he is of whether he is the Senator from Delaware County. However, that aside, Senator, are you aware that the city of Chester was thinking about levying a wage tax recently? I think it was Councilman Gorbey who recommended it. I believe he was on the Republican ticket and was elected as a Republican councilman. Is that correct?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I heard some rumor about something like that. However, I do not always believe what I read in the newspapers. Certainly if the Mayor and councilmen of the city of Chester talked about a wage tax,—and I think the gentleman is correct that they did—but I will say that Senator Watkins never talked about a wage tax. I would like to go on record now as saying that if they are thinking about levying a wage tax as you say,—but I have other information that they are not going to levy a wage tax—I shall oppose it. I shall always be for the repeal of a wage tax in any place in my county where one is levied.

To enlighten the gentleman from Philadelphia so that I can bring him up-to-date,—evidently he is busy and does not read the newspapers—the city of Chester has no idea now of levying a wage tax.

Mr. WEINER. That is correct, Senator. You have answered my question, and I want to thank you for your courtesy. However, what I wanted to say was that you actually did not say anything about the wage tax during the time the Chester officials were talking about it.

Mr. WATKINS. Oh yes, I did.

Mr. WEINER. I believe that one of the newspapers—if I am incorrect, please correct me—said that you were unavailable for comment, and nothing happened until just recently when the city decided to do away with the idea of a wage tax and decided to use some other form of taxation to solve their financial problem.

Senator, I would like to say to you that the people in your county do not have to be taxed in the city of Philadelphia. Their problem is a very simple one. All they have to do is seek a job somewhere else. I am sure that the people in Philadelphia who can take a job in the city will be only too happy to pay that wage tax.

Mr. WATKINS. I am not going to argue that point, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair must insist on order. If there is an interrogation, it must be directed through the Chair. We have given wide latitude. We are seemingly now talking about other than the matter germane to the subject before us. We are discussing Senate Bill No. 1272.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I think the Chair is absolutely right. However, I think you should give me the courtesy of answering one shot which he sent over this way.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman may proceed.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to say to the gentleman that when he said that I had no comment to the newspapers, he is correct. However, the newspapers contacted my office and put a very beautiful picture of me in the paper. The article under it said that Senator Watkins was very much upset, and also that he was closeted with the leader of Delaware County, opposing the tax. Now does that answer your question that I did do something about it, Senator?

Mr. President, that is all I have to say. I am most grateful that the gentleman has once admitted that he is opposed to taxation without representation.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to digress or go far afield, but I am glad that the gentleman was closeted with the great leader of Delaware County and that they brought this matter to a successful conclusion.

Unfortunately, I did not read the newspaper account indicating that Senator Watkins had any bearing on the final action taken by the city council. I think full credit was given to Councilman Gorbey. I think the record should be set straight that it was actually Senator Watkins who set this matter right, and that they are going to put this wage tax out of the category of being considered and take up some other form of taxation.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, as a cosponsor of Senate Bill No. 1272, I would like to state that this measure was introduced after we ran into some opposition to Senate Bills Nos. 1256 and 1257. To my way of thinking, I do not know why the city of Philadelphia or the city of Pittsburgh should be any different than any of the other sixty-five counties in the Commonwealth, so far as running their schools is concerned. The thing that I do not understand is why should this Legislature, every two years, be subjected to raising the millage of the taxes in those two cities.

I have just finished a tour of duty as a school director in Armstrong County, in my local school district, of thirty years. One of the very unpleasant duties that I had to perform was to raise the millage to run our schools. Why Philadelphia and Pittsburgh should not have the same power, whether they are appointed or not, I do not know.

You object to having an elected school board. You object to having the right to assess the people so far as tax revenue is concerned to run your schools. You want to come down here every two years and put the onus on me. I am from Armstrong County and I have troubles enough of my own running my own school district, let alone worrying about you fellows in Philadelphia and in Pittsburgh.

We are raising the limit to twenty-five mills. Whether your school directors are appointed or elected, the fact that this bill gives them twenty-five mills as a ceiling does not mean that next year they will have to raise the millage from sixteen to twenty-five. If they are good business people like we are in my school district, and in the other sixty-five counties, they are probably going to go easy. They might raise it one-half mill or one-quarter mill. Once in awhile in a good school district, such as you will find over the Commonwealth, we reduce the taxes and give people better school teachers and better schools.

We are not afraid of politics. You want to keep the school board out of politics. What are you politicians afraid of? We are not afraid. I want to tell you that I also happen to be the Republican County Chairman of Armstrong

County, and I have said—and I feel very strongly about this because I would like to get all politics out of our schools—that I think the school directors should run on a nonpartisan ticket. Perhaps that is a sacrilege. Perhaps that is wrong so far as the Republican County Chairman is concerned. However, I feel very, very strongly about it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, with great fear and trepidation, I would like to admonish the Senator from Armstrong as he seems to be offending the Senator from Cumberland who admonished me this afternoon for talking politics in this Chamber. I hope that you will stay away from that, Senator, because talking about politics or mentioning anything political is very offensive to the Senator from Cumberland. You can see by his nodding head that he can hardly trust himself to speak on this subject, and this has offended him very badly.

To get on to the problem that you mentioned, Senator, would you allow yourself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. It is a little difficult with a Philadelphia lawyer, but I will take a chance.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us how long he has been in this Senate?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, one of the Members said, "Too long," but it is eleven years, Senator.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, how many times during those eleven years have you voted for an increase in the real estate tax or millage for the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I do not recall how many times. However, I do recall that along with raising the millage, you have come here as a distressed area asking for additional help.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the gentleman is not answering my question. Senator, let me rephrase my question. Maybe it was my fault, and I stated it incorrectly to you.

Did you vote for Philadelphia to increase its millage this last time at this Session?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes.

Mr. WEINER. You did vote for it?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, I did.

Mr. WEINER. All right. How about two years ago?

Mr. PECHAN. Did we have to do it two years ago?

Mr. WEINER. Senator, I am merely taking your statement. You said you voted on it every two years. Now I just want to know if you voted for it in the 1957 Session.

Mr. PECHAN. If I said every two years, I do not recall that you have done it every two years. You are probably going to do it every year now that we have Annual Sessions. The reason I made it two years was because we had Biennial Sessions. I do not know whether you have come every two years or not. However, I do know that one of the biggest problems that I have with the Philadelphia School District and the Pittsburgh School District is that they are always short. If you would hear of the troubles that we have in our area—

Mr. WEINER. Senator, excuse me for interrupting. I do not mean to be rude. However, I listened to you when you spoke, and I am just asking that you extend me the same courtesy. Did you vote for an increase in the 1955 Session?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not recall. I did answer that once, but you would not let me alone so I had to elaborate.

Mr. WEINER. How about the 1951 Session, Senator? Did you vote for a millage increase then?

Mr. PECHAN. If you got an increase, I voted for it; yes, sir.

Mr. WEINER. Might I suggest to you, sir—

Mr. PECHAN. Were you here in 1951, may I ask?

Mr. WEINER. No, sir.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will have to insist that if the interrogation is to take place, it must take place in accordance with the rules of the Senate. Senator Weiner has asked to interrogate Senator Pechan. The gentleman has agreed to be interrogated. Now, Senator Weiner, proceed with your interrogation.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us if he voted for any increase since 1953, through the present date, for the city of Philadelphia or Allegheny County?

Mr. PECHAN. Increase in millage, may I ask?

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir.

Mr. PECHAN. If we did not do it by increasing the millage, we gave it to you in some other way.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, we are only concerned here about increasing the millage. I think that is the only matter which is presently before us.

Mr. PECHAN. I am not concerned about being cross-examined.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, do you refuse to answer the questions?

Mr. PECHAN. If you continue your line of questioning, I do, yes.

Mr. WEINER. In other words, Senator, I want to thank you. If I continue on with matters which are germane to the bill, you refuse to answer the questions. Is that correct?

Mr. PECHAN. That is not correct.

Mr. WEINER. All right. Then, sir, would you answer this question: Do you happen to know what the millage rate is in the city of Philadelphia at the moment?

Mr. PECHAN. If I recall correctly, it is sixteen mills.

Mr. WEINER. Do you happen to know what our deficit has been in the city of Philadelphia in the school system?

Mr. PECHAN. Certainly not. I do not want you to worry about my deficit in Armstrong County either.

Mr. WEINER. I want to thank the gentleman.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I believe that the gentleman has demonstrated that some of the statements he has made are rather gratuitous and were probably made in the heat of the discussion on this bill. However, I think that the facts—and that is what I want to concern myself with—will show that in the last six or seven years I have been here, the only millage which has been raised for the city of Philadelphia and Allegheny County has been during this Session when they came in and asked for an increase of two mills.

The other problem that I would like to address to the Senator is that if we would receive, in the city of Philadelphia and in Allegheny County, the proportionate share under the reimbursement formula which is due us, we would have no problem and we would not need any millage.

As a matter of fact, I would like to go one step further.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, if we were allowed to keep our own tax money and not turn any of it over to the State, we would not have to burden the State with our problems. We would be able to take care of ourselves very nicely. However, that is not to be. The rest of the counties in this State, for some purposes, want to include us and for other purposes want to exclude us. The only purpose for which they want to include us is to take some of our tax money out of our area. They want to exclude us for those purposes for which we have come forward to ask for our proportionate share in return.

If you would change the formula for the city of Philadelphia or if you would run the formula the proper way, on a per pupil system. This formula that they have evolved is to me a mumbo jumbo and I doubt if there are two or three men in this room who thoroughly understand it. This formula is based on a classroom basis and a classroom unit, and the unit is defined by the people who have set up the formula so that it definitely militates against us every time we put an extra child in a classroom which does not meet with the unit requirement. If this is a fair way of operating a system, and if this is a fair way of discriminating against children who happen to live in a big city, I fail to see either the fairness or the wisdom in operating that way. Those children do not need education any more or any less than the children in your counties.

Senator, I would like to just say, in closing, that I think this measure is nothing more than a political measure to try to embarrass our school district, and also perhaps, remove the burden from those people in the community who are best able to bear it.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, first of all, I would like to say that I cannot agree with the Majority Whip in the advisability of having nonpartisan school directors. I recall that in the investigation of the Department of Public Instruction, Senator Seyler gave one of the best answers I ever heard for having school directors elected on partisan ballots, and I agree wholeheartedly with him.

However, attending to the problem at hand, I have heard a great deal about home rule, and I believe that it should not be an old coat that you discard at your will. I think this bill, which raises the limitation to twenty-five mills, is in the strong category of a home rule bill. In other words, it seems to me that the board of education would have the ability to meet their own need as they best know it. They know it better than we here in the Legislature, and I see no reason why they should not decide that matter instead of the Legislature. That is home rule, it seems to me, instead of having to come up here and get down on their hands and knees and beg for an additional tax millage raise or asking, perhaps, for additional appropriations rather than raises in millage. That is why I think this is an excellent bill. I cannot quite understand why the Senators from Philadelphia would be against this bill.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I want to congratulate the Senator from Armstrong in connection with having problems in the school district wherein he resides, and I cannot understand why he has to bother himself with the problems of the school district of Philadelphia.

It is not a question, as Senator Ehrgood says, of home rule. I think that the problem is a complex one. I do not think that this particular bill will give the school district of Philadelphia home rule. It will increase the real estate millage to twenty-five mills. The problem is one which concerns Philadelphia, the school teachers of Philadelphia, the mothers and fathers of the children in the public schools of Philadelphia and all of the people of Philadelphia whether they are interested in public schools or private schools. In that respect, it is a very important problem. It has many ramifications. For that reason, I think it is a complex matter which should not be brought up here during the last couple of days of this Session in order to try to put it through this Body as though it were part of a serious piece of legislation. It is a serious subject; a very serious subject, but it is not seriously put forth by the proponents of the legislation.

I certainly think that we should not give it the dignity of being passed by this Body.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we appear to be having a League of Nations debate upon a piece of legislation which I do not believe merits all of this talk.

I would like to be very brief and to the point. Increasing the millage up to twenty-five mills actually does not accomplish too much. There are two ways by which revenue can be acquired; either by assessments or by millage, or by both. For example, twenty-five mills on a $10,000 assessment will bring in half of the revenue of twenty-five mills on a $20,000 assessment.

I understand in Philadelphia,—I may be wrong, but someone said this—they assess eighty per cent of the market value. If that be the case, they could increase assessments from eighty to ninety per cent market value and, at the same time, take the twenty-five mills and they, of course, would have additional revenue. In the event this bill would pass and there would be a reduction in assessments from eighty per cent to forty per cent, you can readily understand that there would be a vast fluxuation. I believe that about the only way we could ever make this legislation work would be to put a floor on the amount of the assessed valuation with reference to the market value. That is going to be a very difficult task.

However, I do not believe that we are going to accomplish too much with this type of legislation. We should have some sort of a floor. We should have had a floor years ago, but we never had the guts to do it. Some day I believe the time will come when we are going to have to place a floor as to the minimum amount the assessment can be on a certain type property.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz :

HB 1597—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I will not object to the unanimous consent, but I feel, in all afirness, I should have a copy of the amendments before we act on them.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A copy of the amendments will be sent over as soon as they are offered.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am not objecting to the offering of the amendments, but I would like to have a copy of them and have an opportunity to review them for a short period of time.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, while Senator Lane is reviewing the amendments, could we go on with the Colendar and put this bill over in order, temporally?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, with that understanding, I will withdraw my request to offer amendments at this time.

Without objection the bill was passed over in its order temporally at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 1616—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, does anyone in this Body know how much money this bill will take?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Mahady has directed a question which I believe neither of the Floor Leaders has heard. Does anyone know how much this bill will cost?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, was the interrogation directed as a shot at the flock?

I cannot answer, specifically, how much this legislation will cost. However, I will say that it was desired by the Administration and, I assume, they have made adequate provision in their budget to take care of the cost.

Mr. MAHADY. That is not my question, Mr. President.

How much is provided in the budget for this bill?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am sure that the gentleman has just as much access to the budget as I have.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

INTERROGATION

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman whether, sometime before 10:00 o'clock, I informed him that I would not subject the Members of this Senate to another night of late hours, that two of our people were already sick and that when 11:00 o'clock came, I intended to make a motion to adjourn this Senate. Is that correct?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I was so informed.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman whether or not he assured me that there would be no time consumed beyond a possible five minutes in discussing any of the bills on the Calendar.

Mr. WEINER. In answer to that question, Mr. President, I advised the gentleman that I would only speak on any one of these Senate Bills. To give a complete answer to the question, however, I did not realize that the people on his side would take up this problem dealing with Philadelphia. I could do nothing except answer those people.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, rereported, as amended, HB 2386.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's Session.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, the time for convening this evening was set for 8:30 o'clock. The time of convening was actually 10:00 o'clock. Therefore, I do not think that the blame should be placed upon this side of the aisle for the late convocation of this Session.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I think that possibly there was a default on that score on both sides. Nevertheless, the reason I have assigned for this is exactly as I said before. I think it is unfair and unsafe to subject the Members of this Senate to the hours which we have been required to keep.

Therefore, Mr. President, I now make a motion that this Senate do adjourn until Thursday, December 17—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Mahady rose to a point of order. There is nothing, at this moment, before the Senate except the motion relating to the reading of bills for the first time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

The bills were as follows: HB 1142, 1388, 1584, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2139, 2459 and 2463.

And said bills having been read at length for the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to call to the attention of the Chair and also to the Majority Leader—I do not think that he was presiding—that on House Bill No. 1597, on page 4, of today's Calendar, a motion was made to have this bill go over in order, temporarily. These amendments to this bill are important.

I think that I am entitled to present these amendments. It was said by the Majority Leader that this bill would go over in order, temporarily.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that the amendments were never offered. The bill went over, temporarily. Senator Berger then announced to the Senate, after an interrogation which he made of Senator Weiner, that it had been his intention, and he had so notified the minority side, that when the hour of 11:00 o'clock arrived, he was going to make a motion to adjourn because of the danger of impairing the health of the Members of the Senate by keeping them in Session until too late an hour.

I can only call to the attention of the gentleman that when Senator Berger makes a motion to adjourn, there is nothing in order except the consideration of that motion.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I have heard no second to that motion. There has been a conversation between the Minority Leader and the Majority Leader, and I see the Minority Leader pointing to himself. I would like to ask the Chair whether there was a second to that motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. No, there was not.

Mr. WATKINS. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask for unanimous consent at this time to offer amendments.—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman, if he wants to do it correctly, that he now call up the bill which was passed over in order, temporarily.

Mr. WATKINS. I think that would be fair, Mr. President.

Therefore, Mr. President, I will call up House Bill No. 1597, Printer's No. 2085, which was passed over in order, temporarily.

Mr. President, I request that I receive unanimous consent to present amendments at this time.

INTERROGATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Watkins, I do not want to be dragging my feet here but, at the same time, I do not want to be tripped either.

I will not object to your unanimous consent to offer these amendments. However, in the event they are adopted, I expect that this bill will go over in order, as amended. In that way, I can have a good look at it. I think you are taking the hide off of the back again and that is what I am afraid of.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President. I would like to say to the gentleman that I do not know anything about taking the hide off of anything. I do not know what he means when he says that. However, I think that the gentleman is certainly in order in asking that this bill go over in order. Had he not objected and these amendments had been acted upon, I assure the gentleman that I would have requested that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I inform the gentleman that I have not objected? I merely want it understood that I want the opportunity, tomorrow morning, to look over this bill with a microscope. When amendments are offered by Senator Watkins and Senator Kessler, then I am generally suspicious.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I thought that the word "suspicion" was very ably described last night by Senator McGinnis.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I advise the gentleman that I was brainwashed last night by the gentleman from Lebanon, Senator Ehrgood.

HB 1597 CALLED UP

HB 1597—Without objection, the bill, which previously went over in its order, temporarily was called up, from page 4, of the Third Reading Calendar, by Mr. WATKINS.

BILL ON THIRD READING

HB 1597—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WATKINS, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 3, page 6, line 6, by inserting after "3": "Subclause (2) of clause (k) and." Amend Sec. 3, page 6, line 7, by striking out "IS" and inserting: "are." Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 203), page 6, by inserting between lines 10 and 11:

"(k) * * *

"(2) Sale at retail of tangible personal property or services used or consumed in building, rebuilding, repairing and making additions to or replacements in and upon vessels designed for commercial use of registered tonnage of fifty tons or more upon special order of the purchaser, or when rebuilt, repaired or enlarged, or when replacements are made upon order of or for the account of the owner."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WATKINS.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, December 17, 1959, at 12:00 o'clock noon.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:12 o'clock p.m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, December 16, 1959.

The House met at 1:00 p.m. E.S.T.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

As the shepherds fell prostrate before Thy honor and majesty, we come to Thee in this hour bowing in adoration before Thee and Thy glory. Touch these servants of Thine with the humility of those watchers on the hills outside of Bethlehem. Arouse in them the curiosity which led those men of the hills to come and see for themselves the truths of Thy Word. And inspire them as Thou didst fill those nomads of old with the determination to proclaim that which they had seen and heard. This we ask with the hope that this Christmas and the days which lie ahead may present the true meaning of the Christ Child to all mankind. In His name, we pray. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, November 16, Tuesday, November 17, Wednesday, November 18, Thursday, November 19 and Friday, November 20, 1959? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, December 15, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, to preside.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 900, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 1017) entitled "County Institution District Law" including neglected children within the powers and duties of the authorities.

And has appointed Messrs. Pechan, Ehrgood and Silvert a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives, (already appointed) on the subject of the differences between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I wish to be excused from further duty on the Conference Committee on House Bill 900.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The lady from Clinton, Mrs. Donahue, asks to be excused as a conferee on House Bill No. 900. Without objection, the lady will be excused.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we ask that the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley, be submitted as a conferee in place of Mrs. Donahue.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley, will be substituted as a member of the Conference Committee.

This has been approved by the Speaker of the House. The Chair hears no objection.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HAMILTON asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Insurance to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. DOUGHERTY asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Motor Vehicles to meet during the session of the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has had a lot of inquiries as to who Santa Claus was. The Chair was tempted to recognize the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Trusio, as Santa Klaus. Not to disclose any secrets, you all know now who it was.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED SENATE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 275.

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949" increasing the compensation of the county board of school directors for attendance at meetings and making an appropriation.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1241, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article two section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania making the General Assembly a continuing body and providing for the calling of special sessions.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I speak by your leave and I appreciate your courtesy.

In some particulars I ought to speak in terms of humble apology. There is a sector of my functioning as an officer of this House in which I have been more the captive than the master of the office I hold. In our parliamentary procedure we have no monarch who has a legal status. Nevertheless, in the final showdown we do have a king; none other than King Caucus. And, before this king, Floor Leaders, Speakers of the House and Governors, upon occasion, must needs bow. Without the instrumentality that I have termed King Caucus, parliamentary procedure would become a chaos.

I have often differed with my party caucus but have, nevertheless, voted in agreement with party caucus decisions because it was incumbent and a part of parliamentary protocol that I should do so. I have deemed it incompatible with legislative protocol for the Speaker, as I have pointed out, to challenge King Caucus unless it became a matter of conscience, and so I voted, as I believe every Member of this House on some occasion or other has voted, for measures which to them were objectionable, bowing to a majority decision. Upon occasions I have voted for measures that I deemed objectionable as a result of a Floor Leader's personal appeal, for he has needed my vote, and when he needed it, he always had it.

The pending measure now on its way back to Committee, and back to Committee it must go by reason of agreement, apparently has now very few friends on the floor of this House. The Majority Leader opposes, the wing-footed Mercury who conveys messages from the High Command which he also ably serves says he hopes, we are opposed to it. Now it is done with. The editorial "we" is all inclusive. Once upon a time a caustic critic said that "we" included the editor and his pet tapeworm. But that is not true in a case of administrative "we's."

I do not question at all the right of all and sundry to oppose whatsoever type of legislation they deem objectionable. The administration has had and now has the power to defeat the pending measure at any stage of its possible legislative career, if the measure were put to a vote. The Majority Leader has the power to defeat it. If I were not so sincerely his friend. I would envy the Majority Leader his ability to make friends and influence people. Defeat a measure, certainly, if that is the wish of the Majority, but there is a difference between defeating a measure that is of concern to administrators and moving to prevent the discussion of a measure, a discussion, mind you, of proposals that are not germane in the field of administration but which, rather, involve the basic philosophy of our government. And on that the Chair, had the Chair been free to act, free to do his own will, follow his own path, just yesterday would have joined with those who were voting to discharge a Committee.

It has always been my confident belief, for these 30 years, that where there is a preponderance of sentiment, a very considerable number of Legislators who believe in a certain measure it should be given a hearing, for the measure should be brought out for discussion, for consideration, and not blanketed in committee. It is my belief that measures such as the bill we have before us, which must go back to Committee by reason of binding commitments, is the sort of a measure involving the philosophy of government and deserves consideration, and so I am willingly agreeing to send this bill back to committee because it is the kind of a measure which can be presented, and will be presented, for the consideration of this House when it meets in the 1960 session.

I want to add here a matter perhaps not germane to the subject immediately before the House, but we cannot base legislative procedure in either chamber upon the theory that a governor must needs have a legislative interim during which to make interim appointments. If we on the other hand, expect a governor to be mindful of the rights and prerogatives of the General Assembly, we will have to realize that we must be equally cognizant of the rights of the executive. We should have the unimpeded right to legislate without being under any executive club, and the executive should have the unquestioned right to name those agents through whom he desires to do his administering, unless they are indictable on moral or criminal charges.

I am proud of this House. It's an ancient institution; it will outlive us all. And while I am proud of this House, I am not proud of this Session! The common sense of the people indicts us.

We have taken eleven months and are still endeavoring to enact a hasty pudding legislative program that could and should have been enacted in eleven weeks, if we had been prepared and if we had been in a position to compel, not only His Excellency, the Governor, but the various departments of our state government to be prepared. We were not.

And so I envision, and I hope some day a majority in this House will envision, a General Assembly with continuing power and jurisdiction; a General Assembly not always in session, but always in being. And why? Because just as the many important decisions of the Federal Congress are arrived at as a result of hearings or deliberations when the Congress is not in session, so, too, in our case, many wise decisions could be arrived at if we had our hearings when we were not here busy with the details of legislation.

Our program of hearings have been a travesty and a shame, a disgrace to the legislative process. And because our hearings have been perfunctory, the people back home have not been heard. What we have in mind has not been publicized and the things of moment that we have done during this Session, humane legislation, few people know of and they remember only our errors.

Now the bill which goes back to committee and which will be resurrected come 1960, would create a situation whereby when we were not legislating we would be and could be in a position to activate committees to study the problems that face our Commonwealth and hold hearings at which the people would be given an actual opportunity to be heard.

We have reached a lamentable stage if the reason why we cannot be a continuing body with our Committees having continuing power is because if we do not do it the Governor will not have an opportunity to make interim appointments.

I cannot remove that stain upon the course of proper procedure; that must be done in other fields. But I think we over here should agree that just as we expect, and will demand that the Executive and his department respect our legislative rights, so, too, we will hew to the line and see that we do not invade the proper prerogative of His Excellency, the Governor, nor his department to administrate.

When we create a decision, and any group in this House, any group in any other house, can, by inaction, determine who is to function in particular situations, we have struck a death blow to real functioning democracy.

And so, I kiss this Senate bill a temporary farewell. We shall meet again on another day and in another arena.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, insofar as the statement of the gentleman from Cambria, the Speaker, Mr. Andrews, was germane to the contents of this bill, I want to wholeheartedly endorse the views, philosophy and statements which he made. I do not care to enter into the question of his relationship to the Members of his own party for that is his own personal prerogative.

During the year 1958 a committee known as the Constitutional Revision Commission met numerous times, both as a committee of the whole and as a sub-committee studying various phases of our Constitution to recommend future action. I was chairman of the Legislative Sub-Committee of that Commission. We had numerous people come before us, including Members of the General Assembly, in an attempt to see what we could do about this situation of annual sessions.

From my experience as a Member of this House I knew some of the difficulties which we had faced in the past. I knew some of the limitations which have been placed upon us by court interpretation. We made every effort to devise a scheme whereby we could cut a number of these Gordian knots and thereby free our hands.

Now we must remember, going back into history, that at the time this clause of the Constitution was written we were functioning as a government on budgets of $25 million per biennium, believe it or not. We were not functioning on budgets of $2 billion, but still subject to the same limitations and restraints that are in the Constitution.

This Constitutional provision as written in this bill, as amended, provides three things. Number one, that we shall have annual sessions of the General Assembly without limitation; number two, as a continuing body we would break that judicial restraint which has said that when we adjourn sine die all standing committees of the General Assembly die with it, they have no further function and power, they have no further use. Furthermore, when we adjourn sine die, to all practical purposes we are a benevolent dictatorship in this Commonwealth, we are completely at the mercy of the Executive. The people of this Commonwealth have no method by which they can voice themselves once we adjourn sine die, because we cease to exist as a Legislature and General Assembly even though we do have certain committee assignments in auxiliary agencies which we have created. Number three, we grant to ourselves the right to call ourselves into special session without the necessity of the Governor's call. With those three elements we become an independent, free, coordinate branch of the government, which today we are not because of these limitations which are upon us.

I must side with the Speaker in saying that as our government grows, as our problems increase, we will need to command the services of our committees in interim time that they may study, investigate, air and do those things which are the proper function of a General Assembly in order that we may properly represent the people who have sent us down here on their behalf.

This is the form which the Constitutional Revision Commission as a whole unanimously opposed. This is the particular Constitutional amendment that I would have much favored going to a vote of the people. I say to you that if we are merely to be the handmaiden and the hand tool of other governmental agencies, then keep ourselves in the same position we are now, but if we are to be the servants of the people for whom we are elected to serve, then I say to you that I will join with the Speaker in merely kissing this a temporary goodbye, to meet it with a smiling face on a brighter day.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I just want to clear up a point and I do not know whether Mr. Tompkins did. I know they both said they are kissing this bill goodbye, to meet on another day. I take it they mean the 1960 Session. This being a resolution and not a law, within the narrow limitations of the constitutional amendment, I take it, this type of legislation would be perfectly proper in the 1960 Session. Now is that true and may I interrogate Mr. Tompkins? Have you given that any consideration?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I understand that matters relating to constitutional amendment can be brought up in the 1960 Session. It is not legislation. It is not something that relates to those matters.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That being the case, I can see no objection to recommittal and we will ask the Members on our side to go along with recommittal of the resolution.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would only verify that that the constitutional resolution can be considered at any time in the next Session, which was exactly what Mr. Tompkins said and confirmed for Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis, has filed a statement with the Chair as to his position on this bill and has asked that it be spread upon the records of the House. Without objection the statement will be so recorded.

The following statement was presented by Mr. DAVIS.

I request consent to register my deep regret that Senate Bill No. 1241, Printer's No. 1656, does not apparently command the support to advance it to third reading and to eventual enactment.

To my mind this measure, as now phrased, is a highly constructive measure, and I hope that the day will come when the provisions for a continuing session philosophy will finally prevail.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. We would like to outline our action here today, if we may.

We are going to request that the Republican Membership take to their caucus this question: Beginning today, which is Wednesday, as the Senate amends House Bills which have to come back to the House for either concurrence or nonconcurrence or go to a conference committee, the practice of placing them on the calendar be disposed of.

As the bills arrive here, the respective groups, Democrat and Republican, would then go to their caucuses and caucus on those bills which the Senate has amended and arrive at their decision so they could be acted on either favorably or unfavorably, according to the wishes of the caucus.

The purpose of this is, of course, that as the bills arrive here today they would be placed on the calendar for tomorrow, so forth and so on. This will save one complete legislative day in our operation. We ask that you consider this and we ask that you do vote favorably on it because the idea we have given is that you would caucus from the floor each time. For example, tonight if the Senate amends six bills and sends them over, those six bills would appear the following day, and each day thereafter you would get an opportunity to caucus before they would appear on the calendar.

Mr. Speaker, we hope we will have an answer on some important legislation that is on the Senate calendar, which somehow has us worried. We do not quite have the answer from last night's activity. We speak of the General State Authority bill, the highway bills, and I guess they have to move very carefully or we will not be finished by Friday. We have to follow each move on the calendar on the legislative day. I hope today Mr. Johnson will be able to get the answers on those important pieces of legislation.

With that, Mr. Speaker, we are going to cover all the bills on final passage, bills on third reading and all the concurrences in our respective caucuses, and I will ask permission at some point here to hold a caucus, but we would like to have a roll call of this House before we go to caucus. At the completion of the roll call, I would like to ask permission for caucuses at a time that is satisfactory to both Republicans and Democrats. I will ask for a recess for one hour.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. PARLANTE from the Committee on Motor Vehicles, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 9, entitled:

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

In doing so I want to call to the attention of the Members the fact that in voting on this request you are not voting on the bill itself as a whole but merely on the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 1971, Printer's No. 2078, the request by the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, to concur, I rise to ask our membership to nonconcur, or vote "No" on the request. When they go to a conference committee you are in the same position and no further than at the present time, and when you retreat, should you have to, you would be in the same position as you are now. I ask that you vote "No" and a record vote be taken.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. In the event there is a tie vote on this, does the request to concur fail?

The SPEAKER. It takes 106 votes to concur. Anything less than 106 votes is nonconcurrence.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. There are those who are questioning the statement which I made from this microphone a few minutes ago to the effect that the vote on this request would not be a vote on the bill itself, but merely on the amendments inserted by the Senate.

May we have a ruling from the Chair as to what the force of our vote would be on this motion?

The SPEAKER. The only question before the House is on the amendments of the Senate. The vote is designed to reconcile the difference between the two Houses regarding the amendments to the bill. It has no reference to the bill as a whole. One hundred and six votes in the House passes the bill with amendments.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. Is it not correct that a vote to concur is a vote in favor of the bill as amended?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. BELL. Thank you, sir.

The SPEAKER. Is anyone else in doubt as to the purpose of the roll call?

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2108.

An Act providing for and regulating harness racing with pari-mutuel wagering on the results thereof creating the State Harness Racing Commission as a departmental administrative commission within the Department of Agriculture and defining its powers and duties providing for the establishment and operation of harness racing plants subject to local option imposing taxes on revenues of such plants disposing of all moneys received by the commission and all moneys collected from the taxes authorizing penalties and making appropriations.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 20, page 31, line 9, by striking out after the word "first" the words "general municipal or."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will one of the sponsors of this bill consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Which sponsor does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to interrogate? The Chair suggests that Mr. Renwick is probably the most vocal and well informed.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not so that there are no criminal penalties attached to this bill?

Mr. RENWICK. From what I understand of the bill, I do not think there are.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Is it not true that if a person files an affidavit, he is the beneficial owner of the stock, whereas it shows in fact he is not the owner but is merely a front for the true owner, there is no criminal penalty that can be attached to that misstatement?

Mr. RENWICK. I am sorry, I do not think I could answer that question.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Will you read Section 10 of the bill? Does not Section 10 provide for fines and penalties?

Mr. RENWICK. I understand if he files a false affidavit he commits perjury, yes.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Now, Mr. Speaker, is it not true that where an Act is passed—

Do you want to have an attorney on the other side substitute for you?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that since the gentleman from Allegheny is asking questions of a legal character, the gentleman from Elk should be permitted to have the benefit of counsel.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. I want to raise the point of order, Mr. Speaker, that we are voting to concur in the Senate amendments and unless the question asked by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, pertain to the amendments put in by the Senate he is out of order.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the same privilege requested by the Speaker earlier in the Session today, for unanimous consent to interrogate as to the merits of the bill. I think this bill is of such great importance that technicalities should be laid aside.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would be inclined to believe that the whole proposition was before the House.

But the Chair says the gentleman from Elk is entitled to legal counsel.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I would be glad to interrogate the Philadelphia lawyer, Mr. McCormack, concerning this Section 10.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman repeat the question, please?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I would suggest that Mr. McCormack reads Section 10 and answers this question: Where an Act provides for a specific penalty, that penalty is the sole penalty which can be imposed by any court. I will make my question rather long.

This particular bill states the violation of any rule or regulation—

Mr. McCORMACK. Is this Section 10—what page is that?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Page 21. It states that for a violation of any provision of the act or any regulation thereof, the sole penalty shall be a fine of $5,000.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now, what is your question?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, under the provision of this bill, an affidavit must be signed by an individual stating who is the true owner of the stock on the harness track. Now if a person makes a misstatement in his affidavit and deliberately perjures himself, is it not true that the only penalty which can be attached under this bill is a fine?

Mr. McCORMACK. You say that he could not be held for perjury or something like that?

Mr. M. A. GOLDSTEIN. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, what is your interpretation of that?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I will give you my interpretation.

If you read the cases in the Supreme Court, they state where a penalty is provided in the Act that is the sole penalty which can be attached to the particular misdeed, and therefore, if a person willfully makes a false affidavit under this bill, the sole penalty which could be attached to it would be a maximum fine of $5,000 for each willful act.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, I think, Mr. Speaker, that it depends upon the intention as spelled out in the bill. I think what the gentleman says with respect to Supreme Court decisions interpreting penal provisions of Acts of Assembly as against the Penal Code itself depends entirely upon the particular bill that is in question. I think there is nothing in the bill that would require these to be the sole penalties where we have a Penal Code in addition.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. McCormack. I am sorry to disagree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. I will give you an example of that. Is it not a fact that under the Unemployment Compensation benefits there are particular penal provisions? Are you aware of that? The penal provision for fraud?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. That is correct. The Unemployment Compensation Act provides in the body thereof that for every willful misstatement the person shall be charged with misdemeanor and subject to a fine or penalty.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, under the decision of our courts—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

PARLAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Boies, rise?

Mr. BOIES. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BOIES. Did the Chair rule that it is in order to discuss other than the amendments in which we are to concur or nonconcur?

The SPEAKER. The Chair simply wanted to give a bit of latitude. If the gentleman raises the point specifically, the Chair will have to hold specifically that only the differences between the two Houses would be properly before the House. There are certain aspects of the bill that have been vitally changed from the point of view of some people. This amendment has reference to various other provisions, but if the specific point is made, the Chair will have to rule that only the differences between the two Houses, the differences in the amendments, are now pertinent.

Mr. BOIES. Mr. Speaker, I disagree that there has been material change, other than the change of the election date. I do not see how that will affect the contents of the bill any, and I do raise the objection specifically.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that both Houses have approved the other parts of the bill. The only matters now before the House are the differences between the two Houses, which are embodied in the amendments.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the Chair rule that Section 10 has not been changed in its transit from the House to the Senate?

The SPEAKER. So far as the Chair has been informed, there is only one line in the bill that has been affected by the amendments.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Then, Mr. Speaker, I will renew my request for unanimous consent to speak on the provisions of Section 10.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny asks unanimous consent to make a statement in general regarding the bill. Are there any objections to that?

Mr. BOIES. I object, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection very audibly.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman by appealing to the House can suspend the unanimous consent rule by majority vote.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I take your suggestion. I appeal to the House to abrogate this rule by majority vote.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I make a suggestion to the Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The Chair always welcomes a suggestion from the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I would suggest that the gentleman from Allegheny be allowed to make a brief statement on Section 10.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would so prefer and thinks we would save time by having the gentleman make a brief statement, but if the point is raised and the gentleman appeals for unanimous consent and there is not unanimous consent, the Chair has to go by what he hears. If there is not again a protest, the Chair would grant the gentleman permission to discuss that feature of the bill. Within what limits?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Within two minutes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Take five. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny for five minutes.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, Section 10 provides for no criminal penalties. The reason I think this section is dangerous is because of the history we have had in other states, especially the state of New York where frauds were discovered in connection with the operation of harness tracks. This is less than one minute and I will vote against concurrence in this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. STROUP, McINROY and OGILVIE.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WALSH filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 2108:

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, when House Bill No. 2108, Printer's No. 1890 first appeared on the calendar, I was opposed to it. When it came up for final vote, I voted against this bill for the reason that I do not believe in legalized horse racing whether it be harness or otherwise. My one and only reason for voting for concurrence in the Senate amendments is that after careful consideration I am willing to allow the people of the various communities the right to vote on whether or not they desire harness racing with Pari-Mutuel betting in their community. I still want to voice my opposition to legalized harness racing as I feel it is an opening wedge for legalized gambling and I will do all in my power when this question appears on the ballot to defeat it.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up out of order Senate Bill No. 136 on page 2 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 136, entitled:

An Act to provide for an additional law judge of the court of common pleas in the nineteenth judicial district and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON SECOND READING POSTPONED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up out of order Senate Bill No. 1204 on page 2 of today's calendar, bills on second reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of Senate Bill No. 1204, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) entitled "The Vehicle Code" providing for testing of brakes by means of a brake testing devise.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, on Monday, when this bill was called up on second reading, I introduced amendments to the bill which I would like to withdraw at this time, so that the bill may proceed in order on the calendar on second reading.

The SPEAKER. The records will show that the amendments to Senate Bill 1204 have been withdrawn by the sponsor.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912) entitled "Bakery Law" changing certain definitions further regulating marking and labeling conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, this bill is one of which the membership should take note.

The bill was first introduced, 1115, on August 26. It passed first reading on September 1; passed second reading on September 23; passed third reading and final passage on October 14.

In the House it was referred to the Committee on Rules on October 15, and nothing was done to the bill until it appeared on first reading on December 8. It passed second reading on December 9, and it was amended on December 15, and yesterday, a further amendment came in which changes the entire bill.

The bill as originally introduced was favored by the bakers and they would have been satisfied with it. An amendment was put in which changed it and it was further amended, which again left the support of the bakers with the bill, but since the amendment of yesterday the entire picture has changed.

I doubt very much if many of the Members have looked at the amendments, and the same thing is happening this time as happened two years ago when we had a food bill about which the membership knew very little, just a few days before adjournment.

This amendment which was placed in the bill yesterday, found on page 7 of the bill, says this:

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent counties having boards of health created under the Act of 1951 known as the Local Health Administration Law from enacting ordinances or promulgating rules and regulations which impose restrictions or require either licensing or inspection of bakeries.

This is an exact duplicate of what the Department of Agriculture is doing now. The Department of Agriculture is committed to the enforcement of the Pure Food Law in Pennsylvania. If this House should pass this bill and if it became a law of the Commonwealth, it would mean that every county creating a local board of health might license and regulate bakeries, charging the license fees and setting up a duplication of the plan that is now in force in the Department of Agriculture.

I want to say to the Members of this House that the Department of Agriculture has enforced the Pure Food Law efficiently over the years. They have had fine Directors of Foods and Chemistry, Honorable James Kellogg and William S. Hager for years have had charge of the inspection work. At the present time the inspection work is in the hands of a good administrator.

In four months of 1958, the Department of Foods and Chemistry inspected 8,900 plants, bakeries, ice cream places, and whatever you have, and their work has been efficiently done. They have made a good record. They have brought in many people who violated the laws and they have been in court many times and tried cases.

The Department's regulations are well established and I think it would be a grave mistake to pass this bill and give the right to duplicate the effort to the counties of Pennsylvania, any number of counties which may organize a board of health.

You will recall that in this House the Board of Health of the City of Pittsburgh, or Allegheny County, if I remember correctly, has an appropriation of in the neighborhood of $3 million. Philadelphia is getting something like that, and if half the counties of Pennsylvania should attempt to do the same thing, you can see where the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would stand for support in a financial manner in this respect.

I would ask every Member of this House to vote against this bill, to vote it down. The bakers do not want it, and I do not believe that a bill of this type should pass in the last hours of a session.

Thank you and I hope you will vote against it.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, since this bill has been ruined by the amendments that were put in it yesterday, as has been very well explained, and since the law that now is in effect and seems to be satisfactory to those who have their own Health Departments, I want to move this bill be recommitted.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 742, Printer's No. 2101 and

House Bill No. 2295, Printer's No. 2004

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Section 2, page 4, line 19, by striking out after the word "effect" the word "immediately" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "January 1, 1960."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, would the Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Washington advise the House how much this bill will cost in a loss of revenues?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, there are really two bills concerned in that. The other one is also on the calendar.

The amount contained in the special fund budget for aviation fuel is an estimate of the revenues based on the present tax of $1,441,832. That estimate is revised as of today and is $1,491,009, based upon the present tax. If these bills would be adopted and enacted into law making the one cent effective January 1, it would be a reduction in estimated revenues for this purpose of approximately $370,000.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the present bill containing the Senate amendments.

The reason I do it is because I do not think this bill and its companion bill are generally understood throughout the House. These are two bills that, if I have the Chair's permission, I will speak on both of them because the remarks pertain to both.

These bills would reduce the tax on jet fuel for all jet type aircraft from one and a half cents a gallon to one cent a gallon, and it would be for a 17-month period. This would cost the Commonwealth approximately $370,000 of tax revenues. These revenues go into a special fund and they are spent in the areas in which they are collected. In other words, these concern primarily the Allegheny County area and the greater Philadelphia area. The loss to these two areas in a 17-month period is $370,000. During this Session the aviation tax funds have been so low that the Administration has been forced to come to the Legislature and ask for $1.7 million of General Fund moneys to put improvements into the airports.

In other words, if a vote is given today in favor of these two bills it means that you are denying to our schools and the other recipients from the General Fund the equivalent amount of money.

There has been some misinformation given to Members of the House. The story has been spread that if we do not reduce the tax on jet fuel, the jet aircraft would not buy their fuel in the state. That is not economically sound. A gallon of jet fuel weighs around six pounds. One hundred gallons of jet fuel would weigh six hundred pounds. On one hundred gallons of jet fuel the tax would be decreased fifty cents. I want to find the big airline that is going to carry 600 pounds from the city of New York to the city of Philadelphia to save fifty cents. It is economically unsound and I say that the effect of these two bills is to take out of the General Fund the equivalent of $370,000.

I do not think we want to vote for that. I would rather see this money spent in the schools; I would rather see it spent in the mental hospitals. I think a vote for these bills is a vote for the big airlines, and a vote against what is good for the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with these bills, the information that we were given at the time these bills were brought out is correct. They anticipated that they would increase the revenue by the purchase of jet fuels due to this reduction. However, the other states have since made a 100 percent refund on it so that we are not in any better competitive position than we were. So, the statements that were originally made at that time would not be correct now. I am just making this as a clarification of what has previously been said when the bills were before us previously.

However, the Department of Revenue will not say that there will be any increase in revenue due to the enactment of these bills. The industry, however, does claim that there would be. But, we cannot base our estimates on anything other than what the Department of Revenue has given us.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Washington for making that statement because it brings to the fore another point.

When these jet aircrafts take off only with the amount of jet fuel in those tanks that is required by federal regulation. In other words, they have to have so many gallons in the tank to reach their destination, plus a safety factor. They are not going to buy anymore jet fuel because we have reduced our tax half a cent so they can carry the fuel with them to the west coast or Chicago.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

"(1) To collect and review studies of the causes and prevention of juvenile crime and juvenile delinquency.

"(2) Confer with State and local officials, law enforcement officers, educators, social workers, church groups, civic organizations and devise programs designed to prevent juvenile delinquency through the promotion of wholesome youth activity.

"(3) Cooperate with the Juvenile Court Judges' Association of the Commonwealth in all matters pertaining to the proper care and maintenance of delinquent children.

"(4) Study and devise an educational program for our schools to inspire youth with a burning desire for self-improvement and to stimulate the young people of our State with a desire to excel.

"(5) Cooperate with existing youth organizations and any other such organizations that may be formed in the future.

"(6) Cooperate with those involved in classification of school pupils with an emphasis upon spotting the potential juvenile delinquent as early in his schooling as possible and make recommendations for his guidance and correction.

"(7) Provide, upon request, advisory service to probation departments on the local level.

"(8) Cooperate in all its functions with other departments, commissions and agencies of the State and its political subdivisions.

"(9) Receive gifts including but not limited to personal and real property from individuals, associations, corporations and other groups, and to expend such gifts or donations for purposes herein enumerated without appropriation by the General Assembly.

"Section 4. Each year there shall be quarterly meetings of the Pennsylvania Youth Foundation and such additional meetings as the chairman shall deem necessary. Each member of the Foundation shall be paid only his necessary expenses incurred in attending the meetings.

"Section 5. The sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to the Pennsylvania Youth Foundation for the payment of expenses incurred in the fiscal biennium beginning June 1, 1959."

RESOLUTION

DISCHARGING COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 379

Messrs. AUKER, M. H. GOLDSTEIN, WILT, and GRAMLICH offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 16, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 379, entitled "An act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled 'An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling including liens, encumbrances and legal claims, registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees and miscellaneous receipts, making an appropriation and providing for refunds,' making persons over sixteen years of age subject to the penal provisions of the act," having been referred to the Committee on Judiciary on February 16, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the House for a period of over fifteen days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I will try to be very brief but the resolution does need some brief explanation.

About two months ago or perhaps longer, I raised the question on the floor of the House that juvenile drivers of motor vehicles between the ages of sixteen and eighteen did not come under the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code.

At that time there were exceptions taken to my remarks, I believe, by the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, and while I denied it at that time I did get the answer for him in the form of a formal opinion, and I believe either the next day or the following week I stated on the Floor of the House that under the Attorney General's formal opinion they did not come under the jurisdiction of the Motor Vehicle Code and so they could not be punished. They were a distinct class of drivers and certainly in many instances were favored as such because probably of their age and other considerations.

Also, I stated at that time that the enforcement officers of the state, local as well as the State Police force, were crying for such a bill. The juvenile drivers who were guilty of Motor Vehicle Code violations or Motor Vehicle Code provisions were laughing at them and laughing at the juvenile court judges in many cases, and that is true in many, many places.

This bill, Mr. Speaker, House Bill 379, was introduced on February 16, and I raised the question several months ago on the floor of the House and I believe everybody at that time was in agreement.

Several Members from both parts of the House stated that a remedial measure should be passed correcting such a situation and that it would try to be corrected, but nothing has happened. Therefore, I feel at this time that this motion is proper, this discharge resolution is proper procedure, and I certainly feel that it is very vitally needed legislation in order to give the enforcement officers of our state the proper arm to curb these violators of motor vehicle violations, which today in many, many cases, probably generally throughout the state, are not being curbed.

I feel this bill has fine support not only from enforcement officers but from all the good citizens of this Commonwealth who want to see this class of drivers treated the same as any other adult driver inasmuch as they have the same privileges as any driver over 18. It is good legislation and it should be passed. I certainly ask support on both sides of the House for this discharge resolution.

I know this is a late hour but I insist upon a slow roll call and only those present and in their seats and voting be recorded. If they left it is their own fault.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Members vote down the discharge resolution pertaining to House Bill No. 379.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 2297 FROM GOVERNOR

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 16, 1959.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 2297, Printer's No. 1973, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend the bill, page 33, by inserting after line 11:
"Section 7. This act shall take effect January 30, 1960.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to request that the Majority Leader explain the amendments to House Bill No. 2297, which is the Workmen's Compensation bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to. I thought this had been cleared.

On House Bill 2297 the amendment is the effective date that has been agreed to in compliance with the insurance adjusters placing the date as, does it say midnight, January 30, 1960? That is correct. The effective date of this act shall be January 30, 1960. This was agreed to by all the parties dealing with the insurance adjustment rates.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1959.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock p.m.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to state that the President pro tempore, M. Harvey Taylor, has asked the present occupant of the Chair to preside.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Our dear Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this blessed season when we again commemorate Thy great gift to the world. We pray that through Thy Spirit during this Christmas season, we may endeavor to establish the message which the multitude of the Heavenly Host gave to the shepherds, the message of peace on earth.

Let us all pray for the success of the great mission of our President to establish peace in the world. May it be the foundation upon which we are going to build in the years to come; peace at home and peace over the world, so that we may be ready when Thou will come to receive Thine own unto Thyself.

Bless the labors that we are to perform here today, that they may all be to the honor and glory of Thy great Name. We ask in in Jesus' Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. WAGNER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I have three discharge resolutions dealing with one question, the State library situation. I will present these resolutions and ask for a roll call vote on each one.

At the proper time, I would like to make a brief statement concerning these discharge resolutions.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1783

Mr. HAYS offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 17, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1783, Printer's No. 842, entitled "An act amending the act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 1203), entitled 'An act providing aid by the Commonwealth to free public non-sectarian county libraries; authorizing the Department of Public Instruction to provide books for demonstration purposes to encourage the establishment of such county libraries; and making an appropriation,' revising the system of State-aid for maintenance of libraries," having been referred to the Committee on State Government on June 29, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, each day as I enter the Senate, I find the representation of the man from Centre County, who in the history of this Senate has played the most important part in government I think; namely, Andrew Gregg Curtin. In connection with that, a couple of weeks ago I had a communication from a group of high school students from the Bellefonte High School, reminding me that in reading an old Bellefonte newspaper, they ran across this item. This is from the Bellefonte Newspaper, Keystone Gazette of 1875:

"Bellefonte is organizing a public library and reading room. Ex-Governor Curtin has subscribed $100 a year toward its maintenance."

"We copy the above,"—the editor said—"because, as printed in the 'Gazette and Bulletin,' it unintentionally conveys a wrong impression. Gov. Curtin has subscribed five hundred dollars to the public library; and in addition to this five hundred, he subscribed a hundred dollars per annum until the library becomes self-supporting. That is the way of it."

I am sure that the memory of Andrew Gregg Curtin must prod some of us when we consider that this important library legislation has been lingering in a committee so long.

These bills came about because of a serious and comprehensive study made under the guidance of the Pennsylvania Library Association and by a large commission, representing library trustees, librarians and business and professional leaders. The need for this legislation is highlighted by the following facts, it seems to me:

The average annual per capita expenditure for public library service in Pennsylvania is eighty-three cents. Pennsylvania ranks thirty-second among the States in this respect.

About 2,000,000 Pennsylvanians—that is about one out of every five—have no local public library. Over half of the public libraries in Pennsylvania have not a single full time staff member.

The average annual per capita expenditure for public libraries in Pennsylvania, outside of the cities of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, is but forty cents.

I think someone has said long ago that the real university is a collection of books. It seems to me here we have an opportunity to extend universities to 2,000,000; in this sense, to the 2,000,000 Pennsylvanians who now have no public library. I think this matter is of concern to so many of us that the entire body of the Senate should have the right and privilege of voting on these bills.

Therefore, I ask for a roll call vote on these discharge resolutions.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, is the Senator from Delaware in order to answer the gentleman on the other side?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Yes sir.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I heard only part of Senator Hays' remarks about the library bills.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield just for a moment?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It is almost impossible for the reporters to hear with the noise that is going on. If conferences are necessary, will you please go to the conference room in the rear of the Senate? We are in the closing days, and it is absolutely necessary that the reporters are able to take down what is said.

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I heard part of the speech made by Senator Hays with reference to the library bills which are in the Committee on State Government. I would like to say, Mr. President, that those bills were given more time I think than any bills we had in the State Government Committee this year.

I agree that there was a committee set up by former Governor Leader. This committee was headed by Albert Greenfield, from the city of Philadelphia. I have no quarrel at all with the committee, and certainly take no exception to them making a report and legislation being introduced. However, I would like to say, Mr. President, that I feel, personally,—and it was the feeling of many members of my committee—that we in this Legislature have no right to open the door for the local governments to assess real estate further in the various municipalities in the State of Pennsylvania.

We also felt that at this time, with the need for money so great in the State of Pennsylvania, that the State of Pennsylvania had no money to match the programs of the local districts. The State would have to equal the funds provided by the various municipalities which accepted this library system. Therefore, we felt, in the best interest of home rule, we should not dictate on this measure to the people and force them to tax the various municipalities further.

I realize, Mr. President, in some cases the local municipalities now have the right of a two mill tax. We felt that perhaps in the future there would be some funds in the State of Pennsylvania or some other way to work this out without putting it on the home districts.

We, therefore, offered a resolution, asking the Joint State Government Commission to make a study. I do not think there is a Senator on this floor who would feel that anyone would do a better job than the Senators themselves and the staff of the Joint State Government Commission.

I feel also, Mr. President, that we are not bound by these committees that are appointed by the Governors of this State. We are elected Senators, with the thought in mind and with the thoughts of the people in mind, that it is our duty to make the laws and not accept every report which is handed to us by some committee.

I say right now, speaking only for myself, that if I must be governed by every committee that meets and hands me a tax program wherein I must tax the people of the State of Pennsylvania, then I do not deserve to represent the county of Delaware. I was elected to represent the people of Delaware, and not Albert Greenfield or any member of his committee.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I simply want to say that I, too, was elected to represent the citizens of Centre County and the citizens of Clearfield County. I am only asking for the opportunity to vote on three bills, and unless we vote favorably on these discharge resolutions, I am denied this opportunity.

This is a matter of great concern to many people, and it seems to me we should have this opportunity.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that the gentleman from Delaware County has taken the position that he represents the people who live in his county and that he feels, as their elected representative, he has a perfect right to make a decision on their behalf. I, too, agree with that position. I think it is a position that is well taken. The only thing we are asking on this side is that we be allowed an opportunity to do the very thing about which he is speaking.

How can I make a decision on a matter, either favorably or unfavorably, if the matter is not before us? We are saying: "Bring this matter before us make whatever decision your conscience dictates, or your constituents dictate,—whichever happens to be the area in which you want to move—but allow us that same opportunity." By merely bottling the bill up in committee and never giving me the opportunity to vote for or against it, you are certainly denying the people of my area, who have made their wishes known to me, and you are denying me the right to make the same decision that you have made.

The fact that you have decided not to let us consider this matter indicates that you have made the decision that this matter shall die, because that is the net effect of your action.

I believe that all of us realize, if we stop to think about it a moment, that books and libraries are the sum total of everything that people have thought about over the past centuries, merely recorded and placed in one place, and these libraries are the reposing place for the safekeeping of men's thoughts. With that in mind, what you are saying is: "I am going to deny to some of the people in this Commonwealth the opportunity to understand or at least pursue what other men have thought, and either to accept or reject those thoughts as they come to them on the printed page."

Senator, I suggest one other thing to you. When these reports are made by these committees,—and I do not mind if you have objection to the committee but I would like to know to whom you object on the committee—and we have gone past the point where we do not object to the committee, I think we are not duty bound to accept these reports. However, I certainly think that the intelligent approach to this problem is, at least, to pursue the report and decide if the report is good or bad in the area that it tries to cover. Once you have decided whether it is good or bad, then move on from that point. Just to say that you are not bound by the report, or that you do not want to accept the report or reject the whole thing in toto, without giving a reason, is certainly not the correct approach, nor, I think in your case, a statesman like approach. I know that you have better facilities for working out these problems and for thinking than that.

If you will give us on this side a reason for not taking up this problem,—if the report is bad and you point it out to us, I may agree with you and I may not—that is the point from which to begin. We cannot, as Senators, travel to every area of the State that is involved. The State is too vast. The problems are too many and too complex. If someone is willing to do that, we have no objection to the people who are appointed. We have no objection to the reports they may submit. I think on that basis, we should be willing at least to accept what has been given to us and take it from there.

Concerning the Greenfield Report, there is nothing magic about Mr. Greenfield or the report, but we should begin with the premise that the committee is duly constituted and is a good committee which is honestly seeking an answer to a complex problem. Then if we find, for example, that the Greenfield Report is the answer to the problem, or at least that it tends to begin to look into the problem, I think we can do no less than to follow through on the entire problem.

The only thing with which we should concern ourselves is whether it is good for the people of Pennsylvania, should they have it or will it help them.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, with respect to my friend and distinguished colleague on the other side, sometimes I have thought about exchanging Senator Ehrgood and he for a son. However, I do not know now. I am going to have to think that one over.

I would like to say, Mr. President, that the gentleman on the other side should stop spreading the same old package that we have been sitting here listening to all during this Session of the Legislature. He gets around and ducks around, and has this and that to say.

I have faith in the committees that are set up by the President pro tempore of this Senate. I believe in the committee system. Senator Weiner is saying that they would like to kick it out on the floor. I know Senator Weiner does not mean that every bill which has been put into the hopper this Session should be brought to the floor. We would probably have to change the date of Christmas to March or April, or something like that.

Senator Weiner knows very well that the committee system is approved. The only objection that he has to it is that his Members are in the minority. I notice that Senator Weiner would not say that every Member of the committee on his side has not had a chance to state any feelings which they might have had in the State Government Committee. They have never been denied the right of their elected office in that committee. The committee even went so far as to bring out one of the master bills on this subject. If Senator Weiner would just stretch his memory, he would recall that the chairman and the members of the Committee decided to send out one bill to see how this General Assembly would feel about it.

Mr. President, certainly Senator Weiner believes in a majority vote. That bill, which we brought out, was sent back to the Committee on State Government, not by Senator Watkins or not by the members of his committee.

The master bill on this whole library package was given a fair shake. It was brought before this Assembly. I do not know whether Senator Hays knew that or not. I am quite sure that he did. What more can you ask? Do we have to abolish the whole system of government to suit a few people? Do we have to sit over on this side, as Republicans in the majority, and be condemned to the outside world?

For instance, the labor people, with whom God knows I am just as friendly as any Democrat on the other side. Believe me, Mr. President, I have been poor. If you have not been poor, Mr. President, you have not lived. I am in the labor class. I was successful, maybe yes, working my way up through the American system of government, of free enterprise, something which I respect and love.

I feel the systems under which he operate here are fair and just and honest. Certainly when the master bill of these library bills was recommitted, there was no complaint against this committee. I feel we should be protected.

While I am on my feet, Mr. President, discharge resolution after discharge resolution has come into this Senate of Pennsylvania. When the labor record comes out, you will see an "X" on every bill in which labor was interested, because Senator Watkins did not vote for a discharge resolution. That same thing applies to many of my colleagues on this side of the aisle. It is unfair, it is unjust and it is unreasonable.

In closing, Mr. President, I say that any bill that is in my committee has always had a fair chance. I also say that I am going to stick to the rules of this Senate, and that is the way I shall operate my committee, whether it suits anyone or not.

I am sorry I could not meet with the thinking of Senator Weiner and some other Senator that we should bring all bills to the floor of this Senate, because when he says that the library bills should be brought here, then I say every bill should have been brought out.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I must say that Senator Watkins has certainly approached this subject via the Panama Canal. Of course, I would not raise a point of order, but we were discussing these library bills.

Let me say to that distinguished gentleman from Delaware that one of the gravest mistakes which was made at this Session was the killing of these library bills. As a matter of fact, I talked with the gentleman on several occasions, in regard to this particular problem. I believe there was a question of finances, as I understood it. However, we had one bill on the Calendar which I had hoped would pass. That bill would have, more or less, put our foot in the door.

Mr. President, I wish to say to Senator Watkins and his distinguished colleagues on the other side that without libraries, we would not have any cultural achievements whatsoever. As a matter of fact, libraries are so important that a great number of our distinguished jurists, throughout Pennsylvania, have bequeathed their entire estates for the maintenance of law libraries. I believe the gentleman knows that. Where would a college or university be without up-to-date libraries? The same thing applies to our schools. In Pennsylvania, we have a great number of rural sections which do not have these facilities. I say that the Chief Executive of Pennsylvania, the Honorable David L. Lawrence, was within his right in appointing a committee—and so was Governor Leader—to study this problem of law libraries. They were elected by all of the people of Pennsylvania to sit in that position. We cannot take the right away from the Governor or any of the Chief Executives to make these appointments.

I believe, too, that where these members served diligently, honestly, for long periods of time and without any compensation whatsoever, we should at least have given the results of their studies our very serious consideration. I do not believe that we really seriously considered all of these library bills. Had we done so, the case might be different today.

Senator Hays certainly is on solid ground in asking for the discharge of this committee. Of course, this is an empty gesture, because never in my memory have we ever discharged a committee. However, I, too, believe in the committee system. In a great number of cases, a number of the committee members do not really seriously consider all of the bills in their committees. Here is one particular case where I believe that we should discharge the committee and bring these library bills to the floor of the Senate. Then we should appoint a select committee to go over the bills in detail and then, in the closing days, pass legislation which will help enlighten everyone in Pennsylvania.

I might say, Mr. President, that I have some statistics in regard to Book of the Month Clubs and that sort of thing. Do you realize that they are greatly on the increase? A great number of people are now subscribing to the Book of the Month Club. Some of the literature is good and, probably, some of it is bad. However, if we had an efficient library system in Pennsylvania, I think all of the people would be enlightened. As a matter of fact, perhaps Senator Watkins and his colleagues do not want the people to be too intelligent because they would know that the people would vote for the Democrats.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I listened with interest to the good Senator. I want to say right here to the Members of the Senate that I have no quarrel whatsoever with Governor Leader, who passed the gavel over to Governor Lawrence. I have no quarrel with any Governor who sets up a committee. In fact, I welcome any committee which is set up by a Governor and I welcome its views. However, I want to say right now on the floor of this Senate—and I think I should be listened to—that I believe in any Governor setting up a committee. I do not believe in the elected Members of this General Assembly being forced to accept their recommendations. Whether it is good or bad, it is free advice and we welcome it. However, under no circumstances, without any equivocation whatsoever, shall I, as a Senator,—and I plead with the rest of you—be guided completely by the findings of any committee or any commission which says you shall do this and that. If that is the intent of committees being set up by any Governor, then I am opposed to the setting up of committees.

Mr. President, I want you to remember that I have said that I welcome the committees, provided it is definitely understood that the elected officials of this Commonwealth do not in any way have to accept the findings of those committees. As long as Senator Lane has been in the Senate of Pennsylvania, I know that down in his heart he feels that way, too. I think Senator Lane is a good Senator. I think he has been a good servant to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to the Nation, as a whole. I do not think that he wants to think any other way, for the sake of argument.

Again, Mr. President, I see no reason for a discharge resolution on this set of library bills, other than to make political hay, which my good friend from Philadelphia has been doing during all of this Session.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would not want to accuse the last speaker of being political or digressing from the subject at hand, but that sometimes happens in the heat of argument. The only thing I feel sorry about is the fact that he has now disowned me as a son. For a little while, I was feeling very secure by being under that very strong and very expansive financial wing. However, now that I am out in the cold again, I will just have to try to win my way back as well as I can.

I would like to say to the gentleman that the committee system is a good one, if properly operated. I have no quarrel with the gentleman, as committee chairman. However, when a chairman of any committee takes it upon himself to decide what should or should not be good for all the Senators to see, understand and take some part in, I think it then becomes bad or capricious. The report which was presented here to us on the library situation was not the last word on the subject, nor was it the means which we have to use to arrive at the answer that the committee presented. It may be a point of departure. This is merely for our information, for men who are busy and who do not have the time because of representing a great number of people, a great diversity of interests and diversity of subjects, to at least find out what is going on in this particular area. We can either reject the entire report or accept it, or use it as a point of departure on our own. However, the committee chairman has not seen fit to even have a hearing on this important matter. I think we should at least bring people in and hear their views, whether they be for or against it, in order for us to make an intelligent decision.

If the gentleman accuses us of being political and engaging in politics, I think, in a sense, he condemns his own Party. The very same discharge resolutions were introduced in the House by the Republican Minority. This is the only means which the Minority Party has to bring to the attention of the committee chairman and to the Senate, as a whole, that here are matters which it considers of importance to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They want these matters to be heard. How else would he have us air this problem? How else would he have us bring it to their attention? As a matter of fact, it is only by this means that we have even heard from the committee chairman on this problem. This is the only means by which we found out why he is against it. Up to this moment, there has been no expression on this problem.

If this is a political or a wrong way to run a government, then I am all for it because I think the Minority Party has no other way to express their views. When you do not have the votes, there are very few things that you can do to make your views known.

Unfortunately, we do not all sit down and discuss all the problems of the Commonwealth. I think this suggestion made by Senator Lane would be another way of handling the problem. If the committee chairman feels he does not want to have the entire committee sit in on this matter, then he should appoint a select committee to hear this problem and report back to the Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, the library problem is a serious one. These discharge resolutions are also serious. I think the gentleman from Delaware should give attention to these problems. He should have another look at them. We are not saying that we do not want him to sit in judgment on this matter. We are not saying that we no longer want him to be the chairman of the committee. We are saying to him, "Please, Mr. Committee Chairman, look at this problem again, bring it before us and give us an opportunity to express our views." If the gentleman decides he does not want to do that, then he should bring it up here and, as a committee of the whole, let us decide on this very serious problem. I think, in the entire discussion with the gentleman from Delaware, he has at no time said that this is not a serious problem. He has never said that this is not a problem with which we should concern ourselves. He has never said that we should not look into this entire matter and, at least, hear from the people who are interested in it.

I think in the clash between the free world and the other forces at work in this world, education is not only a tool, but it is a very important weapon. When you are engaged in a struggle for men's minds in a war of ideas, you certainly are much better for having more people on your side who know how to use ideas and are able to get their points of views across, than by having people who sit back and merely listen and take information which they get indiscriminately from many sources, much of which might be propaganda and much of which might be the type of information which does no good to anyone and is put out for certain reasons. If you do not have discerning minds, people who can find out what is going on, and divide the wheat from the chaff, which you can only obtain by reading what other people have written in order to get some sort of a philosophy of life or living, we are going to lose this war of ideas and we are going to lose these young minds. We will lose the minds which we in America are looking toward for leadership.

The gentleman from Delaware will tell you himself that it is due to educating himself, by reading and having experience, that he has been able to come as far as he has to be in this great Senate of Pennsylvania. He is saying, "I am rejecting this for other people, even though I have accepted it for myself." I am sure he does not mean that and I am sure that is not what he is trying to tell us here today.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman for telling how I got to the Senate of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Watkins' little boy just happened to be popular five times. I was elected by the people by a nice majority, for which I am most grateful.

Mr. President, I would like to call to the attention of the Members of the Senate one other thing.

Relative to this survey which was made and headed by Mr. Albert Greenfield, of Philadelphia, the Honorable Albert Greenfield,—he has so many titles and I respect the gentleman—one thing, too, that comes to my mind is that I found there were people brought into this committee who do not even live in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I do not feel that we in Pennsylvania have to go to other States to find out what we should do in Pennsylvania. I think we know more about our system than the people who live in Florida or some other State. I found there were two members on that committee, one from the State of New Jersey and one from the State of Maryland. I want to say to my good friends in New Jersey and Maryland that they should let their Legislators run New Jersey and Maryland, and we will try to run Pennsylvania as we think it should be run for the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I think at this time, in fairness to all parties concerned,—both Senator Watkins and Senator Hays—that when the library bills were brought back to committee, the reason given was for further study.

Senator Hays is merely making inquiry today whether or not that further study resulted in a better bill than came to the committee, or whether the best they could come up with was that bill and now was the time for a decision if the Majority thinks so. It is a reasonable request, in the light of it.

Senator Watkins' committee has been functioning and the answer will be in the vote which is taken. It is not a question of personalities, nor is it a question of putting anyone on the spot. As Members of this Senate, we do not ask that we take any recommendation that is handed to us. However, if that is the best recommendation that we have, then it is the best that is available. The Majority is to decide whether or not that is so. Therefore, I respectfully present to you that the question at issue is, if the recommitment of these bills was for further study, what is the status of that study?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I do not believe that a majority of us believe that libraries and books are partisan politics.

The Chairman of the State Government Committee has reminded us that a couple members of this study committee are, apparently, from outside Pennsylvania. I am sure this is true, if he says it is true. However, may I remind the gentleman, to give a backward look into history, that two of the foremost men in the public library movement were none other than Benjamin Franklin, who was not born in Pennsylvania, but has made contributions of which all Pennsylvanians are proud; and the other gentleman, of a later time, was Andrew Carnegie. He was not born in Pennsylvania, but he made a significant contribution to the public library movement. Therefore, it would seem to me that if we do not take a serious look and permit all of the fifty Senators to vote on these library matters, we are certainly doing a disservice to the memory, service and honor of two men who were not born in Pennsylvania, but of whom Pennsylvanians are very proud; namely, Benjamin Franklin and Andrew Carnegie.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I heard it said several times yesterday, when discharge resolutions were introduced, and I heard it also repeated today, that votes on these resolutions do not necessarily indicate that the Senator voting against them would be against the bills if they were presented.

I think it is a fair indication, and a fair deduction, that the people who vote against these discharge resolutions are against these bills. If they wanted the bills presented here and are interested in voting on them, I feel that these gentlemen should vote for the discharge resolutions. I think it is perfectly reasonable, since every man up here stands on his record, that the organizations which are interested in these bills should certainly and fairly assume that the men who are not supporting the discharge resolutions are not in favor of those bills and are holding back the consideration of those bills.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, whenever the gentleman from Delaware arises on the floor, I always listen carefully because his remarks are always instructive. His remarks made yesterday were very instructive because he instructed me in how the affairs of Delaware County are managed in such good form as he always says they are.

You may recall the incident where the city of Chester had a certain matter in mind. The matter was settled by the Senator sitting down with the gentleman from his county and making the decision. This is a very neat way of settling things, but it may not be the most appropriate way to settle things in the Pennsylvania Senate.

I have always found the gentleman to be reasonable and logical in his arguments. This afternoon, I believe his arguments lacked this certain logic which I can only attribute, perhaps, to the fact that he may be taking advice from his adopted son from Lebanon County. I would like to point out to the gentleman that what he said about the committee system being established and working successfully is true. However, the same people who set up the committee system must not have thought that a majority of the committee was always necessarily right because they also provided the method of discharge resolutions in order for the Majority in the Senate, if it so chose, to decide differently from the majority in the committee.

It seems to me that any person who takes the attitude that the majority of a committee should always be supported, and takes the attitude that we should never discharge a committee from consideration of a bill which has not been favorably acted upon by a majority of the committee, is saying that the committee system, including this provision for a discharge resolution, is not the best way. Senator Watkins cannot say that he believes in the committee system or in the sanctity of our rules and, at the same time, urge his colleagues to inevitably and always support the majority of the committee. You just cannot take those positions at the same time and be logical, except in the county of Lebanon.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would suggest that the gentleman from Delaware, not being at his usual logical peak, should reconsider his words and tell his colleagues that if they feel, as of this moment, that the majority of the committee was not right and that we should have a more effective library program, the gentleman from Delaware should urge them to vote their convictions, regardless of what the majority of the State Government Committee may have decided.

Mr. EHRCOOD. Mr. President, regarding the good Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Mullin,—you know I used the word "suspicious" the other day—I am again suspicious that he can read our minds and know how we would vote on certain things. Of course, you know my suspicions of the other day are getting more confirmed as I go along each day proceeding in this week.

I wonder if the Senator would say that he can read the minds of all of the Representatives from Philadelphia who voted against the city-county bill on that discharge resolution in the House.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I do not intend to take any further time of the Senate in answering some of the things that have been said on the other side.

When Senator Mullin spoke, certainly he spoke his own mind and he is entitled to say whatever he wants. However, what he said does not have a thing to do with what we are talking about here, in my opinion. Naturally, I respect my good friend, Senator Seyler, being a Senator. I think it is nice to have him.

Mr. President, I do intend to sit down. Unless someone insults me, I do not intend to come to this microphone again to talk on this library legislation. However, I want to say that a discharge resolution is an insult to the chairman of any committee. A discharge resolution, in my opinion, shows a lack of faith in the chairman and the members of that committee, and I resent it. As the Lord is my maker, I hope that I never get to the point where I ever vote for any discharge resolution against a Democratic chairman or a Republican chairman, whoever he might be. That is the way I feel. I feel that I have been insulted, and I feel as though my committee has been insulted. I am tired of taking it and sitting down, and I hope the other chairmen feel as I do.

I shall not answer any further remarks. They can say what they want, as long as they do not get personal.

These bills have had fair trials. The main library bill was brought to the floor of the Senate and has been recommitted.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and were as follows, viz:

DISCHARGE RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1784

Mr. HAYS offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 17, 1959.

RESOLVED, That House Bill No. 1784, Printer's No. 843, entitled "An act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), entitled 'An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," creating the Advisory Council on Library Development; providing for its composition; and providing for its powers and duties," having been referred to the Committee on State Government on June 29, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and were as follows, viz:

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1787

Mr. HAYS offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 17, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1787, Printer's No. 845, entitled "An act establishing a program of library traineeship in the State Library of the Department of Public Instruction," having been referred to the Committee on State Government on June 29, 1959, and the Committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask that the resolution, which I am about to offer, be considered and if there is any problem about considering it, that it go to the proper committee for action.

SENATE RESOLUTION

URGING THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS TO CONSIDER THE NOMINATIONS PRESENTED BY THE GOVERNOR FOR MEMBERSHIP ON THE PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

Mr. WEINER, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 94), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 17, 1959.

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, has sent to the Senate the nominations of William F. O'Hara and Robert W. Anthony, as members of the Public Utility Commission on April 6, 1959 and November 16, 1959 respectively, and

Whereas, The Governor in so acting faithfully performed his duty under the Constitution, and

Whereas, The men so nominated are prominent men in their respective communities who have received the endorsement of responsible citizens and are eminently qualified for the positions, and

Whereas, The Senate under the Constitution is obligated to advise and consent or decline to do so to nominations submitted by the Governor after a reasonable period of time for reflection and investigation and before the conclusion of a legislative session, and

Whereas, The legislative session will soon end, and

Whereas, The people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are entitled to have the benefit of the Senate's wisdom expressed on nominations by the Governor which is guaranteed to them by the Constitution, and

Whereas, The Public Utility Commission is an important agency of the government and the work of which is indispensable to our modern economy and effects the daily lives of all citizens, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate Committee on Executive Nominations do forthwith consider the nominations of the above gentlemen and report the same to the Senate for the action of that body.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would not attempt to speak for the eminent Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, but I only wish to say, as a member of the committee that I know the committee has been giving this subject great thought and will continue to do so. To act upon this resolution at this time, I believe, might interfere with their deliberations. Therefore, I request that it go to the appropriate committee.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair hears objection to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to speak on behalf of the resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am just going to make a few brief remarks. May I ask the Chair that we have just a little bit of order? I know the Chair has been trying to preserve order and it has been very difficult.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Senate please be in order? May the Chair suggest to the Sergeant at Arms that there can be no side bar conferences with any of the Members of the Senate? We are in the closing days. The Senators must hear what is going on. If any visitors want to confer with any Member of the Senate, it will be necessary for the Senators to take them to the conference room.

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the first name sent over here about eight months ago was Mr. O'Hara. William F. O'Hara lives in Scranton, in the county of Lackawanna, and is a war hero. He was injured during the war, and, as a result, he lost both legs after being marooned for five months on an ice cap.

Mr. O'Hara's experiences were related in several syndicated newspaper articles and in a book entitled, "War Below Zero."

Mr. O'Hara is married. He is an attorney and is well thought of in the community.

I have a letter here from the American Legion, Koch-Conley Post #121, located in Scranton, Pennsylvania, wherein they say that Mr. O'Hara enjoys a fine reputation and stands out as a fine symbol of sacrifices which one must be willing to endure to enjoy the freedom of this dear land of ours. It goes on at great length. I do not mean to take a great deal of time. However, I have this letter and it has been photostated and mimeographed and placed on every Member's desk. There are also editorials which have appeared in the Pittsburgh papers, as well as the Philadelphia papers.

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, of December 15, 1959, goes on at great length to state that William F. O'Hara and Robert W. Anthony, of Altoona, are both qualified by experience and reputation and, in keeping them out of office, the Senate is doing the State a grave injustice. If I were to say that, it would sound as if I were making a political speech, but this statement was made by the Post-Gazette of Pittsburgh.

The Philadelphia Inquirer goes on at great length to discuss the same problem, and it discusses the merits of these men and why they should be put into office.

The Harrisburgh Patriot, of December 15, 1959, discusses not only these men, but they discuss the action of the Democratic Senate in the Congress and how they acted on the Eisenhower appointments. The article tells how the Democrats decided to go along with one of the gentlemen who was under heavy fire because they did not want to stymie the President in his problems. They faced the issue, made the issue clear-cut, and decided on that basis.

I think that we, here in the State Senate, could do no less. I think to withhold either telling the gentleman that he is qualified or unqualified, or whatever we feel should be our stand on this matter, is doing the State and him an injustice.

Robert W. Anthony is an attorney and a member of the Blair County Bar. He has also been asked to serve on this commission. His name has come over more recently. He is a gentleman who is well thought of in his community and has the bar association approval. He also has enjoyed all of the accruements and also the accolades of the newspapers and the people who are interested in this problem.

I am asking the Members of this Senate if they know of any reason why these two gentleman should not be appointed. If they are in bad standing, if they are not intelligent, if they cannot handle the job or if in any way they lack the qualifications, would they please make it known to me as the leader of the Democratic delegation, or would they make it known to individual Democratic Senators? Then, perhaps, we will feel the same way as you do. We will then transmit this message to the Governor. I think we are avoiding what is our constitutional duty. The Governor has made his duty clear and has acted. I think we can do no less.

I call upon the committee, and the committee chairman, to look into these two appointments, and to do it soon. We are entering the stage where these people are needed to sit in on hearings and to decide on the rate to be granted to the utilities, not only to protect the State and the citizens thereof, but to protect the utilities and, perhaps, solve some of the problems they have so they can give better service.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being objection to the immediate consideration of this resolution, the resolution will be referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported, as committed, HB 2286.

"(8) 'The [Capital Account] Adjusted Standard Reimbursement Fraction.' The Department of Public Instruction shall compute the [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction of each school district annually in the month of December.

"The [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction [of each school district] shall be computed [(i) by subtracting from four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) an amount to be determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit by four one thousandths (.004) and dividing the difference so obtained by four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) and (ii)] as follows in the case of payments for every lease or contract entered into or approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction prior to August 26, 1953, and in the case of payments for every lease approved by the Department of Public Instruction on or after August 26, 1953, but prior to March 22, 1956, if the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction is greater than five thousand nine hundred ninety-nine ten thousandths (.5999) by multiplying the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction by itself or if the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction is less than six thousand ten-thousandths (.6000) by multiplying the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction by fifty one-hundredths (.50): Provided, That if the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction is negative it shall be treated as zero (0) or [(iii)] in the case of payments on account of buildings for which the lease is approved on or after March 22, 1956, or in the case of payments on account of the incurring of indebtedness by the issuance of general obligation bonds on account of buildings for which the general construction contract is awarded on or after March 22, 1956 if the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction is greater than four thousand nine hundred ninety-nine ten-thousandths (.4999) by multiplying the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction by itself or if the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction is less than five thousand ten-thousandths (.5000) by multiplying the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction by itself and and by fifty one-hundredths (.50) and adding the product to the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction multiplied by twenty-five one hundredths (.25): Provided, That if the [quotient obtained in (i) above] standard reimbursement fraction is negative it shall be treated as zero (0).

"(9) 'Valuation.' A school district's [or vocational school district's] valuation to be used for purposes of computing the [basic account] standard reimbursement fraction [the subsidiary account reimbursement fraction and the capital account reimbursement fraction] shall be the valuation placed upon its taxable real property by the State Tax Equalization Board.

"(10) 'Number of District Teaching Units for Purposes of Determination of [Basic Account] Standard Reimbursement Fraction; [Subsidiary Account Reimbursement Fraction and Capital Account Reimbursement Fraction].' A school district's [or vocational school district's] number of district teaching units for purposes of determination of the [basic account] standard reimbursement fraction [the subsidiary account reimbursement fraction and the capital account reimbursement fraction] shall be obtained as follows: (i) divided by twenty-two (22) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public high school during the preceding school term; (ii) divide by thirty (30) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public elementary school during the preceding school term; and (iii) add the quotients obtained under (i) and (ii) above except when the pupil-teacher ratio exceeds thirty-three (33) in which case the sum obtained under (i) and (ii) above shall be multiplied by thirty-three (33) and the product so obtained shall be divided by the pupil-teacher ratio of the district. No school district [or vocational school district] shall be credited with less than one teaching unit. [No school district or vocational school district shall be assigned a basic account standard reimbursement fraction lower in value than the minimum instruction subsidy divided by the maximum instruction subsidy.] All one-room schools operated in accordance with the provisions of this act shall, if their operation is approved by the State Council of Education, be credited with at least one teaching unit. The State Council of Education shall withhold its approval of any one-room, one-teacher school unless (i) topography, distance or condition of roads are such as to make transportation of pupils impractical; or (ii) it is impossible to accommodate pupils in existing graded schools in the district or other districts; or (iii) the district is financially unable to construct a consolidated school.

"(11) [Actual] Reimbursable Instruction Expense Per Elementary Teaching Unit; [Actual] Reimbursable Instruction Expense Per Secondary Teaching Unit; [Actual] Reimbursable Instruction Expense Per Joint Elementary Teaching Unit; [Actual] Reimbursable Instruction Expense Per Joint Secondary Teaching Unit; [Actual] Reimbursable Instruction Expense Per Area Technical School Teaching Unit.' In [1958] 1959 in the month of [September] December and thereafter annually in the month of [September] December, the Department of Public Instruction shall calculate for each school district for the immediately preceding school year the [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per elementary teaching unit for elementary pupils educated in the district's public school the [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per secondary teaching unit for secondary pupils educated in the district's public schools the [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per joint elementary teaching unit for elementary pupils educated in elementary schools of jointures of which the district is a member the [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per joint secondary teaching unit for secondary pupils educated in secondary schools of jointures of which the district is a member the [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per area technical school teaching unit for pupils educated in area technical schools in which the district participates the [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per elementary teaching unit for elementary pupils residing in the district and educated at the expense of their district of residence in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth and the [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per secondary teaching unit for secondary pupils residing in the district and educated at the expense of their district of residence in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth. In each case [actual] reimbursable instruction expense per teaching unit shall be the sum of (i) and (ii) below but in no case shall include expenses for debt service or for capital outlay [rentals of capital facilities and equipment, salaries and expenses for school nurses, for medical and dental services, for driver education courses, for reimbursable transportation of pupils, for tuition paid to other school districts, for reimbursable board and lodging in lieu of transportation, for salaries of directors and supervisors of special education, public school psychologists, principals of special schools and assistants, teachers of approved special classes for phys-

"Section 2541. Payments on Account of Pupil Transportation. School districts shall be paid by the Commonwealth for every school year on account of pupil transportation which and the means and contracts providing for which have been approved by the Department of Public Instruction in the cases hereinafter enumerated an amount to be determined by multiplying the cost of approved reimbursable pupil transportation incurred by the district by the district [subsidiary account] standard reimbursement fraction. In addition thereto the Commonwealth shall pay to school districts which own their vehicles an annual depreciation charge of ten per centum (10%) to be calculated on the basis of the approved cost at which the district acquired the vehicle for which depreciation is claimed. With respect to vehicles purchased prior to January 1, 1956, the number of depreciation payments shall be limited to ten such payments. With respect to vehicles purchased on or after January 1, 1956, the annual depreciation charge shall not exceed seven hundred dollars ($700) for such vehicles. The number of annual depreciation payments shall be limited so that the total amount of such payments shall not exceed the cost of the vehicle as approved by the Department of Public Instruction at the time of the purchase. In no case shall the Commonwealth pay in depreciation charges more than ten thousand five hundred dollars ($10,500) for any one vehicle.

"Section 4. Sections 2542 and 2572 of the act, amended July 13, 1957 (P. L. 864), are amended to read:

"Section 2542. Board and Lodging in Lieu of Transportation.—In any case where the Commonwealth is required to reimburse any school district on account of pupil transportation and the school district in lieu of such transportation is authorized to and does pay for suitable board and lodging for any pupil the Commonwealth shall pay to the school district an amount to be determined by multiplying the cost of such board and lodging by the districts [subsidiary account] standard reimbursement fraction: Provided, That is no case shall the Commonwealth's share of the cost exceed one dollar ($1) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is in attendance at school not exceeding five (5) days in any one week.

"Section 2572. State Public School Building Authority and Municipality Authority and Nonprofit Corporation Leases [Heretofore] Approved Prior to March 22, 1956.—(a) The Commonwealth shall pay annually to each school district erecting or sharing in the erection of a building or buildings or providing educational equipment under the provisions of the State Public School Building Authority Act for every lease or contract entered into or approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction prior to August 26, 1953, and to each school district which shall have entered into a lease approved by the Department of Public Instruction prior to August 26, 1953, with a municipality authority or with a non-profit corporation for the rental of a school building or buildings or providing educational equipment, an amount to be determined by multiplying the school district's [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction by the annual rental charge as fixed by the State Public School Building Authority or by the annual rental or share thereof provided for under its lease with such municipality authority or non-profit corporation as the case may be.

"(b) The Commonwealth shall pay annually to each school district erecting or sharing in the erection of a building or buildings under the provisions of the State Public School Building Authority Act for every lease approved by the Department of Public Instruction on to each school district which shall have entered into a lease approved by the Department of Public Instruction on or after August 26, 1953, but prior to March 22, 1956, or after August 26, 1953, but prior to March 22, 1956, and with a municipality authority or with a non-profit corporation for the rental of a school building or buildings an amount to be determined by multiplying the school district's [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction by that portion of the annual rental charge or share thereof provided for under its lease with the State Public School Building Authority or municipality authority or non-profit corporation, as the case may be, sufficient during the period of the lease to pay the cost of acquiring or constructing the school buildings, the cost of acquiring the land upon which the school buildings are situate and the interest on such cost.

"Section 5. Section 2575 of the act, amended July 11, 1957 (P. L. 775), and July 13, 1957 (P. L. 864), is amended to read:

"Section 2575. Payments on Account of Leases [Hereafter] Approved On or after March 22, 1956, and on Account of Sinking Fund Charges on Indebtedness for School Buildings [Hereafter] Thereafter Constructed.—The Commonwealth shall pay annually to each school district erecting or sharing in the erection of a building or buildings under the provisions of the Public School Building Authority Act, the Municipality Authority Act, section 758 of the Public School Code of 1949, or section 791 of the Public School Code of 1949, on account of buildings for which the lease is approved on or after March 2, 1956, or through the incurring of indebtedness by the issuance of general obligation bonds on account of buildings for which the general construction contract is awarded on or after March 22, 1956, an amount to be determined by multiplying the district's [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction by the approved reimbursable rental or approved reimbursable sinking charge.

"Section 6. Section 2575.1 of the act, added July 11, 1957 (P. L. 775), is amended to read:

"Section 2575.1. Payments on Account of Building Costs.—The Commonwealth shall pay to any school district making a preliminary payment on account of the approved building construction cost as authorized by clause (5) of section 791 of this act an amount determined by multiplying the district's [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction by the amount of the payment made by the school district.

"The payment required by this section shall be made for the year in which the school district made its payment on account of the approved building construction cost.

"Section 7. The sum of fifty-five million dollars ($55,000,000), or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the payment of the reimbursements to school districts in the two years beginning June 1, 1959, under the provisions of this act.

"Section 8. This act shall take effect the first Monday of July, 1959, and shall apply to all Commonwealth payments for the school year 1958-1959 and for each school year thereafter but shall not apply to payments for the school year 1957-1958. The law as it existed before, the amendments and repeals made by this act shall continue in force for the purpose of payments for the school year 1957-1958 and for each year prior thereto."

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title; page 2, first line of Title, by striking out "and changing the basis for reimbursement in certain cases."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President—

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, for what purpose does the gentleman request me to yield?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I was about to suggest that before taking up these amendments, we take a recess for the purpose of having a Caucus.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have no objection to a recess. I will yield for that purpose.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you. The gentleman will have the floor when we return from recess.

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I now request a recess of the Senate for one hour and a half for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus, to be held in the Caucus Room on the first floor.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, during that time, a Democratic Caucus will be held in the Caucus Room on the fourth floor.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a recess of the Senate for one hour and a half.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

The Chair now recognizes Senator Seyler in reference to the amendments offered, and read by the Clerk, to House Bill No. 1108 prior to the recess.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the amendments we are offering are, to my mind, very important amendments to a very important bill. It is a bill, Mr. President, which perhaps, more than any other bill in this Session, has caught the attention and appealed to the imagination of the people of this Commonwealth.

I am going to first state the purpose of these amendments—what they do—and then attempt to tell our purpose in offering these amendments to this bill.

This bill, first of all, as it stands now provides no aid to schools within the present year. I think it has been well publicized and it is well understood by people who are on school boards, by teachers and by parents, that there are many school districts in this Commonwealth in this year that have been counting on some form of assistance from the Commonwealth in order to meet their budgets for the present year. The amendments presently before the Senate would restore the aid to school districts in the current year.

The second significant thing that would be accomplished by these amendments would be to restore the simplification of the formula by which reimbursement is given so as to make it understandable, certainly, to those people who are involved in school district work, school boards and so on, and to most of the general public who took the time to inform themselves about how it works. This, to my mind, would be a great asset because in the reimbursement formula, the amendment by which school districts have been reimbursed heretofore has always remained something of a mystery. I have found that even those very well informed people, the gentlemen of the press, at times get a bit groggy when they are considering amendments or some other legislation which deals with the reimbursement formula. Therefore, I believe it would be a great asset if we could have this simplification.

Thirdly, Mr. President, these amendments would restore to the bill the amount of appropriation which was in the bill when it came to us from the House of Representatives, which is a matter of about $55,000,000.

I am not here today, Mr. President, to argue with anyone that this represents what the Legislature should do in the way of increased aid for schools. I am not here to argue, Mr. President, even that this is an adequate provision. However, I think in the process which began with the bill as it was introduced at the instigation of the P.S.E.A., the School Directors Association and other interested groups, the expectations of the people who really hoped to do something for education at this Session have been gradually eroded by the practical aspects of the fiscal situation of the Commonwealth.

I do not think $55,000,000 is an adequate figure, but I think that at this junction it represents a figure which would be a great deal more acceptable and make more nearly possible a good educational program than the present provisions of House Bill No. 1108 as it stands without these amendments.

Mr. President, what I have just stated are the provisions of the amendments. When I have finished discussing this bill, Mr. President, I am going to ask for a roll call. I am going to do this because I believe there are millions of people in this Commonwealth who are sincerely and deeply interested in the results of this vote. I have named some of the groups that are interested—school directors, educators and parent-teacher associations—but I would say there are a great many of the reading public, who perhaps do not belong to any of these organizations, who are very much interested in it. The communications I have received indicate that this is true.

I will also say, Mr. President, at this juncture, that this is the first time in my memory since I have been in the Legislature—which is not nearly as long as some people have been here, but represents a rather large amount of my life—that we have had a bill on which I received the kind of letters and communications I have received on this bill. Heretofore, Mr. President, I have had many interested people write to me and say, "Vote for more money for schools." However, this is the first time in my experience that I recall that the letters have also said: "We expect you to support an adequate program so that this appropriation can be met by revenue."

Mr. President, I believe that this figure of $55,000,000 is a very possible figure to finance. I would say that on my part and on the part of my cosponsor, Senator Hays, the introduction of these amendments implies a willingness to support a tax program which will furnish the necessary revenue. I would say to any gentleman on the floor, on either side of this Senate, that if he votes for these amendments, I hope he is voting for them with the understanding that he will also support the necessary tax measures which are available to us to raise this amount of money.

000,000 brings one to mind immediately. This, of course, is House Bill No. 656, which is the bill which would place a tax upon intangible personal property or, in other words, stocks, bonds and other securities. This bill would meet that need, and all that is necessary for us to pass that bill is to have it voted from committee. It is here presently with us; time remains and this could be the answer. However, if there are gentlemen who say they do not care for that tax program, there is another means of meeting this $55,000,000 bill with a revenue provision. Senator Pechan has loudly and, at great length, extolled the virtues of a bill of his which represents a change in the placement of the tax on beer. I now say to Senator Pechan, and to the many Members of his Caucus who no doubt have been influenced by him, that we stand ready—that I stand ready and Senator Hays stands ready—to adopt that as a means of financing. That bill, I think Senator Pechan told me, would bring in about $22,000,000. In addition to that,—and necessarily adding to that because that would not meet the whole cost of this by itself—there are a set of amendments which could be inserted which would place a tax on services. As I understand it, those amendments would bring in $30,000,000, plus.

I am convinced that the two bills together represent another means, if the gentlemen do not like the stocks and bonds tax, of bringing in the necessary revenue to meet the cost of this bill. Both of these taxes are readily available. They are in the Senate. They are in a Senate Committee. They are in the hands of Senators. If good will is present, and if Senators really believe that we need to make adequate provision for education now, the means are at hand in the form of these amendments and in the form of those bills which are in our possession. The time is available. It can be done. All that is needed is the desire and good will on the part of the Senators in this Senate.

Mr. President, the reason we are going to ask for a roll call is because we have a conviction that the people are looking to us, as Senators, to make a fateful decision. I want to say to any people who are interested that this is not a political bill. Therefore, we should not be thinking politically. I also want to say to them that I know Senators on both sides of this Senate, who are interested in education. There are fathers here who are interested in the education of their grandchildren. There are many people here who are patriotic citizens and who realize that the United States, of which Pennsylvania, of course, is a part, is engaged in a great conflict which is not necessarily a conflict which will involve the atom bomb or the other means of destruction in our hands, or armies or navies, but rather a race to see whether the United States can keep up in educational provision for the development of scientists and of the other men of learning who are necessary to meet on their own ground that other great nation of the world which is devoting such a large part of its national resources to the job of education. I think there are patriotic Senators on this floor who realize that. They are convinced that unless we go into action and do something substantial, and just quit talking about it, we will not be able to meet that challenge.

The question we are raising on the floor in these amendments and the question that we are asking every Senator to answer by his vote on this roll call is, first of all, who among these Senators wants to provide reasonable aid for schools now when it is needed. Who among these Senators believes that the task of education in Pennsylvania is important enough to cast aside personal or political reasons or motivations and vote on this bill because it is a bill that is necessary and desired by the people of Pennsylvania? Who in this Senate is willing to signify by a vote on these amendments that he also accepts our thesis that the means of financing these amendments—the tax measures necessary—are here at hand and can be produced, and that he will help by his vote to so produce them and pass them?

I have a great deal of sympathy with Senators who say: "I, personally, would like to vote for these bills. I believe in education. I am a patriotic citizen. I am interested in the welfare of our children and our Nation and our State, but I have not been able to register my vote on this."

Mr. President, they are in a position today to register their vote. We are hereby giving them the opportunity. Mr. President, I would warn such Senators that this may be the last chance in this present Session to get on the record as being in favor of adequate provision for education in Pennsylvania, because I am convinced that to vote "no" on these amendments indicates just the opposite.

Some people complain, the general public and particularly those who are interested and are in organizations favoring such legislation, or those who take the trouble to write, that they are concerned because of what goes on in caucuses, in conferences and in committees. They do not understand how these things go on. They do not understand where the decisive vote is cast. They have a point, because of times on this floor we are presented only with the possibilities which are in the bill as it is presented to us by the committee after conferences and after caucuses, all of which, of course, is not in the public view.

Mr. President, here today, regardless of what has happened in caucuses, regardless of what has happened in committees, regardless of what has happened in conferences, the chips are down. We are here presenting an opportunity for those people who favor provision for an educational program to cast their vote for it. This vote, to my mind, will put each Senator on record as to how he stands for the support of public education.

I hope no Senator will try to say, "This vote on these amendments does not indicate my sentiments." This is no discharge resolution. We are not asking any Senator to violate the sacred system of committees. A Senator who believes in the committee system does not need to worry. He can vote freely for these amendments. I believe that we are in a situation here and we have a situation before us in public education in which we need to forget about political considerations. We ought to forget about block voting, and we ought to vote our convictions. If there is any man here, Mr. President, who feels that public education should not be supported, if there is any man here who feels that we are spending too much money on public education, if there is any man here who feels that we should not extend education to all of the people of our Commonwealth, and if there is any man here who feels that the one room school is adequate so let us not improve condition, I hope he will honestly vote "no" on these amendments, vote his sentiments and not be swayed by the fact that he is a Member of a Party or any other group. If those are your sentiments, vote "no."

Let us be honest. Let us vote our real convictions. On the other hand, if your convictions are the opposite, then I hope your vote will indicate it.

Just to reiterate one thing, Mr. President, I have no way of binding people to vote on this and qualifying their vote. However, as for Senator Hays and myself, we are voting in favor of these amendments. We urge all others to vote in favor of these amendments with the understanding and stipulation that we, at the same time, will do all we can to bring to the floor and pass either one of the two suggested tax programs that I have mentioned or any other tax program that may be in the possession of this Senate, and for which there is time to make it feasible to provide it.

We are not asking for a phony bill which would raise the amount of money in the appropriation and do nothing about supplying the revenue needed to meet it. We do not believe in that kind of action. If there is anyone who has that in mind, who believes he wants to make a showing by voting for appropriations and is not willing to support an adequate revenue bill, I ask him to please vote "no" on the amendments. We want the votes of those people who are interested in a good educational program and are willing to vote not only for the appropriations, but also for the finances to support them.

Mr. President, I yield to my colleague, Senator Hays.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I need not tell you that when you get in the batting order of second place, with the able Senator Seyler leading off, you really get in a position where you are up to sacrifice. I have been suited up since this bill was introduced on April 1, 1959, and so we are going to get into the game.

I would like to reiterate what Senator Seyler has said. We stand ready to support an adequate tax program to carry out the provisions of our amendments. We want the votes of those Senators who are willing to take a similar stand.

This is not a political matter. Just as we said earlier.—I think it was today—books and libraries are not a matter of politics, so school children and higher education are not and should not be. The vote in the House, it seems to me, on the bill in such form as we are trying to amend it back to, was 154 to 360. I am sure there are not 154 Members of our Party in the House.

While the financial aspects of this bill are important, I would like to reiterate another phase of the bill which I feel is almost as important. Senator Seyler touched on it, in part. Senator Pechan, the Senator from Armstrong County, told us yesterday with pride, and well deserved pride, that he had served for thirty years on the school board. I think my colleague from Berks County has a long period of service on a school board, also, and the Senator from Luzerne, Senator Murray, and there may be others. I remind you that just a little over a week ago in the 2,400 school districts in Pennsylvania, there were about 4,800 men and women who took the oath of office of school director for the ensuing six years. These, it seems to me, are among the most important civic citizens we have in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They serve without pay. They serve without fear and without financial reward. It seems to me that as a General Assembly and as the Senate of Pennsylvania, we have a tremendous responsibility to make their work easier rather than more difficult. Therefore, I want to call your attention to that feature of the bill.

However, before I do that, I will have to pull out some old corn which I am sure is known to most of you about the school gossip and critic who went to a newly elected school board member and said, "Jim, do you know they have a curriculum in that school, to which you have been elected to the school board?" Jim said, "My goodness, do they have that?" The gossipier said, "Yes, they do." Jim replied, "I will do something about that. Wait until I get on that board. I will take that out."

For these new school directors, 4,800 of them who have been elected, if you do not pass these amendments, they are going to wake up and find they not only have a curriculum, but they have a basic account standard reimbursement fraction, they have a subsidiary account reimbursement fraction and they have a capital account reimbursement fraction. They have all of those things, and if you will vote, twenty-four of you, for these amendments, we will knock out those three things and simplify it in part, but not entirely. It seems to me we have an obligation to these men and women. It seems to me they are in the position in Pennsylvania of being the best interpreters of the public education program in Pennsylvania. We must rely on them. We must help them. It seems to me this is one step that we can take to reduce this three-headed monster until there is at least only one such category; namely, I think it carries the name "standard reimbursement fraction," which is simpler than any one of the other three.

Therefore, I urge you to vote for these amendments out of consideration to the 4,800 newly elected school directors and for the 12,000 school directors in the State of Pennsylvania. It is difficult for them.

We, in education, are accused of throwing petty geese at people, and we stand guilty in some respects, but I think we are doing better along that line. Here in the General Assembly, we have heard—Senator Seyler referred to the press misunderstanding this, and I have heard Philadelphia lawyers on this Senate floor and lawyers from some other distinguished and important cities of the State as well—of people who have difficulty with these various reimbursement fractions. Therefore, my first pleading to you is to vote for this bill for that reason.

There are financial aspects to this matter, also. As Senator Seyler has said, people are interested in this, and greatly interested in it. Perry Como, a well-known Pennsylvanian, says, "We get letters." Each of us receives letters and telegrams. I am not going to read all of these letters and telegrams. Basically, they say, "increase the support in House Bill No. 1108 and vote for a tax to support it." These letters and telegrams come from practically every school district in the two counties which I have the honor to represent. Most of the letters come from Parent-Teacher Associations, sometimes from teachers and sometimes from school directors. I have one from the Harmony Joint School Faculty Organization of Westover, Pennsylvania. These are important people who will have financial difficulty in meeting their budget this year if House Bill No. 1108 does not get endorsement with the amendments which we are offering. Here is one from the school district of Gulich Township in Clearfield County. Here are telegrams from the Clearfield Council of the Parent-Teachers Association, from the Ramsey P.T.A., from the Woodward Township School Board, and so I might go on, but I shall not do that. You each have as many or more of these indications of popular support, and not only support but great need of these local school communities to carry on the program that they have set up for this particular year.

Yesterday, on the editorial page of the Harrisburg Patriot, in a column written by Jack Mabley under the heading of "The Good, Old Days Versus Today," I was interested in this writing which bears on the situation. This Jack Mabley, writing special to The Patriot, says:

"Taxes go up, debts go up, inflation is eating the dollar, and yet most of us eat better, are housed better, and have bigger cars."

I am not going to read the entire article and I am not taking anything out of context. However, the last paragraphs say:

"Here is a final economic note. An hour of schooling under a trained teacher costs an American parent 33 cents. An untrained baby sitter costs 50 cents or more.

"For the same 33 cents the citizen can get one milk shake, a gallon of gas, or one-sixth of a haircut.

"And he will spend less on education,"—and we will spend less on education—"than on our homes, drinking, smoking, automobiles, or recreation."

Education in Pennsylvania is not costing more than in other States. The data I have here would indicate that the estimated current expense, per pupil, in Pennsylvania, when this report was given, was $370 per year. This puts us eighteenth among the fifty States. I think all of us think we rank higher on that level in the matter as far as wealth is concerned. If you will match that figure of $370 for Pennsylvania with some of our neighbors who are competing with us for teachers from Pennsylvania, you will find that New York is spending $535; New Jersey, $463; District of Columbia, $434; and Pennsylvania, $370.

The need exists in the majority of the school districts in central Pennsylvania, if not in all Pennsylvania, for this additional support indicated by the $55,000,000 amount in the amendments which we are offering.

President Eisenhower is in Europe and other parts of the world mending our international fences. I am sure all of us wish him success—and he is having success—in this undertaking. I think most of us realize that this is only a veneer job; that there is something more basic than sending our President on a good will tour and that this may extend the time that we have to get ready, but it is not a cure. As one political sage said, "In a political contest, the person who comes in second never takes the oath of office." I think we must admit that in any international race, a similar consequence may be.

Therefore, I think all of us in our hearts believe that the important battle is not being fought on the launching pads at Cape Canaveral, in California or in Russia, because there are more powerful things than moons and satellites. We are told, and we believe, that ideas are more important than these physical things, and ideas permeate the minds of men. What we are really working for, and what this contest is about, is the minds of men. Therefore, the real launching pads for the defense of this Country, I submit, are not in Florida and California, but the launching pads are in the classrooms, in the libraries and in the higher institutions of the United States, and Pennsylvania must carry its full share of this burden. This $55,000,000 would be a partial effort to make us better able to carry our load.

This week, for the second time, I must remind you as Senator Seyler has done—we have been voting on so many discharge resolutions—that this is not a discharge resolution. This is sort of an open and shut thing. You either think that education in Pennsylvania deserves at least $55,000,000 more to carry on its program, or you do not. Each of us, I am sure, in the course of our term of office, appear before P.T.A.'s, before service clubs, before religious groups and before fraternal groups and give our lip service to how important we think education is. We sit in churches and synagogues and we shake our heads with approval when the speaker pays tribute to the value of education and a better education.

Today, and perhaps this is the last chance in this Session or in this biennium, we will have the opportunity to support, not with our words but with our votes, a really better program for public education in Pennsylvania.

I challenge twenty-four other men on either side of the aisle, because this is not a political question, to join us in voting favorably on these amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am sure that the gentleman who just spoke and the gentleman who preceded him would not have meant to imply, in any sense, that they were the only ones who were champions of education or were interested in the education of the children in Pennsylvania. Somehow or somewhere in listening to them, I seemed to gain the impression that at least they are the only noticeable champions of that particular great cause.

They stated that this certainly was a nonpolitical subject, and it should be. However, Mr. President, in my experience, I have never known of a nonpolitical legislative bill used as hard as this one and similar bills for political purposes, or one which has been whipped up by so many politicians to gain attention to their own zeal for the education of Pennsylvania children.

Mr. President, I know that it has been stated before many, many times and reiterated by the Senators who just spoke—parenthetically, I want to assure them that I know they are intensely interested in this subject just as I am and just as we all are—that the sum of $55,000,000 would be required by the vehicle of this bill. We have had this bill analyzed also, Mr. President, and I am sure that I am telling them nothing new when I say that the cost of this bill, with the amendments which they are offering here, would not be $55,000,000, but would be more nearly $70,000,000. I do not believe that that is any secret and I think they are well aware of it.

However, the $55,000,000, Mr. President, happens to be the amount of money which the Governor's Tax Committee estimated might be gained from the intangible personal property tax which was passed over to the Senate in the early part of the Session.

Mr. President, I want to say that the reference to the revenues which might be derived from that bill demonstrate a very, very shallow approach to this subject because everyone well knows—it has been stated firmly and restated again and again and again—that that bill could not and would not come out of the Senate Finance Committee and that that money was not available and would not be made available. It was well known that that particular form of tax was not going to pass, and it is well known at this time. Mr. President, in passing this bill over to us from the House, that fact was also known to them. When that bill is used as an argument in favor of the support of the amendments to this bill, it is not a good argument because the money is not available and they knew it would not be available.

There is another factor that enters into this, Mr. President. If we did report that tax bill out of committee, it has already been committed for another use because the Governor, in response to a request by the State employees for a salary increase, caused a postcard to be sent out from his office to these State employees, stating substantially as follows:

"The Governor has received your recent communication relative to salary increases for State employees. He has asked me to inform you that there are not sufficient taxes on the statute books to cover the cost of these bills. However, the House passed over to the Senate the stocks and bonds tax, which is more than sufficient to cover the proposed increases."

Mr. President, I do not quite understand how the money which would come from that tax bill, if it were reported out and passed on the floor of this Senate, could be used for salary increases for the State employees and, at the same time, be used to foot the bill for the increases to the school districts.

We propose also to offer amendments to this bill which will be somewhat realistic. When the time comes, I shall have something to say about that.

I believe they also mentioned that they would stand ready to support the tax on beer and liquor over the bar, which would produce, by estimate, about $22,000,000. I want to say, Mr. President, that that bill, at one time, was on our Calendar and it was our information, not only from a substantial number of the Members of this Senate, that the bill would not pass, but we also received word that if it did pass the Senate, it could not possibly pass in the House of Representatives because the Democratic side of the House was opposed to that particular type of taxation.

I would stand ready now and, if necessary, would make legislative time available to bring that bill from committee and have it passed in this Senate, with the votes of the gentleman on the other side, I am sure, if it were not for the fact that it could not pass over in the House. However, if they can assure me that they can produce sufficient votes over there to pass it, I will do all in my power to get that bill out and have it passed because I think it is a good source of revenue, and one which would be applicable for the use of our school districts.

Mr. President, we realize that many of our school districts, in preparing their budgets for the current school year, estimated their revenues on something that might be obtained for them from the Legislature in this 1959 Session, and that they are presently in dire distress. I realize, also, that the bill in the form in which it appears on the Calendar would not give any immediate relief to the school districts. We do propose, in this Session, to do something which will give some measure of relief to the school districts in the current school year, but not because we are informed that if a bill containing the amount of money of $70,000,000 was sent over to the Governor, he could not in all conscience sign it, and I would agree wholeheartedly with him. However, Mr. President, we do believe that there will be an overrun in the sales tax, particularly from services and possibly in the corporate net income tax, which will be adequate to cover the cost of this bill which might give some relief in this current school year.

Therefore, Mr. President, we are not opposing these amendments because we are, in any sense, opposed to assisting school districts. We must oppose because we feel that it would be doing something that would not be sincere. That in passing such a bill over to the Governor, we would be giving false hope to the school districts, because we believe that the Governor was entirely correct and entirely sincere when he said that he would have to veto a bill of that size if it were put upon his desk without revenues accompanying it. At the present moment, I see no prospect of a bill coming over from the House providing revenues which we will have time to approve in this Session. I know of no bill on the House of Representatives' Calendar which will provide revenues to take care of the needs of House Bill No. 1108 in the form in which it passed the House.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe in order that we can act on these amendments which are before us now, we should address ourselves, without getting into the heat of passion in talking about politics or other extraneous matters, to what is basically involved here.

This bill was introduced in the House.

I shall now quote from a letter, received from the Pennsylvania State Education Association, with the subheading, "Official Organ—Pennsylvania School Journal," Harrisburg, dated December 4, 1959. I shall not read the entire letter, but, in part, as follows:

"The version of the bill, H. B. 1108, as originally reported from the House . . . would have been the first step toward a solution of the financial problems which are present in practically every school district in the Commonwealth. Even the bill amended to $55 million as it passed the House would have given temporary relief and assistance for a two-year period. The present version of H. B. 1108, Printer's Number 2067, however, does little or nothing to meet the current financial distress which prevails in school districts throughout the Commonwealth.

"Furthermore, if the present version of the bill, Printer's Number 2067, is the considered program of the Senate of Pennsylvania with reference to a solution of the problem of school needs, and is agreed to by the House, we request that a new bill be written with a new number so that it can be identified as a meager approach to the problem of school subsidies rather than as a solution to the problem which was encompassed in original H. B. 1108.

"As a matter of fact we feel that it would be an injustice to the sponsors and to the Associations that developed original H. B. 1108 to be identified with the proposed program in any way."

This letter is signed by the President of the Pennsylvania State Education Association; the President of the Chief School Administrators, Pennsylvania State Education Association; the President of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association; and the Legislative Chairman of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers.

If the House would have sent this bill over to us the way it was originally written, without sending a tax measure or any money with it, I think the gentleman would be justified in standing up and saying that this is merely a political trick, merely a political way of handling a serious problem, or this is a way of showing the public that we are really for them, but then not providing the sinews or the strength to accomplish the necessary task.

Let us, however, look at the facts for just one moment. The stocks and bonds tax was sent over here which, if enacted by the thirtieth day of this month, could produce $55,000,000. That is the estimate given by the bureau and is not my figure. If not enacted this year, it will only bring in half of that revenue, which is approximately $27,000,000.

The House sent over to us the stocks and bonds tax measure. That came to us and has been in the Committee on Finance. We have asked that that committee be discharged from further consideration, after no action was taken. I think the bill now is pretty much dead. It will never come before the committee and it will never come before this Body. We will never have an opportunity to act in any way on it. This morning, we talked about the committee chairmen having the right of pocket veto.

What do we have here, Mr. President? We have this House Bill, which deals with the school problems, following the tax. Instead of enacting any kind of legislation which is going to provide the money to do the job which this bill requires, the bill was completely changed here in the Senate and the amount of money reduced. I think it now stands at about $16,000,000 which, basically, is a very small sum in the over-all program which this bill wants to accomplish.

The gentlemen on the other side say they are interested in providing a tax measure and they have called upon the beer tax or whatever other tax they want. Let us look at the beer tax for a moment. One of the difficulties with it is that it is difficult to collect. You would have to have collectors go into almost every taproom or tavern in the Commonwealth and try to find out what their actual income is, how much they earn and try to estimate whether they are paying the tax or not. Maybe the cost of collecting that tax would be so great that the money actually received by the Commonwealth would be minimal.

However, Mr. President, here we are going to pass a measure which does not provide the money to do the job. They then say that we are playing politics with this bill. The question I put to the Members of this Senate is: Who is playing politics with this bill if you are merely passing a naked act over to the Governor and asking him to sign it, when the Governor has stated his position time and time again, both privately and publicly, that he would not sign any measure which would cost money, if the money was not provided in the measure or in an accompanying measure? I do not believe that we, as members of the board of directors of this Commonwealth, should tolerate the situation whereby you are asking them to create a deficit. This is a built-in deficit, if you continue to do what you are doing.

I have also heard talk from the other side that the sales tax and the hotel occupancy tax would bring in enough money. I would like to respectfully point out to you—and this is as a result of articles which appeared in the newspapers and from other people who have taken measures by the use of the media of communications which we have, such as television, radio and newspapers—that we are collecting $100,000,000 more than we have ever collected before. However, let us just look at the truth for a moment. The estimated return in June, of this year, was supposed to be $5,100,000. We actually received $5,100,000. In July, the estimate was supposed to be $25,900,000; the actual amount received was $25,000,000. In August, the estimated return was supposed to be $29,300,000; we actually received $30,100,000. In September, the estimate was supposed to be $20,400,000; we actually received $20,000,000. In October, the estimate was supposed to be $27,400,000; we actually received $25,400,000. In November, the estimate was supposed to be $34,700,000; we actually received $32,900,000. Therefore, Mr. President, the difference in the total estimates is $142,800,000. The actual income is $138,500,000. You can see that this difference may continue on. There is nobody who can tell us that we may not face, in the coming year, either a recession or a down trend in business. The steel strike is certainly not yet settled. Is there complete harmony between labor and management? We may not receive the money to do this job or any other job. Not to provide the money to do it and to have organizations, such as the P.S.E.A., which I do not think is basically a political organization or interested in politics, as such, in this matter, take the position that it takes whereby it does not want to be associated with this bill or have anything to do with it because it is being handled strictly as a political football because of the Senate version of the bill,—that is not me speaking; that is the P.S.E.A.—I think shows rather clearly what is being done here.

I would think that if these gentlemen did not want to play politics or felt that we were playing politics with the bill in the House, the Committee Chairman, who had control of this measure, should never brought it to this floor. They should have brought their own measure to the floor, one which they would have felt nonpolitical. However, that has not been done. It seems to me that to bring this measure out because it has certain good aspects to it is like being against sin. Everybody is for schoolteachers and school problems and wants to solve them. However, to be against sin, without taking any positive steps to monitor the moral climate or in any way strengthen the moral fiber of the people with whom you are dealing," I think is what you are doing here. You are saying, "I realize there is a problem. I want to solve it, but I am not going to give you the means by which to solve it." I think this is rather a sad way of handling an important problem, especially, as we said earlier today in the discussion on libraries, when we are engaged in a war of ideas, when we are trying to fight for men's minds, and when we are trying to arrive at some sort of a solution to a basic problem which exists in the struggle which goes on in this world between the ideology of a country or a foreign philosophy and the kind which we are trying to set up ourselves. If we do less for ourselves, how can we ask those people who are going to be our allies to do more?

Mr. President, I think this is a rather rash act on the part of the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle. I think it is a very unrealistic approach and I think it certainly is far, far from being a practical approach to the problem. The Governor will be in a position where he cannot sign this measure. If the gentlemen want to go around saying that they passed a school bill, I think they will not be telling the complete story.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I want to address myself to the remarks made by the Majority Leader.

The gentleman had some fear that Senator Hays and I might be misunderstood and that some people might think that we were posing as the only people who are interested in education. This is not true, Mr. President. In my original remarks, I think I made it clear that I do not believe this is true. However, certainly, there is one way for any Member in this Senate, who chooses, to prove that this is not so and to prove that he is just as much interested. That way is to join us in voting for these amendments.

Similarly, there is some question in the Majority Leader's mind that this might be understood to be a political gesture. Mr. President, here again, it is possible for the majority of the Members in this Senate to take this out of the realm of politics by joining together and voting for this bill. Do not make this a Democratic attempt to give adequate money to schools, but let us make it the attempt of everybody. Let us all show our good will. In that way, there can be no question. If we have a unanimous or near unanimous vote on this matter, nobody in the Commonwealth is going to say that there is anything political. It would be obvious that this is something which we all, as patriots, good citizens and as Senators who have the responsibility of furnishing adequate sums for schools, join together in doing.

The Senator said that it has been obvious for a long time that the $55,000,000 tax bill on stocks and bonds could not come out of committee. That is because a majority of the Senators say that the bill cannot come out of committee. As soon as a majority of the Senators feel that this cause, mainly of supplying funds for our school districts, is important enough, no one can say that that bill cannot come out of committee. It can come out.

Furthermore, Mr. President, this was not the only alternative we offered. We said that if that program was unacceptable, there was another program which would bring in $55,000,000 in revenue. We offered that and we were willing to support it. The gentleman said he likes the tax on beer and liquor. He asked whether I could promise him that he would receive enough votes in the House.

Mr. President, my whole plea today is that we forget about anything which has been said, such as remarks made about not having the votes for this tax bill or that tax bill, or remarks made in the past. They were not made in relation to the matter which is before us today. Of course, I cannot give the gentleman assurance because I, unfortunately, am not in the position which the Majority Leader is in of controlling any votes beyond my own. I trust, with my conferences with Senator Hays, that he is supporting me. I do not control him, but I feel that he is in agreement with me.

I think today we should put all this in the past and forget about it. It should be over the dam. We should say that we have a new proposal which is an important proposal, and one which would supply adequate finances for public schools in Pennsylvania. I think we should say that we, the Senate, will resolve to see that need is met, and to do that we will bring out a tax program.

Mr. President, I honestly believe, as I stand here, that if we start to move on this, if we put it on the basis of the schools' needs and forget all the past, the political agreements, remarks or whatever may exist, then this matter will catch fire. I do not think there is any question about the fact that if we put it on that basis, the House of Representatives will be just as similarly moved to take similar appropriate action. After all, to do any of this, it merely takes votes. We gentlemen here today have the votes which it takes to start this movement to a successful completion.

Mr. President, the gentleman said that supposing we would pass the stocks and bonds tax, he fears that it may be used for other purposes. There is an easy remedy in our hands. It is very easily possible to take that bill, the other two bills which I discussed, or any other bill in this Senate, which we could pass, and earmark it for educational purposes. That is no argument. This Senate has the ability to decide what use shall be made of the stocks and bonds tax or any other tax or tax package which is passed.

The gentleman holds in front of us an inducement not to vote for these amendments because he said that a more realistic set of amendments is going to be offered. I, of course, do not have any idea of what these amendments will be. I will reserve judgment until I do. However, if by "realistic" he means that it provides, by any considerable degree, for less than the proposed $55,000,000, then I tell him flatly that not on the evidence of my opinion alone, but on the evidence of every organization that I know of, which has studied this problem, this proposal will not be realistic. It will be inadequate. There are two ways of being realistic, Mr. President. One way of being realistic is to be cheap and say, "This is all that we are going to give." The other way of being realistic is to say, "What do we need?" That is real realism, if I may coin an expression. Real realism is to say, "What is the need? How much do we need?" Then should meet that need. That is being realistic. The other way is not at all realistic.

Finally, Mr. President, I trust that the Majority Leader spoke as an individual. However, I was disturbed by the fact that he constantly said, "we." I hope there is no commitment or prearrangement which will prevent any Senator on this floor from expressing today either his willingness and interest in supporting public education, or his unwillingness to do so. I hope there is no other factor operating here today. Our plea has been for the members of this Senate to place this matter a little bit out of the usual category and to vote on this matter as men, as Senators and as people who know something about the needs of the schools, as transmitted to them by their constituents and by the people in the field who know the needs. I hope that they will make this decision on the basis of their own judgment and their own good will. I also hope that no sophistries will be present and say, "Well, I would like to have voted for it, but I had an agreement and I could not do so." I think the people of this Commonwealth would protect anybody who is afraid to vote for this bill. If there is any Member of the Senate who is intimidated by some group action or some individual who has, for some reason, some sort of power over him, I would plead with him today to cast that aside and trust in the people of the Commonwealth and of his constituency, to protect him against any such intimidating influence. I hope this is not present. I hope that we will cast our votes today as people who are interested or not interested in providing the means for a decent educational program in Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not intend to take up too much time of the Senate, but I do believe there are several very important questions which have not been answered here today.

I might say, Mr. President, that in my limited experience here in the Senate, I have found that invariably on difficult questions, such as House Bill No. 1108 and its financing, we generally endeavor to sweep them under the rug until the closing days of the Session. We are now trying to close up shop for the Christmas holidays and we have very important pieces of legislation which must be resolved.

I take it, from the statement made by the Majority Leader, that since the Republicans have other amendments, the Seyler-Hays amendments will probably be defeated. Of course, these amendments were offered on the premise that there was a possibility that we could finance this legislation by the passage of the stocks and bonds tax. Of course, it was rather a foolish premise because I am one who is willing to presume that this legislation is dead and will not be released from the Finance Committee.

The other important factor which must be cleared up here today is that if Senator Berger has amendments to House Bill No. 1108, I am wondering whether he could tell the Members of the Senate how he plans to finance these amendments if there are going to be additional funds. A few Members of the Senate have stated that the Governor said that he will veto any legislation which requires funds, if the appropriation is not available. Therefore, I believe, in all fairness, that Senator Berger, the Majority Leader, should inform the Members of this Senate just how the Republican Members plan to solve this very, very important problem.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I do not rise to debate this measure. I do not desire to put myself on record as being for anything except more money when it is needed for public schools. I rather rise because a lot of people, most especially those in the gallery, have indicated that they thought the Chairman of the Senate Education Committee should say something about the matter that is currently under discussion. I would like to say, for the purposes of what I am about to state, that I am thinking out loud and, for what it is worth, those who hear it can evaluate it.

I approach this consideration, first of all, as a responsible man. As a responsible man, there are many things which bother me about our proposed procedures.

I have not even seen the amendments which we are asked to vote on if we are in favor of public school advancement. That is not because they have been denied me. I am sure that the Senators who were offering them would have permitted me to have a copy, had I asked for it. However, Mr. President, I have not had the time to ask for it in the last few days. In the last hours of the Session, I have been tied up in conference committees and have even missed the major parts of Republican Senatorial Caucuses this week.

Therefore, I came in and had thrown at me a new and simplified formula to resolve all our doubts and all our inequities. That worries me because, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, you can say what you please about the difficulty of understanding the reimbursement formula. It has been said, and even screamed, on the floor of this Senate, since the days of Senator Holland—and he used to advocate this—that we find out how many children we have, how many dollars we can spare and divide one into the other. That would be the simplest formula, gentleman, that could be devised. Even a third grader would comprehend it, but it is not equity when you see that an equal amount goes to the rich districts as well as the poor districts. Because of that, the Legislature, many years ago, directed the Joint State Government Commission to devise a formula which would not only give money where it was most needed, but would keep it away from where it was least needed. In that way, the distribution of State funds, in the form of subsidies, would do the maximum amount of good and equally help the most favored child in Pennsylvania and the most unfortunate one, economically.

Nobody agrees more than I do that there was a great virtue in simplifying the formula. To simplify it is desirable; to simplify it and make it equitable is a very, very difficult thing, Mr. President. It is one which you do not do in a nervous moment, during the last days of a year long Legislative Session. I say that you cannot do it adequately, you cannot do it equitably, and you cannot do it understandably in our present legislative state.

Mr. President, it is all right to say that the schools want a lot more money; here is an amount and let us give it to them.

I would like to say here this evening, thinking again out loud, as a man who has tried for twenty years to be a responsible Legislator, interested in education, that I have had a part in just about every increase in subsidies to schools that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has provided since 1939. I want to tell you, gentlemen,—and it might be worth hearing, even though you will miss part of your supper—that it was always done with a community of understanding. When we had decided, in the days of Governor James,—if your memory can go back that far—that more money was needed than was provided in the budget, to keep the schools from being overly distressed by especially difficult circumstances in the fourth class districts in those days, we talked about it. Before we resolved it, we sent Republican Legislators to the Governor's Office and they made overtures whereby the Republicans and the Democrats in the Legislature, who are responsible for education, were summoned to the front office. We sat down and reconciled our figures to the point where Governor James said: "This is all I can do, gentleman, but I am willing to go that far."

In the days of the Martin Administration, Governor Martin had divided in his budget what he then considered an adequate amount to take care of the mandates and requirements. Some of us wanted a lot more than that. Not just Republicans, but our Democratic colleagues, too, on the respective Education Committees, went over to the Governor's Office. We had luncheon over there in that room which was established first at that time for little huddles. I believe, in two weeks, we had six luncheons and those luncheons cost Governor Martin on an average of $1,500,000 a luncheon. This was a lot of money in those days. However, the upshot of it was that on the last day, Governor Martin said: "There will be no more eating. You have convinced me to go eleven, twelve, fifteen or sixteen million dollars beyond what I had put in my budget. I have talked with my responsible estimators of revenue and we squeezed this thing to the last place where we can put it. We will find this in the budget, by our revenue estimates, and give it to you."

Subsequently, Mr. President, the same thing happened in the Duff Administration and in the Fine Administration. Always, where there was a substantial amount of money over and above the budgeted amount for education, it was arrived at through a community of understanding between the front office and the House and the Senate.

During the Leader Administration, that was not done, to my knowledge. There was an awful lot of financial confusion in school circles and by local makers of budgets for school boards. As I recall it, the Governor left a make-up package which had to be put in subsequent budgets, some of which I think are in our budget this year, and which embarrassed the people back home for a considerable amount of time.

Mr. President, I do not suppose anyone will object to my saying it, but I was one of those who counseled the kind of statement which was put out by Senator Berger and myself, in which we expressed our interest in doing something with House Bill 1108. We invited the Governor, as well as we could, without having engraved invitations made up, to counsel with us, to make us an offer and to indicate what he would be willing to give with the revenues which are now established. We inquired whether he would indicate that it was all right to give the amount of money that House Bill 1198 called for and find some way to provide it in the 1960 Session. You know what the answer to that has been. It has been stated by the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle this afternoon.

I have a feeling that any money that comes out of this proposal will have to come out of the budget for this biennium, with the consent of the Administration, as well as the Legislature. I have been saying, and I still think it is correct, that you are making a big play on this matter. You are talking in big millions that never were planned for. Eventually, the answer has to be for us to pass House Bill No. 1108 in some form, other than the way it came from the House. If you pass it the way the House passed it and the Governor means what he has said,—and he has restated and reiterated it—to be a man of integrity he will have to veto it. Then the schools are out of business so far as any additional money is concerned. If we pass this bill for $10,000,000 or $16,000,000 and the House nonconcur, we will have to get together. You cannot get together without the main man. If the Indians are going to march, the chief will have to lead the parade. Out of that can come whatever number of millions of dollars we all find it is possible to provide for the school districts.

I want to say to you gentlemen in all fairness—and surely this must come from a man who is a friend of the public schools in Pennsylvania—that the school districts are terribly pinched right now for two reasons. First of all, they are pinched—and let us be frank about it—because they did not budget adequately for this school year. They went a little light. They rather assumed that the Legislature would come along, if they put on a campaign, and provide more money to help them out with this year's budget. That is an established fact. It has been admitted to by many administrators who are familiar with the procedures of the school districts in the Commonwealth this past year.

In the second place, along came the fire hazard problem. Many of the school boards were thrown for a loss because they had to go out, to their complete surprise, from the time it was initiated, and provide money to make building corrections, to eliminate defects and to eliminate invitations to fire disasters.

However, Mr. President, we are not debating that issue today. That is the reason why whatever we do here today—and I know we are going to do something, and I know something will probably come out of it before we find that the gavel falls for adjournment—should be for the present school term. I do agree, and I have counseled the wisdom of saying to any man, "How would you like to have $100?" or $150 a year from now?" Therefore, school directors are going to be glad. Do not let anyone tell you that school directors do not want anything if they do not receive $60,000,000, which is probably what this bill would cost. They are going to be glad for whatever relief they get, to which they are entitled. They are going to want it now, so that it will help to balance their budget for this year.

Mr. President, we are going to be pretty much at an impasse if we finally work back to the place where we say that it has to be $55,000,000 or $60,000,000, and it has to be the personal property tax. The impossibility of the latter has already been established. Please do not debate with me as to the wisdom of that. Just recognize the fact that at least the Republican side of this Senate has said that everybody, on and off the record, was not in favor of an additional personal property tax.

Paul Wagner, the friend of the schools, has told his widow friends back home,—they are pretty old widows, but it is nice to have friends anyway—and his people who are on pensions and retirement funds, that he will not vote for a State personal property tax. Governor Martin almost offered his body as a sacrifice to eliminate that, on account of the aged in Pennsylvania. I said that I would not vote for that. I am in pretty good shape, Members of the Senate. When I write a check to the County Commissioners for my personal property tax, I do not suffer too badly because practically everything on which I pay it is giving me a pretty fair return. However, I know people with mortgages and I know people with personal property that is subject to this tax, who, in many instances, pay a four mill tax in the county on something which frequently yields them no interest whatever. This becomes almost a confiscatory tax. I do not think it would be wise to use a personal property tax for school purposes. I think you would embarrass Governor Lawrence terribly if you did.

Mr. people back home, who have difficulty and who almost sweat blood, figuratively speaking, to pay the four mill personal property tax, in many cases, would be asked to pay an additional six mills of tax, in a distressed labor area of Pennsylvania.

The people of Pittsburgh, one of the two districts that would receive the greatest dollar benefits from this additional legislation, would pay nothing. They would pay nothing on their personal property tax to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in order to keep up their schools.

The people of Philadelphia—the people who are cheated, I was told, and who are abused and who are persecuted and who never get what they want, or rather I mean what they want, or rather I mean what they think they are entitled to—would pay two mills. Yet, in the counties that are worse off, they pay right across the board a six mill tax. Those impoverished areas and those distressed people would have to help to pay the school bill of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. This is certainly not the kind of a procedure that leaves a very good taste.

No matter on which side of the Senate you sit, I do not quite like the idea of saying that anybody who does not go all the way with me is intimidated by somebody. When the Democratic Party need every vote, and some of ours, in order to pass the four per cent sales tax, they did not get such votes from a couple of the fellows over there. I should not stand here this evening and call them by name and say, "Who intimidated you that you did not vote for this four per cent sales tax, which was earmarked for the public schools of Pennsylvania?" I do not think we should take that position. I do not think that we have a right to assume that anybody who will not go my way, or all of the way with me, is controlled by somebody, scared by somebody or intimidated by somebody.

Mr. President, I do not like the overtones of self-righteousness all the time. When somebody who desires for some group what does not seem to be in the woods, I do not think you should say that this is a righteous cause to which everybody should bend his knee, because sometimes the cry of self-righteousness is the cry of self-interest, it is not always the answer to a reasoned and studied result.

Now, Mr. President, I say, without violating any confidences, that if the school directors or their representatives, who are waiting for their money, could have sat in our Caucus during the last couple of weeks, they would have seen and they would have heard expressions from, I would say, five out of six men who make up that Caucus, indicating that they would love nothing more than to provide fifty, sixty or seventy million dollars of additional money to the schools. Those who said it, and maybe I was one of them, always wound up with the thought that they must be responsible men, they must be responsible citizens and they must be responsible Legislators. Nothing would have been easier than to come upstairs, as the men who control the Senate of Pennsylvania, and vote, within hours, to throw that bill right in the Governor's lap.

You can make your own definition of political fakery. If the Republicans are interested in political fakery, they missed the biggest bus that has been driven past the Capitol in the past twelve months when they did not pass this the way it was brought in.

We must take a calculated risk. I have in my pocket a telegram from a number of educators in Schuylkill County, which says, in effect: "Merry Christmas, after you amend House Bill No. 1108 to give us $70,000,000." I must take a calculated risk. If I voted for $60,000,000 or $70,000,000, and they got it, I am a hero; if they did not get it, I am not a responsible man, because I went along and played the game and lined up in the parade in order to clear my record, and to put myself on record as a friend of theirs, and got them nothing. As a responsible man, I say once more—and then I will stop—that I believe there are sixteen, twenty or twenty odd millions of dollars available if we scraped the barrel. I would rather take a chance on that being brought to the maximum which can be provided by way of a Conference Committee, aided and guided by the opinions of the Governor and his Department of Revenue, than to just go blithely along doing something which I do not believe, under all the prevailing circumstances, a responsible man would do.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, there is no question but that Senator Paul Wagner, with his long experience as Chairman of the Education Committee and with the undoubted sincerity he has had in that job, is perhaps the best apologist that could be chosen for the position of the Republican Caucus as it seems unfortunately to reveal itself. I regret that there is such a Caucus position, but since there is, I could not have suggested anyone who could have presented a better man than the Senator who just spoke.

The Senator, in the course of his remarks, however, made some statements which I think need comment and possible correction. In the first place, the gentleman feels that we should not pass these amendments or they should not even have been offered probably, because he says he has seen them and he does not know what they are.

Mr. President, at the beginning of my remarks, I said this restored the bill to the same form which it had when it came from the House. This bill has been in the Senate since November 11, 1959. It is hard for me to believe, Mr. President, that a gentleman who is as much interested in the cause of public education, and in the bills on education which are presented, could have failed to know what was on Senate Bill No. 1108 when it came here on November 11, which is over a month ago. For that reason, Mr. President, with all deference to the gentleman's plea, I cannot take it too seriously.

He also said, with regard to the new formula, that he is apparently not too well acquainted with that, or perhaps has not had time to think that over and see whether that could be adequate. Mr. President, the formula which is presently contained in these amendments was in the original form of House Bill No. 1108, which was introduced in the House on April 6, 1959. Again, it is hard for me to understand, with all due respect for the gentleman's sincerity, how it is possible that a figure like Senator Wagner, so much interested in the proposals which bear on education, was unable since April 6 of this year to ascertain the new type of formula which was offered.

Furthermore, Mr. President, I am sure I am not the only Senator who was the recipient of much explanation. I think it would be very unusual if Senator Wagner had not received the Report of the Committee of Fifteen, which outlined in detail the simplified formula, and which told the reasons why it had been proposed. Now if the Senator was ignorant of that report and had not had access to it, then I certainly do not want to cast any reflection upon his sincerity. However, it certainly seems to me an amazing coincidence that he did not have access to it. A copy of this proposal was received by each Senator on this side. If the P.S.E.A. and the other interested organizations did not furnish the Senator and his colleagues with this, they were remiss and I am sorry they did not.

It is true that the present formula was drawn up by the Joint State Government Commission. However, to say that the present simplified formula was drawn up in haste, without due consideration, I cannot accept as a serious statement from the gentleman. He knows about the Committee of Fifteen. He knows the list of distinguished educators who worked on it over a long period of time. It was not whipped up in the dying moments of the Session, but it was in the possession of all of the Legislators for a long time. No Senator could responsibly say, it seems to me, with any degree of sincerity, that he was not aware of this, or that he did not have adequate time to study it, or that it was not the product of a responsible and careful study made by respected and able people.

The Senator talks of previous legislation regarding schools having been passed in what he calls a community of understanding. Mr. President, I would submit that there has been very little contribution made toward a community of understanding in this Session by the Majority Party in this Senate. You cannot possibly have a community of understanding in the face of intransigence, arrogance and a refusal to consider any possibility but the one proposed by them. How, under these circumstances, could you have a "community of understanding"?

I would suggest, Mr. President, that it perhaps is a tribute to the Minority Party, in the days cited by the gentleman in his experience in the past, when such "community of understanding" existed. It is a tribute to the Minority that they were responsible and made possible such a community of understanding. It is possible to do anything with good will, but when good will is absent, such things are not possible.

Now the gentleman says that unless such a community of understanding can exist, unless the leaders here can sit down with the leaders somewhere else and can bring something forth, we should, therefore, as Senators, be restrained from, in the waning moments of the Session, making some attempt to call to the attention of the Senate the need and to provide them with a vehicle so that they can meet this need. With this, I must respectfully differ with the gentleman.

I feel that it is too bad that Senator Hays and I had to make this proposal. I think if we had this community of understanding which might have been possible, it would have not been necessary at this point to bring forth such a proposal. However, there are people in this Commonwealth, Mr. President, who feel this strongly and sincerely. There are some of them present today, who, all during this Session, have been coming to Senators, Representatives and representatives of the executive department and have been pleading, literally pleading, to have something adequate done. To say that they shall have no opportunity to have their case presented in a manner that will give each Senator an opportunity to stand up as a man and cast his own vote, it seems to me, is a bad political philosophy to which I cannot subscribe.

I would also remind the gentlemen that in those days of the community of understanding to which he looks back with such a nostalgic glow, those days were the days when the mandates were made, Mr. President, which have pushed through this section of the law. It is the mandates made in those lovely days of gentlemen's agreements and communities of understanding, and sitting down to luncheons, that the mandates were made which school districts now have to meet. This is the reason that is causing them to come in now and say in desperation, "Will you please provide for us adequately"?

I know of no overtures, Mr. President, which have been made by responsible leaders to try to get this matter resolved in a community of understanding manner. I know of no overtures which have tried to bring together the people who are interested in public education to try to work out an understanding. If such overtures exist, the gentleman has the advantage of me. He knows of them; I do not.

The gentleman seems to feel that the way to finance public education is what I would call the dribble method. Yes, you should have $100,000,000, but let us make it $50,000,000, because $100,000,000 is too big to seriously consider. I cannot subscribe to this philosophy, because it causes a situation in which you have a constant pressure on school districts. You have a constantly increasing problem. I think if the problem is there and if we accept the word of responsible people in the field who have studied this matter at length, it is there. Then I think we should meet the problem, and not say, "No, we will use the dribble technique. You can have a little bit, not enough to satisfy the need, but a little bit on account; little bit to ease your pain."

In spite of the gentleman's statement, Mr. President, it is not true that the Governor has said he will veto this bill. The Governor has said that he will veto this bill or any other bill which calls for an appropriation and for which no revenue is provided. The whole point of the plea that Senator Hays and I have been making today, Mr. President, is to say: Let us be responsible. Let us not vote for this bill. Let us be honest. Do not vote for this bill. I ask you specifically, do not vote for this bill if you are not willing to vote for some means of financing it. We do not want those kind of votes. We do not want that kind of a proposal.

The means to finance this bill are present in the Senate. I have offered two alternative proposals. I do not say that anyone should agree that this one is right or that one is right. However, I do say this. I do say that we are faced here with a problem which perhaps transcends the usual considerations in thinking about how I will be personally affected by a tax program, or how my friends will be personally affected by a tax program. I think we need, perhaps, to transcend that point of view in view of the importance of the financial problem that faces the school districts.

The Senator very logically and correctly, I believe, cited what he thought were too important reasons why the school districts are in the situation they are in. He said that one of the reasons was that the school districts did not provide enough money by local taxation because they were in expectation of receiving aid from the State. Mr. President, this is true. This is true in York County just as it is true, I am sure, in the Senator's county. However, Mr. President, these districts are in difficult straits.

They have constantly, over the years, continued to increase millage to the point that some of them are no longer able to go much further with this process. We should not castigate them for looking to the State in circumstances like that. After all, Mr. President, it is the State, the government of the Commonwealth, which is responsible for the operation of the public school system. Where shall these districts look if not to the Commonwealth, when the means of giving that adequate educational program are falling down? When they need help, this is obviously where they will look, and where they should expect to find understanding of their problem, because it is we who have mandated the program they are offering.

The other matter cited by the gentleman was, of course, the provisions made necessary by the inspections after the Chicago fire. I do not think the gentleman said, and I am sure he did not mean to imply, that the school districts were responsible for setting the Chicago fire. I am positive he did not mean that. However, he certainly cannot place the blame on the school districts or on the Commonwealth for wanting to take every precaution to see to it that the children, while in school, are in schools which are safe, schools to which parents can send their children in confidence and schools that are not in danger of repeating that great Chicago conflagration which set this movement afoot.

He said if we cut down the amount to $15,000,000 or some unspecified sum provided by the amendments, which he implied are to be offered, the school districts would not refuse it. They would be glad for what they can get, he said. I think it is true that the school districts will not refuse what the State offers. However, the statement that they will be glad for what they can get represents an educational philosophy on the part of State Government which I, personally, cannot accept, and I think which should not be accepted by people who are interested in the provision of good education for the children of this Commonwealth.

He had some remarks to make upon my previous remarks about intimidation. I did not say anyone was intimidated. I said if anyone were, I believe the sentiment of the people, the constituents, in this matter would protect them. He said that if anyone on this side of the aisle voted against the four per cent sales tax, this was a sign he was intimidated.

Mr. President, he did not mention any names, and I am grateful to him. I know he wished to avoid pointing the finger of scorn. However, I could not help reflect that possibly he was referring to me since I was one Member of the Democratic Caucus who voted against the four per cent sales tax. By whom I was supposed to have been intimidated, I do not know. I obviously voted against my Party Caucus, so that intimidation did not come from there. It did not come from the Republican Chairman of York County, who wrote a letter to try to persuade me to vote for the four per cent sales tax. I do not know from whom the intimidation is supposed to have come. As a matter of fact, I would offer to the gentleman that I would have thought that a person who under those circumstances would have voted against the tax would have been offering evidence, perhaps, that he was not intimidated. If the gentleman's meaning escaped me, and if he can point out who was allegedly intimidating me, I would be glad to know it.

Finally, the gentleman closed, Mr. President, with what seemed to me a kind of a dissertation on party strategy. He called this a calculated risk on the part of the Republican Party, and I think that is a fair description. I think either alternative, if they are going to act as a party block, as a caucus action, as a party policy,—in other words as part of a political strategy—if that is the way they are going to vote on this bill, it is a calculated risk. I honestly believe, Mr. President, that the people of the Commonwealth, the school directors, the educators and the parents of the Commonwealth, are interested in this bill. I do not think they are much interested in sophistry, in ways of talking away why you vote against a provision which you believe is necessary and that could be provided through some reasons of politeness in government, such as the community of understanding procedure, or the gentlemen's agreement type of thing. I do not think the people of the Commonwealth are going to understand that. I honestly do not. If that is the risk that constitutes party strategy, then it is a bad risk. I think the people of the Commonwealth realize the need. I think they are pretty clear on that. I believe they realize that we have the means to provide it, and I think they are looking for each Senator to vote and register his conviction as to what he wants to do to meet the needs.

I think, as party strategy, the best thing you can do is do the thing which your individual promptings would tell you to do. I think the best kind of political strategy is to cast aside all of the Caucuses and all of the conferences and so on, on a matter like this, and vote on it because of what you believe about the desirability of a good educational system, the welfare of the children of the Commonwealth and the needs of the Country and of the State for a good educational system and an educated citizenry.

I believe if we vote today on that kind of a conviction, the people of this Commonwealth will back those people who vote that way. I think they will be satisfied with them as good public servants, and I do not think anyone will need to fear repercussions from individuals who might be dissatisfied because they have a different philosophy.

It was in that sense, Mr. President, that I said if there was any person who has any kind of hesitation, they should cast it aside and vote today as individuals. My plea is: Let us not have politics as usual. This is a matter touching the welfare of the Commonwealth. Let us cast aside politics as usual. Let us vote on it today as individuals, according to our conscience.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am going to vote for these amendments, and I am going to do it reluctantly, because I am not too sure how much money can be squeezed out of the taxpayers of Pennsylvania. There may be a limit to squeezing taxes out of our people.

I have always had great admiration for Senator Hays and Senator Seyler on education. I have voted in favor of every bill which has come up here for education. However, one thing I do not hear Senator Seyler or Senator Hays say much about is taxes—taxes. Where is this money going to come from? It does not spring up overnight. There are a lot of taxpayers of this State who are in trouble now. They have trouble paying their taxes. I am just a little bit—over half—convinced that we could squeeze some more out of them. Therefore, I am going to vote for these amendments.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, we have been on this subject a little too long. I want to say that Senator Wagner did a masterful job in telling his colleagues in the Senate of his stand, my stand and the stand of most of the people on this side of the aisle. I think anything that I would say would be repetitious, and certainly would not be as well said as the speech by the distinguished Senator from Schuylkill. I think that was the finest speech he has made on this floor.

I just want to clear up a couple of matters about taxation. I introduced a bill sometime ago to collect the tax on beer and liquor across the bar, just as the tax committee had recommended to Governor Lawrence. When I introduced that measure, I believe Senator Lane told me privately and on the floor that if I were going to run for office, the bill was political suicide. Well, let it be political suicide. Al Pechan will take care of himself. I went over on that side of the aisle and asked how many votes there were in favor of the beer and whiskey tax for school purposes. For a while I had three, then I had two, then I had one, and then I had none. I cannot understand how, today, the distinguished gentleman from York can say that he is ready to vote for the beer and whisky tax, when sometime ago he told me that he could not do it. He wanted to, and then for some reason or other, he said, "Al, I just cannot do it."

This is a good time to bring it up when they say, "let us not play politics." This is a good time to bring it up. It is a Senate Bill. There are not enough legislative days to pass it here and over in the House. However, I will say to the gentleman, you get me some votes over there and I will get that bill out of committee and we will have enough to pass it.

One more thing. Fifty-five, sixty-five or seventy millions of dollars would be needed for House Bill No. 1108, which was introduced in the House. This amount was never in the Governor's budget. Not one red penny extra, over and above the mandates we had was included in the budget.

Incidentally, ten years ago when I came to this Senate, the State's share for education—I voted for it because I believe in good education—I believe was something like $249,000,000 or $279,000,000. Today it is almost $900,000,000. Gentlemen, Senator McGinnis brought out something. If you project what we have done, what we have mandated for education alone, to 1969—ten years from now—your education bill on the State level is going to be $2,600,000,000. Just think of it; two billion six, just for education alone.

One of the reasons your Tax Equalization Board members failed to get confirmed over on this side of the aisle was because we were convinced—at least I was convinced—that you were playing politics with the school children and with the schools. We, on this side, felt it was politics when the Tax Equalization Board stated that sixty-two of the counties were going to receive a cut in their subsidy. If the Republican Members had not frozen those subsidies, some 2,000 school districts would have lost over $12,000,000 in subsidies.

I understand, as Senator Wagner very ably pointed out, under your amendments, the bill is going to be restored to the form in which it came over from the House and the school districts would get nothing until 1960-1961. I think that you are going to be presented with amendments today—I do not think, but I know—which are going to give the school districts an additional $16,000,000 now. Right now they can have it to help pay their bills.

What has caused this loss or what has caused the distress in many of these school districts? We, in the Legislature, on both sides of the aisle, have passed legislation which was approved by the Pennsylvania School Directors Association and the Pennsylvania State Education Association. As we raised the minimum and gave the eight, ten and twelve increments, for our minimum and maximum salaries, we found many school districts were caught with teachers who were leaving the system because a young boy or girl who graduated from college in one year would get $3,200. The next year the minimum subsidy went to $3,400 and then it went to $3,600. If he stayed in the school district for two years, he found that he was only getting $3,600, the same as the young boy who was graduating from school. Therefore, the school directors, in order to keep these teachers, had to give $400 to $600 over the mandated salaries.

I can remember in my own school district when we lost one or two school teachers who took jobs somewhere else. They used to remain with the school district because they wanted to be close to home, but today they go shopping around. Today we have twenty and twenty-five teachers who are looking for better jobs because they can get more money. Unless we put a stop to that and stop spending in that manner, we are never going to be caught up. I do not say that that teacher is not entitled to $400 more because he has two years of experience behind him. However, it is not the Legislature's fault that many of the school districts are in bad shape.

In my school district in Ford City, we do not want anything. Our millage is the same for next year. We are giving the mandated salaries and we have a very fine school system. We have not only done that, but we have taken in three other poorer school districts and shared our prosperity with them.

I do not want to take any more time here. I just wanted to say that, to me, if at any time there was politics played with education, it is trying to be played here today. I certainly would be the biggest faker in the world to vote for a $56,000,000 subsidy bill when I know Davey Lawrence has said repeatedly that he will not sign it unless he has the revenue measure to go with it. He has been told time and time again that he will not get a personal property tax.

I could not go back to Armstrong and Butler Counties and ask those people to pay six mills on a personal property tax when the people of Pittsburgh pay nothing and the people of Philadelphia pay two mills. The greatest amount of the money you are proposing in those amendments will go to Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. I am not against Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, but I have to live with my people. If we in Armstrong or in Butler would say that we are going to use this ten mills for other purposes, just as you have done in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, it would not be fair. Let us make it six mills for everyone, and then perhaps the bill will be a better bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I believe the gentleman omitted one small piece of information which I think is available to him. I think he is aware of it, but it may have just slipped his mind. This is based on the fact that there are twenty-eight votes on the other side of the aisle, and any time that the gentleman wanted to pass a beer tax, a whisky tax or any other kind of a tax measure, he could have done so without any difficulty at all. This would have been in juxtaposition to the tax that had been sent over here by the House. Somewhere or other, between those two taxes, there may have been some means of working out our problem here.

I do not think the gentleman had to come to us and ask us—that is not his usual procedure—whether we had any votes for this measure, that measure or any other measure in which he was sincerely interested. Whether we are for it or against it, if this is what you wanted sincerely to do, and cared very little about whether we were in favor of it or against it and really wanted to aid the schools and use this vehicle to do so,—I do not know whether it is either the best or the worst vehicle to use—the gentlemen could have very easily done so without any difficulty at all, and whether we had one vote, two votes or no votes, it would have been a simple process. If he wanted to earmark this money for this particular type of activity, all he would have had to do was provide for this in the bill and delineate it for that purpose. He could have provided that the money go to the Department of Public Instruction or anywhere else he felt it should have gone for this purpose. Not having done that, I do not think that you can say, Senator, very easily, that because we did not provide any of the votes for this measure, it was, therefore, unable to be enacted into law. If the Senate had done so and sent it over to the House, the burden would have been upon them either to act or not to act on this measure.

I think, Senator, also to say that the people of Pittsburgh would pay nothing under the millage and Philadelphia would only pay two mills is not giving a clear picture. The people in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are already paying a personal property tax. They have already taken care of this problem. You would not want the burden upon them to be any heavier than it already is, when the rest of the State is carrying less of a burden.

The fact is that we do not get our fair share, our proportionate share, and Allegheny County does not get its fair or proportionate share. That has been the cry we have made all along. I think Senator Wagner was right. He thought it was a slip of the tongue. However, I do not think it is. The people in Philadelphia do not get what they want. He tried to correct this by stating that they do not get what they feel that they want. I do not think that is the case at all. I think they want what is fair, what is proportionately due them on the proportionate basis of what they pay into the fund. I do not think that is asking too much or being unreasonable.

I think that you must also agree that most of the rest of the State, if they did not receive money from Philadelphia or Pittsburgh, would not be able to get along very well. They would have to look to us and lean pretty heavily upon us. I have said before of Philadelphia, and I am sure the same is true of Allegheny County, that if you left us alone to collect our own taxes and take care of our own problems, we could do so and would not come near you at all. However, the reason for this formula—this mumbo jumbo which makes up the formula, which no one seems to understand or can explain very coherently—is for the very purpose of taking care of these small areas which cannot, apparently, take care of themselves.

If there is sincerity on your part, tell me where this money will come from. Where is the $16,000,000 which you are providing in the bill going to come from? Where are we going to collect this? How is this going to be put into a bill? The Governor has stated emphatically that he will not sign this measure unless the revenue to support it is part of it. You are definitely not sending the revenue with it. If you will tell us, we will be very happy to hear from you. Where are we going to receive the money to do this job? Until you can answer that question positively, I think you cannot sincerely mean what you are saying in this bill or carry out the purport of it.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I did not realize how many stock and bond holders there were in such counties as Armstrong and Schuylkill. If those gentlemen go back to their constituents, they will immediately be in trouble.

In Philadelphia, we have had an eight mill stock and bond tax for a generation, and it did not seem to make much difference. The people pay it without protest. On the other hand, it seems everyone outside of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia must hold stocks and bonds.

The real estate owners are suffering from taxation everywhere. Yet, the indications are that they would prefer that the real estate owners should pay more taxes than they are paying.

I think, also, that the opposition here does not realize that the population of this State and Nation are growing. Sure, the cost of education is greater because the people are being given more education now than they have ever been, and the demand is even greater in this modern world. A great opportunity is being missed. This small millage on stocks and bonds will bring in $55,000,000. Fifty-five million dollars would meet the cost of House Bill No. 1108. I think that we should be willing to bear this tax, meet this obligation and this demand which is being made upon us as representatives of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I am not going to enter this debate or discuss really this issue.

I want to make remarks which might be construed as personal. If they are, I would expect and hope that the Chair would rule me out of order.

Of all of the remarks I have heard on this issue, I think the one that I resent the most deeply and which distresses me very deeply is the label attached to the Chairman of the Senate Education Committee; that he is the apologist for the Republican Party. He is a man who has given twenty years, at least, of his life to public service, and has devoted most of those twenty years of life in public service to the cause of public education. The very subsidy formula which we are discussing and some of the other problems inherent in the bill which we were discussing have come about because this man through his devotion has helped, with the work and co-operation, of course, of other people, create the fine educational system which we have in this Commonwealth.

The Senator who made that remark, in a previous statement, which, of course, he will deny, set himself up as sole judge and jury of those who vote against his prized amendments; amendments which are wholly without financial undergirding. He said that every school director, every parent, every teacher, every school child and the public of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would know that a "no" vote would mean that these people were not interested in and were unconcerned about education, and some other things, too.

I want the people of Pennsylvania, the people especially in education, to know that I am going to vote on the side of the principles and philosophies expressed by Senator Wagner; the principles and philosophies with which I am proud to associate myself, and which have espoused moral as well as fiscal integrity and solvency. For that reason, I am voting against these amendments.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I was unaware that the word "apologist" carried any invidious connotations. An apologist, as I understand it, is a person who presents the case of a group. The latter part of Senator Elliott's remarks seemed to me to indicate that that is just what Senator Wagner was doing. An apologist, to my mind, is in no way an occupation or a position which is demeaning or belittling. If it had been, I would certainly have not used the term to refer to Senator Wagner. What I intended to infer was that if I were choosing someone to present the case of the Republican Caucus,—and I regret that it did not seem to be that such a position was developing or that they had a case—there is no one I could have chosen who could have done it better than Senator Wagner.

If Senator Elliott can find me any source in literature, in a standard dictionary or in anything which places any construction upon the word "apologist" other than what I have indicated that I meant, I would be very happy to withdraw the term and make an apology to Senator Wagner, whom I respect very highly. I think Senator Wagner knows that I respect him very highly.

With regard to the rest of the remarks of the gentleman, it is an indication to me that what I have said about forgetting the sham battles, the vacant gestures, the empty words and being recorded as individuals and standing on our own feet on this important question, has struck home. I am sorry that the gentleman has the reaction which he has. He can disagree with me in this belief and I will defend his right to disagree with me. However, I certainly did mean to infer that I believe each citizen of the Commonwealth is interested in the vote on these amendments, which would provide money for the Commonwealth to conduct its schools in an appropriate manner, and he is not interested in any excuses, alibis or anything of that sort. To that extent, I must confess, Senator Elliott did understand me correctly.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I might say to Senator Seyler that I am going to support his amendments. However, it sort of startled me a little bit when I heard that remark. I would define an "apologist" as someone who expresses himself with words in which he does not believe.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have worked with Senator Wagner since 1942. I have not always agreed with him, but I do say that, in my opinion, Paul Wagner is an outstanding educator and one of the ablest men in this Senate. I do not think that Senator Wagner would rise on this floor and say anything he did not believe for either the Republican or the Democratic Party. Therefore, I do not believe that Senator Seyler really meant what he said when he used the term "apologist." I am quite sure that the gentleman did not mean it in a vicious form, because he is too much of a gentleman. However, in my opinion, I must say that Senator Paul Wagner is a very honorable man.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. HAYS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—10

Hays,
Lane,
Mahady,

McGinnis,
Miller,
Mullin,

Ruth,
Seyler,

Weiner,
Whalley,

NAYS—20

Berger,
Chapman,
Confair,
Ehrgood,
Elliott,

Flack,
Fleming,
Harney,
Keller,
Kromer,

Madigan,
Mallery,
Pechan,
Propert,
Scott,

Shafer,
Stevenson,
Van Sant,
Wade,
Wagner,

So the question was determined in the negative, and the amendments were defeated.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, Senator Seyler and I reluctantly accept the vote on the previous amendments.

I am about to present, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Seyler and myself, other amendments to House Bill No. 1108. At the proper time, I would like to be recognized to make a very brief statement concerning them.

Messrs. HAYS and SEYLER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 4 (Sec. 2501), page 7, line 14, by striking out "for the school year 1958-1959."

Amend Sec. 4 (Sec. 2501), page 7, line 15, by inserting a bracket after "$5800."

Amend Sec. 4 (Sec. 2501), page 7, lines 17, by striking out "1959-1960" and inserting: "1958-1959."

Amend Sec. 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 1, by striking out "1958-1959."

Amend Sec. 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 7, by striking out "1959-1960" and inserting: "1958-1959."

Amend Sec. 6 (Sec. 2502), page 27, line 4, by striking out "for the school year 1958-1959."

Amend Sec. 6 (Sec. 2502), page 27, line 4, by inserting a bracket before "five."

Amend Sec. 6 (Sec. 2502), page 27, line 5, by striking out the bracket before "For."

Amend Sec. 6 (Sec. 2502), page 28, line 13, by striking out "or."

Amend Sec. 6 (Sec. 2502), page 28, line 14, by striking out "1959-1960" and inserting: "1958-1959."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, Senator Seyler and I, and perhaps some others, in the spirit of a medieval warrior who was wounded, I will say, "I will lie me down and bleed awhile, and then I will rise and fight again."

These amendments are amendments which some Members of the Majority Party, we were pleased to hear, perhaps will find acceptable. These amendments do not change the amount of money involved in this bill. The amount of money remains the same. However, because of the budget situation in many of the 2,400 school districts of the Commonwealth, this would move up the payment, under this bill as it was reported from the proper Senate committee, from next year to the current year. If this bill, in this form, of course, will mean additional taxes—I know I speak for myself and I think I speak for Senator Seyler—we will be willing to vote for the additional tax necessary to finance this. However, I believe it calls for the same amount of money as when it was reported from the Senate Committee. It simply moves up the payments to the school districts, one year.

We invite your serious consideration and your vote on these amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Centre, Senator Hays.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Hays, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HAYS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Senator Hays, these amendments which you have just offered and explained will do only what you have said; that is, instead of making it for the 1960-1961 school year, you will move the payment of the amount contemplated in the present Printer's No. 2072 into the school year of 1959-1960. Is that correct?

Mr. HAYS. Senator Berger, in reply, that is the instruction which I gave to the Legislative Reference Bureau and my examination of the amendments leads me to believe this to be true.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, by a very odd coincidence and without any implication of any political inference whatsoever that might be drawn from this, it happens that I have the same set of amendments which Senator Hays has. In order to expedite our deliberations and to demonstrate that we, on this side, are certainly not interested in any political aspect of this, I will be very glad to accept these amendments and urge my colleagues to vote for them.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman for his spirit of Christmas.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, may we interrupt just a moment before proceeding with the roll call?

Senator Hays, do you happen to have a set of corrective amendments, too?

Mr. HAYS. No, sir, I do not.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe it would be well to offer the set of amendments which I have here also. They are amendments prepared only to make necessary corrections in the present Printer's No. 2072, and they do not alter the framework of the bill in any manner.

Could we be at ease a moment, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am now informed by the gentlemen that their amendments change the formula from the present law and retain the formula which was contained in House Bill No. 1108, in its prior printer's number, as it came from the House.

Therefore, Mr. President, they would not key in with my amendments. Consequently, I request my colleagues to vote against the amendments offered by Senator Hays.

I shall hold my amendments until a vote has been taken on Senator Hays' amendments.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, as I understand the amendments, in both cases, the payment of presumably $14,000,000 to $16,000,000 would be moved up a year. In the case of our amendments, we would preserve the same formula as contained in the bill which came over from the House, which had a single standard reimbursement fraction. If these amendments are voted down,—I am sure that I am not revealing any confidence, but Senator Berger tells us that his amendments will, of course, move up the $14,000,000 to $16,000,000 also—the bill will carry three reimbursement fractions; namely, a basic account standard reimbursement fraction, a subsidiary account reimbursement fraction and a capital account reimbursement fraction. As we vote on this matter, I think we should keep that in mind.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would urge again that the Members consider the benefit of providing a more simplified approach to reimbursement, one which we believe—and it is not only our opinion, but it also is the opinion of the Committee of Fifteen, which I cited earlier—would be a formula which would make it possible for the man on the street, if he took a little trouble to inform himself, and certainly the rest of us who work with these figures, as Legislators, as school directors and so forth, not to have to be an accountant or a statistician to follow the various proposed changes in reimbursement.

This was brought home to me when I was a member of Senator Wade's Committee, and we heard testimony. I think the gentlemen of the press who attended those hearings will agree with me that it became fantastically difficult to follow the various proposed changes because of the complexity. Our proposed formulas lose nothing of the equalization effect which is in the present law. They lose nothing in the way in which we distribute the money. However, they reduce it to a more simple and less complicated way of computing it.

Mr. President, therefore, the only difference between our amendments and the amendments which, as I understand it, will subsequently follow is this question of the simplified formula. I would urge that the Members give consideration to the value of having such a simplification.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. SEYLER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—10

Hays,
Lane,
Mahady,

McGinnis,
Miller,
Mullin,

Ruth,
Seyler,

Weiner, Whalley,

NAYS—20

Berger,
Chapman,
Confair,
Ehrgood,
Elliott,

Flack,
Fleming,
Harney,
Keller,
Kromer,

Madigan,
Mallery,
Pechan,
Propert,
Scott,

Shafer,
Stevenson,
Van Sant,
Wade,
Wagner,

So the question was determined in the negative, and the amendments were defeated.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to offer the following amendments to House Bill No. 1108.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 7, lines 14 and 15, by inserting a bracket before "five" on line 14 and after "$5800" on line 15, and inserting: "six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200)."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 7, lines 17 and 18, by striking out "six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200)" and inserting: "five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 2, by inserting a bracket before "five" and after "$5800" and inserting: "six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200)."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 4, by inserting a bracket before and after "Three-eighths" and inserting: "three-fourths."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 5, by inserting a bracket before and after "(.004 3/8)" and inserting: "(.004 3/4)."

Amend Section 4 (Section 2501), page 10, lines 5 and 6 by inserting a bracket before "five" on line 5 and after "$5800" on line 6 and inserting: "six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200)."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, lines 8 and 9, by striking out "six thousand two hundred dollars" on line 8 and "$6200" on line 9 and inserting: "five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 11, by striking out "three-fourths" and inserting: "three-eighths."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 12, by striking out "(.004 3/4)" and inserting "(.004 3/8)."

Amend Section 4 (Sec. 2501), page 10, line 13, by striking out "six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200)" and inserting: "five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)."

Amend Section 6 (Sec. 2502), page 27, lines 4 and 5, by inserting a bracket before "five" on line 4 and after "$5800" on line 5 and inserting: "six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200)."

Amend Section 6 (Sec. 2502), page 28, line 15, by striking out "six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200)" and inserting: "five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the amendments that I have just offered differ from those which were offered by Senator Hays in that they retain the present formula and do not put in a new formula. That is the only change. They result in the payment of the amount called for in the present printer's number of this bill during the current school year of 1959-1960.

Mr. President, it was thought, after discussions with many people who are interested in this subject, that this form of amendment might be considered and the present formula retained, with the thought that during the ensuing Session, study might be given to producing a simplified formula. In so doing, I am in complete agreement with the gentleman that a simplified formula, if possible, should be produced, but, at the present time, we should retain, in all respects, the present law, with the exception of placing this payment upon the increased equalization level into the present school year.

For that reason, Mr. President, the amendments are offered in this form.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, my colleague, Senator Berger, just proved that the Christmas spirit does exist. Therefore, I intend to vote for these amendments. However, in so doing, I want it clearly understood that, in my opinion, a study has been made, the formula is here and we should have approved the other amendments.

The second thing I want to say is that I hope that all of us who vote for these amendments are also willing to vote for an adequate tax program to support this appropriation. I will vote for such a program.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, before we have the calling of the roll, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Berger, what is this legislation going to cost in the way of subsidies? What is going to be the total amount?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe that the amendments I have offered will cost less than $16,000,000. It will cost somewhat slightly less. I use the word "slightly" advisedly. I do not know, but I do not believe they will cost as much as $16,000,000, due to the fact that it is payable in the current school year, rather than in the succeeding school year when there probably will be more units to be reimbursed.

Mr. LANE. Senator Berger, are you in a position to say that the $16,000,000 is currently available to finance this bill?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am confident that the $16,000,000 will be available under the present revenue structure which we have provided in this biennium. However, I want to say that we will be in Session and will have experience with the receipts from the various revenue measures, including the four per cent sales tax. Especially, we will have more experience with the receipts from the tax on services provision of that sales tax which I think have been considerably underestimated. I will continue to think so until it has been proven different. However, should that not transpire, we will be in Session in the year in which we are to make appropriations and to develop revenue measures, only. Should what I am saying prove incorrect, we will have ample opportunity, at that time, to make an appropriation to this and possibly in anticipation of something which might be developed for the further relief of the school districts.

Mr. LANE. I want to thank the gentleman, Mr. President.

Mr. President, the Majority Leader is the responsible official on the Republican side. In making that statement, he is anticipating these revenues. However, I do not believe that he has any definite authentic information from the Secretary of Revenue in this particular respect.

Mr. President, I am going to vote for the amendments and I shall vote for the bill. However, I believe it will place the Governor in a rather peculiar position. When this bill goes over to the Governor's Office, it will be some time before the end of the year. We are not coming back into Session until January and, therefore, the Governor then will have to make up his mind as to whether or not the gentleman's figures on anticipated revenues are correct or incorrect. He, of course, must then determine from the Secretary of Revenue as to whether or not adequate funds are available.

I just want that in the record because I believe we are going to be confronted with a major problem when the Governor has the bill before him.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to close the record by stating that I believe I read to the Senate earlier the estimated and the actual receipts. I believe the actual money received was $4,300,000 under the estimated amount. I believe we are running about three per cent behind.

I also would like to point out to the gentleman that we began this biennium with a $177,000,000 deficit. I think most of us have found that the estimated income never quite seems to reach what we actually receive. This is not because of the fact that the officials or the people in charge, regardless of whether they be Republicans or Democrats, are in error. It is based on the fact that nobody can anticipate or see into the future, or be clairvoyant in so far as the economic and social conditions are concerned in the coming year or two years. That causes wide disparity between what we hope to receive and what we actually receive. I think that is true throughout life. What we always hope to get, always falls far short of what we actually get. I think this may be true in this case. I think to tie a program down to what we hope to get is a rather bad method of financing it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in part, I can agree with the gentleman. I hope that some time in my lifetime, we will be able to come out even. I would certainly like to see that occur some time. It has been very, very seldom that we have an overrun. I hope there will be an overrun in this instance, and I am rather confident that such will be the case. I think that the statements of responsible people indicate that the receipts from the tax on services provision, and the general collection of the sales tax, will be considerably more than those reflected in the figures used by the Senator. His figures did not have in them the full impact of the four per cent tax on services. They will be known when we come back into Session.

For that reason, Mr. President, I feel in no way at all reluctant to vote for these amendments. As I said, we will have the experience then and we will know whether or not we must meet any additional revenues.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, being just slightly political, I am glad to hear Senator Berger say that, in his opinion, the collections are running ahead of the anticipated revenues. This indicates to me that he must feel that the Secretary of Revenue and his subordinates are doing a pretty decent job.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The roll was called and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were adopted.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to, as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES OF CONFERENCE

Mr. WAGNER submitted the Reports of Committees of Conference on HB 2170 and 2150, which were laid over for printing under the rules.

He also submitted the Report of Committee of Conference on SB 785, which was placed on the Calendar.

Mr. WADE submitted the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1675, which was laid over for printing under the rules.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

APPROVAL OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from his Excellency, the Governor, advising that Senate Concurrent Resolution, recalling from the Governor SB 1250, had been approved and signed by the Governor, which communication and bill were laid on the table.

SB 1250, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR, TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Without objection, Mr. RUTH called from the table SB 1250, which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of further consideration.

RECONSIDERATION OF SB 1250, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which SB 1250, recalled from the Governor, passed finally on December 8, 1959.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?
Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I voted for the prevailing side.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RUTH, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend the title, page 1, line 1 of the title, by striking out "Conferring" and inserting: "Authorizing the conferring of."

Amend the title, page 1, line 2 of the title, by striking out "George Sarraf" and inserting: "Medical Corps Colonels who have served in World War I and World War II."

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out "and directed."

Amend Section 1, page 1, lines 2 and 3, by striking out "George" in line 2, and "Sarraf as a" in line 3, and inserting: "as."

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 4, by inserting after "Guard": "those Colonels in the Medical Corps thereof who have served in the Armed forces of the United States in World War I and World War II."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to read from Funk and Wagnalls College Standard Dictionary, which is the best I have been able to obtain. With regard to a recent semantic problem, the word "apologist" has just one definition, and is as follows:

"One who apologizes in defense of any person or cause."

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a recess of the Senate until 9:30 o'clock p.m.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a recess of the Senate until 9:30 o'clock p.m.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGES

In the House of Representatives, December 17, 1959.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill HB 2423, be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN

He also presented for concurrence House Concurrent Resolution, which was read as follows:

EXTENDING CONGRATULATIONS TO ADMIRAL
ROBERT LEE DENNISON UPON HIS ASSIGNMENT TO FURTHER RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE HIGH-EST IMPORT

In the House of Representatives, December 17, 1959.

Admiral Robert Lee Dennison, United States Navy, of Warren, Pennsylvania, has been designated by President Eisenhower to assume the duties of Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Naval Forces, and Commander-in-Chief of the United States Atlantic Fleet.

Admiral Dennison, a four-star admiral, is a veteran policy planner of the United States Navy. Graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1923, early in his career qualified for and entered the submarine service. During World War II, he won a Legion of Merit award for his role in the seizure and occupation of Actu and Kiska Islands in the Aleutians.

Later, for two years, he served as Assistant Chief of Naval Operations for Political-Military Affairs. For excellence in this assignment, he was awarded a Gold Star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit.

From 1948 until 1953, he served as naval aid to President Truman, and then commanded Cruiser Division Four in the Atlantic. Thereafter, he served as Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Plans and Policy until becoming Commander-in-Chief of Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

All in all, Admiral Dennison is an important figure among the leading maritime powers in the field of strategic planning. He has become a world figure in naval affairs; therefore, be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is proud of the high military character and the exceptional accomplishments in the naval profession of a most distinguished son; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly extend sincere congratulations to Admiral Dennison upon his assignment to further responsibilities of the highest import; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Admiral Dennison.

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I cannot let the resolution just read by the Clerk go by without making a very brief remark to the effect that the gentleman in question, Admiral Robert Lee Dennison, was a boyhood friend and schoolmate of mine. I want to join with all of his friends who live in Warren, and who formerly lived in Warren, in congratulating him upon his elevation to the duties of Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Naval Forces and Commander-in-Chief of the United States Atlantic Fleet.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure we are all proud of that, sir.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in this resolution.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bill: SB 297.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, advising that the following Senate Bill had been approved and signed by the Governor: SB 1106.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported, as committed, HB 2016.

RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported without amendment, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 72, entitled:

DIRECTING THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE FINANCING OF MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will be laid on the table.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

HB 1142—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1380—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. BERGER.

HB 1388—Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that HB 1388 be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, House Bill No. 1388, Printer's No. 2120, has been approved by the Insurance Department. Insurance Commissioner Smith has been pressing for this measure. I believe there have been hearings on this matter and Commissioner Smith has appeared before the Insurance Committee in the House. The reason he was in favor of this bill, and is still in favor of it, is to protect the persons who buy insurance policies from mutual companies. The purpose of this bill is to protect these people because, under a mutual company, if the company fails, or has any difficulty, then the people who own the policies are actually considered stockholders and, therefore, are subject to pay the losses incurred by the company. I believe most people are not aware of this fact when they buy their insurance policies. They, too, may suffer some of the loss incurred by the companies.

The Insurance Commissioner is interested in protecting these people by making sure that the companies have enough funds available to them, so that if anything goes wrong or they happen to fall upon bad days, the individual policy holder, who is not aware of his responsibility, may not be injured.

Mr. President, I, therefore, ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this motion to drop this bill from the Calendar.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the bill we are considering is, as the gentleman said, a move, I believe, in the right direction. However, someone has caused the bill to be amended and makes it apply to the year of 1964, instead of currently. This would mean that we are legislating away into the future and, perhaps, assuming an obligation for some future, not yet elected, Legislature. Therefore, Mr. President, I do not believe it is good legislation.

Secondly, Mr. President, the bill provides that uniform policies be used by both stock and mutual companies. There is a category of undesirable automobile risks, who cannot obtain insurance from any one company and they are, so-called, pooled. If they were pooled, the form of policy which is provided for in this bill could not be used.

Mr. President, I think an amendment should be added to the bill providing, perhaps, a clause which would read something similar to this: With the insured agreement, he takes this policy and understands that it is a different policy than that provided by law and different from the standard form, and then accepts it in that form.

That would be one suggested amendment which we do not now have time to insert in the policy. Then, too, may I say that there is a category of fire insurance risks, who have a high rating and who, perhaps, are the owners of properties and have a long list of fire records and, therefore, cannot buy insurance at standard rates or will not be accepted by a standard insurance company. Some provision should be made so that they could buy policies at an increased rate.

This bill should be amended very drastically in that respect, if it is to be passed by this Legislature. However, I repeat, Mr. President, that since the bill is predated to 1964, we seem to be assuming an obligation for a future Legislature which has not yet been elected. I think we should leave that obligation to the Legislature which follows this one.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I want to say, at this time, that I agree, in principle, with this bill. It is late in the Session to study it. No one in the Senate has had much time to study it, except, perhaps, the committee. However, the main thing which is very obvious is that it ignores the fact that reinsurance is at the basis of all insurance risks. The reinsurance agencies are not all in Pennsylvania, although the policies held may be in Pennsylvania.

An insurance contract, rather than an insurance policy, is the proper way to refer to coverage which any individual secures. That insurance contract often has to be tailor-made. This applies sometimes to different industries. For instance, I would hate to try to put the standard policy on places that were dealing with the atomic industry, which is just springing up. I could name other industries which are not, perhaps, so dynamic, but which are new and for which coverage cannot be secured under the standard policy, particularly reinsurance. The reinsurance feature is the danger here.

Mr. President, I agree with Senator Wade that since it is not effective until 1964, then a little more time should be taken in order to study it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I want to state to the Chair, and to the Senators, that I do not know very much about insurance, the standard form of policy or the form of policy contemplated by this bill. However, I do know all of the small mutual, rural companies are opposed to this.

Therefore, Mr. President, I have moved that it be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, before we move on from this business, I just want to say that it might very well be that these companies are opposing it. I suspect that many people oppose many things which they feel might not be in their best interest. However, I think our view should be whether it is in the interest of the people. We should be concerned whether it is in the interest of the people who are driven to these insurance companies and must deal with them. That should be the controlling interest and not whether the companies are in favor of it or not. When some of us are ill, it might very well be that we do not like to take the medicine which is prescribed, but it may help make us better. I think this is corrective legislation which will take care of a situation that I am afraid is not very good at the moment and which might, necessarily, get worse.

I do not agree with this business of taking more time. We can take more time next Session, the Session after that and the Session after that, and find that there will never be enough time to consider this matter. This is not a hasty piece of legislation. This is based on experiences which people have had with these companies.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I wonder how these small mutual companies get such a lot of coverage?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I could answer that question, but we would be here all night.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure that was not the intention of the question.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the bill was dropped from the Calendar.

HB 1584, 1851, 1852, 2048, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2139 and 2323—Read at length the second time and agreed to,

Amend Sec. 2, page 32, line 17, by striking out "(G)" and inserting: "(H)."

Amend Sec. 2, page 33, line 1, by striking out "(H)" and inserting: "(I)."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2459—Section 101 was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendments:

Section 402 was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WADE offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 402, page 53, by inserting after line 19:

"Route 16112. Beginning on the centerline at the terminus of Legislative Route 03117 in Madison Township, Armstrong County; thence through lands of McLain Fire Brick Company in a northeasterly direction by a curve to the right having a radius of 32.37 feet, a distance of 32.85 feet, and a deflection to the right of the 58 degrees 09 minutes to station 0+32.85; thence through same, north 59 degrees 04 minutes 50 seconds east, 60.50 feet to station 0+93.35; thence through same in a northeasterly direction by a curve to the right having a radius of 129.11 feet, a distance of 39.68 feet and a deflection to the right of 17 degrees 36 minutes 40 seconds to a station 1+33.03; thence through same north 76 degrees 41 minutes 20 seconds east 79.00 feet to station 2+12.03; thence through same in an easterly direction by a curve to the right having a radius of 121.41 feet, a distance of 65.15 feet and a deflection to the right of 32 degrees 09 minutes 40 seconds to station 2+80.18; thence through same south 71 degrees 09 minutes 00 seconds east 66.57 feet to station 3+46.75, the centerline of a bridge known as the Saint Charles Bridge; thence crossing same north 39 degrees 58 minutes 30 seconds east 232.21 feet to the terminus of Township Route T-468 in Porter Township, Clarion County; thence along the centerline of said Township Road north 39 degrees 58 minutes 30 seconds east 162.97 feet to a point; thence along same in a northerly direction along Township Road T-468 aforesaid approximately 1.5 miles to Township Route T-466 in Porter Township, Clarion County; thence along Township Road T-466 approximately 1.0 miles to Legislative Route 16005 in Clarion County".

Amend Sec. 402, page 60, by inserting between lines 15 and 16:

"Route 29049. Beginning at the intersection of Legislative Route 38 and Township Route 379, thence over Township Route 379 for a distance of about 0.9 miles to its intersection with Township Route 467, thence over Township Route 467 for a distance of about 1.38 miles to its intersection with Legislative Route 29029, a total distance of about 2.28 miles, in Ayr Township, Fulton County.

"Route 29050. Beginning at a point on Legislative Route 29010, thence northeasterly over Township Road 330 to the intersection with Legislative Route 267 Spur, a distance of about 1.8 miles, in Union Township, Fulton County".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

Section 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 501, 502, 503, 504, 601, and 602 and the title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I want to call your attention to the fact that I believe there were six sets of amendments which I just offered to House Bill No. 2459, and which affect Districts of the various Members of this Body. I presume that the action just taken includes all of the amendments which were offered.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct, sir.

BILL ON SECOND READING

HB 2463—Read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 122, CALLED UP

Mr. PECHAN, without objection, called up from page 9, of the Calendar, Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 122, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to study the feasibility of combining or merging the jurisdiction and/or the personnel of the County Court of Allegheny County and the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County with the Courts of Common Pleas of said counties.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 122, ADOPTED

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 122.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that I might be in a position to save the Commonwealth some money and would like to offer my services for whatever they are worth.

In the course of my activities, I happen to practice law before the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and I do not see the feasibility at all of merging that with the Courts of Common Pleas of the city of Philadelphia. Our Municipal Court, in Philadelphia, is of a rather peculiar nature. There are fourteen judges who deal with problems relating to juvenile delinquency, domestic relations, small claims, civil claims and criminal claims, such as manslaughter, arising out of accident cases, problems dealing with burglary, sex cases, and the civil side of the court involving cases of $2,500 or less. They also have other jurisdiction dealing, to a certain extent, with some claims from some of the boards and commissions. However, a good many of those are heard by the Court of Common Pleas.

I would like to respectfully mention to this Body that in the past month or two, we have had as many as twelve to thirteen Common Pleas Judges coming into the city of Philadelphia and manning our criminal courts, alone. We have criminal trials five and sometimes six days a week, manning eight to ten criminal courts in the city of Philadelphia. I do not see how the Common Pleas Judges who can hardly keep up with not only the civil work, as well as the equity list and taking their turns sitting in criminal court, can even begin to handle these problems which are presented by the Municipal Court.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think the feasibility of joining them with the Courts of Common Pleas, as far as Philadelphia is concerned, might be a great difficulty and, in the end, I think it will cost the Commonwealth a great deal of money. Perhaps it would be feasible in Allegheny County; I do not know. However, our fourteen Municipal Court Judges have this jurisdiction which runs through all the different areas that I mentioned. It might very well be that in Allegheny County there are separate judges assigned just to this one area. Perhaps it would be feasible to join them or perhaps they should take the County Court and extend their jurisdiction. I think the Courts of Common Pleas, speaking only for Philadelphia, are certainly greatly burdened now. I think a gentleman who can probably better attest to that fact than I is the gentleman who presides over this Senate, the Lieutenant Governor, who was a Common Pleas Judge in the city of Philadelphia for a good number of years.

Therefore, Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to keep an open mind on this matter and give it some thought when it come time to vote.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would certainly rise to urge the Membership to vote for this bill. My learned colleague on the other side said that there is no need for such a study. I did not follow his entire speech, but I believe at one place he said they had some twelve or thirteen visiting judges coming into Philadelphia to hear cases. The thought behind this resolution would be that the Joint State Government Commission would make a study of the feasibility of joining the Municipal Court with the Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County, and the County Court with the Courts of Common Pleas in Allegheny County. Also, the commission would make a study of the feasibility and possibility of a Court Administrator.

I believe that the present Attorney General of Pennsylvania has recommended that such a course be taken. In so far as the two courts in Allegheny County are concerned, there was pending in the House, bills which would combine the courts and appoint, as the study suggests, a Court Administrator for it. I have no criticism to offer regarding the action of the House, but for some reason, the committee in the House saw fit not to bring the bills which were introduced out for action at this Session.

Since that has happened, certainly, I think it would be advisable and in the best interest of all the people of the Commonwealth if our fact finding body, the Joint State Government Commission, would make a study of this. I would surely feel that Senator Weiner, with his vast knowledge of the intricacies of court procedure in Philadelphia County, would be an excellent member of that study group. Possibly nothing would be accomplished, but I can see no reason why we could not be a little hopeful and make the study. I understand that the recommendations made by our present Attorney General are violently opposed by many of the Common Pleas Judges, both in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties. She has had vast experience as a trial judge in Allegheny County and her recommendations might be of great value to the people. I can see nothing wrong with making the study.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it might be that I was not very clear. However, when I stated that we do have twelve or thirteen judges coming into the city of Philadelphia, I meant to say that these are Common Plea Judges who would normally sit in their own communities. Apparently, they do not have enough business to keep them there and, therefore, they sojourn into Philadelphia on occasion. Most of them get to like it and want to come back again and again.

The fact is that our Municipal Court was set up, primarily, to deal with divisions such as child custody matters, domestic relation problems and problems which affect the family. As a matter of fact, I think at one time it was called the Family Court, but the jurisdiction has been further extended. Many of the judges are against a Court Administrator. They would like to have two of them appointed who would be based in Allegheny and Philadelphia Counties. However, they would oversee the entire Commonwealth and try to break the log jam.

Many of the judges are opposed to the doing away with the President Judges. In Philadelphia County, as in Allegheny County, I believe they have a President Judge of each Court of Common Pleas. In Philadelphia, we have twenty-one judges and seven Courts of Common Pleas. Over each, we have a President Judge. Therefore, we have seven President Judges sitting in Philadelphia. They were trying to do away with the President Judge system and have one President Judge, who would act in an administrative capacity as well as a judicial capacity. The judges opposed this action for many reasons, some being meritorious and others which some lay people would feel did not have much merit. However, I do not think this can be solved very easily or very readily unless somebody is willing to take a great deal of time and go in and look at the backlog and at the type of cases which are not being handled and for what reasons they are not being handled.

For example, our juvenile court in Philadelphia hears anywhere between fifty to 100 cases a day. The judge who sits there is a very competent man. They start a little earlier in the morning than most courts start, around 9:15 or 9:30 o'clock. Sometimes they sit until 6:00 o'clock in the evening and sometimes later than that. However, they have a staff which also helps them to amass some of the information which the other courts may not have readily available to them.

Mr President, I want to thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming, for suggesting me for the job. However, I would appreciate it if he would tell me how long we are going to be here next year in order for me to take the job and be free to do it properly. Barring that information, I would like to decline this very fine honor. However, it might well be that the Senator has a point well taken on this matter. I do not have any strong feeling either way about it, but I felt that I would like to bring to the attention of the Members of the Senate some of the problems that face Philadelphia, from my knowledge of it. It might be that my point of view of it may be a jaundiced point of view and not really objective in regard to the merit of over-all pictures. Someone who might be objective about it and who may not be in the field might not feel the same. Therefore, perhaps I am not a good person to talk about this. I might be prejudiced one way or another about it.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, when this study is made, I hope that it will encompass the matter of delaying justice. The Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia are at least a year and one-half behind in their civil trials. In their Municipal Court work, it takes about two months before a person even gets an interview. In the meantime, dependent children are going without support from the persons who should be supporting them.

I certainly feel there should be some investigation of this situation which, in my opinion, is very deplorable. If justice delayed is justice denied, then we are having considerable denial of justice in Philadelphia because of the lack of judges or the lack of something which is delaying the cases in our courts in Philadelphia.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 124 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER, without objection, called up from page 9 of the Calendar, House Concurrent Resolution No. 124, entitled:

Installation of fishways at dams in Susquehanna River with cooperation of State of Maryland.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT
RESOLUTION No. 124

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in this resolution.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RESOLUTION REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported without amendment, Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 124, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to study the use of three member boards of attorneys—arbitrators.

The PRESIDENT. This resolution will be laid to the table.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 72, TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. BERGER, without objection, called from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 72, entitled:

Directing the Local Government Commission to investigate the financing of municipal authorities.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 72, ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt this resolution.

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am going to ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this resolution for the following reasons:

There was an investigation made of the Sanitary Authority. I read the report on it—the one which was placed on every Senator's desk—as well as the newspaper accounts of it, which were a little bit fuller than the accounts which appeared in the report. I believe Senator Koprivier was one of the Members who served on this committee and I wish someone would tell me whether the report was prejudiced or biased. However, it appeared to me that they found absolutely nothing and found that the Authority had done nothing wrong, had done a good job, was doing a good job and was continuing on in this vein. It seems to me that this had already been done and, therefore, I do not see any purpose which this resolution would serve.

In order to ask the Local Government Commission to look into this matter further or to pursue it, I think you must decide, first of all, whether you are against authorities. If you are against the philosophy of authorities, that is one thing. Once you have made up your minds to that, then the rest of it will follow by itself. Generally, I think authorities may have their weaknesses and they may have their drawbacks, but I think they do a good job. They do a job which, I think, is very difficult for any group to do, whether it be local government or the Legislature. It is a continuing group which is small. It usually has powers to invest, to investigate and to do a complete job. Perhaps some of the authorities we have had in Pennsylvania have gotten out of hand a little bit or have gone too far afield, but usually they have done a good and effective job and one which I think very few of us can complain about.

Instead of investigating them, I think perhaps we should change the setup or the form which the authorities take, if that is our problem. However, I think, once having made an investigation and not having found anything, then you are saying that we should investigate again and see whether we can find something which we did not find before.

Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have reviewed this resolution. It says that the Local Government Commission shall investigate the financing of municipal authorities. They use the plural. At the end of the resolution, it says:

"Resolved, That the Local Government Commission make a report of its findings together with its recommendations to the next General Assembly."

How are we going to determine just what authorities we are going to investigate? If we are going to investigate the financing of authorities, we have them in about nine different categories and groups. We are going back in Session about January 4 or January 5. We could not possibly comply with the provisions of this resolution.

To investigate an authority under this resolution—the Local Government Commission has subpoena powers—seems virtually impossible. If we are going to do this job, I think we should postpone the effective date until the end of the next regular Session and then start the investigation. We would then have to also determine just what authority or authorities we might investigate. The resolution just states, "the financing of authorities." If we start in on school authorities, local school authorities, sewer authorities and utility authorities, where are we going to go from there?

I imagine Senator Stevenson may have some remarks on this matter, if he cares to make them. This is almost an impossible job. We cannot do this job between now and January 5, because we have to report to the next Session of the General Assembly. I think we should think that over.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, all I want to say about this is that I understand the report is to be made at the next Session of the General Assembly. Of course, when this resolution was drawn, we did not think at that time that we were going to have Annual Sessions. However, at the same time, Mr. President, I would submit that although we have a committee which is going to try to determine the scope of our legislative powers in the coming Session, to my mind, this would not be one of the things that could be taken up at that Session. Therefore, the report would not be due until the 1961 Session.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

The PRESIDENT. At this time, the Chair invites the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 124, TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. BERGER, without objection, called from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 124, entitled:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE USE OF THREE MEMBER BOARDS OF ATTORNEYS—ARBITRATORS

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 124, ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 124.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HB 2399 CALLED UP

HB 2399—Without objection, the bill, which previously went over in its order temporarily, was called up, from page 3 of the Third Reading Calendar, by Mr. BERGER.

HB 2399—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CONFAIR, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after "tractors": "and increasing the fee for the annual registration of certain motor vehicles."

Amend Bill, page 2, lines 1 to 3 by striking out all of said lines and inserting:

"Section 1. Sections 702 and 702.1, act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), known as 'The Vehicle Code,' section 702.1, added October 14, 1959 (Act No. 445) are amended to read:

"Section 702. Motor Vehicles.—The fee for annual registration of motor vehicles, except as provided in this act, shall be [ten dollars ($10.00)] fifteen dollars ($15.00).

"Section 702.1. Fee for Suburban Motor Vehicle Registration.—The fee for annual registration of suburban motor vehicles as defined in this act shall be [two dollars ($2.00) in addition to] the fees [otherwise] prescribed by law for annual registration of passenger motor vehicles.

"Section 2. Section 1025 of the act, amended July 13, 1959 (Act No. 147) and November 9, 1959 (Act No. 489) is amended to read:"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1025), page 3 by inserting between lines 3 and 4: "The Secretary of Highways shall erect and maintain signs warning of the penalty for the violation of this section. At least five (5) signs shall be erected in each county for every one hundred (100) miles of State highway located within the country."

Amend Sec. 2, page 5, line 3 by striking out "2" and inserting: "3."

Amend Sec. 2, page 5, line 3 by inserting after "immediately": "but the change in registration fees prescribed by the act shall apply to registrations for the registration year commencing April 1, 1960."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, last evening, we heard so much about the Highways Department needing more money. The amendments I have offered would increase the cost of motor vehicle registration plates by five dollars per motor vehicle. This increase of five dollars per motor vehicle would bring in $37,000,000 to the State of Pennsylvania.

The proposed penny a gallon gasoline tax is supposed to bring in a return of $48,000,000. With the one dollar increase on the driver's license, which has already been passed, and this five dollars additional on each car for registration plates, it will bring in $52,000,000, which is much more money than was requested under the one cent additional gasoline tax.

We heard from the other side last night, when they introduced a resolution to discharge the committee, that this money is needed and I agree with them. I want to give them the opportunity to bring in additional revenue for the highways which we so much need and which they said last evening that we needed.

My amendments will give them the opportunity to take care of the highways in the State of Pennsylvania and no doubt, each man on the Democratic side is going to vote for them. They know we need the money because they said last night that we needed it. Now here is their opportunity, if they meant what they said last night, to vote for additional revenue.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lycoming, Senator Confair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lycoming, Mr. Confair, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CONFAIR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, if the gentleman would not be revealing any confidential secrets, I would like to ask him whether this is Caucus actions on the part of the Republican Party?

Mr. CONFAIR. No, this is not Caucus action. This is my own action.

By the way, I want to mention that the Secretary of Highways, sometime ago, when someone suggested to him which tax he preferred, said, "I do not care which tax, just so I get the money to build the highways." I know that is what you are interested in and that is the reason I brought it up.

Mr. LANE. Senator Confair, how many motor vehicles in Pennsylvania will come under the provision of these amendments?

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I do not know. I know this will bring in $37,000,000. Therefore, if you divide $37,000,000 by five, you will have the answer.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to comply with the rules and regulations here tonight for a change. So, may I further interrogate the gentleman?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. CONFAIR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Where did you get the figure of $37,000,000?

Mr. CONFAIR. From the Highways Department. It is general knowledge that it will bring in $37,000,000.

Mr. LANE. Are you positively sure that if we increase the registration plates by five dollars, as specified in your amendments, that it will bring in $37,000,000 annually? Are you sure?

Mr. CONFAIR. I did not say that.

Mr. LANE. How are you going to bring in $37,000,000, every two years, every five years or how?

Mr. CONFAIR. Every two years.

Mr. LANE. Every two years, $37,000,000, I see. You are quite aware that people are paying a fee annually as far as registration is concerned. You are aware of that, are you not?

Mr. CONFAIR. Certainly.

Mr. LANE. Do you agree then that the Secretary of Highways is correct in the position he takes that he needs additional funds?

Mr. CONFAIR. I am in agreement with that. I agree with you on that.

Mr. LANE. In the event that these amendments are defeated, would you vote for a one cent gasoline tax increase?

Mr. CONFAIR. I did not say that.

Mr. LANE. No, but I am asking you that question.

Mr. CONFAIR. I do not have to answer that.

Mr. LANE. No, you do not have to answer it, but I thought maybe you would vote for such a tax because you feel that the Department of Highways needs additional funds to finance a highway program.

Mr. CONFAIR. When I will, I will tell you when.

Mr. LANE. You just admitted yourself that the Department of Highways needs additional funds.

Mr. CONFAIR. No, I said it needs additional funds according to what you said last night and I agreed with you.

Mr. LANE. I see. You will only vote to increase the funds by increasing the license registration plates.

Mr. CONFAIR. I did not say that.

Mr. LANE. Will you agree to vote for an increase in the gasoline tax then?

Mr. CONFAIR. That is a different subject than what we are discussing.

Mr. LANE. If you refuse to answer, say so.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I refuse to answer because that is not what we are discussing.

Mr. LANE. Thank you.

Mr. President, Senator Confair reminds me of a—excuse me, this is just humor by the way—story I heard tonight. Another Senator—a Republican, by the way—told me this story about two Irishmen who came here from Ireland. They went to stay in a hotel in New York. They had never seen an elevator and they were talking about taking the steps. That night they slept in the hotel and the next morning Pat got up and went out to go down and get a bite to eat. He did not realize that the elevator shaft was not the steps, and he stepped down and fell about five stories and ended up lying in the bottom of the shaft. About that time, out came Mike. Mike was looking for Pat and he yelled for him for quite a bit. At last he went over to where the elevator shaft was and Pat heard him and said: "I am down here and if you are going to come down, watch that first step because it is a bugger."

I think Senator Confair's position is about the same.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, I have taken the position in regard to this subject that, clearly and according to the Department of Highways, a one cent increase in gasoline taxes on a full annual basis will bring in $31,324,936 per year. Of that amount, twenty per cent, under the law, will be allocated to the various political subdivisions for the financing of their roads and bridges. The Secretary also advises me that we have three and one-half million licensed pleasure cars in Pennsylvania, and so five times that will be the total amount which we will receive by increasing the registration by five dollars.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am glad to hear Senator Confair make that statement because he was being coached over there by the second, third, fourth and maybe, the fifth team as far as his answers are concerned. That is perfectly all right with me.

However, let us look at the over-all picture. You fellows are taking the position that we should penalize every person who owns a pleasure car here in Pennsylvania. You feel we should increase their license registration plates by five dollars. On the other hand, the Joint State Government Commission Report show that if you put on a one cent additional gasoline tax, twenty per cent or one-fifth of that tax will be paid by out-of-State motorists.

I do not know where your opposition comes from on this. I know you are adamantly opposed to an increase in the gasoline tax.

I suppose the Senators on the other side have received this chart, but if they have not they can take a look at it. For example, Missouri has a total tax of seven cents. Now in the nine cent category, there is Alaska, Arizona, Delaware, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Texas and Wyoming. Incidentally, Massachusetts has a tax of nine and one-half cents. Then you go on over to the ten cent bracket. That is the total tax. That includes quite a number of States. However, let us go to our neighboring State of Ohio, which we talk about so much. Their total is eleven cents. Now why in the world are we opposed to increasing the gasoline tax here in Pennsylvania by one cent?

The reason I am strongly for it is this: I think it is unfair for us to continue to penalize Pennsylvania motorists. Not long ago, we increased the operators' license fee. They pay a tax on oil, on the purchase of the car and on practically everything. I believe that if the tourists of the United States want to use our highways, they should surely pay a proportionate share of the tax. That is the position we take.

I am not going to vote for these amendments. After talking to Senator Whalley today, he agreed with me that we should increase the revenue for the Secretary of Highways. I talked with the front office and I gave them my opinion. They accepted it. I said that I feel we are being silly in our approach if we continue to penalize the residents of Pennsylvania by soaking them with another five dollar increase on the registration plates. Why should we not pass legislation to make everybody who uses our public highways pay a proportionate share?

That is the only logical approach that I can see on this matter.

I know that the hour is growing late and some of you fellows are getting tired. However, I wanted to explain our position and my position in regard to this. I believe that Senator Confair is taking a shortsighted approach to this problem. I know he is interested in the Keystone Shortway and I am proud that he is. However, I do not feel that he should be bound by what one particular group says. I believe he realizes, in his own mind, that the fairest thing to do is to put a one cent increase on the gasoline tax.

Remember, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, that the Federal Roads Administration, in Washington, D. C., has no particular fondness for Pennsylvania or any other State. If the time should ever come when we would not have the funds to match the Federal money, do you know what would happen? When we had our meeting, quite a few of the executives explained that Ohio was getting away with a lot more money than we were, so far as highways were concerned. They are going to allocate this money to Ohio, West Virginia, New York, California or the southern States, and here it is our money. How silly can we be?

They put an increase on the Federal gasoline taxes here not long ago. There was an increase of one cent. We are paying that and we are not complaining. We go out and we pay that additional one cent tax. That is replenishing the coffers of the Federal Roads Administration. When the time comes when we do not have the money to match the Federal money, we are going to be left out. You know that just as well as I do. The other day someone said, "Well, that has never happened before in Pennsylvania." That may be true, but that does not say that it will not happen in the future.

For that reason, Mr. President, I feel that each and every Member of the Senate should defeat these amendments and report out the gasoline tax and pass it.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, in view of the fact that, of course, any Member on the Republican side has a right to offer any amendments,—and here is the perfect example—I am going to ask for a roll call vote on this. I do not happen to favor this measure, myself. Of course, Senator Confair has a right to his belief and I respect that. However, I, myself, do not believe in this measure. I also do not believe that the Department of Highways needs this money.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would ask for a roll call vote on this measure.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think this problem is rather an easy one. I hope you will forgive me if I bring up something which may not have any bearing on this bill, except that this bill may be unconstitutional. We are taking a bill, which deals with trash and trash disposal, and putting in the problem of raising the rate or the amount of money we are going to charge for registration plates.

To do that to this measure is not to give full value to the problem being presented to us. I think the issue involved in the bill before us certainly is not germane to the raising of the cost of the registration plates.

I also think that Senator Confair and the others who are supporting this measure are not dealing with it in a very fair manner. I think the people who make the heaviest use of the highways should at least bear their fair share. You are hitting the people who drive pleasure cars or, in the cases of people moving to suburban areas, you are hitting their second cars. You are hitting them harder than you are hitting the commercial users who are heavy users of the highways.

I think that you are well aware of the fact that you are raising the cost of operating a pleasure car by fifty per cent. You are going from $10 to $15.

I would also like to point out one other factor to Senator Confair. The fact that he does not like the additional gasoline tax, or does not like the measure itself, does not mean that it is a bad measure. I would say that I think we would gain more money if we added the one cent on the gasoline tax. The registration plates are only bought once a year, and once you have made that collection, that is the end of it. However, if you add the penny to the gasoline tax, you are not only taxing the users of the highways in Pennsylvania, but you are taxing the out-of-State people who also use our highways and add to the traffic problem and to the heavy use which our highways receive. I think they should pay their fair share, just like you and I pay it when we travel outside of Pennsylvania to some other areas where they do have this tax. If people feel that they do not want to pay this, they do not have to travel on the highways of Pennsylvania. I am not saying that we should bar them, but I think they should bear their fair share of our cost of maintaining and keeping up these highways.

I think this is rather an illusory way of the gentleman making up his mind, thinking that he is going to solve the problem of the Keystone Shortway. It certainly is not a realistic approach. If I can gauge the sentiment of this Body, I think there are not very many Members who feel inclined to go along with the gentleman on this measure. One of the difficulties which you are going to have with this is not only the average person being against it, but many of the people in industry, who use automobiles, are also going to be against it. You may be hitting them too hard, because they may have fleets of cars on the highways. I think the one cent additional gasoline tax would be less painful and would not hit so many people.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this measure, first, because I think this measure is unconstitutional and second, because I think it is an unfair method of collecting or solving a problem which faces all of us.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, while I am going to oppose the amendments, my objections are not for exactly the same reasons. I am pretty sure that the one cent tax on one gallon of gasoline is not going to be much less painful. When the five dollars is once paid, it is paid. However, every time a motorist fills his gasoline tank, he pays in the neighborhood of fifty cents tax right now. With an increase in the gasoline tax, he would pay sixty cents tax. He does that a good many times during the year, Mr. President. Therefore, I submit that the impact of the one cent gasoline tax would be far greater upon the residents of Pennsylvania than it would be by increasing the cost of the registration plates. However, as I have said before, it has not been demonstrated to my satisfaction that this money is needed for the upkeep of the highways.

Therefore, Mr. President, I, for myself, intend to vote against these amendments.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I arise to oppose these amendments on a little different angle. Senator Confair has offered amendments to House Bill No. 2399, which is an anti-litter bill. Of course, it is an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Code.

I have before me a copy of House Bill No. 2399, which was introduced in the House by three sponsors, one of whom is favoring us with his presence here tonight. I know of the keen interest of Mr. Gramlich, who hails from one of the fine counties in western Pennsylvania, —Venango—and of his long service in the House. He came to the House first in the 1953 Session. He has labored hard and long and worked among his fellow Members of the House for things that are good for the Department of Highways. I think, perhaps, there may be a subterranean purpose in Senator Confair introducing his amendments to this bill. In my humble judgment, they would certainly destroy the bill and make it unconstitutional if we were to adopt these amendments.

I think we should have respect for Mr. Gramlich, who, as I said, is favoring us with his presence here tonight, and for the other sponsors of this bill. If we want to meet this situation head-on, we should not try to attach it to legislation which is sponsored by those who are keenly interested in the subject matter which was originally in the bill; namely, to keep the highways of Pennsylvania clean so that we may all be proud of them.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this just indicates that patience is its own reward. I did not think that this Session would come to an end where Senator Wade and I would find ourselves in agreement. However, it just shows you that all things come to him who waits.

I would just like to add that the Secretary of Highways said, at a small dinner given by Senator Lane for some of the leaders in the Senate for the purpose of going over this measure, that this increase in the gasoline tax would cost $6.20 a year to the average motorist. Therefore, it is far less than the Federal tax that we now pay on gasoline. When I said it would be less painful, I did not mean that it is less painful to pay money, but less painful in the amount which the individual housewife, who drives a car, or the individual man who drives a car, must pay.

Therefore, Mr. President, I reiterate, and I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, one of the nice things, and I agree with Senator Weiner, is that I can agree with him, too.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. EHRGOOD and Mr. WATKINS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—2

Confair, Whalley,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON SB 1043, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. SHAFER, SCOTT and MAHADY, as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to SB 1043, recalled from the Governor.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a recess of the Senate until 11:50 o'clock p.m.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a recess of the Senate until 11:50 o'clock p.m.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. MADIGAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The bills were as follows: HB 2016 and 2286.

And said bills having been read at length for the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Friday, December 18, 1959, at 12:02 o'clock a.m.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:53 o'clock p.m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, December 17, 1959

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Dear Lord and Father of Mankind, it is with humbleness of heart and sincerity of purpose that we come to Thee this day. We recognize that so often we would do things differently if only we could retrace our steps and actions. This was also true of the innkeeper who so long ago declared there was no room in the inn. If only he had known, he would gladly have given up his bed that Holy Night so long ago. Strengthen each one we pray with stamina of faith and purpose to weigh carefully the issues at hand, help each one with a willing heart to give Him room, and inspire each one with Thy presence that we may do all to Thy pleasing. In Thy dear name we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Wednesday, December 16, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 1030.

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire the surface or right of soil only of a tract of land in the Borough of Dunmore County of Lackawanna Pennsylvania for the use of the Department of Revenue and making an appropriation.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE BILL No. 1272.

An Act amending the act of November 19, 1959 (Act No. 557) entitled "An act imposing a tax on real estate for public school purposes in school districts of the first class and first class A for current expenses" placing a ceiling on taxes for school purposes in such districts.

Referred to the Committee on Cities—Counties First Class.

SENATE MESSAGE

RECALLING SENATE BILL 1250

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 14, 1959.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 1250, Printer's No. 1604, entitled "An act conferring the rank of Brigadier General Retired in the Pennsylvania National Guard upon George Sarraf," be recalled from the Governor for further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FRANK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have a suggestion to make to the House. I believe that we should have some kind of ceremony to show the people of Pennsylvania that every day we are in the House be marked as a special occasion. Every day from now on is going down in history as breaking all past records for being in Session for one given year. Today marks the 117th day we have been in legislative session, the longest in state history. Why? That is a $64 question.

Here we are in the holiday season, when everyone should be home with their families, preparing and getting ready for Christmas. After being here so long, what happens? The other side of the House is all of a sudden, coming to life and putting on a show—to show the public that they are working very hard on their behalf; that is—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman knows he is transgressing the rules of the House.

Mr. FRANK. In what way, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. In the animadversions upon the eminent and statesmanlike gentlemen who serve in another place.

Mr. FRANK. Well, what can I say if I want to refer to the other House?

The SPEAKER. Implying political implications that they would be capable of political intent of delay and obstruction. If no Member of the House objects, I simply inform the gentleman that he is transgressing the rule and with unanimous consent any Member can transgress all the rules.

Mr. FRANK. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

To show the public they are working very hard in their behalf that is, to the tune of $7,000 a day and maybe more because they are now having night sessions. The other night they were in session until 4:30 a.m. For what? To pass legislation? No. It was just a delaying action. They were debating who was to be confirmed on some of the boards. They are wasting valuable taxpayers' money, not saving it. Here we are in the House, sitting in our seats, waiting for them to pass some legislation.

Today we have only a three-page calendar, while they have a nine-page calendar. I have been told we will be here until Saturday. The calendar we have today could be finished within a few hours. Let us finish it today and go back home, and come back here when the other side of the House cleans up a good deal of their calendar. It is not fair to keep us here while they play to the grandstand crowd. Let us go home today and come back here on Monday to clean up. Let us not play the violin while Rome burns.

The SPEAKER. Why the gentleman from Lehigh would want to parade our legislative sins at this late date, I do not know.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Frank.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Frank, tell us where he got that figure of $7,000 a day?

Mr. FRANK. Well, out of a book or somebody gave me the wrong figures. I received that from one of the Senators on the other side of the House. It might be more.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Lehigh really believe it costs the state $7,000 for every day we are here?

Mr. FRANK. Well, the information I have received I think is pretty correct, I stated it could be more.

Mr. BELL. Could the gentleman from Lehigh break that figure down?

Mr. FRANK. I am only a pants man, it is pretty tough to be interrogated by a lawyer.

Mr. BELL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FRANK. I would like to say this to the gentleman who is interrogating me, this is a no-fee case, so he might make it brief.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest to the gentleman from Lehigh that while the gentleman from Lehigh is only a pants man, evidently the gentleman from Delaware has caught him with his legislative trousers down.

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, the way we have been here twelve months, I would like to tell you in 1960 I am going to take one of the rooms out here and I am going to bring in pants. Things have been bad this year.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the gentleman from Lehigh, and have permission to make a very brief statement.

I concur with the gentleman from Lehigh, we have been here too long. In fact I see on our desks today something that is definitely in favor of the Legislature, because there is a bill to amend the Sales Tax, and if you have been in a hotel for more than thirty days in one month, you do not pay any sales tax, and I think this month some of us will not have to pay sales tax.

Seriously, this $7,000 a day is the type of criticism which has been directed at this House and the other place, which I do not think is warranted. If you analyze that figure—how do you come to that figure? Are we paying employees $7,000 to be here? The gentleman from Lehigh and I get the same pay whether we are here six months or two years, and I think that our overhead is not to be divided by how many days we are here or whether it is a long session or a short session. This figure of $7,000 a day by our being in session is as phoney as a $3-bill.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SCHAAF asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to express my personal disagreement with the statement made by the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Frank, to the effect that this is an expensive session. I do not believe it is, Mr. Speaker, for the reason that we have been here a total of 117 days and ordinarily that involves a departure from our own businesses and professions for 24 hours a day. Now, if you multiply that 24 by 117, you come up with a figure of 2808 hours. Since we are paid at the rate of $6,000 a year, we are saving the Commonwealth money, because it is only paying us $2 and some odd cents an hour. I think that is pretty cheap labor. I think the people of the Commonwealth ought to recognize that saving.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, come to the desk?

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, to preside.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair is willing to serve night and day seven days a week for the transaction of general business as long as there is a quorum in the House and be ready to receive communications from the Senate or send communications to the Senate, irrespective of whether we have a quorum. But, if we are to pass upon measures like the Highway bill and our Education bill and matters relating to our Authorities, in limited hours with a pistol at our heads, that demand immediate action, as far as the Chair is concerned, there will be no such immediate action unless that action is decreed by a majority of a Constitutional quorum.

The time has come when the Chair believes we should create a precedent; the precedent that we are a Constitutional body and that we operate within the confines of well described, explicitly stated Constitutional duties. The Chair will, therefore, confidently expect that if there is a night Session, that if there is a delayed Session, a Session on Saturday, a Session next Monday, that a quorum be provided enabling this House to act in conformity with the Constitution which we are so solemnly pledged to obey and observe.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. DEVLIN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1030, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire the surface or right of soil only of a tract of land in the Borough of Dunmore County of Lackawanna Pennsylvania for the use of the Department of Revenue and making an appropriation.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1030, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire the surface or right of soil only of a tract of land in the Borough of Dunmore, County of Lackawanna, Pennsylvania for the use of the Department of Revenue and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 9, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), entitled "The Vehicle Code," prohibiting competitive racing on highways and fixing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 993, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1956 (P. L. 1987), entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Highways with approval of the Governor to erect and construct a toll bridge over the Monongahela River connecting the State highway system in Washington County with the system of State highways in Fayette County and to provide the necessary approaches and connections with such State highways . . ." naming the bridge the William J. Lane-Eustice H. Bane Bridge.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1232, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Highways with the approval of the Governor to construct a highway and to erect and maintain a bridge over the Kiskiminetas River in Westmoreland and Armstrong Counties and to provide the necessary approaches and connections with State highways empowering counties to pay certain damages and making an appropriation therefor.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1344, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 17, 1957 (P. L. 984), entitled "An act requiring that notice of any prior or contemporaneous severance of coal or the right of surface support from the surface be set forth in a certain manner in every deed agreement of sale title insurance policy or other instrument in writing which sells, conveys, transfers, releases, quitclaims or agrees to sell, convey, transfer, release or quitclaim or insures or agrees to insure title to the surface of land and providing for the effect upon the vendor, grantor, transferor, releasor or person who quitclaims or insures title or agrees to do any of the foregoing for noncompliance therewith," limiting the provisions of the act to transactions with respect to the surface of land under which there is coal and further regulating the notice required to be given.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1344

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has appointed as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House, Messrs. LAMB, CAPANO and TOMPKINS.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

ON HOUSE BILL NO. 2193.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has appointed as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House, Messrs. DEVLIN, FRASCELLA and BUCHANAN.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I have permission of the House to talk to the House about the Conference Committees that are now appointed. I would like to bring to their attention the amount of time I feel they should work here on their bills.

The following committees are in operation in this House, and I would appreciate it if the chairmen of the committees would today and tomorrow proceed accordingly to complete their reports or notify the Chair that there will be no reports.

House Bill 141, Messrs. Fineman, Yatron and Mrs. Henzel.

House Bill 900, Messrs. Schaaf, Kamyk and Mrs. Markley.

House Bill 1472, Mr. Eilberg, Mrs. Pashley and Mr. Kee.

House Bill 1675, Messrs. Stone, McLaughlin and Isaacs.

House Bill 2173, Mrs. Reibman, Messrs. Gailey and Tompkins.

House Bill 1195, Messrs. Gailey, Polen and Helm.

House Bill 1977, Messrs. Stone, Polen and Bower.

House Bill 2150, Messrs. Rovanssek, Polen and Wynd.

Senate Bill 24, motions will take care of discharging this committee.

Senate Bill 112, Messrs. Schaaf, Prendergast and T. H. W. Jones.

Senate Bill 785, Mrs. Reibman, Messrs. Gailey and Ashton.

Senate Bill 882, the report of the Committee of Conference is here.

I ask that the committees named today move right away with the necessary plans with their Senate conferences.

House Bill 1344, Messrs. Lamb, Chairman; Capano and Tompkins.

House Bill 1355, Messrs. McCann, Kamyk and Stewart.

House Bill 2170, Messrs. Hamilton, Stone and Price. That one is ready to be signed.

House Bill 2192, Messrs. Devlin, Frascella and Buchanan.

House Bill 2193, Messrs. Devlin, Frascella and Buchanan.

That makes a total of 17 Conference Committees at this point. By tomorrow we would like to know how many Conference Committee Reports we will have or that there will be no report at all from the committee.

Mr. Speaker, I would like at this time to make arrangements for a committee to go to the Senate. May I ask that on the Democratic side there be the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty, the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, and I will accompany a similar group of the Republican Members to meet with the Republican and Democrat leadership in the Senate regarding the working schedule for the balance of this week, the bills that are on the Senate calendar and what agreements can be made regarding Senate bills.

Following that conference we would report to our respective caucuses the result of this meeting or these meetings in the Senate. With that in mind, I will make at the proper time a motion for a recess of one hour, of which the first 15 minutes will be spent by this committee in meeting with the Senate. When the Republican Members are finished with this, I will make the necessary motion for the recess, and will ask that the Republicans appoint a similar committee to accompany us to the Senate for the purpose of this meeting.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I see nothing wrong with the procedure that the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, is suggesting, but it seems to me for a committee of eight, four from your side and four from this side, will create the wrong impression in the Senate. I mean we will send over a group almost as large as the Senate itself.

I think we have enough confidence in our respective Floor Leaders that those two Floor Leaders can go over and bring back a message and confer with the Floor Leaders over there. I do not think a committee of eight is necessary. I think a committee of two can do it and do it very well.

Mr. McCANN. We have no objections to that, Mr. Speaker. The only point involved is that there are some respective pieces of legislation which are major pieces, the General State Authority bill, the state Public School Building Authority Bill, the Highways bill, the Education bill on which we wanted to work out the complete timetable for completion, concurrence or nonconcurrence, and Conference Committees, so that we could plan Conference Committees ahead if we were going to do that and definitely find out whether there is any foundation to these rumors of one or two days next week, one or two days the following week and so forth.

I have had no official word other than my knowledge from my meeting with the Senate last Monday and Tuesday, that Friday of this week would be the last day this week and then the next day was going to be January 4.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I have no fault to find with the mission. I think it is well directed, but I do object to the number of people. If you are going to take everyone over to the Senate who is interested in the Omnibus bill, or the GSA bill and some of the others that you have mentioned, perhaps we ought to take both caucuses over.

I am perfectly willing to have Mr. Johnson represent me, and I think every other Member over here is. They will take his word when he comes back, as they will yours, that you have worked out the proper time schedule and also everything else involved so far as setting up the committees is concerned. I am only objecting to the size of the committee. I think it would probably scare the Senate to see us all coming over.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the truth is, the committee would be larger than the Senate, would it not?

Mr. HELM. There are times when that would be true, I think, but I do not think it is true today.

Mr. McCANN. I understand. Mr. Speaker, we have no objection, and the committee will be two to go over to talk to them and report to our respective caucuses.

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the Report of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company for the year 1959.

(For Report see Appendix)

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR NON-CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL NO. 2368.

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 971) entitled "An act relating to the annual salaries and compensation of certain county officers of counties of the eighth class" increasing the compensation of auditors.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has non-concurred.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to House Bill No. 2368.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, at this time Mr. Johnson and I believe it would be well to inform the Members that they may take a 30-minute break for lunch first and then caucus right away while we go to the Senate.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I take it then we are going to recess for lunch; we will then go into our respective caucuses, at least a Republican caucus at 2:00 o'clock. It may take as much as one hour. It seems it takes one hour for caucuses. Do I take it the Chair intends to call a recess of an hour and a half or would one hour be enough?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. An hour and a half is the present intention.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I would like to announce that we will go to lunch now and try to get up to the Republican caucus at 2:00 o'clock sharp. We will try to get through as rapidly as possible in the caucus.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Democratic Members bring their House calendars with them. The Democratic caucus will start at 2:00 p.m.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1207.

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1049 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" providing for payments on account of pupil transportation to certain additional school districts.

HOUSE BILL No. 2268.

An Act prohibiting mining in certain areas without prior approval by the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries establishing standards for the approval of plans for mining in such areas imposing powers and duties on the mine foremen and the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries and providing penalties.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House take a recess for one hour and a half.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair declares a recess for one and one-half hours.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 2423
FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. PRICE offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 17, 1959.
Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 2423, Printer's No. 2068, entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Secretary of Forests and Waters to convey one hundred sixteen acres more or less of land situate in Potter Township Centre County to the Juniata Valley Council Inc. Boy Scouts of America" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STEWART asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, with the help of many Members of the House and other interested people, I composed a poem which I would like to read to the House.

The SPEAKER. We have heard everything else.

Mr. STEWART. Bearing in mind, Mr. Speaker, that this is done in the Spirit of Christmas, and no offense meant just some little kidding, which I think helps sometimes to deflate our egos when we think possibly how important we are. It goes something like this:

Oh, to be in Harrisburg, now that Christmas is here,
Just to hear the raspy voice of one we hold so dear.
Oh, to be in Harrisburg, beneath the mistletoe,
With Tompkins whip and silver whistle, putting on a show.

Oh, to be in Harrisburg, with our fearless Al,
He didn't make the higher court, but he is still our pal.
Oh, to be in Harrisburg, and our glorious Speaker
With silver tongue wrapped around a carbolic acid beaker.

Oh, to be in Harrisburg, full with Christmas Cheer.
That other place we never say, but that is why we're here.

Oh, to be in Harrisburg when it's holly time
With Harve and Jim and Dave and Steve making all the chimes.

Oh, to be in Harrisburg at the time of the Christmas tree,

With gifts galore upon the floor and 200 jobs of the PUC.
Oh, to be in Harrisburg all summer, fall and winter
We grieve not for this lengthy stay while it dies without a whimper.

Oh, to be in Harrisburg with educators' pities
And watch the bitter battles waged by the country and the cities.

Along the walls around the House sit the other engineers,

Conveying to us one and all, their hopes, their dreams, their fears.

And on my left my colleagues sit, from the biggest town of all,

Running interference for Bill Green, who's on the ball.
But Dave, dear Dave, and Pop-Pop too, tax not our churches' steeples.

Have mercy on us legislators and our little peoples.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. SNIDER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries to meet during the session of the House.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. DAVIS and NEEDHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 17, 1959.

Admiral Robert Lee Dennison, United States Navy, of Warren, Pennsylvania, has been designated by President Eisenhower to assume the duties of Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Naval Forces, and Commander-in-Chief of the United States Atlantic Fleet.

Admiral Dennison, a four-star admiral, is a veteran policy planner of the United States Navy. Graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1923, early in his career he qualified for and entered the submarine service. During World War II, he won a Legion of Merit award for his role in the seizure and occupation of Attu and Kiska Islands in the Aleutians.

Later, for two years, he served as Assistant Chief of Naval Operations for Political-Military Affairs. For excellence in this assignment, he was awarded a Gold Star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit.

From 1948 until 1953, he served as naval aid to President Truman, and then commanded Cruiser Division Four in the Atlantic. Thereafter, he served as Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Plans and Policy until becoming Commander-in-Chief of Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

All in all, Admiral Dennison is an important figure among the leading maritime powers in the field of strategic planning. He has become a world figure in naval affairs; therefore, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is proud of the high military character and the exceptional accomplishments in the naval profession of a most distinguished son; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly extend sincere congratulations to Admiral Dennison upon his assignment to further responsibilities of the highest import; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Admiral Dennison.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL NO. 900.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 900.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FARABAUGH from the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912) entitled "Bakery Law" changing certain definitions further regulating marking and labeling conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912) entitled "Bakery Law" changing certain definitions further regulating marking and labeling conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

was agreed to on third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FARABAUGH asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 2, second and third lines of Title, by striking out "AUTHORIZING CERTAIN SECTIONS BY COUNTIES."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 7, lines 13 to 20, page 8, lines 1 and 2, by striking out all of said lines.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. Varallo for Mr. MAXWELL for the remainder of today's session because of illness.

Mrs. Varallo for Mr. CAPITOLO for today because of illness in the family.

Mrs. Varallo for Mr. LEONARD for the remainder of today's session.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1572, entitled:

An Act amending the "Second Class County Code" approved July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) further regulating employees' eligibility for retirement allowances and reinstatement and requirements for credit for previous service.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill, House Bill 1572, which was amended after being recalled from the Governor, and this will be the first official roll call of the day. I ask the Members on this side support the bill by voting "Aye" in the affirmative. The amendments were placed in the bill by Mr. Walsh, I believe, of Allegheny County.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

VOTE AGAINST AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL
No. 1115

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, just a few moments ago Senate Bill 1115 was introduced on the floor of the House. At the same time amendments to the bill were introduced and during the confusion I am sure Members from Allegheny County would have liked to have been recorded as voting "No." I would like to know if at the present time we could reconsider those amendments and have anyone who—

The SPEAKER. With the permission of the House the entire Allegheny delegation or the Pittsburgh delegation may be recorded against the amendments, if that is the desire.

Mr. FILO. That is desired, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The record will show so.

Mr. FILO. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, was the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, talking about the entire delegation or just the Democrats?

The SPEAKER. Democratic Members of the delegation.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I want to make it absolutely certain that Mr. Filo was not speaking for this Allegheny Republican.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Filo is not speaking for any Republican. He is speaking for the members of the Democratic delegation.

Mr. AGNEW. Well, he did not say so. It certainly was not clear, and particularly it might not be clear in the printed record at some later date. I just want to say in respect to that; this is one Allegheny Republican who does not follow blindly the arrogant dictates of the Allegheny County Health Department.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Alleghen, Mr. Filo.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FILO. A very limited amount, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, what were the nature of the amendments which you are against, Mr. Filo?

Mr. FILO. I believe they take out the exclusion of Allegheny County from the bill.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. In other words, you are against these amendments because Allegheny County Health Department would be affected, is that correct?

Mr. FILO. Would have been affected, that is true.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I would like to be recorded as voting with the Democrats on this amendment. Thank you.

Mr. THOMPSON. Also being a Republican Representative from Allegheny County and not hearing the complete remarks of the gentleman, I also endorse helping out our Health Department in Allegheny County whenever necessary.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2297, entitled:

An Act amending "The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act" approved June 2, 1945 (P. L. 736), changing compensation payable in certain instances adding to the list of injuries for which compensation is payable changing procedures clarifying certain terminology modifying the periods of limitations and making an appropriation.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 742, entitled:

An Act amending the "Legal Holiday Law" approved May 31, 1893 (P. L. 188), providing that when holidays occur on a Saturday Friday shall be deemed and declared a public holiday.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2016, entitled:

An Act creating a Pennsylvania Youth Foundation Providing for its membership prescribing its powers and duties and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Welfare.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this motion made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, is a part of a commitment regarding House Bill 2016 with a previous print number. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Devlin, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, and others worked regarding a set of amendments in this particular field in this bill. The agreement is to be fulfilled in the recommitment of this bill, and the Chairman so indicated to the committee at that time. Therefore, I ask that we do agree to the recommitment even though it is not the same bill that was reported from the Committee.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2295, Printer's No. 2004 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 413, entitled:

An Act providing for group life insurance for State employes establishing a schedule providing for payment and providing for reduction of insurance upon retirement.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. POLEN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 1, by inserting after "The" "Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the."

Amend Section 3, page 4, line 7, by inserting after "dividends" "brokerage fees or commissions."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, second line of Title, by striking out "and."

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after "retirement" "and authorizing the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies to act as exclusive broker for the purpose of contracting for insurance."

Amend Bill, page 5, by inserting between lines 16 and 17 "Section 6. The Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies is hereby authorized and his duty shall be to transact all business as a licensed insurance broker for the purpose of contracting for insurance under the provisions of this act and his powers and duties to act as a broker hereunder shall be exclusive."

"Any and all fees collected by the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies for the performance of his duties as an insurance broker shall be paid into the insurance fund provided for hereunder."

Amend Sec. 6, page 5, line 17, by striking out "6" and inserting "7."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of these amendments is to make certain that no brokerage fee in connection with a group insurance plan affecting 70,000 employees shall be paid to any person other than the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies acting as agent for the persons insured in this plan.

It is my opinion that the bill without these amendments would be uncertain in its interpretation and that it would be possible for hundreds of thousands of dollars to be paid to some official. The immensity of the sum involved is as follows:

We have 70,000 employees in the state who would pay in $50 a year for the group insurance plan, totaling $3.5 million. If the brokerage fees are only five percent, this is $175,000 annually. This money must be paid into the fund. I am told it is possible that it could be paid into the fund without these amendments. I do not agree with this interpretation. If we can spend days in clarifying liquor bills and we can spend days in clarifying horse racing bills, let us make it certain that $175,000 a year will go into the hands of the state and not to some small group.

I ask for and I hope that we shall get bi-partisan support on these amendments, particularly because of the fact that the sponsors of the other amendments state they are in agreement with the principles outlined in my method.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, these amendments introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, do the same thing as the amendments I offered except that they spell out in detail. I see no objection to these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1066, entitled:

An Act authorizing the recapitalization of limited life insurance companies and limiting the amounts for which such companies may issue policies.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1204, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled "The Vehicle Code" providing for testing of brakes by means of a brake testing devise.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTER

Mr. McCANDLESS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Motor Vehicles.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion for recommitment of this bill. My reasons for opposing the motion are rather simple ones.

In my opinion, an automobile is potentially more dangerous than a loaded pistol. I do not know whether this particular measure has any merit or whether it does not, but it seems to me we must at all times be in favor of highway safety and try to improve the methods in use for highway safety especially in connection with automobiles and motor vehicles.

I would much have preferred this bill to have been a shall bill as it first originated, as it was introduced in the Senate. The bill in the Senate was amended so that it became a may bill and that is the way we had it over here. As you know, early in the week I introduced amendments to make it a shall bill and there was so much opposition I withdrew the amendments so that the bill could come up in its present condition as a may bill merely.

For some reason a reaction sets in the minute you try to make any changes in the inspection of automobiles. Since 1953 I have been trying to get legislation passed in this House which would require a mud guard on an automobile. For some reason that is very unpopular, and I think maybe it is because it adds to the cost of the car. I cannot see that at all.

I am not concerned with cost. If the dollar and a half for inspection charges today is not sufficient, then it ought to be two dollars. We ought to concern ourselves with highway safety and the safety of the people who use automobiles and use the highways.

We should pass this type of legislation because it is my understanding that the present method of testing brakes is completely inadequate. The law presently requires a brake test of this kind. You must be able to stop your vehicle at 20 miles an hour within 30 feet.

The question arises, is this type of test satisfactory and sufficient? I have been advised that it is not because what you are actually doing in that type of a test is, once you put your brakes on, you have tested your brakes. From that point on your wheels have been stopped by the brake, but your car continues to move on the highway. So, actually, what you are doing is testing the friction of the tires on the road bed and nothing more. If the brake testing meters and devices, the so-called decelerameters, are any good and do work and do improve present methods of testing brakes, then all Members of this House should be in favor of an improvement. This bill as a may bill would at least implement to some extent the Department in continuing with research and trying to improve highway safety and testing of automobiles.

On Monday of this week Mr. Johnson, the Minority Leader, asked me certain questions about the bill, the amendment, and I know Mr. Johnson was sincere in his questions because he is as much concerned about highway safety as I am. I have tried to get some of the information he asked about and I think I have received it. At the present time there are six of these brake-testing devices that have been approved by the department here in Pennsylvania. Six different types of meters. Some of them I understand retail for as low as $14.50. They all have a very common principle. Those meters are presently absolutely required in the State of Rhode Island. There are some seven or other states where they are in use at the present time, such as, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Virginia, Indiana, etc. Delaware is another state.

I am not worrying about the expense to the operator of the service station. I do not think anyone else should. What we should be concerned with is the safety of automobiles and the safety of passengers on the highways.

I am saying, therefore, that we should not recommit this bill. We should let it come to a vote and you should examine your conscience as to whether or not a bill such as this has merit and will help with highway safety.

Mr. McCANDLESS. Mr. Speaker, I am as much interested in highway safety as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, and I see no need for this type of bill cluttering up the desk after the main bill, since he has already said that six or seven types of these have been approved by the department if they want to use them. It would seem to me that probably the next step would be to try to push that into a shall bill.

I know we have a Member on this side who has one of these machines and told me he would sell it for a fraction of what it cost him. I want to say this to the Members of this House, I have been a dairyman for many years and used to being visited by an inspector pretty often. Every once in a while one would come along with something we had to have that we did not know anything about, and the next day a salesman would drop in and try to sell this gadget or whatever it might be. I think something like that might be the case in this particular instance.

I say that there is no use in cluttering up the desk with this bill, a may bill. If it had any merits it should have been put before the House as a shall bill. I would like to see this bill recommitted and ask for a slow roll call on this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division was called for, seventy-seven Members having voted in the affirmative and forty-four in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. KAMYK asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Welfare to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STROUP asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, my comments concern the expose of the manipulations of the Tax Equalization Board as it was reported in today's newspapers. I shall establish, I think, that the reports of this board in the years 1958 and 1959 have been arbitrary and illegal.

The 1958 report certified real estate values in Pennsylvania at $32,707,000,000, but the actual base value of $38,479,000,000 determined by the board was arbitrarily reduced by 15 percent in order to arrive at the reported figure. The net effect of this illegal action was to provide ten times more state school subsidy for a million dollar district per teaching unit than a $100,000 district could receive. For example, a $900,000 school district, by reason of this 15 percent reduction, gained $694.85 per teaching unit, while a $200,000 teaching unit district gained $154.41 per teaching unit.

Obviously, this arbitrary policy for which there is no comment whatsoever, or authority, in the act greatly favors the high market value per teaching unit district, and such districts as Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and other urban areas profited thereby. We shall readily admit that Pittsburgh and Philadelphia need money for their schools just as indeed do desperately the third and fourth class school districts.

Handling reports this way is no way to do the job, nor was it within the purview of any intention whatsoever or within the legality of the statute that such action should ever be taken by this Board.

Short days ago we were informed by the distinguished gentleman from Greene to the effect, and I cannot quote him exactly, but too long the cities and the urban areas have been denied their fair share of school subsidies while the rural areas basked in the favoritism of the Legislature. Now, that is not exact, but it was to that effect. If such were true, and I deny that it is true, the Tax Equalization Board has taken good care of the wealthier districts, and illegally, too.

On June 30, 1959, this board of arbitrary finality—there is no appeal for what they do, you know—issued its market valuation report. We well remember the day. On or about the fourth of July the fireworks started. Here in the House consternation was rampant. Rural school districts all over the state sensed disaster, for the new market values certified a decrease in real estate values of around $500 million in Philadelphia, and correspondingly so in the wealthier districts, while the poor districts had certified increased values. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, nine of the second-class school districts, and seven counties profited greatly thereby, I think to the extent of about $5.5 million, while certain third and fourth class districts lost about $7 million in state subsidies.

Strangely enough, it did seem odd to some of us that Pittsburgh and Philadelphia real estate should suddenly depreciate so greatly considering the spectacular rebirth and the many great improvements that have been made in those cities in the past several years, particularly by the Democratic administration in those cities, and more so, indeed, when we considered the facts that one could almost entertain an increase in values because of the inflated purchasing power of the dollar. But, we reasoned, if the Board said so it is our creature—it must be so, and so it was.

So, with characteristic resourcefulness this Legislature strove to avert catastrophe. We talked about a freeze clause in the General Appropriations bill and we talked about a freeze clause in House Bill 1108, and we finally enacted a freeze clause so that we would stabilize matters for the poor school districts, and then we talked about moving the average for '56, '57, and '58 so as to control this Tax Equalization Board, and now we have on our calendar a certification bill for the odd numbered years. All this in order to preclude a repetition of this unhappy situation. So, by dint of concerted legislative action the poor districts have been held stable for a little while, and the well-heeled districts keep their hard-earned gains.

We begin to doubt the bona fides of the work of this creature of ours, the Tax Equalization Board. It seems we have had the faith of a child. I remember standing before this House and stating in my naive manner, as a little boy from out of the hills of Pennsylvania, that I would be the last to charge this Board or the Administration with any possible chicanery in such a matter. Well, it was just one of those things. We third and fourth class school district boys here in the Legislature calmed our rising fears and redoubled our efforts in behalf of House Bill 1108, having great confidence in the oft-repeated lip service which the Administration has given to public education in Pennsylvania.

Now as we approach the dying hours of this Session, the handwriting looms darkly on the wall, for that which should be first in our deliberations, the education of our children in our public schools, has been shunted into the ash-can to receive the crumbs from this enormous budget after all else, including our departments have feasted sumptuously from the largest of its $400 million increase.

Last Tuesday night in the other Body, a bitter battle took place over the confirmation of Messrs. Bevec and McGlinchey to the Tax Equalization Board for another four years. Certainly they deserved this appointment at the hands of the Administration for a job well and faithfully done, "thou good and faithful servant," even though certain Democratic Senators maintained that Mr. Glinchey had not participated in the Board's certification of values and this despite the commandments of Sections 8 and 11 of the Act which require the Board to compile data and determine values. Notice the emphasis on the word "Board".

Well, today in the Patriot and other newspapers came the coup de grace. The cat is out of the bag, for we learn that Mr. Frank Cochran, the third member of the Board and the Secretary of the Board did not sign the Board report of 1959, that his name was forged and apparently placed on this report at the direction of the chairman and that he never would have agreed to it had he known such intense increase in subsidy would have gone to Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

We believe there is something drastically wrong. This situation does not smell good; in fact, the stench is seeping out of the Capitol dome. May I respectfully request that if His Excellency, the Governor, had nothing to do with such a report, and I do not think he had, he should immediately withdraw his nominations and disavow the 1959 report. Furthermore I submit it is high time, in the light of all these facts, and even if they were not conclusive facts, in the light of these suspicions, that we in the Legislature take steps to invalidate the 1959 report, return to the 1958 valuations, until a reliable, responsible, untarnished report can be secured in 1960 by a new untarnished board.

I now yield to Mr. Tompkins from Cameron.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Bedford yields to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Does the gentleman from Greene desire to be recognized?

Mr. McCANN. I do.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to be recognized before the gentleman from Cameron?

Mr. McCANN. Yes, I do. There is a question of unanimous consent here. Are we going into a chain command discussion regarding the Tax Equalization Board? If we are, we are ready to reply.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has been informed that the gentleman from Cameron is going to speak on the same subject.

Mr. McCANN. Precisely so.

Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding it is a series of chain command regarding the discussion. This board is an honest board, and we want to put in a reply. If that is so, I stand here to object to unanimous consent to have honest men's characters chastized by statements that have no truth.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene permit the Chair to recognize the gentleman to whom Mr. Stroup had yielded and then let the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, reply?

Mr. McCANN. I believe it would have been better had I been consulted as to what the speech was going to be about before I granted the unanimous consent. But, since I have, I have already fulfilled that, I think it is only fair to say, because I have always notified the other party when I intended to rip into them, I am going to do it today then.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. I come from the county that the Chairman of that Board is from, Mr. Speaker, and I withdraw my consent to the speakers to speak on this subject.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman had already been given unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. I have not given my consent to this speaker to address the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman did not object when unanimous consent was requested. The gentleman is objecting too late. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

For what purpose does the gentleman from Erie, Mr. SchAAF, rise?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, under the ruling the Chair made several months ago, I understood that unanimous consent could be withdrawn at any time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, please come to the desk? The Chair would like to have just a brief conference.

(After a period of time)

The Chair is of the opinion that the Majority Leader should be given the opportunity to answer any debate by any individual, and, therefore, before recognizing the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, the Chair now recognizes the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann.

Mr. McCANN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

I think this comes as another fine example of Republican strategy in leadership regarding the present situation they are in.

The State Tax Equalization Board, by law a creature of the legislature, completed a job and filed a report that is required by law. That entire committee faced a Republican Senate committee for, I believe, a total of four or five days, regarding that report and every phase of it. Did they find anything illegal, as the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Stroup, says? Did they find anything that was done not in compliance with the law? I think the answer is quite clear. I think one thing you can say is that you are running a losing battle and you have made your own bed in this situation.

For example, the name of John Bevec, Washington County Democrat, Chairman of the State Tax Equalization Board, if I remember correctly, was laid on the table the other night in the Senate, with no action taken either to confirm or to knock it down. He is an honest Christian man, a church man, a man who works five days a week, at least eight hours a day every day in his office of the State Tax Equalization Board; a man who I personally know will never even travel in a state car in which he is entitled to go to his own home and back, who rides public transportation or rides with some of the other members, who does not file an expense account. Did you know that? He draws his salary, works every day; a man who I have known for 15 years of my personal life. I know no matter what I asked him to do the answer would be, no, unless it could be done honestly. That is number one.

He is a man who would not illegally sign his name to a report. I say to you the people of Pennsylvania can judge the report by the caliber of the man who heads the Commission, the finest example of Christian man you will find in Pennsylvania.

Now what is the Senate doing in this case? The report was filed legally, completed, certified, transmitted; copies are in everyone's possession, the official State Tax Equalization market value report of every school district in the Commonwealth as required by law.

The other night the Senate did what? It acted both as a jury and a judge. If the report is illegal, let's see where it is illegal. Is it illegal in the county of Greene, that I know something about. In my own county some of the school districts' valuations were raised, some lowered. Was it then done politically? If it was, then it was done politically against me and my Party as Democrats, for two of the districts that were raised are Republican townships, the only two in the county. This could not have been political. It is not political. You say then that it was done for the great city of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

I say to you that men like John Bevec or Herbert McGlinchey would never consent to such a report unless it was done in the compliance of the law, and the thing that I think we need to say is that the Tax Equalization Board, from its inception has never done the job it was supposed to do and required to do by law. Do you disagree with that statement? If you disagree then there is something wrong with the report. And if it is illegal, you have due process through this legislative chamber and the Senate, which is in control of the Republican Party, to start your investigation and process, which was what they were seeking when they were before the committee, and they failed to do it because there are no grounds to base it on.

To place into the record of this House statements to tarnish the names of those men, which the Senate is trying to do, because they are acting both as a judge and a jury, to put up the name of Herbert McGlinchey and then vote it down, and then if they desire to do it to John Bevec and Garlock of New Kensington, which they did, that is within their power, but I say to you the people of Pennsylvania and the editorials of the newspapers of this state are making the decision for you in our favor.

We want you to go right ahead the way you have been doing in those decisions because we will take our case to the people in the coming election, whether you choose to make it next fall or in the gubernatorial year. These men have not carried out any orders of any Governor. No Governor of this Commonwealth has ever issued such orders. This Tax Equalization Board has done an honest piece of work. And I am proud to say is representative of my Democrat party. I will stand in front of my maker to say to you that it is an honest report, and you knew it to be such when you checked it in your own county.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, before going into the remarks that I have and the purpose of my being here, I want to first get a few things back on the track.

The Majority Leader speaks of the honesty of the gentleman from Greensburg, Mr. Cochran. We agree with him in that respect, because he was honest enough to come forth and disclose the truth of what took place.

The Majority Leader has said that Cochran did not illegally sign his name. With that we agree, too, because according to the newspaper reports somebody else signed it without his knowledge and consent, which further makes him an honest man.

In that respect, the news report this morning carries this paragraph on this situation:

Attorney General Ann X. Alpern said the signature fracas would have no bearing on the validity of the report since two other members of the three-man Board, Bevec and Herbert J. McGlinchey of Philadelphia, signed and approved it.

If that is the case, then what took place to bring about the charge of forgery of a name is much more reprehensible when that alleged forgery was absolutely unnecessary, and by those actions place an employee of that board in such a compromising position. Those are among the things which are the issues before us at this time.

In pursuance of that and because of what charges have been leveled in the press by Mr. Cochran, I have prepared a resolution asking for the appointment of five House Members to thoroughly investigate this, and with what has been disclosed here this afternoon, in my opinion, makes it so much more necessary that it be done because of the fact that what was done according to the Attorney General, was uncalled for, unnecessary and so absolutely out of order.

I have a resolution to offer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Would the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated regarding the report?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, tell us if the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Cochran, a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, signed the minutes and the certification of that report?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I have no knowledge that he did so and that is one of the purposes of my resolution.

Mr. McCANN. Well, suppose instead of wasting your time with a resolution, we produce the certification signature and the minute signature and prove to you all he did not sign was the letter of transmittal. What would be the difference? He signed the certification and the minutes; all he did not sign was the letter of transmittal. How would this change, in any way, any findings of this report?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is exactly what we want to find out.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly. I think he will find in the Senate hearing also that Mr. Cochran, a member of the Tax Equalization Board of Westmoreland County, signed the minutes of the meeting, everything except the letter of transmittal, he was not present on the day it was done.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have not compared the report with the minutes to find out whether or not they corresponded to the minutes. The minutes are not what we base our subsidy reimbursement upon; it is the signed report by the members of the board. That it what we base our subsidies upon.

You said he would not have signed it had he known the contents of this report. Now certainly those are matters that are a legitimate subject of inquiry.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to address the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair hears no objection and the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the name of a friend of mine from Washington County, whom I recommended to the Governor for appointment to the State Tax Equalization Board because I have known him for over 30 years. I knew him as a clerk in the county office; I knew him as the chief clerk to the county commissioners; I knew him as the deputy county treasurer of Washington County, and I knew him as the treasurer of Washington County. I know of no man in this Commonwealth for whom I have more respect, for his honesty, his integrity and his character. He would no more stoop to doing the things he has been charged with here today, he would never, and he has never.

I do not believe this is the proper forum to crucify men who have done a good job. Mr. Cochran, signed the minutes and the certification of the Tax Equalization findings. In a routine manner the transmittal was signed by, I believe, Mr. Barton, who has a brother serving in this House.

It is my understanding that it was only the transmittal, but I am assured and it is a matter of public record to which any Member of this House or anyone else can refer, that Mr. Cochran did sign the certification and the minutes in which it was done.

I have known John Bevec for over 30 years. In our county his character and his integrity are above reproach.

Until today I have never heard it brought into the disrepute that it was. I personally resent it. I do not think it is a proper function of this House to drag honest men through the mud, simply because they did a job they were required to do under the legislation in which they act. And I deny, now, that there was anything political about the findings of the Tax Equalization Board.

I might further state the previous member of that Board was from Washington County, John O'Neil, and I would say the same thing about him here today, that political considerations have never entered into it so far as the chairman, under either the Republican or Democrat administrations.

I have confidence in the men that have been on the Tax Equalization Board and I resent what has been said here today regarding the chairman of that board. John Bevec.

INTERROGATION

Mr. GELFAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. TOMPKINS.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, did I hear the gentleman quote the Attorney General, Anne X. Alpern?

Mr. TOMPKINS. You did, as taken from the Press.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the gentleman has indicated he has taken the quote of the Attorney General from the Press, am I correct in assuming he read the entire article in the Press?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I read the article that was in this morning's Patriot under the byline of Leonard Unger.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I think that inasmuch as the gentleman has read the article in the Press, would I be correct in assuming he read everything the article contained?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I read the article in this morning's Patriot.

Mr. GELFAND. Is the gentleman aware then that the article indicated all the minutes of the Board were signed by the gentleman, Cocran?

Mr. TOMPKINS. So the article said, and so the Majority Leader said from the floor this afternoon.

Mr. GELFAND. Then, as a matter of fact, all the gentleman knows pertaining to this matter is what he saw in the public Press and he has no personal information as to anything else?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I have not looked at the minutes. I have not seen them, no, sir.

Mr. GELFAND. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I say we have committed a shame in this House, that we have allowed Members to pick up an article from the Press and, by innuendo, besmirch some of the men who may be some of the finest in this Commonwealth. We have a Tax Equalization Board which prepared a report, which was submitted to the Commonwealth. This Tax Equalization Board was subjected to all the inquisition and questioning possible that the Senate could have given it. The Board was gone over thoroughly and the report was gone over thoroughly by the Senate, and nothing wrong could be found. In order to cast aspersions upon the validity of the report, what we have is, by virtue of a Press report, a group of men in this House, sitting on my right, completely besmirching the character and quality of the report with no basis, no foundation whatsoever. I say shame. This is not the place to play this type of politics. If you want to make a stump speech, get out on the street and make it, but do not besmirch this chamber. Do not besmirch this Body. Do not demean the dignity of the Pennsylvania Legislature by this type of operation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SHERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have spoken on this House floor heretofore with reference to the Tax Equalization Board, many weeks ago. I had hoped at that time that the rural areas and some of our naive boys, who often act as children in this House, would some day come to their senses and apparently try to live in harmony in this House. But to my amazement those are not the facts.

I was pleased to see another rural area Member, Mr. McCann, answer very ably those from the other side. I was also pleased to hear from him the other day, making a similar reply in which he hoped, as one rural area Member to another, that we should have harmony in this House of ours instead of, what I term, unAmericanism. I state that we have heard from our naive boy, and I say "naive boy" because I agree with Mr. Stroup's own statement, that he is a naive boy from the hills of Pennsylvania, in making a statement and at the same time stating that he is interested in education.

Actually, gentlemen and ladies of the House, I wonder to what extent some of our men who ordinarily make statements of that kind and type are interested in education. Are they interested in education to the extent that they have wasted 12 months of our time when we, the Democrats, have sought to do things in a matter of three or four months, if we had their cooperation, instead of sitting on something without giving one ounce of attention to such fields of education?

I have stated in my remarks previously, several months ago, that we may be termed the Majority party on this side, but the record will show that I have also stated, that you, on the other side of the House, get equal pay with us in trying to do a job, and you cannot throw the responsibility and blame on us, because the people will recognize that.

Let us see what you are trying to do. You have waited 12 months, and I say 12 months for what? In trying to make speeches on this floor and using delaying tactics from day to day in this House of ours in condemning those who are interested in the field of education, such as, the able men on the Tax Equalization Board of ours. They are interested. They have other men under them who have been sufficiently interested in the fields of education to make a careful study of the records in the counties and they have gone deep into those records in order to come out with actual facts. What has happened with those facts? The other Party thought there was something wrong, just like someone by picking up a newspaper and suddenly introducing a resolution, thinking out of his imagination or clear skies that something may be wrong. And yet . . .

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty, rise?

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the Minority Leader needs help from the side lines. I have been noticing that gentleman over there talking continuously.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct. No one is permitted to talk to the Members while the House is in Session.

Mr. SHERMAN. My speech, Mr. Speaker, may be a little longer than usual because this is not only a matter of making a statement, but I consider it a matter of personal privilege which affects our very district in making these statements.

I state in considering Philadelphia and considering the other counties, we in Philadelphia have taken over a lot of properties. We have shown to you as Members of the House, and to the Senate, in a proper investigation by them, because they thought, as some naive boy in this House thought, that something may have been wrong. And what have those naive boys from the hills of Pennsylvania found out? They have wasted the taxpayers' money and came to the conclusion that there is absolutely nothing wrong. They have made a complete investigation and had a cross-examination of both McGlinchey and the other members of the State Tax Equalization Board. They found nothing wrong and praised them.

Not only that, they found that everything was legal and proper under all circumstances. Why are you making these speeches? Why are you condemning them when you should not, when you should actually consider matters which are important to this House and try to get rid of the business of this House?

Let us take Mr. McGlinchey, whom I have personally known for many years and I vouch for his character a hundred percent. He has been cleared of all wrongdoing, even though it may have been politically inspired by some of you Republicans. He has been cleared by the Government and he has been ably commended by your own Senators. He has been the only man who has licked your candidate, Hugh Scott, in the state of Pennsylvania as a Congressman, and he has been given a vote of confidence by his district, which is one of the largest in the state of Pennsylvania as far as a Congressional District.

You now charge him of wrongdoing. I state, now you come here twelve months later and, if anyone says his name was not put up properly, where was he months ago before this House was to adjourn? Where was he six months ago, and three months ago? You felt that perhaps some of us might not be present today and you try to besmirch the character of our good citizens of the state of Pennsylvania. I claim what you say now is absolutely un-American. An apology is owed, not to me, for I do not need an apology, but to the other rural area Members of our state in Pennsylvania and perhaps to others who do not deem themselves as naive as to be mere children or boys as admitted by Mr. Stroup.

Once again I say let us have harmony and let us hear what you have to say in the proper form, based on actual facts and not upon lies.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STECKEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, me thinks that the last gentleman protests too much.

You know we did not come here to judge Caesar's wife; we did not start out on that basis in the first place. We started out on the basis that we had here a three-man body that dispenses by its determinations about half of the general fund of this Commonwealth.

We did not start the discussion as a personal criticism of Caesar's wife; rather, we are dealing with a three-man board that dispenses approximately one-half of our general fund money by their determinations. For this Legislative body here to attempt to find out from the administrative body, which it created, the methods it uses in arriving at its final figures is certainly not a result to be impugned by either side of this House.

If these figures which these three men arrive at are of the most importance to every school district in our Commonwealth, surely we do not stand here and argue—and we are leaving all personalities out of this—that for the people or for this body to find out how this State Tax Equalization Board arrived at its conclusions, and how this money is dispersed throughout the state is an improper purpose. Anything that we use to arrive at this end is certainly for a good purpose.

No one here, I believe, intended to impugn any of these individuals personally, and that is why I said that I think some on the other side protest too much.

When we have, as I said, a three-man board to disperse several hundred million dollars of the taxpayers' money, it is not only our right but our duty to see, and that the public has a right to find out, how this money is dispersed. I think we have become entirely too overheated over the personality picture this afternoon.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FOERSTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was over in the other Chamber until the early hours of the morning yesterday, when I witnessed one of the most shocking things that has ever happened to me in my short lifetime. Yesterday it kept gnawing away at me and during caucus I sat down and typed out a little statement. After showing it to several of my counsels, they advised me not to give it, but after what has happened here today, I feel compelled to read the statement.

On December 16 at 3:30 a. m. our democratic way of life and our constitutional representative government in this Commonwealth suffered a severe blow. All the public servants serving our great Commonwealth also suffered a severe blow.

I am only a freshman in this House, but what took place in the early hours of the morning was the most disgraceful, dastardly, despicable action engineered by a group of small-minded, selfish men that I have ever witnessed.

Two of our public servants on the State Tax Equalization Board were publicly indicated for "suspicion" of wrongdoing. I repeat, the only charge made against these two men was "suspicion"—a very un-American word and not worthy of consideration by supposedly honorable men.

Mr. Speaker, I pray to Almighty God that I, or any Member of this House, will never have to stand on trial as these two fine public servants, Mr. McGlinchey and Mr. Garlock, had to stand on trial in the early hours of the morning—a trial constructed on one word "suspicion."

If public servants in our Commonwealth have to be fearful of their jobs and to be publicly indicted and disgraced on charges of "suspicion" of wrongdoing because they have done an honest job and the Republican party is fearful and angry at the results of an honest job, then I think it is time each and every Member of this House raises his voice on high in protest.

I do not think I would be performing the duties of my office if I did not speak out against such deceitful actions against the people of our Commonwealth. I ask that all Members of this House join me, individually and collectively, and raise their voices in protest, especially the Republican Members of this House, because it is your party that has committed this dastardly crime.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FRANK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the last hour or hours and fifteen minutes we have seen many tempers flare up here. It proves one thing we have been here too long.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I call for the order of the day.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1616.

An Act providing for the creation of a commission Joint State Government Commission to formulate a plan with respect to state and local administration of public welfare services and to prepare appropriate legislation in connection therewith the appointment of an advisory committee in connection therewith and making an appropriation.

public welfare officials appointed by the Governor provided that not all of these officials shall be members of the same political party the chairman of the State Board of Public Welfare shall be chairman of the Advisory Committee.

Section 2, page 3, line 11, by striking out after the numeral "2" the following: "At the request of the commission the Department of Public Welfare is empowered to employ an executive director clerical assistants and part time consultants as needed."

and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "The commission is empowered to employ such additional professional technical and clerical staff as may be necessary for the purposes of this act."

Section 3, page 3, line 18, by striking out after the word "the" the word "Commission" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Advisory Committee"; Section 4, page 4, line 6, by striking out after the word "the" the words "Department of Public Welfare" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Joint State Government Commission."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 297.

An Act amending section 650 act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by changing the penalties relating to pawnbrokers dealing with minors under the age of twenty-one years.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment. The vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, line one by striking out at the beginning of the line the word "Repealing" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "Amending"; line 3 by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the words by changing the penalties; line 4 by inserting after the word "minors" the words "under the age of twenty-one years."

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out after the word "is" the word "repealed" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "amended to read."

"Section 650. Pawnbrokers dealing with minors.

"Whoever being a pawnbroker or the employee of a pawnbroker makes any loan or advances or permits to be made any loan or advance to any minor under the age of [sixteen (16)] twenty-one (21) years or in any manner receives directly or indirectly any goods chattels wares or merchandise from any minor under the age of [sixteen (16)] twenty-one (21) years in pledge for loans made or to be made to such minor or whoever acts as an intermediary between any pawnbroker or the employee of a pawnbroker to effect any loan the benefit of which shall accrue to any minor under the age of [sixteen (16)] years shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five dollars ($5) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25) for each offense or in case of nonpayment of] [such fine within forty-eight (48) hours to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding five (5) days] twenty-one (21) years shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) or undergo imprisonment not exceeding one (1) year or both."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CON- CURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1195, entitled:

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. TOMPKINS and STROUP.

RESOLUTION No. 133.

In the House of Representatives, December 17, 1959.

Frank Cochran, a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, has said that he did not sign the 1958 Report of Real Estate Market Value filed and released June 30, 1959, and charges that his signature on said report is a "forgery".

Frank Cochran has stated that he did not see the report before it was released; and that he would not have signed it had he seen it; and that he "didn't know anything about it until it came out".

Said report is the basis upon which State subsidies are reimbursed to over 2,300 school districts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

These are grave and serious charges which cast reflection upon public officials and public employees; and in this instance, creates doubts and apprehension and casts suspicion upon the findings, reports and certifications of this Board, which in turn undermines confidence in the value of this Board as an agency to determine school subsidies, which can be detrimental to the entire program of public education in this Commonwealth; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to investigate and report to the House:

1. The truth or falsity of the charges that the signature of Frank Cochran to the 1958 State Tax Equalization Report and Certification Real Estate Market Values filed and released June 30, 1959 is a forgery.

2. To determine the circumstances by which the signature of Frank Cochran is attached to said report.

3. To determine whether any of the information contained in said report would have been any different had the same been properly reviewed by Frank Cochran prior to the time of the submission and release of said report.

4. To determine whether any school district in this Commonwealth has suffered and will suffer as a result of this alleged forged report.

5. And such other matters which may be brought to the attention of the committee appertaining or germane thereto; and which should be brought to the attention of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may hold hearings, take testimony and make its investigations at such places as it shall deem necessary within this Commonwealth. It may issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, commanding any person to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee deems necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Any person who wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee so appointed shall report back to the House of Representatives its findings and recommendations as soon as possible.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

entitled "The Vehicle Code" authorizing the use of warning devices on commercial motor vehicles when such vehicles are about to move backwards or are moving backwards.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AGNEW asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, my presence in this House fooled me today. I walked in here and I listened to all the angry speeches and wild accusations and I thought for a minute I was in the State Senate.

Mr. Speaker, I introduced a discharge resolution two days ago on the Philadelphia Consolidation Bill. Slim as the hope of success as that resolution was, it was apparently the last hope that we had in this session to accomplish a much needed and much desired result in Philadelphia.

An editorial in the Philadelphia Inquirer, this morning's paper, Thursday, December 17th, is very interesting on this subject, and I would like to read it for the benefit of the Members of this House. Ordinarily I would offer this for the purpose of the record only but on the possibility that fellow Members of the majority from Philadelphia might overlook this editorial I would ask if they would tune in on my wave length and listen as I read the words of the editorial much in the manner of Mayor LaGuardia when he used to read the Sunday funnies to the kiddies in New York. The editorial is entitled "Democrats Knife Reform Bill" and I quote the editorial as follows:

"Philadelphia's Democratic Organization has enjoyed many triumphs in recent years. But its latest victory, staged on the floor of the House of Representatives, may turn out to be, in reality, a costly defeat.

The Democratic delegation in the House, which takes its orders from City Chairman Bill Green, was able in a showdown vote on Tuesday to kill off the proposed bill to complete city-county consolidation in Philadelphia.

The assassination was accomplished with the help of other Democratic Members by defeating a Republican motion to take the bill out of the hands of a committee which has kept it locked up since last February 9. The measure had been adopted by a unanimous vote of the State Senate. But when it was referred in the House to the Committee on first class cities and counties, it fell into the hands of the Philadelphia Democrats who control the committee, headed by a lieutenant of Bill Green, William Limper.

Limper has refused to call up the bill for committee action. The Republican attempt to discharge the committee from consideration of the bill was a last-ditch maneuver to save it from extinction. If no action is taken in the few remaining days left of the present session, the consolidation proposal cannot be considered again until 1961. The 1960 session will be restricted to appropriation and revenue raising laws.

The resurgence of the Democratic Party in Philadelphia has gone hand-in-hand with reform of the city government, with great stress placed by party and city Administration leaders upon the new City Charter and the elimination of the old county offices.

The bill which the Democratic Organization has blockaded at Harrisburg would complete the work of consolidation by permitting Council to abolish, merge or integrate the remaining county departments of Sheriff, Board of Revision of Taxes, City Commissioners and Registration Commission.

The Democratic Party platform has indorsed the legislation and Mayor Dilworth made strenuous efforts earlier in the session to pry it loose from the committee.

In making itself responsible for the killing of consolidation, the Democratic Organization has opened itself to condemnation by the multitude of independent voters and civic organizations in Philadelphia favoring decent and efficient city government.

It will be hard for anyone to take in earnest future Democratic platform commitments to consolidation or other reform measures in this city in face of the action taken by Bill Green's followers at Harrisburg.

Keeping the four county departments functioning as they are will preserve juicy jobs for a number of politicians, mostly Democrats. The Democratic Organization apparently does not want to disturb those jobs, whether or not their abolishment would be in the interests of the city. So it runs away from its own platform, turns a deaf ear to Mayor Dilworth, repudiates its pledges—all to save some jobs for greedy politicians.

It is not a pleasant picture—and it is not one Philadelphia voters are likely to forget.

So ends the editorial and I conclude my remarks Mr. Speaker, by saying that I heard a rumor today that the Committee in question may bring this bill on the floor of the House on the last legislative day. I say that would be political chicanery and I remind the Chairman of the Committee that he can hold a Committee hearing today, and report that bill out on the floor of the House. We still have enough legislative days to pass that into law.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SCHAAF asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on today, December the 17th, I would like to extend to each and every Member of this House my personal feeling that they have a very joyous Christmas and a prosperous New Year. And, since this is the spirit of giving, I want to express my personal thanks to the last speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Agnew, for his expression of the spirit of giving in giving to us—those of us particularly who cannot read—the benefit of what appeared in this morning's Philadelphia Inquirer.

This is not the season of dissension; on the contrary this is the season of peace and tranquility. I think, without criticism toward any Member here on either side of the House, that each one of us would do well to wish each other a very Merry Christmas.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. NELSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to quote several short paragraphs from a newspaper that is somewhat less than a Democratic organ, the Evening News of Thursday, December 17th, an editorial entitled, "Was Bloom Discussing Issues or Telling a Funny Story?"

So we don't know whether Mr. Bloom, Pennsylvania's Republican Chairman, was discussing an issue or telling a funny story this week when he addressed 100 GOP fund-raisers at Philadelphia on what a terrible thing it'll be if the Democrats win in 1960. They'll gerrymander the Pennsylvania General Assembly, in such a way, said Mr. Bloom, that the Grand Old Party never could win again in Pennsylvania. (Gerrymandering aside, some folks already have their doubts about Pennsylvania's weary Republicans now that Dwight Eisenhower can't be on the ballot any more").

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WORLEY. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I voted against Senate Bill No. 297, Printer's No. 1659, because this bill did not appear on today's calendar when the vote was taken, and I object to such procedure. However, I have no objection to the merits of this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman it is not necessary for it to be printed on the calendar under the Rules of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. DOUGHERTY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I was amazed at Mr. Agnew's heart bleeding for Philadelphia. It has only been a few short months ago when, in the company of Mr. Agnew, when one of us was drinking lager beer, the other one does not, the one that was drinking the lager beer professed to me that he loved it. When I asked him for a vote for the people of Philadelphia for beer in the ball park he could not do it, he could not vote the people of Philadelphia beer in the ball park. His heart did not bleed for the Philadelphians that day; it sure has changed.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 2150

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 2150.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 2295, Printer's No. 2004, be dropped from the calendar. The motion was agreed to.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked to notify the Conference Committees that are working now and tonight that the Chief Clerk's office will be open during the night to receive the Conference Committee Reports so that they will go to the Printer during the night.

There are, I believe, four more committees that are still working and have meetings scheduled tonight. Should they complete their Conference Committee Report, the Legislative Reference Bureau, approves and completes their work, we ask that they bring it to the Chief Clerk's Office so that it will be taken to the printer during the night.

To the committees that have meetings scheduled tomorrow morning beginning at 10:00 a. m., we ask that should they have a Conference Committee Report, which I believe they will, that they present it to the House as soon as possible after being approved, because we will have to wait until its return from the Printer to vote on the Conference Committee Report.

Again I repeat, the Chief Clerk's office will be open, probably up until some time near midnight to receive your reports tonight.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has also been informed that the Senate is going to meet beginning at 12:00 midnight therefore, those Members will be available, I suppose, for meetings tonight.

Mr. McCANN. That is right, Mr. Speaker. The Senate will go in, I believe, at 12:01 tonight, and then at some hour they will recess. We will go into Session at 10:00 and they will be running concurrently with us all day long working from midnight. We will begin at 10:00 a. m. We hope to finish up tomorrow evening at a decent hour.

I would like to state at this time that earlier when we were having the heated debate on the Tax Equalization Board and the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, presented the resolution, we have had available all during that time—I never got the floor back again—would the gentleman care if we delivered to him within the next five minutes the official records signed by Mr. Cochran so that the gentleman may glance with his own eyes at the signature of that member of that Board on the official records?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to doing such a thing, but we went so far afield this afternoon in some of our discussions that I think we missed the main point of our whole discussion.

There have been certain charges levelled in the Press, not by any Member of this House, but by a member of the Tax Equalization Board himself against other members of that same Board. Those charges are laying in the minds of the people as a result of that Press statement.

Certainly my looking at those records is not going to satisfy the people of Pennsylvania regarding what the situation is over there. No matter how I might feel about the thing, I do not know whether it is the gentleman's signature or not. So, we are in the position that we should look into this officially. Not just one Representative take a glance at some things, but we should look into it officially and if these people are vindicated in what they did, then they should be entitled to have that officially. If there is something else other than vindication, the people are entitled to know that. That was the entire point of what our discussion led up to this afternoon, and the purpose of my resolution. We are not trying to blame anybody, we blame nobody. The charges have been made by somebody else. Now that this is out in the open, in the Press and so forth, I think the House officially, not some Member of the House, should do something to clarify this situation.

I am perfectly willing to look at anything the gentleman has to show me, but I certainly am not going to give a statement of any kind vindicating, condemning or otherwise, until we get some basis upon which we can determine that.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would like to announce, before we take up one other item, the Speaker has informed the Chair that he will insist and demand the presence of a quorum tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock, before any business of this House is conducted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BUCHANAN. Mr. Speaker, on November 19th, this House passed House Bill No. 866 by a vote of 184 to 6. This bill changes the titles of the State Teachers' Colleges to State Colleges. Since then a number of people have asked me, would this bill if it is enacted into law automatically change a title in the School Code as in all other laws of the Commonwealth?

Today I have received a letter from the Legislative Reference Bureau which definitely states that if this bill is enacted into law, the title State Teachers' Colleges will be changed in all laws of the Commonwealth.

At this time I want to submit a copy of this letter for the Legislative Journal.

LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU HARRISBURG, PA.

December 17, 1959.

Hon. William G. Buchanan
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania
Dear Mr. Buchanan:

House Bill No. 866, Printer's No. 1974, is an amendment to "The Administrative Code of 1929" which changes the names of State Teachers' Colleges to State Colleges.

You have asked whether or not this bill will accomplish its purpose inasmuch as other laws, particularly the "Public School Code of 1949," carry the designation State Teachers' College and those laws will remain unchanged.

It is our opinion that the bill will accomplish its purpose and that the names of the State Teachers' Colleges will be changed to State Colleges.

Every act of the General Assembly has the effect of repealing all prior laws which are inconsistent with its provisions. If this bill were to become law, then it would repeal all prior laws to the extent of any inconsistency and such provisions in prior laws will be no longer effective.

Sincerely yours,

(S) DAVID G. WELTY

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Friday, December 18, 1959 at 10:00 a.m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 5:59 p.m. EST) the House adjourned.

HARRISBURG, PA., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1959.

No. 126.

SENATE

FRIDAY, December 18, 1959.

The Senate met at 12:02 o'clock a.m.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

May we all unite in that prayer which we were taught in childhood?

"Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy name.

"Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.

"Give us this day our daily bread.

"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen."

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. TAYLOR, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the series of resolutions I am about to offer deal with insurance bills which were prepared and introduced earlier in this Session, passed the House and have been in committees here for some time. They deal primarily with domestic mutual life insurance companies. Since the advent of multiple line writing in 1949, domestic mutual fire insurance companies have been writing casualty insurance in other lines. They have grown large and the reason which once existed, which justified special treatment of them because they were domestic companies, has since passed. The problems which they had, causing them to be nurtured and kept in a certain position, no longer exist.

These bills would make them subject to the type of regulations which everyone agrees is healthy and needed for all other companies, and which other insurance companies are now subject to. The Department of Insurance has found many inequities and potentially dangerous situations which it feels can be avoided by the passage of these bills.

House Bill No. 1465 would make the rates of credit life insurance companies subject to regulation by the Department of Insurance. These companies are operating under conditions where the normal force of compensation, which keeps rates reasonable and low, does not exist. They force people to pay a great deal more for insurance than they would normally have to pay under the regular rates, if they were able to afford them or able to go out and obtain this type of money.

In order to keep our insurance community healthy and to allow the people of this Commonwealth to buy the insurance which they need, I feel that these regulations, or walls that have been built around these companies, should be removed. Not only should they be in competition or be left at the level that the rest of our insurance companies are on, but I also think that the light of day should strike them in order for all of us to see what they are, how they operate and whether they behave in the manner in which we want them to.

For that reason, Mr. President, I ask that these resolutions be considered and ask for their immediate adoption.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON INSURANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1415

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, that House Bill No. 1415, entitled "An Act amending 'The Insurance Department Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one' approved May 21, 1921 (P. L. 789), extending the provisions requiring the licensing of agents to include domestic mutual fire insurance companies, and prescribing penalties" having been referred to the Committee on Insurance on July 27, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON INSURANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1416

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1416, entitled "An Act amending 'The Insurance Company Law of 1921' approved May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682), requiring domestic mutual fire insurance companies conducting certain kinds of insurance to license their agents" having been referred to the Committee on Insurance on July 27, 1959, and the Committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the Committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON INSURANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1464

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1464, entitled "An Act amending 'The Insurance Company Law of 1921,' approved May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682), prohibiting, in certain cases, domestic insurers from insuring the lives or persons of residents of, or property or operation located in, states in which such insurers are not authorized to do business," having been referred to the Committee on Insurance on August 5, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON INSURANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1465

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1465, entitled "An Act providing for the regulation of credit life insurance and credit accident and health insurance; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Insurance Commissioner; and prescribing penalties," having been referred to the Committee on Insurance on August 5, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON INSURANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1466

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1466, entitled "An Act amending 'The Insurance Company Law of 1921,' approved May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682) subjecting domestic mutual fire insurance companies to the provisions thereof, requiring approval of policies, contracts or certificates of insurance by the Insurance Commissioner," having been referred to the Committee on Insurance on July 27, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON INSURANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1467

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1467, entitled "An Act reenacting and amending 'The Fire Marine and Inland Marine Rate Regulatory Act,' approved June 11, 1947 (P. L. 551), including domestic mutual fire insurance companies and domestic reciprocals or exchanges within the provisions of the act, and providing for a uniform classification of accounts and records," having been referred to the Committee on Insurance on August 5, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolutions?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, on the adoption of this series of resolutions introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, I object to the immediate consideration of these resolutions.

The series of resolutions, as the gentleman has so carefully explained, is intended to release bills to the floor, and would penalize the little fellow in the business. The birthplace of the great industry, known as insurance, was in the small mutual companies.

Many times, I have heard, from the other side, allegations that they purport to be for the little fellow. Mr. President, here this evening we find the real truth. The gentleman purports and advocates the passage of resolutions which would penalize and, in many cases, put out of business these small companies that have rendered a great service to the people of America over many years. Tonight, Mr. President, the gentleman reveals his true hand. Apparently, or at least, the gentleman advocates the million dollar, the billion dollar or the multibillion dollar great companies. He would legislate out of the picture the little companies which are serving the farmers, the people in the small boroughs and hamlets and, as well, the people in the cities throughout Pennsylvania and throughout America.

Mr. President, I say again that we on this side of the aisle represent the little fellow and will protect his interests. We have voted for him and we have stood by him through this long, eleven and one-half months Session. At this late date, we do not propose to change our position and vote for the Minority Leader, from Philadelphia, who represents the billion dollar companies in Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I would like to say a few words on House Bill No. 1465, the bill dealing with the regulation of credit life insurance companies. This bill does have to do with the protection of the little fellow. Credit life insurance is something that has been abused. The rates vary and, in some places, you can get the same coverage in one place for twenty-five cents as you have to pay $2.25 for in other loan establishments.

The gimmick there is that many of the large companies pay their managers a pittance and give him a remittance in the form of splitting the commissions with him, fifty-fifty. Some managers make from $10,000 to $15,000 a year on the premiums gouged out of the little man.

This bill, alone, is an example of what is being attempted to be done. I say to you that you should vote for the discharge of the bill regulating credit life insurance companies which do affect the small man.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, because we are nearing the adjournment of the Session, I will not object to the immediate consideration of these resolutions.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolutions?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative, and the resolutions were defeated.

NAYS—2

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

HB 648—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to point out to the Members of the Senate the large scope this bill encompassess. I think they should give the bill some careful consideration. I do not have strong feelings about this matter, myself. However, I think some of the gentlemen here, who may not have anything to do with this type of matter or deal very much in the matter of law, might be interested in knowing how far this bill goes.

This bill allows, in a single action, the handling of a property settlement by the parties involved, as well as the handling of the custody of children and taking care of any kind of settlements the parties might have between themselves. We do not have alimony in this State. However, it also might deal with setting up an agreement whereby the wife could receive money for the child and perhaps encompass herself in the over-all settlement. This would also bring together matters that are now before the family court, where there might be some possibility that this matter could be worked out, rather than a divorce action being entered into by the parties.

I think this is a little bit far-reaching. I just do not think our courts at the moment are equipped to handle this type of a matter, because what you are saying to the judge is that you would like him to act as a chancellor in this matter and sit in an equity sense, and decide all of the matters that exist between these parties in a single action. On its face, that seems like a good thing. However, I am not so sure, when you get down to the very practicalities of the situation, whether someone sitting objectively, who does not know the vast difference between the parties and all of the heat that might be engendered by people who have fallen out, or no longer feel as friendly toward each other as they did before, and deciding the custody of the children, is a good thing. It is a very important thing. In our courts and in our law, the welfare of the child is the predominating influence.

For that reason, I feel that I would like to vote against this measure, even though on it face—and I have never had any strong feeling about it—it may seem right. I think it just goes a little bit too far in what it is trying to do. I do not think that our courts are equipped or ready to handle this matter outside of the family court situation or the judge hearing these separate matters.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I certainly respect the attitude of the Minority Leader in connection with this bill, and his reasons for opposing it. However, all I want to say about it is that it is a part of the result of a long study made by the task force of the Joint State Government Commission, upon which were represented a number of judges from Philadelphia and, I believe, the Chancellor of the Bar Association, very prominent members of the bar, practitioners in both Allegheny County and Philadelphia and judges from other counties, and their recommendations were far more comprehensive than are embodied in this particular piece of legislation, which is only a part of their report.

The only difference between this bill and the recommendations that were made by that task force is found in the discretion of the hearing judge. In the original recommendation, the task force requested that the decree in divorce must comprehend all of the things that the Minority Leader said may not be desirable; Such as, the custody, the disposition of property and property settlements and everything which is now done under the jurisdiction of the Courts of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions and, in Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties, the County and Municipal Courts.

It was our thought that rather than make it mandatory upon the court to embody in its decree the disposition of those matters, it should be discretionary because it is well known that in most divorce cases the matter of children arises, and the court hearing the case does not have the jurisdiction to dispose of that subject in its decree of divorce. This will give the court the right to hear testimony and decide that matter upon petition of the parties and upon the approval of the court to so do. In that respect, Mr. President, I believe it is a very desirable piece of legislation and one which should expedite the disposition of these cases before our courts.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it is not my desire to engage in a long debate on this matter. However, in these matters where you are dealing with people's emotions, and where people really do not have an opportunity to think very coldly about these things, sometimes, as I have found in my limited experience in the practice of law, there is a cooling off period by the fact that people sometimes have long waits before they go before a court or a judge to hear this matter, and sometimes the matter does not seem as imminent two or three weeks later as it did at the very moment when the suit was instituted or when the parties started having their problems.

As the Majority Leader said, and I must concur in his opinion, there are some good features to this bill and there are some very desirable features. I do not doubt that many people feel very strongly about this measure and feel that it is a good measure. However, by the same token, we are enlarging the scope. I have great regard for the task force, but I think sometimes the practicalities of a situation might be lost, and sometimes the members of the task force might not have had the same experience, or have had limited experience in this field, and perhaps the decision they are making on an over-all picture and on the face of it seems to be a good one, but it may not be workable.

As I said, I have no strong feeling in either direction about this bill. I just wanted to point out to the Members of the Senate how far it went, and ask whether we are willing, at this time, to go that far.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I think the scope of the court's ability to cope with this was satisfied by the amendment, which put "may" into the bill. It allowed the court to adjust itself to this period of expansion.

However, the bill is aimed primarily, so the divorce lawyers in my office say, at the fact that you had a record for a divorce which alleged one thing about a gentleman and proved it. Then on the custody proceeding, you had a whole new set of witnesses who canonized the person involved in the divorce proceedings. Then on the question of support, you had to bring in a whole new set of witnesses, and you had a completely different angle on the matter.

There are some people who say this will cut down the work of the lawyer. Yes, it will. However, the work of the lawyer is secondary to the welfare of the family as a whole.

If a person has secured a divorce on the grounds of adultery and it was not defended, but they come in later and say, "I did not commit adultery and I am entitled to the children," then certainly we are making a travesty of the law. This is a sound piece of legislation, geared to a gentle and a complete consideration of all of the family matters. We may eventually wind up with a family court, as three of our jurisdictions have at the present time.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, just to prove to the people at large that the Senators in this Chamber are persuasive, I believe I would like to vote "aye" on this bill and be so recorded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Everything happens if we wait long enough.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, if my vote should not be audible, it is because I have lost my voice. This is a surprise.

And the question recurring.

HB 2386—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, what bill are we discussing?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. House Bill No. 2386.

Mr. LANE. The General State Authority Bill?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct, sir.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have reviewed this General State Authority Bill in detail. I have observed that the conferees have deleted the improvements which were supposed to have been made at Mayview State Hospital; specifically, the renovation of the general hospital building.

I might say to the membership that I feel this is a mistake because this certainly would have been an economical move. The General hospital building is the old General Hospital of Allegheny County, which is on Mayview property. During some spare time that I had, I made a complete inspection of Mayview and several of the other mental institutions. It was my understanding that Doctor Downey, Superintendent at Mayview, had cleared this with the Bureau of Mental Health. I thought that the Appropriations Committee had all of the details with regard to Mayview.

What is happening, Mr. President, is this. At that institution, there is an overcrowded condition, and had the money been kept in the bill for the renovation of this old county hospital, I do believe that the overcrowded conditions would have been alleviated. However, that does not appear to be the case. Now what is going to happen, in my opinion, is that Mayview will be placed in a position whereby they will be forced to transfer some of their patients from this institution. As you know, Mr. President, Mayview, generally speaking, takes care of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, Beaver, Lawrence and a portion of Washington County. It seems to me that we are making a mistake by deleting this money from the bill.

In regard to the installation of storm sewers, you know we can be penny-wise and pound-foolish because those storm sewers must be installed. Otherwise, there is going to be flooding during heavy rains. Therefore, I say again that I am very much disappointed that we have not taken care of this institution. I sincerely hope that the leadership in control of this Senate will take this problem into consideration when we return for the next Regular Session.

And the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. BERGER, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor:

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY

January 20, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following persons for appointment as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State University: Richardson Dilworth, Philadelphia, from July 2, 1957, until July 1, 1960, and until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

MEMBER OF THE NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

December 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Ralph Campbell (Republican), Dornsife, Northumberland County, for appointment as a member of the Northumberland County Board of Assistance, until December 31, 1961, and until his successor shall be duly appointed and qualified, vice Oscar Kehler, Shamokin, whose term expired.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

MEMBERS OF THE COLUMBIA COUNTY BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

December 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following for appointment, as members of the Columbia

County Board of Assistance, until December 31, 1962, and until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, to compute from January 1, 1960:

Joseph C. Conner (Democrat), 102 West Street, Bloomsburg, Columbia County, vice Mrs. Hannah L. Groner, Bloomsburg, whose term expired.

Edward T. Kitchen (Republican), 154 East Fifth Street, Bloomsburg, Columbia County, vice Robert W. Coffman, Bloomsburg, whose term expired.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SB 773 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. BERGER offered the following resolution which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That Seante Bill No. 773, Printer's No. 1655, entitled "An act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled 'An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto,' prohibiting the closing of schools or departments during the school term, and providing for the payment of the salaries of professional employes in such cases changing provisions relating to excuses from attending school," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I request a roll call vote.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and were as follows, viz:

| | | | |
|---------------------|-------------------|------------------|-------------------------------|
| Berger, Chapman, | Hays, Mallery, | Ripp, Seyler, | Fleming, Presiding Officer |

| | | | |
|---|--|---|--|
| Confair, Ehrgood, Flack, Harney, Kessler, | Koprivier, Jr., Lane, Madigan, Mahady, McGinnis, | Miller, Mullin, Propert, Ruth, Scott, | Van Sant, Watkins, Weiner, Whalley, Wolfe, |
|---|--|---|--|

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

RECONSIDERATION OF HB 317

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 317 failed of passage, on final passage, on December 16, 1959.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. EHrgood. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. EHrgood. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, since we have a motion before us to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 317, Printer's No. 2099, fell, I want to make a few remarks.

In the first place, this is reviving—as we attempted to do a moment ago on another bill—a bill that has had the full consideration of this Senate. I do not think there is a single Member of this Senate, on either side, who has not had favorite bills, bills which they thought the Commonwealth needed, but which failed either in committee or on the floor of the Senate in passage. They were disappointed. I do not blame them, because I have had some in the same category.

Now we are attempting to reconsider a bill which the committee has given a tremendous amount of consideration. I say a tremendous amount of consideration because it involved nearly all of the time we have been in Session, and that is almost a full year. Now we are here in the closing days of the Session, and we are under a great deal of pressure. I know from experience what that pressure is. However, I have never occupied the position of Senator Berger or Senator Weiner, and I know that their pressure is many times more than that of any other Members of the Senate. I believe they made this motion and seconded it, but I am not sure about the second. We add to our pressure when we finally decide our problem, and then uncover the grave and dig it up again. That is exactly what we are doing here this morning.

I say to Senator Weiner, if he seconded this motion, that he is eminently unfair to one of his distinguished colleagues, Senator McMenamin, who took the floor and explained in very clear, very logical and in legal terms—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am sure the distinguished Senator from Cumberland County would not want to have the record in error. Therefore, I would like to correct him, I did not second the motion to reconsider this matter. I believe the distinguished Senator from Lebanon, Senator Ehrgood, seconded this motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia is entirely correct. The motion was seconded by the gentleman from Lebanon, Senator Ehrgood.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I thank the Chair, and I sincerely thank and apologize to Senator Weiner. I thought that he had seconded the motion.

Since Senator Weiner is in that position, I sincerely hope that he has the interest of his distinguished colleagues on the other side of the aisle foremost in his mind. They have been loyal to him. They have helped him. They have worked with him, and Senator McMenamin is one of the outstanding Members of this Senate on either side. Certainly, because Senator McMenamin is in committee work or somewhere else and is not privileged to be on the floor of this Senate at the moment, this bill should not be brought up when he has expressed himself so clearly and so well, and from a legal standpoint, on the floor of this Senate.

Of course, there are a number of procedures to which we might resort. We might ask for a poll of the Senate under Rule 36, which read as follows:

"When less than a quorum vote upon any subject under the consideration of the Senate not less than four Senators may demand a call of the Senate, when it shall be the duty of the President forthwith to order the doors of the Senate to be closed, the roll of the Senators to be called, and if it is ascertained that a quorum is present, either by answering to their names, or by their presence in the Senate, the President shall again order the yeas and nays, and if any Senator or Senators present refuse to vote the name or names of such Senator or Senators . . ." et cetera, et cetera.

Mr. President, I did not have my full quota of mean pills this morning, so I am not going to do that. I am simply going to ask the President that he instruct the Clerk to record the votes only of those present, and I am sure that is an agreement that we should have.

I am not unmindful of the many, many courtesies extended to me during our other long Session, or of the many courtesies extended by Senator Berger to those on the other side and to his colleagues on this side, and the same applies to Senator Weiner. He has extended many courtesies to all of us and all of his Members. However, let me come to the meat of the thing upon which we are voting.

I have been told by the Chair, and I have been told by Senator Berger here publicly, that we are considering House Bill No. 317, Printer's No. 2099. I sincerely hope that the statement I am about to make does not go out beyond the walls of this Senate. Let me amend that to say, beyond the boundaries of Pennsylvania or beyond the boundaries of the United States of America. I have definite information from a Member of this Senate that the Members on the other side of the aisle have been called to the front office and told to vote for this bill since it was defeated the other day.

Let me give you more information, and I am giving you this information because I charge the Democratic Administration now in office with insincerity regarding this bill. I will tell you why I am charging them. We armended this bill in the Senate. It was our full intention of having a bill that would accomplish the purpose that the many fine ladies of this Commonwealth wish to accomplish, and many men joined in that. They are hoping that Pennsylvania will be kept a beautiful State. With that, I am in full accord. I am in total agreement with them. I want the State of Pennsylvania to be as beautiful as any State in the Union and as beautiful as the pioneers who first settled this State found it.

However, I told the Senate the other day—and I am a little off my point at the moment—That I do not believe that taking a right away from a property owner, 660 feet beyond the limits where the Commonwealth or the Federal Government pays, is right or constitutional. Secondly, I do not believe this bill will qualify and I will give you the reasons.

A few days ago—December 15, 1959, to be exact—I received a letter from the Chief Counsel of the Department of Highways, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; a Deputy Attorney General, John R. Rezzolla, Jr. The letter, dated December 14, 1959, was addressed to me and reads as follows:

"Enclosed please find a copy of my letter of December 14, 1959, to Roy Schafer, Legislative Secretary to the Governor, concerning House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099. Also enclosed please find a copy of the proposed amendments to House Bill 317."

Now, gentlemen, those within my hearing realize why I checked so carefully about the printer's number on the bill that we are about to reconsider.

With that letter was enclosed a copy of a letter dated December 14, 1959, which reads as follows:

"Roy Schafer, Legislative Secretary

"Office of the Governor

"J. R. Rezzolla, Jr., Chief Counsel

"House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099, prohibits the erection and maintenance of certain advertising devices along highways on the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways. This Bill passed the House on third reading and final passage on June 22, 1959, by a vote of 158 to 40. It was referred to the Committee on Highways in the Senate on June 23, 1959. It remained in the Senate Committee until Wednesday, December 9, 1959, when it was amended and taken out of Committee."

Let me tell you further—and I repeat what I said on the floor a few days ago—that two special subcommittees were appointed to report to the general Committee on Highways regarding this bill. Neither committee could agree, and returned the bill without recommendation to the general committee. In the meantime, our distinguished colleague, Senate Van Sant, held a public hearing, which a number of citizens of this Commonwealth attended. Included among them were a number of distinguished attorneys, who were well learned and well versed in the law. Every consideration was given that bill in the hope that we could report it to the Senate floor in good form and let the Members of this Senate determine for themselves, when voting on a good bill or when voting on a bill that we believed was in good form—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would ilke to suggest to the Chair that the gentleman is going far afield on the motion that was made. There is merely, before this body, a motion asking that this bill be reconsidered. I do not want to be rude and interrupt the gentleman because he will only make this speech again when the matter comes before us, and I would like to pay careful attention at that time. I believe that under the Rules—and the gentleman read from them earlier and I want to make sure that we adhere to them—we are to speak only on the motion as to whether we shall consider or not consider this measure. I think the merits of the bill can wait until the measure is before us.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask for the privilege to make a short statement before you rule on his Point of Order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WADE. I may say to Senator Weiner, for whom I have the highest respect and he knows it, if I were in his position with this bill, I certainly would not want this second letter to be on the record. I do not blame him for his position, however.

Mr. President, if you rule that I am out of order, I would respectfully ask the Chair for the privilege of talking on the bill when the bill is reconsidered, if this motion carries. I await your instructions.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would now like to rule on the Point of Order and read from Mason's Legislative Manual, page 322:

"When the question to be reconsidered is debatable, the entire question is opened to debate by the motion to reconsider."

The Chair would, therefore, say and would have to rule that the gentleman is in order in discussing the bill if he so desires.

Mr. WADE. I thank the Chair.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to appeal the ruling of the Chair. However, I do want to state that if this letter is that important, I wanted to hear it under the discussion of the measure and did not want to clutter up this motion to reconsider the bill. I do not want to miss hearing this important missile or epistle which the gentleman has received regarding this important matter.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman please confine his remarks to the bill?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I will be glad to follow the instructions of the Chair. This bill covers the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and, with your permission, Mr. Presiding Officer, I will limit my remarks to the bill as it applies to Pennsylvania law.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would like to continue to read from this letter, after explaining to the Senate that the bill had the full consideration of the Senate Committee on Highways, including two subcommittees.

I now quote, continuing from the letter written by Mr. John R. Rezzolla, Jr., to Mr. Roy Schafer, Legislative Secretary, Office of the Governor:

"On Friday, December 11, 1959, a meeting was held in the office of the Chief Counsel, Bureau of Public Roads, Washington, D. C., attended by J. Shane Creamer, Asst. Attorney General, assigned to the Legal Bureau of the Department of Highways. At that time, Robert May, Assistant to the Chief Counsel of the Bureau of Public Roads, studied House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099, in order to determine whether or not this Billboard Bill would qualify the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to participate in the 1/2 of 1¢ federal bonus established in accordance with the highway laws contained in Title 23, United States Code."

I apologize to the Chair because I am beyond the boundaries of Pennsylvania at the moment.

Let me further explain, as was pointed out so ably on the floor of the Senate the other day by several of the Members, that this proposed bait, as Senator McMenamin recited, is only a bait. We know that is true if we read the daily papers at all. We know that this highway trust fund is badly in need of every penny to meet their promised obligations to the different States of the United States.

I continue to read from the letter:

"After a thorough examination of House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099,"—which is the current printer's number—"Mr. May stated emphatically that the Bill in its present form would definitely not qualify the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to participate in the federal bonus. Two specific provisions in the Bill, as amended, were in direct contradiction to the federal rules, regulations and standards.

"Since the bill does not qualify Pennsylvania in its amended form, I have prepared two additional amendments, which I request be introduced in the Senate. If these two amendments are added to the bill and the bill is passed by the General Assembly, Pennsylvania will qualify for the federal bonus.

"Will you kindly see that these amendments are introduced in the Senate as soon as possible?

"Thank you very much for your attention to this matter."

That letter, I repeat, is directed to Mr. Roy Schafer.

I telephoned Mr. Schafer. On the sixth attempt, I reached Mr. Schafer. Mr. Schafer said, "I have prepared the amendments. I have passed them on to the Minority Leader of the Senate, and I do not understand why they have not been offered." That is a telephone conversation direct with Mr. Schafer. Of course, I could not see Mr. Schafer, but I believe I could recognize his voice, having talked to him on previous occasions.

My charge is this, Mr. President: If the Members on that side of the aisle, who have I am told been given instructions to vote for this bill, vote for it in its present form, they are simply acting on a subterfuge. The Chief Counsel of the Highways Department said to Mr. Roy Schafer that the bill now will not qualify. Then, I am told, they have been called to the front office and told to vote for the bill. Is that good legislation? Is that the kind of pressure to which these gentlemen and yourself should be subjected? A direct statement from the Administration indicated that the bill will not qualify. Amendments, they say, were sent over, and the amendments failed to be offered. Now we are asked to reconsider a bill that we know, by the direct statement of the Administration, is not good.

Gentlemen, I repeat what I said awhile ago. We are all under pressure. If I wanted to be mean, I could invoke this rule of the Senate, Rule 36, but I am not going to do that. We are under enough pressure now.

However, gentlemen, let us be fair and let us be honest. We know by direct statement from the front office that the bill will not qualify. When I refer to the front office, I mean Mr. Rezzolla, Chief Counsel of the Highways Department, for whom we have the greatest respect. We asked him, in particular, to come to our hearing, and he gave us much valuable information. He enjoys the same position that we do. If we pass a bill, we want a good bill. Those over the Commonwealth who advocate the bill have a very intense interest. I think the bill will hurt industry. I think it will take a constitutional right away from a property owner.

Whether I am in favor of it or not, as was said by a gentleman the other day, the bill should come to the floor of the Senate, and it is here on the floor of the Senate. It was here and had a fair chance for passage. The committee acted on the bill. The committee gave it a great deal of consideration. It occupied the time and attention of the Members of the Highways Committee at two Highways Committee Meetings. It had a public hearing. It was referred to two special committees. Now at the final closing of this Session, we offer a bill which the Administration says is important; important to qualify for the federal bonus. Do we not bring this pressure on ourselves? We certainly do by digging up graves, and by digging up measures that we know will not accomplish the purpose that the good Members of this Senate who wish to vote for this bill hope to accomplish. Yet, we have this legal opinion from the Chief Counsel of the Highways Department that it will not do that.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, am I in order to interrogate the gentleman?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to wait, if he wishes to discuss this matter with counsel.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. In all fairness to Senator Wade, the Chair does not think he heard the question. Senator Wade, will you permit yourself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I will be glad to be interrogated publicly. I was being interrogated privately.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you advise us whether you are Chairman of the Highways Committee?

Mr. WADE. I have been this Session, and I have enjoyed that position.

Mr. WEINER. Would you please tell the Members of the Senate the date of the letter that you received from the Chief Counsel of the Highways Department?

Mr. WADE. I will be glad to do so. The date of the letter, which I received, was December 14, 1959. The letter to which it referred, and which I read into the Senate record, is dated December 14, 1959.

Mr. WEINER. This is the letter that you just told us is the one which states that in this bill, we will not qualify for the Federal money. Is that correct?

Mr. WADE. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Did you ever receive from the department any amendments to this bill, House Bill No. 317?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I know the gentleman is quite busy with his different tasks, but I told the Senate a few moments ago that Mr. Roy Schafer—

Mr. WEINER. Excuse me, Senator. That is my fault. I did not ask the question properly. Had you ever received from the department, directly, any amendments to this bill?

Mr. WADE. No, Mr. President. The letter states that the amendments were sent to Mr. Roy Schafer, Legislative Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. WEINER. Therefore, your answer, sir, if I understand you correctly, is that you never received any amendments to this bill from the department. Is that correct?

Mr. WADE. May I say to Mr. WEINER, the letter I received stated that the amendments were being sent to Mr. Roy Schafer, Legislative Secretary to the Governor.

Mr. WEINER. Then, sir, would you say that it is a fair statement to say that you did not receive any amendments to this bill from the department? Is that correct?

Mr. WADE. That is not correct. I received a letter dated December 14, 1959. If the gentleman wishes, I will be glad to reread this letter.

Mr. WEINER. No, sir. Senator, perhaps I am not stating my question correctly, and please forgive me. I will try to be a little more concise and try to make it clear.

Did you, at any time, have placed in your hands or receive through the mail any amendments to this bill other than the ones which the letter discusses, or those discussed in the phone call that you mentioned to us? Did anyone physically bring you any amendments to this bill?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President, that is right. Mr. Rezzolla sent amendments to the committee on two previous occasions.

Mr. WEINER. Right. Now did you look over those amendments?

Mr. WADE. I did.

Mr. WEINER. Did you adopt those amendments in committee?

Mr. WADE. We did. The committee did, but one set of amendments was changed from one time to another.

Mr. WEINER. All right, sir. That is the part I wanted to get to. Now those amendments which were given to you by the department and which were adopted in committee, did you adopt them completely?

Mr. WADE. No, the amendments adopted were a combination of revisions to the bill that were recommended by several different organizations, including the Roadside Council and several others. They included Mr. Rezzolla's amendments.

Mr. WEINER. Then, sir, is it a fair statement to say that you took the amendments which you received from the Highways Department and did not adopt them completely, but you made some changes in those amendments? Is that correct?

Mr. WADE. It is only correct in part. The entire amendments offered by Mr. Rezzolla were offered, plus other amendments which the committee felt would strengthen the bill.

Mr. WEINER. At any time, Senator, that you feel you do not want me to interrogate you any further or ask any questions, you just tell me and I will stop.

Would you then tell me, Senator, did you make two specific changes in this bill that were not recommended by the department?

Mr. WADE. I did not, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. When I say "you," sir, I do not mean you personally, as Senator Wade, but did the committee, with you acting as chairman, do this?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Potter, Mr. BERGER, will state it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, my point of order is that the interrogations of the gentleman are out of order for the reason that the amendments adopted by the committee or by the Legislature are the amendments which appear in the bill. Therefore, the remarks of the gentleman, inferring that the source of the amendments should have been the Highways Department, have no bearing upon this bill.

The bill is before the Senate in the form in which it was reported from committee, and whether or not the Highways Department desired any other amendments, or whether they had amendments that did not get in or amendments that did get in, is absolutely not pertinent to the issue. The bill that we are discussing is the bill before us.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not inferring that at all. All I am saying is that the gentleman read a letter stating that there were certain amendments that he did not receive. He then went into a long dissertation about these amendments. The only things I am trying to elicit, for my own information, are: (a) Did the department send him any amendments? I think the answer to that was "yes". (b) Did they adopt all of these amendments? The answer to that was, "not completely". The next question that I asked the gentleman was: Were there two other amendments, which were not part of the Highways Department recommendations, adopted by the committee and put into the bill? I did not ask—and I do not care—from where the amendments came. I never received the answer to that question completely, because we were interrupted by this point of order.

I believe that I asked the Chair before I began whether it was proper for me to interrogate the gentleman. I believe the Chair ruled by telling me to proceed with the interrogation, if the gentleman would allow himself to be interrogated. If I am out of order now, I will wait until this measure comes before us and debate it then. However, I feel that the Members of this Senate, before they can intelligently vote on this matter, should have the information that I am trying to elicit from the chairman of the committee. I only want to get the facts so that we can operate on those facts.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, whether or not the gentleman introduces extraneous matter into this debate by way of interrogation, or by way of direct statement, makes no difference. The bill, as it appears before us, is the only matter before the Senate. I submit that it is entirely out of order to try to bring in all of these outside and extraneous subjects.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to say that, in his opinion, the point of order raised by Senator Berger is well taken. The Chair would also like to say that the Chair has probably been derelict in its duty in permitting those letters to be read into the record by Senator Wade and, therefore, feels, in a sense of fairness, that possibly Senator Weiner would have a right to discuss them.

Certainly, though, Senator Weiner, when you asked the Chair if an interrogation were in order, you would agree that the Chair would have no way of knowing what questions you were going to put to the other gentleman. The Chair believes that if the bill is reconsidered and is then before us for a final vote again, any of these matters would be proper to be brought into discussion.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it is not my desire to go far afield, or to long delay this matter, or take a great deal of time with it. However, there are two points which I think should be brought before the Members of the Senate.

I believe the Chair ruled that under Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, under which we have operated, after a bill has been before us and is being brought back, it is perfectly proper to discuss this matter in toto. That is what I am doing. If I am out of order, it is not intentional. I am merely following the ruling made by the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman is not out of order in debating the bill. Senator Berger is correct in his point of order, that the only thing before the Senate is House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099, in its present form. The Chair could then caution all Members of the Senate, if they desire to take part in this debate, to confine their remarks completely to the bill as it is now before the Senate for discussion.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman allow himself to be further interrogated?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will Senator Wade permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, I believe the last question which I put to you was: Were other amendments adopted, other than the Highways Department amendments which you adopted in committee?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I rise to renew my point of order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may we be at ease a few moments?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease. (The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. May the Chair respectfully suggest to Senator Weiner that he yield in order that we may put the motion on whether or not we are to reconsider the vote on House Bill No. 317?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I will yield.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. MAHADY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17

| | | | |
|----------------|-----------|---------|-------------------|
| Berger, | Lane, | Miller, | Stevenson, |
| Ehrgood, | Mahady, | Mullin, | Wagner, |
| Harney, | Mallery, | Ripp, | Weiner, |
| Hays, | McGinnis, | Seyler, | Fleming, |
| Koprivier, Jr. | | | Presiding Officer |

| | | | |
|----------|----------|-----------|----------|
| Elliott, | Madigan, | Scott, | Wade, |
| Keller, | Probert, | Taylor, | Whalley, |
| Kessler | Ruth, | Van Sant, | Wolfe, |
| Kromer, | | | |

So the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion for reconsideration was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I very seldom rise on the floor to speak on a bill. However, I will speak on this subject because I do not want to make myself ridiculous by voting for this bill.

As the bill is amended, it is possible to paint any kind of a sign on a barn, anywhere along the highways. There is nothing to prevent a farmer from putting up a billboard by erecting a lean-to on his farm and storing some old pieces of machinery under it, and then calling it a barn. He would be legally having a sign along the highway. There is nothing in the bill to prevent him from building such a structure every fifty feet.

Therefore, Mr. President, from that standpoint, the bill is absolutely ridiculous. The main standpoint from which I am opposed to it is the fact that I am against confiscating property without paying for it. Under this bill, we are taking away the rights of a property owner for 660 feet on each side of the edge of the highway. We are telling him what he can do and what he cannot do. If the bill is amended whereby we are going to pay the farmer for the billboard rights along 660 feet of the highway, then it would be a different story. However, under the present bill, it is simply a matter of taking his land and telling him that he cannot erect any kind of a structure with a sign on it for 660 feet on each side of the edge of the highway.

I have an Interstate Highway going through my District. I have received many letters and many telephone calls from farmers who are collecting enough rental from billboards on their properties to pay their taxes on their farms. They are, therefore, opposed to this legislation.

For that reason, Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill. I think we are making ourselves ridiculous by voting for a bill which is amended such as this one is. This bill makes it possible to erect any amount of signs along the highways, putting any kind of a structure behind the sign and just calling it a barn. Therefore, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the remarks made by the gentleman from Cumberland were well taken. It is not my desire, on any kind of legislation, to prevent anybody from making their wishes known.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that this bill appear on Monday's Final Passage Calendar.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, House Bill No. 317 will appear on Monday's Final Passage Calendar.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any objections?

The Chair hears no objection, and declares a one-half hour recess of the Senate

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Some of the Senators have requested that the contents in their desks be sent home to them. The staff is willing to do that for them, but the Chair would like to remind the Members that we will be back in another Session of the Legislature, on January 5.

The Chair would, therefore, recommend to the Members that much of the contents in their desks will be needed by the gentlemen in the 1960 Session. The Chair would suggest that unless the Members have some particular reason for having this material sent home, they advise the staff not to send it to them.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. WHALLEY submitted the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1977, which was laid on the table.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON ELECTIONS

Mr. WHALLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to present a report from committee.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I offer the following report and ask that it be spread on the record.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The document will be spread on the record of the Legislative Journal.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON ELECTIONS REL- ATIVE TO SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 1

On January 6, 1959, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 1 (not printed), Legislative Journal, page 9, was introduced in the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and on the same day was laid on the table. On January 26, 1959 the resolution was referred to the Committee on Elections for consideration.

The Committee on Elections held hearings and received testimony with reference to the qualifications of the Honorable Benjamin R. Donolow, particularly as to his residence within the District which he was elected to represent in the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Every person and every group of persons desiring to testify or to submit documentary evidence on this subject were given an opportunity to do so.

The Committee on Elections respectfully submits that the evidence submitted was contradictory and inconclusive and, therefore, insufficient in law and fact for it to make any specific finding or recommendation with reference to the resolution.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

MEMBER OF THE DELAWARE RIVER PORT AUTHORITY

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SB 413 DISCHARGED

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I wish to report to the Senate that the Conference Committee appointed on Senate Bill No. 413 is unable to reach an agreement.

Therefore, I move that the Conference Committee be discharged.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the resolution I am about to introduce deals with the same subject as was covered by Senate Bill No. 413, which was sponsored by Senator Berger and Senator Weiner early in this Session.

It is unfortunate that the committee could not reach an agreement. It embodied considerable discussion and the bill was amended a number of times in both the House and the Senate.

We feel that this plan of group life insurance for State employees would be an excellent thing. However, the method by which it would be adopted is the matter at issue. In addition to life insurance, I think the Legislature should also study the matter of all other employee benefit plans.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Berger, Senator Weiner, Senator Watkins and myself, I am offering this resolution. It is very brief, and would request the Joint State Government Commission to make a complete study of all benefit plans in the hope that when another Session arrives, we can reach an agreement on a good, sensible benefit plan for faithful State employees.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY ALL ASPECTS OF GROUP LIFE INSURANCE AND OTHER BENEFIT PLANS FOR STATE EMPLOYEES

Messrs. WADE, WEINER, BERGER and WATKINS, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 95), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

The General Assembly requires for its use, comprehensive factual information concerning group life insurance and other benefit plans for State employees; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study all the aspects of group life insurance and other benefit plans for State employees and report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly.

HB 1380 CALLED UP

Without objection, the bill, which previously went over in its order temporarily, was called up, from page 3 of the Third Reading Calendar, by Mr. BERGER.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1380 be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am rising to oppose the dropping of House Bill No. 1380, Printer's No. 1810, from the Calendar.

We have spoken on this measure many times. I have pleaded with the other side to bring this matter up before us.

This is a matter which deals with allowing the best brains that we have to go to school regardless of whether these people used wisdom in choosing their parents. The only thing that you are discriminating against here is a man's inability to pick his parents. As a result of this, you say to him: "You cannot go to school, because we do not have a 'quota system,' but we do operate a quota system." The result of this has been to keep people who have ability and intelligence out of our schools and out of our institutions of higher learning. I believe this is un-American, and I believe that no one here would espouse this cause. I believe that nobody here wants to injure the right of the minority.

Of course, as you know, the minority is the minority, depending on what area of the world we are in. I think that we here should not continue this cause or continue this type of activity, which does nothing but disqualify people who are able to do a job or are able to undertake higher learning, without taking some active steps to protect these people. I believe this is the attitude that we are taking with the dropping of this bill, which is merely a statement of public policy because the bill has been weakened far beyond its original import. I think having weakened it down to this point, and because it is a declaration of public policy, this puts the gentlemen on the other side on record as being in favor of discrimination and being against having people who are best qualified in our institutions of higher learning and, therefore, actually losing the best minds that are available to us.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, there is a lot of merit, of course, in what Senator Weiner has just said. This is the kind of bill about which there can be a lot of emotion, because it is a bill which involves a principle which most of us, if not all of us, believe in and hold very dearly, and that is that we are opposed to the kind of discrimination that Senator Weiner described.

However, there is another principle and philosophy involved here from the point of view of the institutions of higher learning which are involved. That is the principle or philosophy of the intervention of government in educational institutions, particularly those of a private nature. I would like to speak very briefly on that principle, because I feel that this is not a question here of the superiority or inferiority of one race or color over the other, but a question of government intervention.

I might say that I am—as I am sure everyone here is—unalterably opposed to discrimination. I am not going to belabor that point and try to prove it by any personal references, but simply let my own record and my friends in education, business, social and political life, attest to that or not, as they choose. I think this, too, is the position of the colleges and the universities.

There is in this Commonwealth an organization known as the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities. It consists of practically all institutions of higher learning, the four year institutions granting the A.B. Degree and accredited by the Middle States Association. These are not only the privately owned and supported institutions, but also they are the State-aided universities. As a matter of fact, Doctor Eric Walker, the President of Pennsylvania State University, is President of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities. Just recently, the fourteen State Teachers' Colleges were invited to join this P.A.C.U., as it is known. Therefore, I think I am safe in saying that this organization embraces all of the colleges and universities in the Commonwealth.

Back in 1949, ten years ago, a resolution was passed by the P.A.C.U., and I would like to read it:

"Be It Resolved, That this Association of Colleges and Universities of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reaffirms its determination to maintain impartial and fair standards of appraisal of the qualifications of candidates for admission so that none will be denied admission to college and university study merely because of his antecedents, his religion, or his race;

"An Further Resolved, That this Association go on record both as opposing discrimination against individuals on grounds of prejudice and also as opposing any and all impairments or threats of impairment to the freedom of institutions of learning to determine, each to the best of its ability, which candidates for admission, among many, give greatest promise by their abilities and by their records of performance to make good use of the privilege to enter college or professional school and to study there."

At its Sixty-Third Annual Meeting at the Hotel Hershey, on October 20, 1959, this same Association adopted and passed another resolution, which I would like to read:

"Whereas, In both belief and practice the member institutions of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities have long dedicated themselves to equality of educational opportunities, believing that the welfare and progress of our society depend upon the discovery and fostering of talent without regard to race, religion, color, ancestry, or national origin;

"And Whereas, House Bill No. 1380 implies malpractices which we do not believe prevail, and entails governmental encroachments which administrative procedures of our educational institutions;

"Now Therefore Be It Resolved, That this Association opposes House Bill No. 1380 as 'an exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth' where mature and conscientious educational institutions have long demonstrated responsibility and concern themselves."

As is seen then, the colleges and universities of this Commonwealth have proclaimed to all constituencies that they do not practice discriminatory procedures in admission to their institutions. They believe that students admitted to their institutions should meet a general set of criteria that apply to all students, regardless of their backgrounds. Thus, institutions see discriminatory practices as a great evil. They do not condone it and they do not practice it. They are greatly worried, however, about two other evils which are present in today's educational problems.

First, they see in such a bill as House Bill No. 1380

an attempt by the State Government to interfere in the private operation of a college or university. Only recently, we have learned that Harvard and Yale, and just last week Pennsylvania State University, had turned back almost a million dollars to the Federal Government because they would not tolerate governmental interference in administering of funds offered to them. These three institutions joined Oberlin College in Ohio, Swarthmore, Haverford and Bryn Mawr Colleges, among many throughout the Country, in this stand that the government does not have the right to interfere in the independent operation of a privately incorporated college or university. House Bill No. 1380 is governmental intervention, and we are trying to force it on private institutions.

The other evil is this. Colleges and universities in Pennsylvania are deeply concerned about how they might secure, for their freshman classes, students of ability who do not have the funds to attend an institution of higher learning, not to mention those students of ability who might make a great contribution to society but have not been properly motivated toward further education. These two evils are among the most serious confronting higher education. We know they exist in fact. The colleges are doing all they can. The Commonwealth, unfortunately, is doing virtually nothing but making studies and offering bills of this kind.

Let us take first things first and deal with the problems of economic support and motivation for students who should be in college.

The problem facing us is not one of whether or not students are admitted to institutions of higher education on the basis of race, religion, or national origin. I stand here on this Senate floor today and say I think, without fear of contradiction, that I know of no students not presently enrolled in college because they were denied admission on the basis of the aforementioned factors. Sixty per cent of the Members of this body here attended or were graduated from institutions of higher learning in Pennsylvania, and I ask them if they know of any students in their institutions, either while they were there, or who are going there now or who are not going there now because of race, religion or national origin. The problems of motivation and economic support are the real culprits. I have asked many admissions officers the reasons for not admitting students to colleges or universities. The answer is invariably poor grades or lack of funds. When I ask if race, religion or national origin is the factor, the answer is always "no." I asked if they could give me the figures concerning the make-up of their classes in regard to these factors. They could get this information if they would take the time to gather it, I am sure. They have such information on the records of all students, but this information is used only by the personnel deans and the chaplains in their counseling work. So far as I can determine, the colleges make no fetish about the factors discussed in this bill. They make no effort to discriminate on the basis of them.

The colleges made no point of seeking discriminatory information from students who apply. Only those who are church-related asked for information relating to the factors heretofore described. Those who espouse the legislation that we are considering are the ones asking discriminatory questions over and over and over again.

No one has yet pointed to one person denied admission to any of our colleges or universities because of these reasons under discussion. Neither the Department of Public Instruction nor the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities has been offered one concrete bit of information pointing to a student who feels he or she has not been admitted to a college or university for reasons of discrimination.

The colleges and universities of our Commonwealth have dedicated themselves to quality and integrity in every phase of their operation. The admissions officer is a skilled and trained professional in his field. He has the responsibility of creating on his campus a community of scholars who can live together and learn together. The group of students he recommends for admission is homogeneous in but one way, and that is that they are persons of above average intellectual ability. In all other respects—race, religion, national origin, economic status, athletic or music ability—they are heterogeneous.

There are no communities in this Country which are more cosmopolitan, more representative of all of the people in this Country or more dedicated to the rights of the individual than those communities we know as college campuses. Why must we castigate these institutions in public with the shameful inferences of this piece of legislation? Is this the way we show our gratitude to the scores of colleges and universities in this Commonwealth which have served us so well?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I would say that the remarks just made by the gentleman are the same type of remarks that I have been hearing every time this subject comes up, and they are made by the same people all of the time. I think this is sort of an ostrich in the sand attitude. Suppose I were to demonstrate to Senator Elliott and the other Members of this Senate the discrimination of different people. It is not only in the minority groups. It runs through the entire groupings or ethnic groupings, if you please.

Let us begin, Senator, by pointing out to you that in The Evening Bulletin they printed two editorials dealing with this very problem, neither of which has been answered by any of the universities. I spoke about this on the floor and I have never received an answer from anyone here denying that it was so. The Philadelphia Inquirer also wrote editorials and news stories on this subject, and there also was no answer from any responsible person dealing with the universities that this was or was not true. An answer is all that I have requested.

I can point out to you, Senator, and show you that in the medical schools where a survey was made, year after year after year the same percentage of groupings are admitted. I think I might amaze you or surprise you when I tell you that the group most discriminated against in the medical schools is the Italian Catholic. They take less than one per cent of them for about a period of three or four years. Whenever there is a complaint by this group and they go after the school, the number usually jumps to five or eight per cent. It goes along this plateau for a period of two or three years and then it drops down again.

The Negro who lives in our community is also discriminated against. Very interestingly enough, in the medical schools in the city of Philadelphia, they found that they only took thirteen per cent of people of the Jewish faith, year in and year out, in every single year.

If they are not accepting people on the basis of anything except ability, then it seems to me that these percentages they accept must be coincidental. I think all of use are too intelligent to believe this. I would not test your credulity by trying to make you believe, as they would have me believe, that this happens year after year quite by accident.

I would also like to point out to you that as the school population grows, and as this group flows over into the universities, these discriminatory practices in which they engage are going to become worse because, of necessity, as your groups become disproportionately larger or smaller, these different areas or quotas are going to be more operative.

I attended one of the hearings—although I was not a member of the committee but I was there, I guess, rather on an invitation of sufferance after awhile—when these college presidents met here and discussed this problem. Some of them even went on to say that they must do this thing in order to keep the social aspect of college life in a certain strata. They said they had to take in a certain number of boys and girls, and there was a desire on their part to have an equal number of each group so they would intermingle socially. If I ever heard a devious argument, that was it. There is no ascertaining by the universities that the same number of girls they accepted from any one group would intermingle or come in with those young men accepted from the same group. We find in our life generally, in the community, that people do intermingle, and regardless of what the groupings are, people are attracted to each other for various and numerous reasons. As a result of that, the basis of the religious aspect does not come into it until quite a late date in the game.

What are you doing? As I said earlier, you are punishing people here, or denying them an opportunity to educate themselves because they have not used the same wisdom in choosing their parents as someone else.

To quote my colleague Senator Seyler, whom I think put it so well yesterday, "How are you going to have a community of understanding in the face of arrogance?" The attitude the college and university people seem to take is: "We are going to run this to suit ourselves." That would be fine, and no one would care, except that what they are doing in preventing able people and young minds and people whom we will need in this Country from being educated, because the day is not too far distant when you are going to have to muster all of the people in this Country to fight this war of ideas which is constantly upon us and with us every day and every hour of the day. There is no way of doing that unless you put them in a competitive position. If you will look at some of the other universities which are operative in this world, they are getting the best brains. They are seeking the best minds and bringing them here.

Let me point out one other thing to you. We have, as one of the leading lights in our missile program, a gentleman by the name of Mr. von Braun, who was brought here from Germany. We must have thought something of this gentleman to bring him here, from a Country which we had just defeated in a large war, to head a program. It seems rather odd that we, ourselves, are not doing anything to educate our own people so they can take such positions. It might very well be that Mr. von Braun might have been denied admission to any of these schools or universities.

I can show you, Senator,—and I encounter them every single day, being in political life—cases of young men who are turned down, not only because they might be of the Jewish faith or they might be Negroes, but there are also gentlemen of the Protestant faith who are turned down because the quota has been reached in these different schools. Although the universities couch it in very fine language, or in what is known as high class double talk or mumbo jumbo, the net result is the same. These people are denied admission.

I will say it to you this way. The studies made over the years show that a young Protestant boy, who has a B average, has a better than seventy or eighty per cent opportunity to get into medical school than has a young man of some other grouping who has a B average. This has been proven. There was given out here in the Senate last Session, and I believe again this Session, this study that was made. I would be very happy to show it to you, either privately or publicly, and if these people can say that this is not a fact, or if they will take a survey themselves and find that it is not a fact, I will publicly—the same way I am doing now—get up and say that it is not so. I do not think they are willing to put this to a test.

I suggest to you, sir, that they are well aware of the discriminatory practice they have been operating for years.

This is not governmental interference. This bill has nothing to do with punishment anymore than F.E.P.C. punishes anybody. It is a declaration of public policy that we are seeking by means of arbitration, because the way the bill has been watered down, at this stage of the game, all it is asking these people to do is to come forward and see if they can arbitrate this problem among themselves. No one wants to force any young man to go into college, or force any dean or any admissions officer to take Mr. X or Mr. Y into their university or their medical school. What we are saying is this: "If you are turning away somebody with a good mind or who lacks the ability, tell us why. Do not do it on the basis of his race, creed or color."

There may be some people who are organized or disorganized as a human being, or personality-wise, who should not be in a university. That is a different story. We are not forcing them to take the misfits in life either. However, by the same token, I do not think that you should shut the door on someone who has ability, because you never know which one might be another Louis Pasteur, a Jonas Salk or some of the other people who have done great things for our lives and made great contributions. It might be that the man who holds the answer to our problem of heart disease or chronic illnesses or cancer might be some young man on whom the door has been closed permanently and he cannot get in.

That is why many young men from our State have to travel to other States and other communities to go to school. It is not because they desire to do so, but many of them are driven because the universities or the schools to which they applied are already filled and they will not take anymore. If you have any difficulty finding that type of candidate, you come with me and I will be very happy to introduce you to them, let you interview them, and then you can decide why they are being turned down.

As a matter of fact, only about two years ago, there was a young man who was graduated Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Pennsylvania, who was being denied admission to medical school. I can give you the details of that case, and there are many, many others like it. It was not because he was not a good student, because, I think we all agree, if a young man can attain Phi Beta Kappa status, he must be something of value. He was able to get through college without any difficulty. He even participated in extracurricular activities. However, I found out that the reason he was not accepted was that he had applied just a little too late and that quota was already filled. The school, when it realized that someone was going to make some public clamor about this problem, decided to take this young man. It was not because of any influence that I or anybody else used, because influence should not be necessary to get anyone in any school. It is not the province of anyone in public life to use any kind of influence to have anyone accepted in a school. That should be a province which is completely reserved for people in the field of education and the university, as such. However, if they will not meet their responsibility, or the need of the community, or if they do it capriciously or do it to suite their own purpose, then I think we, of necessity, must act. That is why this has come about. That is why people are interested in this matter. I am sure if this were not true, no one would waste their time trying to pass this legislation or bring it before you or even hold hearings.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I would start where Senator Weiner ended and say that I disagree with that last statement to the effect that: "I am sure if this were not true, there would not be people interested in his kind of legislation." I am sure that such a statement is not true. There is no quota system. There is no quota system in the colleges and universities of Pennsylvania. Senator Weiner knows it and I know it. He may say there is, but there is no quota system and there never has been. Colleges have no record nor are there any applicants who have ever said, or who have ever come to anybody—not to this Senate, the press, the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, or anybody—and said that they could not gain admission into a college or university because of discriminatory practices. This just is not true.

We have heard a great deal of mention about the study of the Fellowship Commission, which I have and which I have read and studied myself. The first thing about this study is that it applied to medical schools and medical schools only. This medical school study, made by the Philadelphia Fellowship Commission, contains no evidence that institutions of higher education, other than the medical schools, were ever even consulted, let alone studied. They were never consulted concerning their reason for admission or nonadmission to their schools. All evidence is based on interviews with students who applied to medical graduate schools. And where were these schools? Were they all over the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? No, they were only the medical schools in Philadelphia.

The study made by the Fellowship Commission deals only with pre med students graduated from the University of Pennsylvania and the School of Liberal Arts of Temple University, and is related to their admission to medical schools. The study covers two schools out of all of the universities and colleges in Pennsylvania.

We heard some percentages given. Let us talk about figures. Of the 512 who applied for admission to medical schools, the final acceptance figures revealed this breakdown, not in percentages but in total number of acceptances: Out of the 512 who applied for admission to medical schools, the final acceptance figures reveal 192 Jewish students, eighty Protestant students, thirty-two Catholic students and three others. In percentage of acceptances out of the total number who applied, sixty-nine per cent of the Protestants were accepted, forty-three per cent of the Catholics and sixty-one per cent of the Jewish applicants. This study shows that eighty-one per cent of successful applicants were admitted to Philadelphia medical schools. Only nineteen per cent of successful applicants were admitted to schools outside of Pennsylvania. In as much as forty-four per cent of the applicants were filed with schools outside the Philadelphia area, it would seem that perhaps the problems of discrimination exists not in our Philadelphia schools, but in those outside of Pennsylvania, over which we have no jurisdiction.

It would be most unfortunate to enact legislation of this sort to correct an abuse that may not in fact, and does not in fact, exist in Pennsylvania, at least so far as the statistics reveal which I have quoted and used from the Philadelphia Fellowship Commission Study.

It must be pointed out that this study is extremely limited in its application. True, it covers a five year sampling, but it applies to students enrolled in but two universities which are located in a large metropolitan area. Inasmuch as the legislation here considered will apply to institutions all over the State, I cannot see justification for rules and regulations governing all of them on the basis of such limited statistical data.

Further, the study by the Philadelphia Fellowship Commission argues only that discriminatory practices allegedly exist in the medical school of Philadelphia. Simply because one finds an alleged abuse on the campuses of two institutions, we should not try to enact a law which intrudes on the rights of every institution of higher learning in Pennsylvania.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this debate. However, I believe that one of the things that should be pointed out here is the fact that most of the universities and colleges do ask people their race, creed and color. Now if they are not interested in deciding who shall or shall not enter, I do not believe that information is necessary in picking applicants for entrance to the school. After a person has become a student at the university or the college, if they felt that information was required, they could then obtain it and use it for whatever purpose it might serve at that point. I think if you are going to take people into a school and your primary purpose is in educating them, you must get those who are most educable. The only way you can ascertain that is by the grades they receive and whether they have the character and personality to follow through. This can be ascertained by tests and by interviews. I do not believe that the person's race, creed or color should enter into it in any way, shape or form. The most important things are: Will he make a good student, will he undertake to study the program that is being laid out and will it mean something to him and to the community when he has completed that course? That is all that the universities or any college should ascertain.

If they are not, as you say, Senator, engaged in the quota system, and if they do not have the setup that people say they do and that I say they do, they should not be afraid of the enactment of this type of law, because this is not government interference at all. This is merely a statement of public policy. If they do not act and do not do the things that others say they are doing, they have nothing to fear. It is like the honest man. He has nothing to fear in the enactment of The Penal Code, because it will never apply to him in any way, shape or form, and he does not have to fear that it might apply to him. The natural safeguards will take over and prevent him from being harmed or, in this case, his university, his college or his activity from being harmed.

I think that is all with which we should concern ourselves here. I think to engage in any other type of attitude is a mere form of sophistry and one which makes a make-weight argument which does not gee with the particular facts as they exist.

Senator, if you feel that this thing does not exist, I would like to have you come to the city of Philadelphia and interview some young men and see some of the people who have suffered because of this quota system. If you then can feel that it does not exist, or does not take place, I will be very much surprised, and I will be willing to support it because I know that you are a fair-minded individual who would look at this matter with an open mind.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I want to thank the Senator for his invitation. I want to say to him publicly on the floor of this Senate that I accept it in the same spirit that it was offered. I shall join Senator Weiner. I shall go to Philadelphia, and I shall interview any student whom he cares to bring to me. I do this with the same sincerity with which I am sure the invitation was offered. I welcome the opportunity. Believe me, Senator, I do.

Secondly, I also want to agree with him that the primary purpose is to get the educable students. This is what the colleges and universities in the Commonwealth are trying to do, and they are crying out to all Pennsylvanians to help them do this through expansion of plant, expansion of program and expansion of curriculum so that they can admit more of the students who are not statistics, who are not data, but who are living people on this planet today, who are coming to them and who are coming to them in great hordes. In the educational field, they call it the great tidal wave of students which we know are coming because they are already here. We do need help in this direction, and we do want the educable students. However, agreeing with that, I would like to ask, Mr. President, if the Senator would allow himself to be interrogated.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I should like to ask Senator Weiner how many admission forms or application blanks from how many different institutions—public, private, church or whatever—in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has has read in the last year.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I can answer that question. In the last year, it has not been very many.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Well, in the last three years.

Mr. WEINER. In the last three years, I have perused about, I would say, ten or fifteen, or something of that nature.

Mr. ELLIOTT. About ten?

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I thank the Senator. I would like to just point out to him that—without stating a figure which I am not sure is right because it varies, based on your interpretation of what one considers a college or university, but we all know that there are 100 or more of them in the Commonwealth—looking at ten application blanks or admission forms over the last three years seems to be insufficient evidence to make a statement that most of the institutions require an answer to the questions of race, color, and creed, when, in fact, Mr. President, most of the institutions, if any, do not require this information.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that the gentleman will agree with me that we do not have to take statistics or go through this great Commonwealth to find out that there is discrimination in housing. We do not have to also make any great surveys to determine that people do have certain prejudices in certain directions. It may be based on some fact or on no fact at all. For that reason, we have sought to correct the situations which, for some reason or other, cannot correct themselves. Maybe it is because we have not lived long enough with each other to do these different things.

The fact remains that the prejudices do exist. The fact that I have only perused perhaps ten or fifteen applications in the last three years is certainly no criteria, because I do not hold myself out as being an expert on the subject or knowing a great deal about it. I will say that of the ones I did peruse, every one of them had on them, in some phase or other, "religious affiliation" or "religious desire." What this has to do with whether a person can enter a university or not, I fail to see. I feel that it is pertinent after the young man or young woman is accepted, and I have no objection to it being stated on a personnel card, because it might be of some value at that point. However, I do not believe it should be asked at a time when an applicant is being considered. It is the same as considering someone for a job, and I do not see that it has any bearing. The only question should be: Is the man capable of filling the position?

I am glad the Senator accepts my invitation to come to Philadelphia. I will certainly try to make his visit very pleasant, even though we will be going over a very somber subject.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Senator Elliott.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Elliott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ELLIOTT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HAYS. Senator Elliott, these questions refer to the statement which you made concerning The Pennsylvania State University.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Yes, sir.

Mr. HAYS. Did I understand you correctly when you said The Pennsylvania State University turned back $1,000,000 to the Federal Government?

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I made that statement on the basis of a news story I read within the last ten days. If I said "turned back," I might have been wrong in my interpretation of the story. However, I think Mr. President, in answer to that question, President Walker at least recommended that it not be accepted. I think even further, unless again I am mistaken, there is some question in the minds of some at the university who say perhaps the university should. That is the best answer I can give you.

Mr. HAYS. Is this in connection with the Federal loan funds?

Mr. ELLIOTT. Yes, the Federal loan funds.

Mr. HAYS. Thank you very much, Senator Elliott. I am sure Senator Elliott would desire me to correct his statement, because it is true that President Walker made a statement objecting to some of the considerations that the Federal Government has placed on the loan funds. However, at the same time, he did say that he would continue to accept the loan funds. Therefore, Penn State is not in the same category as Yale, Harvard and Oberlin, which I think the gentleman mentioned. I could see how his reading of the newspaper article might lead him to this conclusion, but this is not a matter of fact.

Mr. ELLIOTT. I just wanted to thank the Senator for his correction. I needed the correction, and I apologize to Doctor Eric Walker and to The Pennsylvania State University for my poor reading of the newspaper article.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the bill was dropped from the Calendar.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE NONCONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HB 2459

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has nonconcurred in amendments made by the Senate to HB 2459.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON- CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HB 2459, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do insist upon its amendments to HB 2459, and that a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. WADE, KESSLER and RIPP, as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to HB 2459.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES OF CONFERENCE ON HB 2150 TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Without objection, Mr. BERGER called from the table Report of Committee of Conference on HB 2150, and received unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 2150, entitled:

An Act amending "The County Code" approved August 9, 1955 (P. L. 323) authorizing the levy and collection of an additional tax for municipal improvement to lands and buildings damaged by subsidence.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

RENDITION OF "GALWAY BAY" BY SENATOR BERNARD B. MCGINNIS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to announce that Senator McGinnis has again volunteered to share his musical talent with those present. The Chair would invite the gentleman to the rostrum.

(Senator McGinnis approached the rostrum.)

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have just come from the House of Representatives. I went over there to see what they were doing and their Majority Leader, Mr. McCann, invited me to the rostrum and I went down there and sang "Galway Bay." There were less people there than there are here. However, perhaps I can sing in an empty room as well as a crowded room.

(Rendition of "Galway Bay" by Senator McGinnis.)

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would call the Chair remiss in the introduction of the Senator who just rendered that beautiful ballad, because he did not introduce him as the gentleman from Potter.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair apologizes to Senator McGinnis. At the suggestion of Senator Berger, who now represents Potter County, the Chair wishes to announce to the large audience here assembled that Senator McGinnis was born and raised in Potter County. Senator McGinnis' parents hailed from County Down, in Ireland. He has a rich, Irish background.

During the rather long time I have been privileged to be a Member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, I have always enjoyed hearing Senator McGinnis sing. He has unusual talents. As a matter of fact, I wonder whether it would not have been well for him to have entered the theatrical world or, perhaps, have gone to Hollywood. We will agree that he has very unusual talents. With it all, he is a fine and distinguished gentleman. We members of the General Assembly are all better for having him as a colleague, and richer for the experience of associating with him.

The Chair wishes to thank Senator McGinnis very much.

Would the President pro tempore again please approach the rostrum?

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

BILLS SIGNED

The President pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bills: SB 1250, HB 203, 648, 853, 1057, 1355, 2118, 2297 and 2386.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE SENATE TO HB 1980, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House insists upon its amendments nonconcurrent in by the Senate to HB 1980, recalled from the Governor, and has appointed Messrs. STONE, GAILEY and HOLLIDAY as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS NONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO HB 1980, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do insist upon its nonconcurrency in House amendments to HB 1980, recalled from the Governor, and that a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. WHALLEY, SHAFER and MAHADY as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to HB 1980.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT
RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate, entitled "Time of Next Meeting."

EXTENDING BEST WISHES FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I want to say on behalf of all the Members of the Senate that we extend to each other, to all the members of the press, to all the officials and to all the employees, our very best wishes for a happy holiday season, and Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you very much, Senator Berger, for your good wishes.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, January 4, 1960, at 10:00 o'clock a.m.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:32 o'clock p.m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FRIDAY, December 18, 1959

The House met at 10:00 a.m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, our Father in Heaven, Thou who touches mankind in all of life with Thy goodness and tender mercy, speak to our hearts and minds this day in the real spirit of Thy love. Enable each of us to see that it is not in the Holy Family alone, in the song of the Angelic Chorus on Bethlehem hills, in the adoration of the shepherds at the manger in the rude stable, or in the innkeeper who sheltered the Holy Family in a stable that we see the real spirit of Christmas; but grant us the vision to see in this Season Thy great love toward all mankind; and as we experience it in our own lives, use us to extend it to others too. In Thy dear Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Thursday, December 17, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Armstrong to come to the desk and preside temporarily.

The Chair will move to the floor of the House and ask to make a brief statement.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, were I gifted with the talent of framing winged words, designed to arouse temper and passion of the people, I would out Johnson a Johnson. And in the heat of my indignation, in the expression of my lamentations, I would out Sherman a Sherman.

I have before me a headline, "$55 million school aid beaten by Senate G O P." I can only express my sentiments, by saying, "out, out damned spots." Because upon our record on the basis of our high resolves, on the basis of the duty that we all owe to the people of the Commonwealth, this is a damned spot.

We have failed, jointly, so far, in keeping the implied promises that we made to the people. One thing we can say, when we confront the bloodstained hopes that we entertained when we came here, we can say to those who work in another place, and we can say to the people of this Commonwealth, "thou canst not say we did it."

We have placed it in the power of those who serve with us the implements with which to achieve the accomplishments of our original purposes. And if those who work in another place have been unwilling to use those legislative facilities, there has been no counter-proposal. In a sense, those who have accomplished at least our temporary undoing in my mind live in the political tombs of the unshriven, and their names might well be placed upon the litany of the political dead. It is a business of legislators to envision the broad field of the peoples needs. We have been faithless on every sector of the educational front. Perhaps we have been derelict in some particulars, in our failures to realize the real extent of the needs, but we have sent across the distance that separates us from those who work in another place, measures of vital interest to the cause of education, which have been ruthlessly destroyed. Surely, there must come a time and a place where we in this chamber can once again raise the banner of hope, beneath which those who desire progressive legislation in keeping with the needs of those who serve children of the state can rally, and if we fail doing that we become the companions of those who would serve the worthy cause of the Commonwealth through a policy of dilatory inaction and evasion.

INTERROGATION

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Andrews.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am unlearned in the law. I am a simple layman and hope that the Minority Leader will not endeavor to entangle me in the intricacies of that art in which he is so proficient.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we will keep within the confines of the Speaker's tremendous knowledge of education which he has just professed here in his speech.

Mr. ANDREWS. May I correct the gentleman? I did not profess a great knowledge of education. I simply expressed a feeling universal as to a need.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Andrews deplores the fact that the Senate will not put on the Governor's desk 1108 to the tune of $55 million. Now, may I ask the gentleman, we will have a chance at the bill today. We could put it in the Conference Committee. If the bill is restored to $55 million and it goes to the Governor, does the gentleman know whether the Governor will sign the bill?

Mr. ANDREWS. My impression would be that if the General Assembly sends to the Governor bills stipulating expenditures that have not been provided for by and through legislative action, that the Governor would veto the bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, then I take it the gentleman's answer is it is obvious that according to the Governor's certified estimate of revenues there is no money in the taxes that we have passed for 1108, and therefore if it hits the Governor's desk it would be vetoed. Is that right?

Mr. ANDREWS. Might I ask the Minority Leader who he means by "we."

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I mean the General Assembly as a whole. Bills that have been signed by the Governor and are presently the law. Is there enough money from existing taxes to provide the funds for 1108 in its abbreviated form of $16 million? Let us answer that first.

Mr. ANDREWS. I think there is money enough that can be scraped up from various sources to find perhaps the $16 million, although there might be some doubt of that, but I think the $16 million can be found.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask a further question? Could we have assurance before the day is over that if we pass 1108 in its present form with $16 million in it that the Governor would sign the bill?

Mr. ANDREWS. The gentleman is well informed as to the processes. It is not usual for a Governor to make a flat future prediction. I can say that the presumption is, and if my presumption is wrong, I ask the Majority Leader or the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee to correct me. My impression is that the $16 million bill, in lieu of anything better, would in all human probability be signed.

If they want a more conclusive statement, I yield to either the Majority Leader or the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. To restate the gentleman's point, there is a strong likelihood that the Governor would find that there is $16 million and would sign 1108 in its present form or in a form that might be changed by the Conference Committee, but he would not sign 1108 to the tune of $55 million without new taxes. Is that not correct?

Mr. ANDREWS. I have consulted with my experts who have said in view of the present return from the sales tax, on the basis of experience so far, there is not $16 million available, even for this tattered and bemirched bill.

I merely want to call attention to the fact that there is a $55 million potential pending in the other chamber.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, then what the gentleman is actually doing is deploring the fact that the Senate is not passing the Personal Property Tax, is that not the gist of his argument today, that the Senate having turned down the $55 million is doing it because there is no money there, and they have no desire to pass the Personal Property Taxes? Is that not correct?

Mr. ANDREWS. They have no desire, apparently, to pass the Personal Property Tax, or any other tax.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. So the Conference Committee today, if one is appointed on 1108, will have proper guidance, if they were to put the bill back to $55 million it would invite a sure veto by the Governor, unless there is an accompanying tax program. Is that correct?

The ANDREWS. The gentleman well knows that that is correct.

The temper of the investigation leads me to request one more minute before we yield to the learned gentleman from McKean.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman does not feel that I am ill-tempered, I am just trying to get guidance here because as I stated yesterday, the most explosive legislative matter that we have before us is 1108, and we are right smack on it.

Mr. ANDREWS. We do not want to get into explosives, but we do not want to sacrifice the needs of the children of this Commonwealth in order that wealth may take its stand and refuge behind the widows, the orphans and the poor, but that we cannot pass so and so which will impinge greatly upon the sources of wealth, because some widow's tax might be in danger.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as I have repeatedly said from this microphone, the original Governor's budget did not include any extra money for education.

If you will go through the budget line by line, as you know, it increased the budget over Governor Leader by some $250 million, and it is now about $210 or $212 million. There was money for, of course the Health Department, increases all the way down the line, but no increases for the support of public schools other than the normal increase from mandates and the normal increase in teaching units. In other words, when the Governor made up his budget he ignored the requests of the various schools that they were in financial distress and would need some help from this General Assembly, not only for this current school year, but the next school year. That goes without saying. It had to be up to this General Assembly to pass a special bill to try and get the schools more money.

There is no one in this House but knows that the school districts back home have to have more money, and it is deplorable, I will grant you, that we are leaving the halls of this House with a possibility, as Mr. Andrews now states, that if we even put $16 million on the Governor's desk that will invite a veto. If that is the case, there is some question whether today we should do a vain thing by putting anything on the Governor's desk unless there is a tax program. As we have repeatedly said here, the tax program that is over in the Senate is a tax on personal property. We all know what it does. We know that it only slightly affects the people in Philadelphia, and I hope I am correct now, the people of Pittsburgh not at all. In other words, the people in the rest of the Commonwealth will be asked to foot the $55 million.

I know Mr. Andrews says, we are going to say it is a tax on widows and orphans. Well, yes, it is. It is a tax on the pensioners, a tax on the thrifty, on the small person who has been able to accumulate a share of stock or two and they are trying to plan on that money for their old age. In other words, if a fellow makes a dollar interest from a stock, he would have to give the government about twenty-five cents of it under this Personal Property Tax. I can see the reluctance of the state Senate to pass it. You say that it is a tax on the wealthy. The wealthy people in Pennsylvania have their stock in tax exempt securities. You know that any stock of a Pennsylvania corporation that is paying the Capital Stock Tax of the state of Pennsylvania would not be subject to the Personal Property Tax. That goes for United States Steel, Chrysler, and all the big corporations that have branches here in Pennsylvania, their stock is tax free. Therefore, smart people put their money into these exempt securities, and it would just add up to the fact that the fellow who really does not know what is going on and is a small person, is the fellow that would end up paying that. It is about a 25 percent income tax in many cases. So, I can see the reluctance of the other place not to pass that tax bill. It is very obvious that they would not pass it under those circumstances.

We have known for months that the Senators have said repeatedly, we will not pass this bill. Therefore, no other tax program has been sent to the Senate for them to work on. Here we are now in the dying days of the Session, and you are deploring the fact that there is no money for the schools because the Senate will not pass the Personal Property Tax. I called it a squeeze play the other day, and that it just exactly and simply what it is—a squeeze play.

I asked our Joint State Government Commission the other day to give us a realistic appraisal of revenues from existing taxes as compared with the estimates from the Department of Revenue. Our Joint State Government Commission, and I am not stating these figures with any purpose—in fact I do not want the Governor to say, well, that is your body over there and it would be predudiced—but, they feel that conservatively some $34 million more money will come in from existing taxes.

The Associated Press the other day announced that the holiday business all over the nation is the greatest in history; it is an unprecedented holiday business. The take from the sales tax is going to be tremendous. The Governor's office could well use the $34 million increase in revenues, as stated by the Joint State Government Commission, and can sign a bill for $34 million; give the schools $17 million this year and $17 million the next year.

If we put a bill like that on the Governor's desk, suppose he signs it, suppose we will be here next Session and we find that the money is not coming in, then that would be an obligation on all of us to provide money to run our schools. But, I think the Governor's office, based on figures that he gets from the Joint State Government Commission, and he can get the same figures from the Chamber of Commerce, could honestly sign a bill with about $35 million in it, instead of saying, "well, unless this terrible other place passes that iniquitous Personal Property Tax the schools will not get a dime." Well, we will just have to stand before the bar of public opinion on that.

I take it, from what Mr. Andrews says, $16 million is not available. I hope we get 1108 over here right away so that we can get a Conference Committee appointed. I think we should sit down with the Governor's office and something should be done here today, not leave this hall in rancor and have every school district in Pennsylvania disappointed and disheartened by what this General Assembly has failed to do.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to put something into the record here that I think it is time the Members of this House knew.

We have listened with great intent this morning as Mr. Johnson spoke. Today I am going to insert something into the record that has bothered me for quite some time. You heard him say, the Joint State Government Commission says, the Joint State Government Commission reports, they have made such reports. I am going to put into the record now that each of the last three reports in order, of the Joint State Government Commission as to the estimated revenue yield were inaccurate and the records prove it.

I am a little disturbed at the Joint State Government Commission's estimates, for they are always, for some reason, in the higher revenue yield. This was discussed at the Conference Committee at which the Joint State Government Commission personnel were present, along with the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce, the Pennsylvania Economy League, the Department of Revenue and a representative of the Auditor General's division of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If they have been so wrong in the past, I assume they are inaccurate again.

To make the record absolutely clear as of the present date, I believe the sales tax yield is $4 million behind the estimate as of last week. We are not really disturbed at that. We have been through a pretty rough steel strike, but it is $4 million behind the estimated yield at this point.

Where this extra $34 million is going to come from, I do not know, but this would be inflating the revenue yield and this is something that is certainly not the intention of this Administration. I have heard you say, and I have said many times, fiscal responsibility is always our responsibility, as well as the Governor's. We should have honest, accurate revenue estimates, revenue yields. We will soon be on a yearly basis where it will not be as difficult, but I bring to the attention of this House that the conferees, sitting on the entire multi-million dollar appropriation bills, had all these people in front of them, and I think it should also be on the record they were incorrect. The Joint State Government Commission was incorrect in their yield three times in a row. I can only assume they will be inaccurate again.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. McCann.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I have just heard statements that the Joint State Government Commission's estimates are inaccurate.

Mr. McCANN. I said they were inaccurate.

Mr. BELL. Does the Majority Leader know where we can get more accurate estimates?

Mr. McCANN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Where?

Mr. McCANN. In each of the years I speak of, the same three organizations submitted their revenue estimates, the Pennsylvania Economy League, the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, the Joint State Government Commission, and the official estimates of the Department of Revenue, they were the most accurate. They were not accurate in a true sense, but the Department of Revenue, was by far the closest to being accurate of all the others that are on file of record.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I am glad the Majority Leader mentioned the Department of Revenue. Is the Majority Leader familiar with the estimates submitted by the Department of Revenue in June 1957 to the other place?

Mr. McCANN. I am not, but I assume it is a matter of record of the official estimate submitted to the Governor by the Secretary of Revenue, over the Secretary's signature, in which the law requires that it posted and given in writing for the Governor to place his official estimates of revenue yield and that would be, I assume, what you are talking about, is that right?

Mr. BELL. That is right. To refresh the gentleman's recollection, if he goes in to the June 1957 Journal of the other place, he will find the other place insisted that the estimate be countersigned by the Governor of Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. Speaker, how accurate was that estimate?

Mr. McCANN. It was not exactly accurate.

Mr. BELL. How many million dollars—

Mr. McCANN. It was more accurate than the other.

Mr. BELL. How many million dollars was it off?

Mr. McCANN. I can not tell you, but we can bring it out in just a few minutes, it is just a matter of getting the record. It is just the same as I am saying to you that this is an official memorandum in writing that the revenue yield it is more inaccurate, if that is proper English, than the Department of Revenue's estimates.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, to refresh the Majority Leader's memory, was not the Department of Revenue's estimate proven to be over $150 million off? Or else why was the deficit $174 million that faced this General Assembly when we came into session?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that is the correct figure, but if he believes it was $150 million, that is his opinion. I believe there were some deficits in Public Assistance and a few other items that were not a part of Revenue estimates yield in taxation, sir.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, we just heard another heated discourse, and I think everybody in this House agrees that nobody can accurately forecast the revenues coming into the Commonwealth when you have items like steel strikes and recessions. I think that attack on the Joint State Government Commission's estimates was entirely unfair.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe they are unfair. I believe that it should be a matter of record for all Members of this House. I think it would only take a matter of a few minutes for Mr. Baker Royer, the Chairman of the Joint State Government Commission, a Member of our House—I have the copies of the letter that were used—that were sent to the Honorable Albert Readinger as Leader in 1955, letters that were sent to Honorable Albert Johnson in 1957. This was as they had requested, for the Joint State Government Commission to give them the yield in writing. They did. They put it in writing. We used it in the conference. Would that not be a matter of official record and were they not incorrect? The answer would be they were incorrect. They were more incorrect than other yield estimates. That is no attack on them. My point is that the $34 million that is estimated to be yielded by the Joint State Government Commission reports in revenue is inaccurate, and the $34 million will not yield in this biennium and its sales tax now is $4 million behind our estimate at this period.

INTERROGATION

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. A. W. Johnson.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not so much concerned with the estimates of the past as I am of the future.

I was rather intrigued about that $34 million, and I was wondering if the gentleman could give me the source as to what estimates and what particular yields were going to be raised to provide the $34 million.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I have the report here. I presumed that this was pretty generally circulated. I will let you have my copy if you care to have some Thermofaxes made of it.

Mr. POLEN. I would like to ask the gentleman if it is the corporate net income tax, the entire $34 million.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The yield from the corporate net income tax is figured by the Joint State Government Commission at $334 million which compared to $315 million by the Department of Revenue.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is the information that Dr. Wueller of the Joint State Government Commission gave me, but now I am very much interested in picking up the other $13 million. What were those increases?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. They are small increases all the way down the line, and for your information, the return from the sales tax is just $700,000 more on the Joint State Government Commission's figure than the Department of Revenue. The others are small increases all the way down the line.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, at the conference with Dr. Wueller, where we discussed this very situation, the only difference that there was except for very small amounts would not approximate anywhere near $13 million within the corporate net income tax. We were very close in all the other estimates, and what I am wondering about is where we pick up that $13 million. As the gentleman has kindly offered to give me his figures, I will look them over, but I want to say I thank the gentleman for the interrogation.

I want to say that I have been in daily touch regarding estimates and we feel that the estimates we are using now, based upon the taxes that are coming in, and the way the sales tax is running, that they are certainly not to be upped. If we were to balance this budget by arbitrarily raising our revenues $34 million we would be doing a great disservice to the people of Pennsylvania.

If there is one thing this Administration stands for it is fiscal responsibility and that is that we are not going to up arbitrarily or unrealistically revenue estimates to balance the budget for any purpose. I will be glad to review these estimates and see if they agree in any way, and report back to this House. Certainly, if there is $34 million available we want to use it, but if it is not available we are not going to use it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ISAACS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I listened intently to the Speaker of this House from the floor this morning, trying to impugn another body for murdering the school subsidy program.

I am going to make a few remarks here, and everything I am going to say can be substantiated by the Legislative Journal of the year 1959.

First, we had two bills before this House, 2354 and 1108. I am sure all of us recall that 2354 was reported from the Appropriations Committee carrying an appropriation of $70 million. We have just heard the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, the gentleman from Washington, discussing fiscal responsibilities. He allowed that bill to be reported to the floor and admitted, under interrogation on the floor of this House there was not sufficient money to pay for it, to which the Majority Leader objected.

After 2354 was defeated, House Bill 1108 was reported from the Appropriations Committee. In the interim someone got smart in Committee and they reduced that appropriation to $55 million from $70 million to fit the Personal Property Tax.

It has been stated on the floor of this House, it is agreed, that the city of Philadelphia has levied four additional mills for education and the city of Pittsburgh, six additional mills for education. But where does that money go? It goes into their own school treasuries and is spent at the local level. The six mills called for under this Personal Property Tax, the six additional mills, will come from the other 65 counties and the county of Allegheny outside the city of Pittsburgh, and it goes into the General Fund.

Now what is the net result? It is that the county of Allegheny, other than the city of Pittsburgh, and the other 65 counties in the Commonwealth are picking up the checks and are paying the difference that the city of Pittsburgh and the city or county of Philadelphia, which is the same, are not paying into the General Fund.

I said before and I say again, anyone from other than the city of Pittsburgh or the county of Philadelphia who votes for a bill of this kind, or would support it, in my opinion, should see a psychiatrist. I charge the administration and the administration in this House has been playing politics with the school subsidies, and you do not have to go any further than the Legislative Journal and analyze it to prove it.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to straighten out the record on House Bill 2354, which the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Isaacs, state carried a $70 million appropriation.

I would like to state there was no appropriation contained in that bill. It is true that House Bill 1108 was amended to $55 million, in keeping with the policy we established that we would not report bills in excess of tax revenue measures which we have passed in this House. For that reason I did reduce it to $55 million, but there was no appropriation in 2354.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ISAACS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Polen.

Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman from Washington, in answer to a question, posed by this speaker on the floor of this House, not state that House Bill 2354 would cost $70 million?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I did so state.

Mr. ISAACS. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

INTERROGATION

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader, Mr. McCann.

Mr. Speaker, this is a very serious matter that we are considering. So we will understand, we are going to caucus pretty soon, do I understand that if 1108 with $16 million in it goes to the Governor's desk, he will of necessity have to veto the bill because there is no tax revenue available to provide the $16 million?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have no right to say this on the part of the Governor, but it is my understanding of a general policy that we agreed to, and if that general policy is carried out, the answer would be that he would be vetoing this bill unless he had revenue measures or revenue yield, either one, to pay for it, sir. In other words, you are saying, $16 million.

You are going to ask me if he would sign the bill and, as in some cases, up the revenue a little so that it could be squeezed in, since it is a small amount. I cannot answer, but I believe he would veto the bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Well, Mr. McCann, by reason of the importance of the matter and our impending caucus, could you ascertain from the Governor's office, from the Department of Revenue, just what the status is so we can be guided in our deliberations when we go to caucus?

Mr. McCANN. I shall be more than pleased to do that, sir, and report to you then. We will be going to caucus in about fifteen or twenty minutes. Right, sir?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is correct.

Mr. Speaker, I have just one brief statement I would like to make.

Just to keep the record straight, the matter that Mr. Bell referred to, I happened to be on the Conference Committee when the Department of Revenue, the Secretary, Gerald Gleason, and the Budget Secretary, then Mr. Bradley, gave us a new certificate in June of 1957 as to revenue estimates.

As I recall, in order that we would grant Governor Leader $70-some million more appropriations, we have signed letters by Gleason and Bradley, that the revenues would have been $70-some million, I believe, more than even was estimated the day before. I believe Mr. Polen has those same Thermofax copies in his files that we have in our files. I believe he was not here then, but they are in the files and you can find them. When you are talking about who estimated what and who went overboard on estimates you had better dig out those figures revealed by Bradley and Gleason in June of 1957, about 3:00 o'clock in the morning, in Conference Committee.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, those letters are a matter of record. But I want to say here and now that no such letter will be issued unless the revenues are there to cover them.

My purpose in taking the microphone at this time was to ask the gentleman from McKean if he knows how 1108 has been amended in the Senate, as to what the present status of it is? If he is going to caucus on it, I thought I might enlighten him, unless he already knows.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. We would appreciate the information. We understood it would make the $16 million payable this school year, rather than next.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill is not in print, but I secured a copy of the amendments from the Senate and worked them up on the bill. I find, in effect, what they did is, they made the $6,200 maximum subsidy base effective for the school year '58-'59, which is the previous school year and which has already been paid. So, if it would be adopted at this time, the amount that would be due the school districts would be immediately due and the extension of the $6,200 for future years was stricken out and reduced to the $5,800.

In other words, as I read the bill now, Mr. Johnson, it would provide that for the '58-'59 school year the subsidy would be increased approximately $16 million, and then the bill would go back for this school year and future school years to $5,800 maximum school subsidy basis.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. Speaker, I hate to bicker with Mr. Bell. He is a very good friend of mine, but he mentioned about the $157 million deficit of Governor Leader. With all due respect to my friends on the other side of the aisle, they have made quite some capital of that all through this Session. If they had taken out the amount of money that the revenue was figured in the recession, Governor Leader probably would have ended up with only a $50 million deficit.

We run into the same situation in this Session, where the sales tax is falling short on account of the steel strike. These are both projects that nobody can foresee.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 17, 1959.

Admiral Robert Lee Dennison, United States Navy, of Warren, Pennsylvania, has been designated by President Eisenhower to assume the duties of Commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Naval Forces, and Commander-in-Chief of the United States Atlantic Fleet.

Admiral Dennison, a four-star admiral, is a veteran policy planner of the United States Navy. Graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1923, early in his career he qualified for and entered the submarine service. During World War II, he won a Legion of Merit award for his role in the seizure and occupation of Attu and Kiska Islands in the Aleutians.

Later, for two years, he served as Assistant Chief of Naval Operations for Political-Military Affairs. For excellence in this assignment, he was awarded a Gold Star in lieu of a second Legion of Merit.

From 1948 until 1953, he served as naval aid to President Truman, and then commanded Cruiser Division Four in the Atlantic. Thereafter, he served as Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Plans and Policy until becoming Commander-in-Chief of Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

All in all, Admiral Dennison is an important figure among the leading maritime powers in the field of strategic planning. He has become a world figure in naval affairs; therefore, be it

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is proud of the high military character and the exceptional accomplishments in the naval profession of a most distinguished son; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly extend sincere congratulations to Admiral Dennison upon his assignment to further responsibilities of the highest import; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Admiral Dennison.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. FETTEROLF asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. FETTEROLF, R. P. JOHNSON, Mrs. KERNAGHAN, Messrs. ISAACS, ODORISIO, BELL and ASHTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution, which was read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1959

The House of Representatives is indeed very fortunate to have as one of its members a person recognized as a leading choral director.

During his first term as a Member of this House (1957-1958), Dr. Clyde R. Dengler became Director of the House Choral Group. Under his direction the group participated in memorial services, celebrations of Members' birthdays, holiday observances and provided entertainment in House functions.

Dr. Dengler deserves to be congratulated for his achievements as Director of the House of Representatives' Choral Group and we, the Members of the House of Representatives, are deeply indebted to Dr. Dengler for his tireless efforts in working with the choral group and the great pleasure afforded us when entertained by the group under his great leadership; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulates the Gentleman from Delaware County and shows its appreciation by a rising vote of thanks; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Dr. Clyde R. Dengler.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Dengler.

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the Members of the House and Mr. Fetterolf in particular for this very signal honor.

I want to assure you that every minute that I have spent in rehearsal with the Legislative chorus with the members of the stenographic group and the lady Members of our House have been probably the most pleasurable in my entire rehearsal experience. I assure you that what I have done I have enjoyed very much. If we had the time I would like to say this is the season of the year when we have these marvelous high school groups singing for us here in the rotunda and all over America.

We have the finest music produced by high school people, and I hope we can pass some kind of resolution in the not too distant future congratulating these people and showing our radio and television stations that this so-called popular music that disc jockeys and producers are giving us is not the type of music our young people really like. Our young people like the best music, and we have been doing them a signal disservice by this continuous drumming and drumming and drumming on all the stations. I am very much pleased that we have finally seen the light and are starting to give them something really good.

When the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Mormon Choir collaborate and give us the stirring Battle Hymn of the Republic, which was sung on Tuesday by our Legislative chorus, then I think we are beginning to do the right thing for our young people so far as television and radio is concerned.

We talked yesterday about juvenile delinquency. I think the radio and television people have to share the responsibility because they have continuously given us poor music and have given us music that is in poor taste in very many cases.

I want to again thank the members of the Legislative Chorus for helping to raise our music standards. Thank you very much.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution to require and encourage the sale of Pennsylvania apples and other Pennsylvania agricultural products, by the state government's personnel and others when they were selling such products on state property. I ask permission to add two additional sponsors.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman only having a total of three sponsors does not require permission. The gentleman will send his resolution to the desk. This is not a privileged resolution. It will be filed with the Clerk under the rules of the House.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WORLEY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Before we go to caucus we would like to call up on page 1, Bills on Final Passage, Senate Bill 413, Printer's Number 1666, and Mr. Speaker, the reason we would like to do this is because the bill is going to go to a Conference Committee so it can be done, and there is no other way but to pass it right now and have Mr. Stimmel, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Polen, the Conference Committee, go to work on it, actually as the bill is written there are many of us who have no use for the bill, but I ask that you vote aye for the bill to insure its passage, so it can go to the Conference Committee and then we can vote on the bill as we want.

That is Senate Bill 413, Printer's No. 1666, and the Conference Committee will be Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Stimmel, Mr. Polen. The Senate Conference Committee is ready. Then we will vote on the bill. There is no other way to do it but to pass the bill now. So, therefore, I ask that you vote aye on the bill.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 413, entitled:

An Act providing for group life insurance for State employes establishing a schedule providing for payment providing for reduction of insurance upon retirement and authorizing the Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies to act as exclusive broker for the purpose of contracting for insurance.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, asked the Majority Leader as to whether or not the Governor would sign House Bill 1108.

I just returned from a conference in the Governor's office with the Budget Secretary, the Secretary of Administration, and the Governor's Executive Secretary. At this time we have no information, nor any facts or figures, that would warrant raising the revenue estimates. However the Department of Revenue, the Budget Secretary and the Secretary of Administration, has arranged for an immediate conference with the Joint State Government Commission to review the figures that Mr. Johnson gave me. If it is found there is revenue available, the Governor would sign the bill. If it is found that revenues are not available, the Governor will not sign the bill. I cannot give you a positive answer until after the result of this conference is known.

They had already left to arrange for this conference and I presume that it will be under way in a few minutes. I will let Mr. Johnson and the House know just as soon as it has been ascertained whether or not additional revenues are available.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Br Messrs. WORLEY, WOOD and H. H. PERRY.

RESOLUTION No. 134.

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1959.

Pennsylvania has long been known for its agricultural products. The area comprising Lancaster, York and Adams County is known throughout the world as a garden center.

It is of vital importance that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania encourage the use of the products of its soil. In doing so, the Commonwealth will aid the products of Pennsylvania agriculture to continue to receive their just recognition as an important item sold within this Commonwealth and elsewhere; therefore be it

Resolved, That the State government and its various agencies are requested and encouraged to require the sale of Pennsylvania apples and other Pennsylvania agricultural products by its personnel and others when they are selling such products on State property.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL No. 1971

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1971.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 122

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, November 30, 1959.

The County Court of Allegheny County and the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County are unique, in that these Courts were created by statute for the conduct of legal proceedings which, in other counties of our Commonwealth, are conducted by courts provided for in our Constitution.

In order to bring about a more uniform method of conducting legal proceedings and to eliminate the possibility of duplication of function and resultant additional expense in maintaining these statutory courts, it is deemed important that a thorough study be conducted to determine whether there is sufficient justification for the continued existence of such courts, or whether it would be advisable to combine or merge the County Court of Allegheny County and the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County with the Courts of Common Pleas; therefore, be it

Resolved (The House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a study of the feasibility of combining or merging the jurisdiction and/or the personnel of said County Court of Allegheny County and the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County with the Courts of Common Pleas of said counties, and of the desirability of establishing court administrators in such counties; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of such legislation as may be necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, to the next regular session of the General Assembly

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 122

Mr. DEVLIN asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of Senate Resolution Serial No. 122.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 124

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 15, 1959.

Whereas, There has arisen a wide spread use of three member boards of attorneys—arbitrators to hear and decide civil claims up to $2,000, and

Whereas, In Allegheny County the estimated cost of such a system is between $75,000 and $100,000 per year; therefore be it

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a study of the use of such three member boards of attorneys—arbitrators and the cost thereof as well as the feasibility of additional law judges hearing such claims without a jury and the comparative cost thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 124

Mr. DEVLIN asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of Senate Resolution Serial No. 124.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL No. 1355

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1355.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

SENATE MESSAGESENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to Senate Bill No. 1043 recalled from the Governor entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1907 (P. L. 135) entitled "An act relating to the appointment of stenographers and assist stenographers to report proceedings in the several courts of common pleas and orphans' courts courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery and courts of quarter sessions of the peace of this Commonwealth as well as before commissioners masters and special masters in chancery referees examiners auditors and other officers * * *" further providing for the giving of copies of notes of testimony in criminal cases.

And has appointed Messrs. Shafer, Scott and Mahady a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives, (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 1043 and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 1043

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House, Messrs. RUDISILL, IRVIS and Mr. GOLDSTEIN.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 2417.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 17, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2417, Printer's No. 1793 entitled "An Act amending the act of May 28, 1937 (P. L. 955) entitled as amended 'An act to promote public health safety morals and welfare by declaring the necessity of creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as housing authorities to engage in slum clearance and to undertake projects to provide dwelling accommodations for persons of low income providing for the organization of such housing authorities defining their powers and duties providing for the exercise of such powers including the acquisition of property by purchase gift or eminent domain the renting and selling of property and including borrowing money issuing bonds and other obligations and giving security therefor prescribing the remedies of obligees of housing authorities authorizing housing authorities to enter into agreements including agreements with the United States the Commonwealth and political subdivisions and municipalities thereof defining the application of zoning sanitary and building laws and regulations to projects built or maintained by such housing authorities exempting the property and securities of such housing authorities from taxation and imposing duties and conferring powers upon the State Planning Board and certain other State officers and departments' providing that rentals to persons dependent upon veterans' benefits or public assistance grants or similar income payments from government agencies shall not be more than that charged to other families of comparable size and income."

This bill amends the act of May 28, 1937, (P. L. 955) known as the "Housing Authorities Law." It provides that authority "rentals to persons dependent * * * on veterans' benefits, public assistance grants or other income payments from government agencies shall not be more than is charged other families of comparable size and income."

This bill purports to reduce the expenditures of State public assistance monies. The amendatory provisions would do this by reducing substantially the rentals received by housing authorities from public assistance recipients without any compensatory increase in such person's income for non-rental purposes. When rental charges are reduced for most persons, the amount of their income for other purposes increases. That is not the situation of public assistance recipients who receive only earmarked income. In their case, as their rental charge goes down, so does their rental allotment.

It is the opinion of the housing authorities throughout the State and of the Department of Public Welfare that these amendatory provisions would not result in savings but would impose greater burdens on the authorities and their tenants. These authorities claim that it is impossible to reduce their rentals further and still operate without loss. Consequently, the amendment leaves the authority with but one alternative, namely, the raising of the minimum rents of all persons. The authorities point out that the amount of the across the board rental increases that would be necessary would prove disastrous for many elderly tenants who are not recipients of public assistance benefits. These are the persons who receive fixed incomes under social security or other private or public pensions.

Such unfortunate consequences for persons who urgently require decent housing are a telling argument against the amendatory provisions. There are two other factors to be considered. The nature and cost of the housing projects undertaken by authorities have been based on rental rates for public assistance recipients which have been in existence for many years. Such rates were established by agreement between the former Department of Public Assistance and the Pennsylvania Association of Housing Authorities. To lower these rates, as this bill would do, would destroy the financial framework within which our public housing authorities have operated with commendatory success.

Another consideration weighing against these provisions is the obvious unreasonableness in using a basis for the public assistance housing allocation which is different for housing authorities than it is for privately supplied housing. The amount of public assistance to be earmarked for rent should depend on the quality of the housing provided the recipients rather than the nature of its ownership. We know that authority housing is equal and often superior to that provided low income groups in private housing. It would, therefore, follow that the rentals which the authorities receive from recipients of public assistance should match the amounts given to other landlords.

The reasons enumerated above are those which the Department of Public Welfare and the Housing Authorities have strongly urged upon this office for the disapproval of the amendatory provisions. They have taken the position that in its interference with the legitimate undertakings of authorities, and thereby its threat to the continued occupancy of many of their tenants, this bill is not in the public interest.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 2419.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 17, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2419, Printer's No. 1792, entitled "An Act amending the act of August 5, 1941 (P. L. 752) entitled 'An act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employees of the Commonwealth authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof' conferring rights on certain provisional employees and war-duration appointees."

This bill proposes to amend the Act of August 5, 1941, P. L. 752, known as the "Civil Service Act," by providing in Section 607 thereof that whenever any provisional employee who has held a position in the classified service or as a war-duration employee shall have served eight years, or more, and shall have taken and have passed an examination for any position in the classified service and shall have been dismissed under the provisions of Section 604 of the act, or under the provisions of the Act of June 4, 1943, P. L. 870, such employee shall be entitled to be reinstated with the rights of permanent tenure, transfer and promotion in the same manner as a regular employee.

On May 29, 1958, in response to a request by the Auditor General the Department of Justice issued an opinion stating that provisional employees who had been carried on the rolls in excess of ninety days and war-duration appointees who had been employed beyond the statutory duration of their employment should forthwith be dismissed. Following that opinion, a number of such employees were separated from the classified service of the Commonwealth. A group of such employees brought an action in the Commonwealth Court and that court dismissed the action by upholding the ruling of the Department of Justice.

The proposed amendment to the Civil Service Act would now grant to such employees and perhaps others in the same category permanent civil service status. Such granting of status would not be based upon the normal prerequisites, i. e., the taking and passage of an examination for the position to be occupied, the securing of a sufficiently high score to warrant appointment and the successful performance during a prescribed probationary period. This bill would implant in the uniform civil service procedures that are applied to all persons seeking and holding civil service positions a bit of special legislation designed to benefit a limited few. If the persons in question were given status by virtue of this amendment a serious problem would arise as to those individuals who have been properly appointed to fill their vacancies. At best, it would require reshuffling of positions, at worst, it would not require the furloughing of individuals who have been properly qualified under the provisions of the Civil Service Act. It is also doubtful whether this bill would meet the standards of the Federal government which financially aids many of the Commonwealth's departments covered by civil service. The Federal government requires that persons holding a position be qualified to perform the duties of the particular job. Under the proposed amendment the individual need only have passed an examination for any position in the classified service, not necessarily the one in which he will be given a permanent status.

While this bill was originally intended to benefit eleven employees of the Liquor Control Board, its coverage is so broad as to affect all departments under civil service. In fact, we have been advised by the Regional Office of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare that this bill, if enacted, may place in jeopardy

Federal grants received in connection with public assistance, public health, and other federally-aided programs.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agree to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. DEVLIN from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 120.

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 120

Mr. DEVLIN asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of Senate Bill No. 120.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the Senate, September 14, 1959.

The abolition of capital punishment is an extremely controversial subject and one which should be approached with a knowledge of all available facts and statistics. In order that the General Assembly may intelligently consider such legislation, it is imperative that a thorough study be made to make this information available; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to undertake an intensive study of capital punishment and its effect upon society, and to submit its findings, together with its recommendations on whether or not capital punishment should be abolished in this Commonwealth, to the next session of the General Assembly.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

CAUCUSES

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am going to request a recess of one hour and, of course, we will take 30 minutes for lunch. I am going to ask for that period of time in which the membership will get an opportunity to have lunch. We will cover the calendar, all of it, but I would ask that those conference committees continue to finish their reports as fast as possible for the purpose of printing. With that in mind, at the proper time I shall ask that all the Members bring their House calendars with them.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. We will also call for a caucus. We will have lunch for 30 minutes and caucus for one hour. That will mean the caucus will be at quarter to one.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair declares a recess of one hour and thirty minutes.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

THE SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1030, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire the surface or right of soil only of a tract of land in the Borough of Dunmore County of Lackawanna Pennsylvania for the use of the Department of Revenue and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912) entitled "Bakery Law" changing certain definitions further regulating marking and labeling conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have someone submit himself to interrogation as to certain features of this bill

The SPEAKER. Are there any volunteers for interrogation?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, under the present situation I will attempt to answer the questions pertaining to Senate Bill No. 1115, Printer's No. 1667.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, since this is a general law applying to the inspection of bakery shops throughout the state of Pennsylvania, would it not by implication repeal prior existing laws, whether general or local?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the answer to the gentleman's question, as I have been told, is that it would not. In other words, say that such laws or ordinances were written in the city of Pittsburgh or in my own community, then would this law validate or repeal or change those existing laws since it is a later law. I was told that it would not.

Now, I am asking you for help on this also, Mr. Goldstein, because I know the general outline of the purpose of this bill dealing with local bakeries, the vehicle that a local bakery uses, a bakery that sends its products into other stores. But, the question that you have asked me, I have no authority except from a conference, I believe, in our office this came up one day with Mr. Lopresti, Mr. Devlin and I believe the man's name was Mr. Stabb of the Bakers' Association.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you for your answer. I would like to discuss what I believe to be the unsound features of this bill.

After reading this bill I am confused. Particularly after the clause was eliminated which stated that nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent counties from having boards of health, the right to enforce their ordinances and regulations.

It seems that two sections of the Statutory Construction Act are applicable to this situation. They are as follows: Whenever a general law purports to establish a uniform and mandatory system covering the class subjects, such law shall be construed to repeal pre-existing local or special laws on the same subject. Certainly whenever a law purports to be a revision of all laws on a particular subject, or sets up a general or exclusive law covering the entire subject matter of a former law, it is intended as a substitute for such former law and such law shall be construed to repeal all former laws upon the same subject.

If we pass this legislation in its uncertain state, the Supreme Court of this state will be compelled to determine what the legislative intent is, and what the Supreme Court of this state will do is entirely uncertain. Therefore, we feel that the present condition of this bill is so deplorable that nobody should vote in its favor. We say that this bill will become the parent of confusion and litigation and both the baking industry and the enforcing authorities, local and state, are entitled to sound legislation free from doubt. Unless this legislation be free from doubt we should not pass it and I intend to vote against it because I am uncertain as to whether or not it will oust the jurisdiction of the Allegheny County Board of Health.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that I find myself in complete accord with what Mr. Goldstein has said.

I feel that whether it was intended or not, this bill certainly is going to hamper and restrict the activity of the local County Health Department. It is my belief that on many occasions the local County Health Departments have, probably, better regulatory regulations and restrictions which will be of greater benefit to the consumer, to the buying public.

For example, I understand that the local County Health Departments require certain inspections. It is my understanding that possibly under this bill, or under other regulations, promulgated by the Agriculture Department, these inspections are possibly not as many. Now I feel that certainly the consumer has to be protected and if under local county health regulations better protection is going to be afforded to them I do not think we should in any way put any skids, under them or in any way restrict the local County Health Departments, and as a result, I too am going to vote against this bill.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, two days ago when this bill was up for passage I discussed one of the amendments and I should like to discuss the one that was not touched upon two days ago.

May I say at the outset, that in 1957, at the close of the Session, we had a food bill before us which did not pass. At that time a Senate Resolution had passed asking the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of the Pure Food Laws of Pennsylvania. We had hoped that in this Session we would have before us a comprehensive review and possibly a new law to replace the food laws that we have in Pennsylvania.

Early in the Session, the first days of the Session, word went around that a new food bill was in preparation. I am sure that the Secretary of Agriculture was interested in a new food bill, for I have his word on a subject here that I think the Members will be pleased to know.

In a statement, according to the monthly news bulletin of the Department of Agriculture prepared for presentation to the hearing before the Public Health and Sanitation Committee, Secretary Henning made this statement regarding the new food bill:

He said, "Drastic changes that has taken place since World War II require that we place in the fields of modern food production, processing, marketing, packaging and distribution and demand that we adjust our food law enforcement policies and practices."

So says Dr. Henning.

He continues and says "The proposed legislation would prohibit the manufacture or sale of any adulterated, misbranded or harmful foods. It would place the burden of proof of safety on the manufacturers. Consumers must now prove items harmful before use is halted."

Following the statement that was broadcast through the news by Dr. Henning, I am sure he had looked forward to a two-way food bill that would improve what we now have. I should say right here that if the food law of Pennsylvania needs correction, it should be corrected upwards, not downgraded, as 1115 proposes to do.

This bill has had a varied passage. There are six reprints, beginning with 1333 and ending with this one that we have before us today. Briefly stated, what this bill will do is give power to the Department of Agriculture, the Secretary of Agriculture, to modify the law that is now before us.

The only things that this amendment will do will be to give a baker the privilege of selling his products in his own store, on the market place, on the market stall, and to deliver to his customers without marking or wrapping, if so agreed upon with the Secretary of Agriculture.

You may tell me that will not be possible. No one will request to do that, but men in trades who are handicapped, who possibly have no capital, who are distressed in other ways, must do something to get their product on the market. I do not ever want a baker, and I do not think you do, to deliver a loaf of bread on your doorstep that may have been handed by a dozen people without a wrapper. That possibility exists in this bill. So, I feel that if anything is to be done with the food laws of Pennsylvania it should be done in a constructive way and we should be forward looking and see what the food industry and what the public want.

This is a consumers' bill. It is not a bill to satisfy the baker. It is not a bill to satisfy anyone else. This bill is a bill that is to protect the consumer, and we should do it from that angle, and, in my opinion, I cannot vote for the bill as it stands. I am not asking the Members to vote either one way or the other. I think it is up to each one to determine how to vote on this bill and follow, possibly the idea that the Speaker advocated just a little while ago when he said, "It is the burden of the Legislators to envision the needs of our people."

On that basis I think if we want to do anything with the food bill, we ought to take notice of what the Federal Government is doing with regard to additives, with regard to all sorts of new things that have come onto the market, or that they should be including and we should live closer to the Federal Food and Drug Act, instead of trying to downgrade the Pennsylvania Pure Food Laws.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have just been advised by the Secretary of Administration that they have conferred with the Joint State Government Commission and the Secretary of Revenue. They have re-examined the revenue estimates and the other matters pertaining to them and find no basis whatever for raising the estimates $326 million as shown by the report of the Joint State Government Commission.

Therefore, I would have to make the statement that under the Constitution, the Governor would have no other alternative but to veto House Bill 1108 at this present time, in the absence of revenues to cover the cost.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 9, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32), entitled "The Vehicle Code" prohibiting competitive racing on highways and fixing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, would the Chair have any objection if this bill were passed over temporarily?

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHAAF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the reason for passing this bill over temporarily.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to giving what I think is my reason, but things have happened a little bit quickly around here this afternoon.

Basically, as I understand it there are two bills involved, both of which—and incidentally they are House Bill 63 which is now on the Senate third reading calendar, and Senate Bill 9 which is over here—raise the fines for persons involved in speeding or races on the highway, I shouldn't say "speeding" but I should say "races."

According to line 32, which we previously passed, which makes it unlawful to participate in any physical endurance test or any race or speed contest with a motor vehicle on the highway, the fine for which is a minimum $10, maximum $25.

As I understand it, Senate Bill No. 9 raises the fine to $100, which I do think myself is a desirable feature. If I might venture a personal opinion, and I do this rather quickly, it uses the expression—now I am thinking of Senate Bill No. 9—"No person shall operate a vehicle upon any highway in a competitive race against the operator of another vehicle."

Without objection, if I could refer very briefly in further answer to the gentleman's question about House Bill No. 63 which is presently lodged in the Senate, the expression there used is, "elapsed time superior performance or speed."

Frankly on the basis of both bills as they appear at the present time, I would be opposed to them for this reason. I think the bills—and this is not intended as criticism—but to me it appears to be a job of faulty draftsmanship because I do think, and the gentleman may not agree with me, but nevertheless I do think that these would thereby prohibit and preclude, either of these bills, the operation of these touring clubs where they have a set pattern, or set course perhaps around a portion of your particular county where the purpose of the competition is not speed but to hit certain given check points at certain times, and it is more or less in the nature of a test of driving skill. As I say, it is my personal belief that both bills are so drawn that these are prohibited.

One more thing, there are some cities in this Commonwealth, some localities and communities, which have auto racing or participating activities in the nature of hill climbs and things such as that, which I understand are conducted up near Wilkes-Barre. Again I feel that the broad language of both of these bills is sufficient to preclude and thereby prohibit the operation of those such events, too.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, this is another drag-racing bill. The purpose of this bill is to prohibit drag racing upon the highways of the state. The intention of it is to promote highway safety and that is the only intention of it. The present law now is inadequate and that is the reason why both of these bills were put in. We have worked with the Senate on an agreement to pass these bills.

I might say this, House Bill 63 is on third reading in the Senate, has been amended by the administration, and they have agreed that 63 is all right. And of course there is nothing wrong with this bill.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman yield to me momentarily for further interrogation?

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if I can explain something to the gentleman privately. I think we can talk it over a little bit better without interrogation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Rigby, will confer with the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I understand that this bill is then, on the ruling of the Chair, passed over temporarily, is that correct?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It has not been passed over temporarily. The Chair put the question that if there was no objection the Chair will withdraw its decision as to the bill having been agreed upon on third reading.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Allegheny voice any objection to the bill being passed over temporarily?

Mr. RIGBY. That is all right.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 9, Printer's No. 769 was passed over at the request of Mr. SCHAAF.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 993, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1956 (P. L. 1987) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Highways with approval of the Governor to erect and construct a toll bridge over the Monongahela River connecting the State highway system in Washington County with the system of State highways in Fayette County and to provide the necessary approaches and connections with such State highways . . ." naming the bridge the William J. Lane-Eustice H. Bane Bridge.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1675

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1675.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1675, entitled: "An act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled 'An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code, the Tractor Code, the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership, possession and use of vehicles and tractors' authorizing the erection of "yield right-of-way" signs; describing the duties of operators thereat and providing a penalty for the violation thereof."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

GEO. N. WADE,
G. ROBERT WATKINS
WILLIAM J. LANE,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

CHARLES D. STONE,
LEO J. McLAUGHLIN,
JOSEPH W. ISSACS,

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled 'An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors' authorizing the erection of "yield right-of-way" signs describing the duties of operators thereat prohibiting the designation of 4-way stop and other multi-way stop intersections and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1. The act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), known as "The Vehicle Code" is amended by adding after section 1016 a new section to read:

Section 1016.1 Vehicles and Tractors Must Yield Right-of-Way. It shall be unlawful for the driver of a vehicle or a tractor approaching a "yield right-of-way" sign to fail to slow to a speed reasonable for existing conditions of traffic and visibility to hesitate and to yield the right-of-way to all vehicles or tractors on the intersecting highway which have entered the intersection or are so close to the intersection as to constitute immediate hazard. The vehicle or tractor approaching the "yield right-of-way" sign shall hesitate and if necessary stop to avoid collision or interference with the vehicle or tractor on the through highway. Such interference shall be deemed prima facie evidence of the failure of the operator approaching the "yield right-of-way" sign to so yield.

Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars ($5.00) and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than three (3) days.

Section 2. The title of section 1112 of the act is amended and two new subsections are added at the end thereof to read:

Section 1112. Establishment of Thru Highways [and] Stop Intersection and Yield Intersection.

(e) No provision in this section shall be construed to authorize the Secretary of Highways or local authorities with reference to highways in their jurisdiction to designate 4-way stop intersections or to designate multi-way stop intersections where two or more highways intersect. Any such designation shall be void for all purposes.

(f) The Secretary of Highways of this Commonwealth with reference to State highways and local authorities in cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships of the first class with reference to highways under their jurisdiction are hereby authorized to erect "yield right-of-way" signs at one or more approaches to an intersection of streets and highways. No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the Secretary of Highways or local authorities with reference to highways under their jurisdiction to designate 4-way "yield" intersections or to designate multi-way "yield" intersections where two or more highways intersect except that "yield" signs may be used to control right turns where separate or channelized right turn lanes are provided. Every "yield right-of-way" sign hereafter erected shall conform to the specifications and be erected in accordance with the warrants established by the Secretary of Highways before local authorities shall erect "yield right-of-way" signs on a highway which will intersect or affect a State highway approval thereof must first be obtained from the Secretary of Highways. Every "yield right-of-way" sign shall be located at or near the entrance to the intersection where motorists are required to yield the right-of-way.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN, Mr. Speaker, I request that the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1675.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 882.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses on Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 882.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 882

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering Senate Bill No. 882, entitled "An Act amending the act of April 14, 1949 (P. L. 482) entitled as amended "An act authorizing and requiring cities boroughs townships municipal authorities and public utilities companies engaged in the supplying of water to shut off the supply of water for nonpayment of sewage or sewage treatment rentals or charges imposed by municipal authorities organized by counties of the second class by cities of the second class by cities of the second class A by cities of the third class by boroughs or by townships of the first or second class authorizing and requiring them to supply to such authorities lists of metered water readings and flat-rate water bills and other data authorizing them to act as billing and collecting agents for such authorities and conferring certain powers upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in connection therewith" authorizing municipalities which impose charges for sewerage as lessee of authorities and also supply water to premises to shut off water thereto without prior request or assignment of claim or lien from the authority and placing certain conditions and limitations upon the powers and duties conferred by the act.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

PAUL L. WAGNER,
GEORGE B. STEVENSON,
HARRY SEYLER
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

JULIAN POLASKI,
JOHN J. McDONALD,
W. K. KNECHT,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 882

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 882.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering Senate Bill No. 882, entitled "An Act amending the act of April 14, 1949 (P. L. 482) entitled as amended "An act authorizing and requiring cities boroughs townships municipal authorities and public utility companies engaged in the supplying of water to shut off the supply of water for nonpayment of sewer sewerage or sewage treatment rentals rates or charges imposed by municipal authorities organized by counties of the second class by cities of the second class by cities of the second class A by cities of the third class by boroughs or by townships of the first or second class authorizing and requiring them to supply to such authorities lists of metered water readings and flat-rate water bills and other data authorizing them to act as billing and collecting agents for such authorities and conferring certain powers upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in connection therewith," authorizing municipalities which impose charges for sewerage as lessee of authorities and also supply water to premises to shut off water thereto without prior request or assignment of claim or lien from the authority and placing certain conditions and limitations upon the powers and duties conferred by the act.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

PAUL L. WAGNER,
GEORGE B. STEVENSON,
HARRY SEYLER
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

JULIAN POLASKI,
JOHN J. McDONALD,
W. K. KNECHT,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of April 14, 1949 (P. L. 482), entitled as amended "An act authorizing and requiring cities boroughs townships municipal authorities and public utility companies engaged in the supplying of water to shut off the supply of water for nonpayment of sewer sewerage or sewage treatment rentals rates or charges imposed by municipal authorities organized by counties of the second class by cities of the second class by cities of the second class A by cities of the third class by boroughs or by townships of the first or second class authorizing and requiring them to supply to such authorities lists of metered water readings and flat-rate water bills and other data authorizing them to act as billing and collecting agents for such authorities and conferring certain powers upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in connection therewith," authorizing municipalities which impose charges for sewerage as lessee of authorities and also supply water to premises to shut off water thereto without prior request or assignment of claim or lien from the authority and placing certain conditions and limitations upon the powers and duties conferred by the act.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1, Section 1, act of April 14, 1949 (P. L. 482), entitled as amended, "An act authorizing and requiring cities boroughs townships municipal authorities and public utility companies engaged in the supplying of water to shut off the supply of water for nonpayment of sewer sewerage or sewage treatment rentals rates or charges imposed by municipal authorities organized by counties of the second class by cities of the second class by cities of the second class A by cities of the third class by boroughs or by townships of the first or second class authorizing and requiring them to supply to such authorities lists of metered water readings and flat-rate water bills and other data authorizing them to act as billing and collecting agents for such authorities and conferring certain powers upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in connection therewith," reenacted and amended September 7, 1955 (P. L. 576) and amended July 10, 1957 (P. L. 622) is amended to read:

Section 1. If the owner or occupant of premises served by any water utility as hereinafter defined shall neglect or fail to pay for a period of thirty (30) days from the due date thereof any rental, rate or charge for sewer, sewerage or sewage treatment service imposed by any municipal authority organized by any county of the second class, by any city of the second class, by any city of the second class A, by any city of the third class, by any borough or by any township of the first or second class such water utility is hereby authorized and required at the request and direction of such authority or of the city, borough or township to which the authority shall have assigned its claim or lien for such service to shut off the supply of water to such premises until all such overdue rentals, rates and charges together with any penalties and interest thereon shall be paid. If such authority or such city, borough or township shall also supply water to any premises it is hereby authorized to shut off the supply of water to such premises as herein set forth. If the rental, rate or charge for sewer, sewerage, or sewage treatment service is imposed by a municipality as lessee of an authority organized as aforesaid and the said lessee shall also supply water to such premises then such municipality is hereby authorized to shut off the supply of water to such premises as herein set forth without prior request from said authority or without prior assignment of its claim or lien for such services in no case shall the water supply be shut off to any premises until ten days after written notice of an intention so to do has been mailed to the person liable for payment of the rentals and charges and in addition thereto there has been posted a written notice at a main entrance to the premises if during such ten day period the person liable for the payment of the rentals and charges delivers to the water utility authority or municipality supplying water to the premises a written statement under oath or affirmation stating that he has a just defense to the claim or part of it for such rentals or charges then the water supply shall not be shut off until the claim has been judicially determined the statement shall also contain a declaration under oath or affirmation that it was not executed for the purpose of delay.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 2 of today's calendar, Senate Bill No. 9.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 9, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "The Vehicle Code" prohibiting competitive racing on highways and fixing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if I could interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to this bill in its present form and my question is this: Is the practice of drag racing, the name "drag racing," or the thing that we are trying to eliminate here, is that defined any place in our Code? Is there a definition as such?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe there is an item in Act 32 of the 1959 Session that has the words "drag racing" or somehow defines that type of racing. It may not be the word "drag." We can check that right away. That is in the new bill here.

Mr. HOCKER. Well, Mr. Speaker, I thank Mr. McCann. Will the gentleman trace it if he can before I get through?

Mr. Speaker, I am definitely in favor of doing anything at all that we can to stop what, in my opinion, is drag racing.

But I would like to know if there is a definition for such. I am afraid of this bill, because of the way I have read it, I have gone over it and over it, it has a terrible penalty in it which is to my liking providing it is used properly.

But this bill as I read it, has a five year penalty and $100 fine, and I quote section 1040:

Racing prohibited. No person shall operate a vehicle upon any highway in a competitive race against the operator of another vehicle.

The way I look at this, there is nothing that would prevent a policeman, I hope there is no policeman who would do this, but there may be, and the penalty being so severe, I am afraid that another friend of mine and I should be sitting at a red light and we would say "Hi" to each other and start away from that red light, side by side, like we do out here on State Street in Harrisburg, and if a policeman were so minded he could say that we were racing. I do not think that anybody could prove otherwise.

If someone can prove to me that this bill would be used the way I think it is intended, I would be for it, but I think it is very, very badly drawn. If this were used the way it is intended, I would be for it 100 percent, but the way it is and the way I interpret it, there are so many loopholes in it and the penalty is so severe, that if one person in this Commonwealth would be convicted under this bill and it would not be as it is intended, we would be doing a terrible injustice to some person.

That is my quarrel with the bill. If it can be straightened out, I would like to vote for it, but the way it is, I cannot support it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I also rise in opposition to this bill much for the reason that the gentleman from Dauphin states.

I read this carefully and I see it states, "free competitive racing." All racing is competitive or else it would not be racing. You can drive on any highway at any time and you can see people at a stop light jockeying for a position to get ahead of the other fellow. If you go on the Turnpike you can see two trucks trying to pass each other up the bill and that can be interpreted as racing.

Now what is the penalty? As Mr. Hocker states, it is a mandatory loss of driving privileges for five years. We are all against drag racing. We are all for traffic safety, but there are two ways to write it. One, intelligently and clear, and the other one is like this bill. It is so muddled any interpretation can come from it. We are on our last days of action for perhaps this week and this is the time for things to be shoved through without thinking. I say we should think carefully on this bill and we should vote against it.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, a few moments ago when this bill was first called up I expressed an opinion, my personal opinion, that the language in this bill and apparently the companion bill, House Bill No. 63, was definitely defective. I do believe, and this is not a cliché, I do believe in highway safety. I do believe there should be steps taken by which we could stop, particularly the young, from roaring down the highways in competition with one another.

For that reason I would like at this time to interrogate the Majority Leader, if he will permit himself to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, there are throughout the Commonwealth certain organizations in the nature of touring clubs. Most counties have them and in the course of their activities they have what I believe are called, I am not sure of this but nevertheless I think they are called, rallies. The essential purpose of which is to take a car and to demonstrate the operator's skill by going on a circuitous route of thirty-two or thirty-five miles under circumstances that require the vehicle operators to meet or to hit certain check points, I believe they are called, at certain specified times, and the default of which makes the variation with which they meet these check points. They are penalized so that the driver who is most efficient in his driving, training and skill has the less penalties, and he is therefore declared the winner. Obviously it is competitive.

I will ask then of the Majority Leader, if it is the intention of this bill to prohibit that type of activity?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it is not the intention of this bill to prohibit that.

May I clarify for the record that there are two bills involved in this field. Senate Bill No. 9, which is being debated here, and House Bill No. 63, which is being debated in the Senate. As I understand it, both bills are going to go to the Governor and then should he sign one and not the other, you ask me, does this bill prohibit. I want to say that Senate Bill No. 9 and House Bill No. 63, as it left the House, does not prohibit. Is that what you inquired about?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I therefore inquire of the gentleman, is it the legislative intent as far as the Majority Leader is aware of either bill that this type of activity be prohibited by law?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that because the Senate amended House Bill No. 63 last night. I am not sure what the amendments do to the bill but it is the legislative intent when we were acting on the bill here to take care of that situation. But, Mr. Schaaf, if you would put the question in such a way that should House Bill No. 63 be used in any way, I am not sure what the amendments do that were put in that bill last night.

Mr. SCHAAF. All right, sir. Let me ask you this question, Mr. Speaker.

There are for the information of the gentleman in certain areas of this Commonwealth activities in the nature of hill climbing contests, whereby portions of the highway are roped off, and, with the consent of the State Police, as I understand it, and also the consent of the Highway Department by erecting detour signs and so forth, public highways are used for these hill climbing contests which are usually under the auspices of your service organizations, which is your Lion Club and so forth. Would the gentleman inform me was it the legislative intent as to House Bill 63 that at such time as it left the House that this type of activity would be prohibited by law?

Mr. McCANN. It was not. It was the legislative intent that it would not be prohibited, sir.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman inform me as to this bill, Senate Bill No. 9, whether it is the legislative intent that this type of activity which I mentioned be prohibited?

Mr. McCANN. It is my intention to state that the legislative intent on Senate Bill 9 is that it would not prohibit such things as a hill climb, as it is commonly called.

Mr. SCHAAF. Well, Mr. Speaker, I am going to ask one final question.

Since both of these bills are moving at approximately the same time and this is rather a speculative question, but supposing that Senate Bill No. 9 was actually approved in this House but House Bill 63 was defeated in the Senate, would you therefore expect Senate Bill 9, if it went to the Governor and it was to be approved by the Governor, would you expect the Governor and his subordinate officers to order this expression of legislative intent on your part as to Senate Bill 9?

Mr. McCANN. I would expect him to approve the legislative intent of a bill we are debating that was in front of us that went to the Governor in that form. That would be a matter of permanent record on legislative intent of the bill, sir.

Mr. SCHAAF. I think the gentleman. Then in the interest of highway safety and without wishing to be involved in clinches, I intend to vote for this bill.

Mr. ISAACS. I would like to further interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Would the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, on another similar bill considered in this House the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, interrogated the Majority Leader and finally amended the bill particularly to take care of such affairs as soap box derbies and matters of that kind.

The question I would like to propose is, would this bill affect, for instance, a soap box derby which is almost a national institution in this country?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, this bill would not, but could I clear the point for the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Isaacs? Mr. Lippincott had amendments in his possession, and I wish he were here today to insert them into House Bill 63. House Bill 63 was amended last night. I have no right to say this, but I do not think those were Mr. Lippincott's amendments. House Bill 63 just passed a few minutes ago and is on its way over here now, but I believe Mr. Lippincott's amendments were to define not soap box derbies but racing car associations, speed meets or something like that. Is that the correct wording, sir?

Mr. ISAACS. As I recall, he was interested in both matters and I believe he debated them, but I could be in error.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, at least I would like to say this, that the legislative intent of Senate Bill 9, would not prohibit a soap box derby, as it is commonly called, under proper supervision as it is normally handled by the respective service clubs, AAA and the State Police and so forth.

Mr. ISAACS. I thank the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, the interrogation of the Majority Leader by the gentleman from Erie asks, does this bill mean this, does it mean that. That is the clearest evidence of a sloppily written bill.

Who is going to be down there in front of a justice of the peace to tell him what the legislative intent is? He is not going to have a copy of the Legislative Journal with this debate in it. He is going to have a copy of the Motor Vehicle Code, and you are going to have some of our people, some of our citizens, in front of a justice of the peace, you are going to have him faced with a heavy fine and have him faced with the loss of his driving privileges for five years because the bill was not written right in the first place. I say this Legislature should not pass bills so sloppily written that you cannot get the legislative intent unless you go to the Journal.

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support this bill.

This bill is the result of tragedy in Fayette County. One Sunday afternoon a family of six were returning home from a picnic. They were about one quarter of a mile from their home and there came down a road, two automobiles. Neither one would yield to the other. As a result, all were wiped out at one time. That was one of the tragedies in our county. Just recently on Route 40 near Summer Mountain, the State Police had been up there and broke up a speed race rally exactly like this.

Therefore, this is very important legislation to stop this slaughtering on the highways. The gentleman from Montgomery has stated that he does not want to see any person brought before the justice of the peace. I would rather see them before the justice of the peace than lie in the morgue as a result of this crazy drag racing that is going on. The intent of the bill as it is now means almost entirely nothing because it is not clear. Therefore, I do not see where many people are going to be brought before the justice of the peace. The purpose of this is to stop this slaughtering especially in our county where these young boys are out in the wee hours of the morning trying to test their skill at the cost and expense of our citizens.

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to opposition to this bill. If two men are driving on the highway and one decides to stop and all of a sudden the other fellow pulls up, and he, in a manner of conversation asks him how to get to a certain town, and he explains it and they both are seen to start about the same time, some police officer would come along and pick them up, or they might be accused of drag racing. If it would be so, this particular party would lose his license for five years. If I am not mistaken, if a person is in a fatal accident he only loses it for three years.

This bill is very poorly written and I do not think that we should vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker. I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what effect this would have on the Antique Car Association that have these competitive races.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe you mean the antique automobiles which have their tours. It would have none in any way. It would have no effect on the so-called antique automobile tours that are held on the highways all over the United States.

Mr. WALSH. They have competitions at their meets sometimes for endurance and speed. Would they come under this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it would be rather hard to say, but the legislative intent would certainly be no.

I believe the gentleman has a very good point in which antique automobiles, at times, may leave Pittsburgh and their destination is Columbus, Ohio, we will say. Those making the best time between given points are awarded so many points toward a cup or a prize. But, that would not be competitive within the scope of drag racing or a violation of this proposed bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALSH. I want it perfectly understood that I am heartily in accord with stopping drag racing. I do not think this bill does it. I am sure that this bill is too loosely drawn, there are too many ifs and ands. I feel that this bill should be defeated.

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, in reference to the gentleman from Lehigh, I wish to say to him that his argument is rather weak, because it tells you here "whether from a standing start or otherwise over a measured or unmeasured distance the object of which is to better or defeat one or more contestants on the basis of elapsed time and superior performances for speed."

Therefore, this idea that you stop on the road to talk to your friend, is as silly as I do not know what.

I have just received a message, at the proper minute, Mr. Speaker, that the Senate passed the other bill 50 to 0.

Mr. DENNISON. Mr. Speaker, I yield to no one in my interest in highway safety. Being against racing and being for highway safety, is a good deal like being against sin—everybody is against it.

This bill is not a bill designed to accomplish that purpose. I hate to take issue with Mr. Kornick, but the penalties in this bill would not have prevented the accident which he describes. A penalty of $100 or $500 or five years' suspension is not comparable when the result or penalty is death. That is the penalty for drag racing—death to most people.

The bill is superfluous. There is plenty of law in the books right now to control it. It is a matter of enforcement. I hate to take issue with the Majority Leader when he says it does not affect soap box racing. I would like to point out to him that the definition of a vehicle in the code is any vehicle in which persons or property is transported, not self-propelled or propelled by human power. Soap box racing is not propelled by human power nor by motor power. It is propelled by gravity. Therefore, it would, in my opinion, come under the terms of this bill. It is a wholesome sport, one that has gained national prominence and one in which a great many people have a great deal of interest. It has gone a great way in correcting this problem of juvenile delinquency.

It is a matter, I say, of enforcement. I have taken this matter up with the State Police. They admit privately that there is no need, and I would like to—just for the information of this House—read from Section 1001 from the present Vehicle Code: "It is illegal to participate in any physical endurance test or any race or speed contest with a motor vehicle on any highway."

This bill or any other bill will not prohibit the violator who has no conception or no desire or no value on his own life. It is a matter of enforcement and there are plenty of laws. Why should we clutter up the Code with more laws that are not necessary?

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, it certainly gives me a great deal of pleasure to know that the gentleman from Jefferson is violently opposed to sin. But, getting back to the drag racing bill, racing is a prearranged scheme and the intent of this bill is to prevent just that.

We have places in Allegheny County that have narrow roads where some of these young people get together, start down the road, in a prearranged scheme to see who can beat in a certain distance. They will not move, and the only thing you can do if you are coming in the opposite direction is to get off the road, or it is just too bad.

The intent of this bill and also House Bill 63 is purely to promote highway safety. I believe they are both good bills and I think they should be passed to the Governor and let him in his wisdom sign whichever bill he feels is best suited to cover the issue.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, those who have spoken, I am sure each and every one of them are in favor of highway safety. But, it is my feeling that we do have sufficient legislation, not only on the statute books but as passed in House Bill No. 500, which has been enacted into law at the present time. Under Section 1001, as far as reckless driving is concerned, the penalty at the present time, of course, is a minimum of ten or not more than twenty-five dollars, but we all know that anything that can be said in any way, shape or form to be drag racing, or as stated under reckless driving, which is a law at the present time, as passed by this House and the other body this year, it is, "participating in any physical endurance test or any race or speed contest with a motor vehicle on any highway." That is our present law enacted this year. Under that law in previous years the Secretary of Highways has suspended licenses beginning with one year and under other conditions has taken licenses away for three to five years.

I feel that under our present highway program we have sufficient penalties divulged under our highway code without the necessity of further legislation. The death of any person on the highway, or the injury of anyone on the highway will not be made safer by the passage of the proposed legislation. If it did there is no doubt that both I and those who have spoken against the bill would gladly go along with the proposed legislation. But considering the Motor Vehicle Code as enacted into law in House Bill 500, I think it is Printer's Number 1002, at least it is House Bill 500, there is sufficient punishment meted out, and I feel for that reason we should vote no on the proposed legislation.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2323.

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1046) entitled "An act providing for equalization of assessed valuations of real property throughout the Commonwealth for use in determining the amount and allocation of Commonwealth subsidies to school districts creating a State Tax Equalization Board and prescribing its powers and duties imposing duties on certain local officers agents boards commissions and departments and making an appropriation" eliminating the provision making the decision of the board final requiring the board to make a written finding of fact and providing for biennial certification of market values in odd numbered years and further regulating appeals and certifications

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, line 1, page 2, in inserting after the numeral "7" the words and numbers 'and section 13'; line 7, page 2, by striking out after the word "appropriation" the word "is" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "are"; line 13, page 3, by striking out after the second word "board" the word "may" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "shall"; line 8, page 4, by striking out after the word "exceeds" the word and number "fifteen (15)" and inserting in lieu thereof the word and number "ten (10)".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2443.

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" further regulating the preparation of the budget in accordance with the recent constitutional amendment and regulating disbursements from appropriations made to the Department of Military Affairs imposing duties on the State Veterans Commission and the Deputy Adjutant General in charge of Military Affairs.

Whereupon.

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 2371

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 18, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2371, Printer's No. 1692, entitled "An Act amending the act of June 1, 1959 (Act No. 77) entitled 'An act relating to the retirement of public school employes amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto' changing definition of final average salary for classroom school teachers with thirty-five or more years of service."

Under existing law, "final average salary" is defined to mean the highest annual average compensation of a contributor as a school employe during any five nonoverlapping periods of twelve consecutive months of contributory service.

This bill would redefine the term "final average salary" in the case of contributors who are classroom teachers for thirty-five years or more in which case the term "final average salary" is to mean the maximum mandated annual salary as prescribed in the Public School Code of 1949 for classroom teachers or the highest average annual compensation as a school teacher during any five nonoverlapping periods of twelve consecutive months of contributory service, whichever is greater. In effect, this bill would permit such classroom teachers to receive a retirement based not on their actual earnings but on a salary not actually received by them and upon which they had not paid the full amount of contributions which would have been paid by them had they actually received the maximum mandated annual salary.

The maintenance of a sound retirement system is largely dependent upon the utilization of sound actuarial principles. This proposed amendment is in derogation of sound actuarial principles in that it would grant benefits not determined or determinable upon the paid-in contributions of a contributor or upon a salary actually received by the contributor. Obviously, the provisions of this bill are intended to assure contributors of the class mentioned a retirement benefit to which they would have become entitled had they received the prescribed maximum mandated annual salary which for one reason or another has not been granted to them by their employer school districts. If such classroom teachers are entitled to receive a maximum mandated salary at the time of their retirement, steps should be taken to assure them of the receipt thereof. No equitable solution is secured by following the proposed provisions of this bill, since to do so we will be sacrificing the sound financial basis of the retirement system which must be preserved for the benefit of all members.

We are also convinced that where amendments are proposed to the retirement law which are intended to increase benefits in any manner, such amendments should be made applicable to all members of the retirement system and not to one particular class.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. POLEN, Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1897

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 18, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1897, Printer's No. 1657, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 1216) entitled 'An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and providing for the licensing regulation and supervision of resident and nonresident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business' further regulating deposits and disbursements of funds by brokers."

This bill amends the Act of May 1, 1929, P. L. 1216 known as the "Real Estate Brokers License Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty nine." It would permit a buyer and seller of real estate to agree not to be bound by the present statutory requirement that the seller's real estate broker retain a buyer's deposit or other monies until the transaction is "consummated."

The present requirement which now governs the actions of all brokers licensed by the State Real Estate Commission had a two-fold purpose. First, it was intended to assure the home buying public that a real estate broker, who is merely the agent of another, would treat the funds entrusted to his care with the utmost circumspection. Second, it had the object of preventing a broker from turning funds over to his seller principal who might then be tempted to use them for his own purposes.

For, if that were done and the seller were then unable to deliver the home contracted for, as in the case of a builder who becomes insolvent, the buyer would not even be able to recover his down payment, either from the seller or the broker. Clearly, that prospect has been rendered unlikely as a result of the present requirement that a broker escrow advanced funds upon penalty of losing his license to engage real estate transactions.

This present favorable condition for home buyers must be compared with what was to be expected before the enactment of the existing law. The State Real Estate Commission, which is the agency charged by law with regulating the activities of members of the real estate profession, has drawn our attention to a number of cases arising under earlier laws where it was powerless to punish brokers for failure to retain the deposits of buyers. Such laws stand in sharp contrast to our present statute which the Commission feels has proven itself capable of protecting buyers.

However, the evils at which the present act is aimed would again become likely under the provisions of this bill which would permit the buyer and seller to simply agree not to have the seller's broker escrow the monies advanced by the buyer. True, the waiver of the protective provisions is based on the assent of both parties, the buyer as well as the seller. And, we readily agree that the right of persons to make their own contracts is a fundamental one.

But equally fundamental is the principal that the law should protect persons, who by reason of their lack of knowledge or experience are at a distinct disadvantage in bargaining with others not similarly handicapped. We think that the ordinary home buyer or consumer is such a person and that he needs the special protection of our laws. Therefore, in weakening the important protection which the escrowing of monies affords the home buyer, the amendatory provisions are not within the public interest.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. FETTEROLF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

INTERROGATION

Mr. McCANN. I would like to inquire of the Minority Leader, if he will permit himself to be interrogated, how long he will require for this short caucus to cover the items we went over so we can make the motions.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, we will try to squeeze it into one-half hour.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman then, when we come back, be able to vote the conference committee reports that were agreed upon, and the motions to concur and non-concur on the other bills?

If satisfactory I ask that the Democratic Members of this House go immediately to the new House Caucus Room upon the motion for 30 minutes to cover these items. Then we will return here and proceed with the highly controversial items.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I just say to the Republican side of the House, this is a very important caucus and we would like to have everyone proceed with dispatch to the caucus room. We would like to have everyone present.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if I may, I would like to make the very same request.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield on the calling of the caucus? We have a couple other items of business we want to call to the attention of the Members and at the proper time we will declare the recess. We would like to have the Members remain.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1977

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1977.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1572.

An Act amending the "Second Class County Code" approved July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) further regulating employees' eligibility for retirement allowances and reinstatement and requirements for credit for previous service.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has concurred.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, according to the newspapers, the Governor of this Commonwealth stated he would desire to study and search House Bill 210, which relates to pari-mutuel wagering under the State Harness Racing Commission.

I call to his serious attention the following item:

Apparently the drafters of this legislation followed the New York State law in part, but for some reason or other omitted a very significant and salutary provision of the New York State law which reads in part as follows:

"Prohibition of Interest by Public Officers, Public Employees or Party Officers in Pari-mutuel Racing Activities: No public officer, public employee or party officer shall hold any license, hold any proprietary interest, hold any office or sell any firm any goods or services."

It further provides that if any party official or public employee does this, the Attorney General of the state shall institute proceedings to remove him from public office.

We are in a quandary to understand why this significant feature was omitted from the bill in view of the racing scandals which occurred, in the State of New York and which gave rise to the section.

We call this particular section of the Act of New York to the particular attention of the executive branch of this government in determining whether or not House Bill 2108 should be signed into law.

CAUCUSES

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would like to inquire of the respective Floor Leaders if they are going to be able to complete their caucuses in 30 minutes?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we are confident that on our side of the House we will, since we had covered three of these bills at our previous caucus. Therefore, we are at least three bills ahead in caucus action. Thirty minutes is most satisfactory for the Democrat side.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is it the thought of the Minority Leader that the caucus can be completed in 30 minutes?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. It can, unless we get involved in a protracted discussion on House Bill 1108.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is only trying to be realistic and would rather declare a recess sufficiently long to take care of the caucus, rather than make it 30 minutes and then stay out for an hour.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Maybe we should come back at 6:00 o'clock then.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair declares a recess of forty-five minutes.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2386.

An Act amending the act of March 31, 1949 (P. L. 372) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating The General State Authority to sell and convey projects and property to the Commonwealth and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" increasing the powers and the borrowing capacity of the Authority and allocating the proceeds of such increased borrowing capacity.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representative is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.
The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 7, by striking out after the word "fields" the words "State forests and parks"; line 15, by striking out after the word "projects" the words "and State forests and parks"; page 4, line 16, by striking out after the figures "$480,000,000" the following: "six hundred twenty-six million two hundred thousand dollars ($626,200,000) six hundred twenty million four hundred twenty-five thousand dollars ($620,425,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "six hundred twenty-one million four hundred thirty-one thousand four hundred dollars ($621,431,400)"; page 5, by striking out after line 13, the following:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. KORNICK filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill 2386.

My purpose of voting against House Bill 2386 is the fact that for the past five years we in Fayette County have pleaded with the Secretary of Forests and Waters to make funds available for a recreational park for Fayette County, and in each pleading we were advised that no funds were available for a recreation park in Fayette County.

Now we see that in House Bill 2386, known as G. S. A., there are funds for a park for Somerset County which already has a park, and in addition there are funds appropriated for a park in Indiana County, in the amount of $750,000.

I think I would be a poor Representative if I did not protest against this action. I feel that the people of Fayette County are not entitled to the treatment they are receiving under this G. S. A. Bill, known better as House Bill 2386.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RETURNING HOUSE BILL No. 1517 TO THE GOVERNOR

Mr. McCANN offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, (the Senate concurring), That House Bill No. 1517, Printer's No. 928, entitled "An act amending the act of May 3, 1933 (P. L. 242), entitled 'An act to promote the public health and safety by providing for examination and registration of those who desire to engage in the occupation of beauty culture; defining beauty culture and regulating beauty culture shops, schools, students, apprentices, teachers, managers and operators; conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Public Instruction; providing for appeals to certain courts by applicants and licensees and providing penalties,' changing from annual to biennial registration and increasing registration fees," which was recalled from the Governor July 30, 1959, for the purpose of amendment be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 1250.

An Act authorizing the conferring of the rank of Brigadier General Retired in the Pennsylvania National Guard upon Medical Corps Colonels who have served in World War I and World War II

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment. The vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, line 1, by striking out at the beginning of the line the word "conferring" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "authorizing the conferring of"; line 3, by striking out after the word "upon" the words "George Sarraf" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "Medical Corps Colonels who have served in World War I and World War II"; Section 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out after the word "authorized" the words "and directed"; line 2, by striking out after the word "commission" the words "George Sarraf as a" and inserting the word "as"; line 4, by inserting after the word "Guard" the following: "Guard those colonels of the medical corps thereof who have served in the armed forces of the United States in World War I and World War II."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 1250, as it originally passed the House and the Senate carried in its title the name of George J. Sarraf. The bill was recalled from the Governor because it is unconstitutional and in its place, both in the title and in the bill, was placed information dealing with service in the Medical Corps in World War I and World War II. The bill, as now before us, pertains to one man, George J. Sarraf, even though it is not in that name.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, our Members in caucus voted to non-concur in this amendment because of the fact that they did not know how many people might be affected by the bill. We were rather astounded, of course, on this side when Mr. McCann just made a statement, to learn that there is only one person in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that was a Colonel in the Medical Corps in both World War I and World War II who would be affected by this bill. We hope that it is so.

We are in no position to deny the statement of the gentleman, we will just have to take it at its face value, but there seems to be a lot of doubting Thomases on this side, believe me.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, those are the facts of the case. They also can be verified in the Senate. This was a Senate bill, of course, recalled, and I am sure that they can check without any trouble. This bill, when authorized by law, would permit one George J. Sarraf, a Colonel, to become a General.

I think the record ought to be clear for the purpose of the entire House.

There was a bill in this House on which the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, served as a conferee. It was agreed that Mr. Walker would become a General and it was agreed that Sarraf would become a General. This bill pertains to George J. Sarraf. The other bill pertained to Senator Walker of Cambria County. Those are the two General bills agreed to.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me we have made several men Brigadier Generals or some other title, and I would like to ask the Majority Leader if those bills are unconstitutional where they were mentioned by name.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in this Session we passed one bill which is now law. It is not unconstitutional. It makes Colonel Ernest Walker a General in the Reserve. This is the other bill. We passed no bills making anyone an Admiral in the Pennsylvania Navy.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, what did we do with Colonel Drake? We passed some kind of a bill.

Mr. McCANN. We passed two bills making Generals out of Colonels who have long since died. One was General Drake; he was made a Colonel. This was done for the purposes of the oil well campaign publicity but he never held a Colonelcy or any rank officially or in any capacity either in the nation or Pennsylvania. The other was a school that they had built in the Commonwealth and named it General McLane and he had only been a Colonel. Since the school house was built and named, we felt that we should make him a General.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, did we mention Mr. Walker by name in the bill?

Mr. McCANN. We did not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ISAACS. We did not. I thank the Majority Leader. I like Dr. Sarraf and I am going to vote for the bill, but I was hoping that we were not voting for an open end bill.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote for this bill, but I am going to put everybody on notice that this is the last one I am going to vote for, because when we open the door for everybody to come in and be made a General or Colonel or Sergeant or Corporal, you are cheapening the rank. I just want to make that clear.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, I am not a Colonel, but I did have a commission as Captain in the First World War and a commission as Major in the Second World War. Now I just wonder how a person could get even a Colonelcy out of this?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 203.

An Act amending the act of June 30, 1947 (P. L. 1183) entitled "An act relating to strikes by public employes prohibiting such strikes providing that such employes by striking terminate their employment providing for reinstatement under certain conditions providing for a grievance procedure and providing for hearings before civil service and tenure authorities and in certain cases before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board" imposing cer-

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 5, line 6, by inserting the following: "consistent with rules and regulations promulgated by and policies established by the Governor the Executive Board and the Civil Service Commission or both"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1355

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1355.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives.

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1355, entitled: "An act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled 'An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth,' prohibiting the reduction of a charge of larceny to a charge of shoplifting and clarifying the provisions relating to embezzlement by public officers and others handling public money as herein defined and"

Respectively submit the following bill as our report:

THOMAS A. EHRGOOD,
RAYMOND P. SHAFER,
WM. VINCENT MULLIN,

(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

STEPHEN McCANN,
WALTER T. KAMYK,
JOHN STEWART, JR.,

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" prohibiting the reduction of a charge of larceny to a charge of shoplifting The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 816.1 Shoplifting (a) Whoever shall wilfully take possession of any goods wares or merchandise offered for sale by any store or other mercantile establishment with the intention of converting the same to his own use without paying the purchase price thereof shall be guilty of shoplifting and upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) and not more than fifty dollars ($50) or to undergo imprisonment of not less than five (5) days and not more than ten (10) days or both

(b) Any person wilfully concealing unpurchased goods or merchandise of any store or other mercantile establishment either on the premises or outside the premises of such store shall be prima facie presumed to have so concealed such article with the intention of converting the same to his own use without paying the purchase price thereof within the meaning of subsection (a) of this section and the finding of such unpurchased goods or merchandise concealed upon the person or among the belongings of such person shall be prima facie evidence of wilful concealment and if such person conceals or causes to be concealed such unpurchased goods or merchandise upon the person or among the belongings of another the finding of the same shall also be prima facie evidence of wilful concealment on the part of the person so concealing such goods Persons so concealing such goods may be detained in a reasonable manner and for a reasonable length of time by a peace officer or a merchant or a merchant's employe in order that recovery of such goods may be effected Such detention by a peace officer merchant or a merchant's employe shall not render such peace officer merchant or merchant's employe criminally or civilly liable for false arrest false imprisonment or unlawful detention

(c) The offences for which penalties and the presumptions are herein provided shall not be exclusive and shall be in addition to previously existing offenses and such rights and presumptions as were heretofore provided by law no magistrate alderman or justice of the peace shall have the power to reduce any charge of larceny to a charge of shoplifting as defined in this section

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1355.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader what was the report of conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would be glad to reply. On 1355, the conferees of the House were Mr. Kamyk, Mr. Stewart and myself. I had originally assigned Mr. Eilberg of Philadelphia, who could not be a Member. This was his bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. And what was done?

Mr. McCANN. The amendments placed in the bill by the Senate were agreed to be removed, and the House bill in its original form has passed the House.

Mr. McCORMACK. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1971

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1971.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1971, entitled: "An act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled 'An act relating to alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture, purchase, sale, possession consumption, importation, transportation, furnishing, holding in bond, holding in storage, traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein; * * * authorizing the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels in cities of the first and second class under certain conditions.'"

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

WILLIAM Z. SCOTT
BERNARD B. McGINNIS
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

WALTER T. KAMYK
JAMES J. DOUGHERTY
JOSEPH P. RIGBY

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" authorizing the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels in cities of the first and second class under certain conditions

Section 1 Section 406 act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) known as the "Liquor Code" amended May 27, 1957 (P. L. 201) is amended to read

Section 406 Sales by Liquor Licensees Restrictions (a) Every hotel restaurant or club liquor licensee may sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages by the glass open bottle or other container and in any mixture for consumption only in that part of the hotel or restaurant habitually used for the serving of food to guests or patrons and in the case of hotels to guests and in the case of clubs to members in their private rooms in the hotel or club No club licensee nor its officers servants agents or employees other than one holding a catering license shall sell any liquor or malt or brewed beverages to any person except a member of the club No club holding a catering license nor its officers servants agents or employees shall sell on Sunday to nonmembers any liquor or malt or brewed beverages In the case of a restaurant located in a hotel which is not operated by the owner of the hotel and which is licensed to sell liquor under this act liquor and malt or brewed beverages may be sold for consumption in that part of the restaurant habitually used for the serving of meals to patrons and also to guests in private guests rooms in the hotel.

Hotel liquor licensees and restaurant liquor licensees located in hotels in cities of the first and second class may sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages only after seven o'clock antemeridian of any week day until two o'clock antemeridian of the following day except Sunday and may sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages on Sunday between the hours of one o'clock postmeridian and ten o'clock postmeridian. Such Sunday sales shall be made subject to the restrictions imposed by the act on sales by hotels and restaurants in hotels for sales on week days as well as this section.

Hotel [restaurant] and restaurant liquor licensees other than those located in hotels in cities of the first and second class and public service liquor licensees their servants agents or employees may sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages only after seven o'clock antemeridian of any week day and until two o'clock antemeridian of the following day and shall not sell on Sunday [or] No hotel restaurant and public service liquor licensee shall sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages after two o'clock antemeridian on any day on which a general municipal special or primary election is being held until one hour after the time fixed by law for closing the polls No club licensee or its servants agents or employees may sell liquor or malt or brewed beverages between the hours of three o'clock antemeridian and seven o'clock antemeridian on any day.

Any hotel restaurant club or public service liquor licensee may by given notice to the board advance by one hour the hours herein prescribed as those during which liquor and malt or brewed beverages may be sold during such part of the year when daylight saving time is being observed generally in the municipality in which the place of business of such licensee is located. Any licensee who elects to operate his place of business in accordance with daylight saving time shall post a conspicuous notice in his place of business that he is operating in accordance with daylight saving time

(b) Whenever electors equal to at least twenty-five per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in any city of the first or second class at the last preceding general election shall file a petition with the county board of elections of the county for a referendum on the question of determining the will of the electors with respect to the authorization of the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels the county board of elections shall cause a question to be placed on the ballots or on the voting machine board and submitted at the primary immediately preceding the municipal election. Said proceedings shall be in the manner and subject to the provisions of the election laws which relate to the signing filing and adjudication of nomination petitions in so far as such provisions are applicable. Such question shall be in the following form:

|--|-----|
| Do you favor the authorization of the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages on Sunday in hotels between the hours of one o'clock postmeridian and ten o'clock postmeridian | Yes |
| | No |

The said question shall be printed on separate official ballots in bound form by the county commissioners of each county in which cities of the first and second class are established. A sufficient number of ballots shall be furnished to the election officers in each election district of such counties so that one ballot may be supplied to each voter at such election. In districts where voting machines are used such question shall appear on the face of the machine where the machine is properly equipped for such purposes.

(c) The votes cast on such question shall be counted by the election officers and returns thereof made by them and by election officers where voting machines are used to the prothonotary of the county who shall lay the same before the return board for computation at the same time and in the same manner as other returns. The return board shall compute the said returns by municipalities and certify the results of the vote cast on the question to the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

(d) In any city of the first or second class the will of the electors with respect to the authorization of the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels may after the year 1960 but not oftener than once in four years be ascertained and the question as provided in this act shall be submitted to the electors of any city of the first or second class upon demand in writing of petitioners equal to at least twenty-five per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in the city of the first or second class at the last preceding general or municipal election. Such petition shall be filed with the corporate authorities at least sixty days before the day of any election at which the question is to be submitted and if the petition is sufficiently signed shall thereupon be certified to the county commissioners who shall cause such question to be submitted in the same manner as is provided in this act for the election in the year 1960. If a majority of the electors voting in any city of the first or second class vote "yes" authorization of the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels shall be granted by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board but if a majority of the electors voting on such question vote "no" then the authorization shall be withdrawn.

(e) It is the intent of this act to provide a method whereby the will of the electors of each city with respect to the authorization of the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels may be ascertained and it shall be the duty of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to grant such authorization in accordance with the will of the electors as ascertained at said election. In case of failure of the board to do so the duty herein imposed upon the board may be enforced by mandamus.

(f) The provisions of this section shall be applicable only to those hotels whose sales of food and nonalcoholic beverages are equal to fifty-five per centum or more of the combined gross sales of both food and alcoholic beverages.

(g) The provisions of this section shall be applicable only to those rooms in hotels customarily used for the serving of food.

(h) The board is specifically given power without limiting the power conferred by other sections to make such rules and regulations as it deems necessary to insure compliance with and the enforcement of the provisions of this section.

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately but the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages on Sunday in hotels in cities of the first and second class shall not be permitted in any city until after a majority of electors voting in such city of the first or second class vote in favor of such sale under the referendum provisions of Section 406.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1971.

Mr. FOERSTER. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1971 is strictly a bill designed for a favored few hotels in two of our great cities, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

In my opinion, there is no justification to treat these favored few any differently than the majority of owners of establishments in Pennsylvania that sell liquor and malt beverages.

What excuse could we use to grant the Sunday selling of liquor and malt beverages to a few hotels and put restaurants and taverns in these two cities in an unfavorable competitive position?

I am not arguing for a completely "open" Sunday, but I am fearful that this is the first wedge to force an "open" Sunday.

Most tavern owners in my district do not want to open on Sundays, but will be forced to do so if this bill passes.

Sometime earlier in this Session I voted for Senate Bill 405. In my opinion, a vote for that bill precludes a vote for this bill. There are many organizations who were out lobbying for Senate Bill 405 and some of the arguments they gave I would like to read now, for I think it pertains to this bill before us, House Bill 1971.

This is from the Federation of Labor, which states, "Sunday sales are not in the public interest but rather in the interest of the few proprietors who seek the competitive advantage of being open when the overwhelming number of retail establishments are closed."

I think the same thing holds true on this bill. Also, continuing,

"Sunday commercial activity has been frowned upon by the American people from the day our country was founded. It has for many generations been public policy to keep one day free from such commercial activities."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, we are discussing the amendments, and the point of order is that he is debating the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The only excuse is that in times past we have been a little liberal.

The Chair would prefer, since the gentleman is reading from a manuscript, that he file his manuscript for the record, for in discussing the merits of the bill the gentleman is distinctly out of order and the only matter before the House is the difference between the two Houses.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, was not the inquiry of the gentleman from Philadelphia in connection with concurrences? This is a conference report we are working on and the whole bill is before us.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is in error.

Mr. McCORMACK. I withdraw the point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. This is a conference report, and the gentleman from Allegheny is privileged to discuss the report in its entirety. The Chair apologizes to the House. He is so accustomed to the other kind of business that his mind just followed that track. The gentleman from Allegheny will proceed.

Mr. FOERSTER. Mr. Speaker, continuing the arguments the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor has given for its position against Sunday activities in other fields.

It has for many generations been public policy to keep one day free from such commercial activities, particularly those involving the sale of non-essentials. If there were religious origins for this development they have long ceased to be the exclusive or even the most important consideration. It is universally accepted that Sunday is the one day of the week when families spend time together, when workers may find time for necessary rest and recreation and finally when those who so desire may find opportunity for worship together with their family and friends.

"The Labor movement in general and the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor in particular have long been interested in the curtailment and elimination of non-essential retail enterprise on Sunday. This is in keeping with our overall and long standing policy involving a shorter work week and more opportunity for Pennsylvania's workers to enjoy opportunities for rest, recreation and spiritual contemplation.

If the trend continues it will not be long before most other establishments will be compelled out of sheer economic self-defense and self-preservation to likewise throw their doors open."

My point, Mr. Speaker, is that if this bill passes, the next Session we are down here, there will be no justification for us not to give permission to every tavern owner and every restaurant in the Commonwealth the privilege of selling liquor and malt beverages on Sunday.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. RIGBY, HOCKER and GRAMLICH.

"(b) The Commonwealth shall pay annually to each school district erecting or sharing in the erection of a building or buildings under the provisions of the State Public School Building Authority Act for every lease approved by the Department of Public Instruction on or after August 26 1953 but prior to March 22 1956 and to each school district which shall have entered into a lease approved by the Department of Public Instruction on or after August 26 1953 but prior to March 22 1956 with a municipality authority or with a non-profit corporation for the rental of a school building or buildings an amount to be determined by multiplying the school district's [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction by that portion of the annual rental charge or share thereof provided for under its lease with the State Public School Building Authority or municipality authority or non-profit corporation as the case may be sufficient during the period of the lease to pay the cost of acquiring or constructing the school buildings the cost of acquiring the land upon which the school buildings are situate and the interest on such cost

"Section 5 Section 2575 of the act amended July 11, 1957 (P. L. 775) and July 13, 1957 (P. L. 864) is amended to read

"Section 2575 Payments on Account of Leases [Hereafter] Approved On or after March 22 1956 and on Account of Sinking Fund Charges on Indebtedness for School Buildings [Hereafter] Thereafter Constructed The Commonwealth shall pay annually to each school district erecting or sharing in the erection of a building or buildings under the provisions of the Public School Building Authority Act the Municipality Authority Act section 758 of the Public School Code of 1949 or section 791 of the Public School Code of 1949 on account of building for which the lease is approved on or after March 22 1956 or through the incurring of indebtedness by the issuance of general obligation bonds on account of buildings for which the general construction contract is awarded on or after March 22, 1956 an amount to be determined by multiplying the district's [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction by the approved reimbursable rental or approved reimbursable sinking charge

"Section 6 Section 2575.1 of the act added July 11, 1957 (P. L. 775) is amended to read

"Section 2575.1 Payment on Account of Building Costs The Commonwealth shall pay to any school district making a preliminary payment on account of the approved building construction cost as authorized by clause (5) of section 791 of this act an amount determined by multiplying the district's [capital account] adjusted standard reimbursement fraction by the amount of the payment made by the school district

The payment required by this section shall be made for the year in which the school district made its payment on account of the approved building construction cost

"Section 7 The sum of fifty-five million dollars ($55,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the payment of the reimbursements to school districts in the two years beginning June 1 1950 under the provisions of this act

"Section 8 This act shall take effect the first Monday of July 1959 and shall apply to all Commonwealth payments for the school year 1958-1959 and for each school year thereafter but shall not apply to payments for the school year 1957-1958 The law as it existed before the amendments and repeals made by this act shall continue in force for the purpose of payments for the school year 1957-1958 and for each year prior thereto page 42, by inserting on line 4 a new section as follows:

"Section 9 This act shall take effect immediately"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, please.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman why he is asking the House to non-concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate on House Bill 1108.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1108 when it passed the House dealt with changing the school subsidy and the payments were for the following year, if I remember correctly. The bill as it passed the House provided for the school districts of the Commonwealth in the amount of $55 million. House Bill 1108 now provides for an outlay of approximately $16 million for the previous school year which is payable in the present school term.

It is the wish of our caucus and also myself to non-concur in House Bill 1108, for the bill that left the House did a much different job for the education of the public school system of the Commonwealth than the present proposed legislation.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further ask the gentleman what he hopes to accomplish by non-concurrence in House Bill 1108?

Mr. McCANN. We hope that non-concurrence, and the Senate, we assume, will insist on their amendments—we do not know—for the purpose of a conference committee to see what that conference committee may be able to produce in the field of legislation, and also what the Senate in that same group would desire to pay for the field of public education.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. A further question, Mr. Speaker.

Is it the gentleman's hope and intention that a conference committee will be appointed tonight and will meet and confer and come up with a compromise conference report that can be printed and acted upon before we leave these Halls on this legislative day?

Mr. McCANN. It is my hope that if it is going to a conference committee that the motions are made and the conference committee is appointed. Whether that conference committee can produce a report I cannot say, but this I definitely know, that even if they are able to produce the report, that report surely cannot be completed tonight. I have insisted continually on the highway bill, they could not finish that tonight, how can they finish 1108 tonight?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, then does the gentleman have any suggestions to this House as to what he would like to see in House Bill 1108, produced by a conference committee?

Mr. McCANN. I do not have any recommendations to give to the conference committee, except to say that I believe our recommendations for the conferees will certainly be people who are interested in education, as well as finances of the Commonwealth and the school districts, the two we intend to appoint, should we go to the conference committee.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. A further question, Mr. Speaker. Do I understand that the gentleman is hoping that a conference committee will come up with a report, maybe yet this evening, one that the Governor could sign, within the realm of revenue available?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not hope nor plan at this hour that the conference committee would come up with a report that we would act on here tonight, Friday of this week. If that conference committee is to report to this House and to the Senate, I would hope, then, that they would report Monday, January 4, 1960.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I can see from the interrogation of the Majority Leader that there is definitely in order some dilatory tactics on the other side of the House. They hope tonight to throw this into a conference committee and then not get a report until the 4th of January.

It seems to me that for a stop-gap measure right now as far as the schools are concerned, as the bill has been explained to me, $16 million would be allocated some time after the first of the year to tide over the school districts this winter.

That would then give us a chance to come back in the '61 session and do a real job on new formulae and new money. In fact, there would then be plenty of money available starting in '61, because there is a $140 million deficit that we are wiping out by taxes. We could use a portion of those taxes for the schools.

Therefore, in view of the interrogation of the Majority Leader and the innuendo that he is bringing forth here about what he plans to do yet tonight on the bill, I am asking the Members on this side of the House to concur, and therefore, vote "no" on his motion to non-concur.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we ask for a roll call on this bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, since they have asked for a roll call, would you inform the House which way is an "aye" vote and which way is a "no" vote?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will state the question before we take a vote.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to dwell long upon this subject, but I would ask attention to my remarks, if I may have that attention.

This is a rather bitter hour, one of great disappointment and complete disillusionment to many, many thousands of our citizens throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. When one reviews the fact that throughout this entire year the School Administrations Association the Pennsylvania State Education Association, the School Directors Association and the Parent-Teacher' Association and thousands therewith affiliated have worked assiduously and untiringly to try to get us in this Legislature and in this administration to provide additional money desperately needed for our schools, one can but recognize that someplace, somewhere, along the line, we in this House and in the other body and in the Administration have woefully failed in our obligations and in our duties. And we dare not escape the charge that can be leveled against us uniformly.

Now it is extremely difficult for me to conceive that out of a $2 billion budget, out of $400 million new moneys, that we cannot find $55 million to help our public schools.

This is a new low in public education in our Commonwealth, I can only cite with certainty the situation that exists tonight that in this biennium, due to mandated increases in cost, we shall have spent $480,000, and if there is no money, we have to go to our people to raise our millage tremendously to find that money. In that fourth class district of mine, it is similar to all the fourth class districts throughout this Commonwealth, so also is the need desperate in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Yet, we stand here tonight wondering whether or not we can find $16 million. We have been told just a short time ago by the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee that there is no $16 million, that it just cannot be found. Yet, under the circumstances which we face the threat of the resigning of members of our boards of school directors from their positions under the hopeless situations they face, certainly this administration could pass and approve the $16 million to help the situation right now, so that it might give us some way in the next Session, even in 1960 or by 1961, to work out a plan to take care of education in this Commonwealth in the future.

I said I am not going to belabor the subject or talk too long. I can only say this, we have no wealth in this Commonwealth at all, no wealth at all except the human society which is ours, and if we do not provide the wherewithal to train this human society, then indeed we fail in our democracy. It is our obligation and our bounden duty that Members of this Legislature constitutionally mandate that we take care of this situation.

For that reason, therefore, and with great regret as a co-sponsor on this bill, though it is just a mere pittance to offer, I ask the Members of the House to vote for concurrence on the bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we are now at a point where I find it necessary to reiterate what I have said many time during the course of this Session.

When we voted a four percent sales tax at the time we voted for it, we did so with the understanding that there would be $28 million additional for education in that tax, which was designed to raise a total revenue of $749.3 million. We now come up to the very purpose for which we cast our vote for that four percent sales tax, and we find that the $28 million is not there and we are now being told that there is not even $16 million with which to meet the obligations that we were promised would be there.

I, therefore, ask the Members in this House to vote for concurrence in this bill, at least, for $16 million.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, my reason for non-concurring in Senate amendments is that I do not want to close the door of hope, my hope and the hope of a majority, I believe, of the Members of this House, that in time, given thought, given the opportunity, something better can be worked out.

Were we to adjourn sine die tonight, we would have little option except to concur in Senate amendments. But, we are not going to adjourn sine die. We are going to have a considerable period during which to think about these problems, to devise ways and means where we can strengthen the position of those that have been battling in behalf of better appropriations for our public schools. If we go along with the Senate amendments, it ends.

There are some changes that have been made in the bill that do not affect simply money. They have to do with the formula, and I do not believe that the Members of this House, certainly I, have not had the opportunity to discuss and consider the significance of the changes in the bill that are not concerned with money.

All the Members of the House know that when we leave here tonight we leave to come back on January 4. Then, if it is necessary and if no one has any ideas, if there is no prospect or rearrangement of finances, then we can do what we would be forced to do if we were to adjourn sine die tonight. But, if we do not concur, we give them a period of reprieve and surely, surely, surely during that period of reprieve something better can be done in the way of school legislation than is contained in the document which the Senate has sent us.

And so I hope that the Members of this House will not concur in the Senate amendments, that we will have from now until January 4, a period during which we can all do some sober thinking, and perhaps it is not necessary to slam the door on all the hopes we entertained when we gathered here so long ago.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman, please?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. He is a lawyer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. He is limited to a layman's question.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Well, Mr. Andrews, your plaintive plea draws iron tears down by cheeks. I will say this in the form of a query.

Suppose we come back here on January 4, there are two legislative days left. There is no tax program out on the Senate calendar. Therefore, there would be no taxes. So we come back here on the 4th with House Bill 1108 and with your admonition from the Governor that he has not got a dime for it, what will we be able to do on reconsideration on January 4 that we cannot do tonight?

Mr. ANDREWS. We might have some ideas about some changes in the structure of this bill that will induce us and the Governor to agree to the changes in the bill, with the understanding that we will proceed in accordance with an agreed upon tax program. It would have to be an agreed-upon matter.

There is a possibility that there will be found somewhere along the line among those who do not want to contribute to the support of the schools a weak link somewhere, and we will have a conference committee in being and a conference committee in action. If it does not amount to anything, it will land us exactly where we are tonight. If we have nothing to produce, if His Excellency, the Governor has nothing to produce, if no single idea has been sparked between now and January 4, we will then be just where we are tonight. We have lost nothing because this bill is not going into effect before January 4.

That is my reason for asking for delay.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Another query, Mr. Speaker: the gentleman is not saying that on January 4 by reason of some recomputations the Governor may be finding some lapsed appropriations, that there will be at least $16 million available for this bill?

Mr. ANDREWS. I am not satisfied to close the door on all hopes of more than $16 million, and I will not cease hoping until the gate is closed and the period of thought and contemplation ends. If we do not land on January 4 where we are tonight and if we have nothing to offer, perhaps we will be as naked of achievement as we are tonight—I hope not—as naked of ideas as we are tonight, as divided in our counsels as we are tonight.

I go along with the gentleman from Bedford. I hope those who have belabored so insistently in the interest of the schools can in some way or other solve this rumble about a few million dollars here, a few million dollars there, and playing politics with the school situation because the Governor did not do this or somebody else did not do that.

I would like to see a new day. I would like to see a conference committee really attack these problems. Perhaps nothing can be done. Then we will have to go to the people and confess our inability to produce in accordance with the needs.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, one final question. On January 4, 1960, if we decide here that there should be another $50 million for the schools, will there be money available without new taxes? Answer yes or no.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would say that if the situation come January 4 is exactly as the situation is tonight and there is no promise and no agreement between the House and the Senate, between the leaders of the House and the Senate, between the Governor and the Members of the House, that nothing of any kind will be done and his budget as arranged stands in all of its present texture, then there will not be the money.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to make just a few further remarks.

I know that the Speaker of the House this morning talked about the headlines in one of the morning papers that the Republican GOP Senate had deprived the schools of $55 million.

I say that headline was misleading because the state Senate has not deprived the schools of that amount of money. If as was pointed out here today repeatedly, there is not $55 million anywhere around to be spent for the schools, I do not see how the Senate could have deprived the schools of one cent.

Why did the Senate come up with a $16 million bill? They felt, with a letter that was sent out by the State Treasurer that he thought there would be about $100 million more money coming in during this biennium than estimated and they had figured from the Joint State Government Commission there was about $32 million or $33 million more money—and I am sure there are other agencies in Pennsylvania that would come up with estimates—there is more money in the present taxes on the books. So the Senate felt $16 million was a realistic sum of money that could conceivably be eked out of the huge tax program that we have on our books at the present time.

The four percent sales tax as was pointed out here, in all its many ramifications on your electric light bill, on laundry and dry cleaning bills and the way you extended it to all the numerous items, such as whiskey and everything, they are estimating about $749 million and with this huge business for Christmas that we are having, the Senate felt that there ought to be at least $16 million that we could give the schools now, after the 1st of the year sometime, to tide them over during the 1959-1960 year. I grant you that it probably is not enough money for them. It is not $55 million, I grant you, but it is a sum of money that we could say, here you are. It will help you until we come back in 1961 when we have $140 million in taxes that are lapsing. Because of a deficit having been funded, there would be $140 million available that we can give to you right away.

That was the thinking behind what the Senate did. It was not that they wanted to deprive and cripple the schools and short-change them $50-some million from money which the Governor says is not in the budget.

Therefore, it seems to me that here we are tonight, before we go home for Christmas, a nice little Christmas present we could give the school directors up through the hinterlands of Pennsylvania which would be a nice $16 million present. We could very well concur in these amendments and put this on the Governor's desk. I am sure that the Majority Leader with his great smile could put on a Santa Claus suit and go to the Governor, and I believe that the Governor could conscientiously and rightfully sign the bill.

I know you say that the corporate net income tax will only bring in $315 million, not $330 million as others say it will. All right, I think the Governor could stretch a point just a little, sign this bill and give the money to the school districts.

Therefore, I say tonight, while we have the opportunity let us concur in these amendments by the Senate. It is about the best thing we are going to be able to do this Session.

Let me tell you something: It is questionable as to whether in the 1960 Session you are going to be able to write a new formula for the schools. I grant you, you will probably appropriate $50 million, but what will your formula be? That would be enacting a new law. I think we would be very, very much behind the eight ball if we do not do something right now.

On the 4th of January I am sure the Governor's office will not have any more money than they have tonight. So I am pleading with all of you, let us vote to concur in this bill and vote this money for our schools.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. So the Members will know how they are voting, those voting "aye" vote to concur; Those voting "no" vote to non-concur.

Mr. McCANN. It was absolutely clear to me, the information that you gave me is correct. Will you please repeat it? Those voting "aye" vote to concur. Those voting "no" are supporting the decision that we have taken on Bill 1108. We are trying to get the point clear, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the House the question that arises on any amended bill is "Will the House concur in the amendments." Those voting "aye" vote to concur; those voting "no" vote to non-concur in the amendments.

Mr. McCANN. So that here at the last minute we all get a little educating. I got some a few minutes ago, there is no such thing as a motion to non-concur in a rightful sense. A motion to concur is the only motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is partly correct except that a roll call is requested and the question must be put as it is now. When you make a motion to non-concur it is only an "aye" and "nay" voice vote.

So that there is no misunderstanding the Chair will once again repeat the question, those voting "aye" vote to concur in the amendments from the Senate. Those voting "no" vote not to concur in the amendments from the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. DAVIS filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 1108.

I wish to file my reasons for voting for the concurrence motion concerning the Senate's amendments to House Bill No. 1108.

My vote is primarily a protest vote. I have already gone on record as believing that the state school subsidies under House Bill No. 1108 should be adequate, and that they should be raised by a broad-base tax measure, something along the lines of Representative Strausser's three percent sales tax on clothing.

Such counties as my own Forest County are already paying close to, if not beyond, their taxing potentialities in support of our local schools.

Clearly, we need higher state subsidies in such counties as mine, if our schools are to continue at an acceptable level, along the lines defined by Dr. Conant in his recently issued book "The American High School Today" as a comprehensive high school.

In other words, the principle of equalization is at stake. House Bill No. 1108 was designed to restore equalization to the low-taxing potential communities. But it must have financial sinew to be effective.

The Administration apparently has not seen fit to look favorably upon the movement of adequate tax raising legislation through the House—legislation which would squarely underwrite the costs of a version of House Bill No. 1108 which would realistically meet the equalization needs of areas like my own Forest County.

Accordingly, I am voting "aye" as a protest against the lack of interest in meeting the equalization problem by an adequately conceived, broadbase tax.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill 1108:

I wish that we had been able to supply the school districts of Pennsylvania with an additional $55 to $70 million in state subsidies. Apparently it is needed.

However no fair plan to raise this amount of money was ever proposed by the Democratic leadership. In fact, Governor Lawrence had not one red cent in his budget for additional aid to the schools of Pennsylvania!

We are now reliably informed that the yield from present taxes should be enough to distribute $16 million to our school districts. I hope so and therefore must vote "Aye" so that these funds can be paid to our school districts in the 1959-1960 school year.

Obviously the time is long past when the entire system of school subsidies must be intelligently studied to determine a long range answer.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 2423 FROM GOVERNOR.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 18, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 2423, Printer's No. 2068, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

INTERROGATION

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that you are not going to have a conference report on 1108, or 2459, and they are real mighty important things, cannot you not cut the business of the day down to a trickle and let the Members get their dinners and come back here, or leave a lot of stuff for January 4. As long as, apparently, January 4 is going to be such an important day, maybe we can forget a lot of these things you are working on.

Mr. McCANN. I don't think so, Mr. Speaker. We have the sheet that shows 648, 853, 2118, the motion on 2459, 1043 and the motion on 1057. That is all we have, period. I think that is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. All right. Let us get right through with it. These Members want to go out and get a bite to eat.

Mr. McCANN. I sure do. I have not eaten since 7:30 this morning.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 2459, entitled:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the report of the Committee of Conference was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, a while ago a Conference Committee was appointed on House Bill 1616. That committee as appointed was at that time Mrs. Varallo, Mr. Polen, Mr. Wood.

After going over to the Senate, they informed us that on this particular bill, if they meet, they want to meet later. So, therefore, a request has been made that Mrs. Varallo of Philadelphia be removed from the Conference Committee. I request now that on House Bill 1616 the name of Mrs. Varrallo be removed and I will serve as a member of the conference committee.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varrallo, has asked to be excused from serving as a member of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1616, Printer's No. 2102. The Speaker has appointed in her stead the gentleman from Green, Mr. McCann.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presense of the House, signed the same.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to clear now, at this time, the situation. We have now, at this point acted on all of the messages. The Senate is coming back at 9:00. There are messages to receive here and one of them will be 1108, where we get to the position of appointing a Conference Committee, which we are agreed at this point we shall appoint. We can take the recess, receive these messages, appoint the committee, let them work during that interim period. If that is agreed to it is satisfactory with me.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess for two hours.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, for the calendar for January 4th, I request that the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1977 be placed on the calendar, along with the one bill that is on there at this point No. 1030.

The SPEAKER. That has been done.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. Some of the Members who are present will recall the closing hours of former Sessions. The Speaker has been around most of the time in Harrisburg since 1908. There was a period when he was out of the state, but there has been a better attendance, better decorum, a more dignified close of a Legislative Session in this year of our Lord than he can recall at any time during the last 40 years. The newcomers would hardly believe some of the old timers detailing the bedlam that prevailed in former years during the hours when the Legislature was nearing its end.

The Speaker has seen Member take one of those heavy files and go up in the front row of the gallery and hurl it down. There was a deluge of paper wads that were dangerous to the eyesight. Book covers of the files would be sailing through the air.

The old timers remember, and they can measure the progress that we have made during recent years in decorum. It is a matter to be proud of that we could have lingered so long and have closed the Session in such magnificent fashion.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am reminded that as the gavel drops tonight it will be the last time that one of our Members will be with us officially. Although Mrs. Varallo is a Member of the majority party, I think we all gained a great deal of respect for her.

At this time I would like to express the delightful associations I have had with the Majority Whip, not only this Session but in prior Sessions. I know that wherever she goes in Philadelphia she will always have free cheese on hand for you, but you will have to pay for your beer. We hate to see her go. She is going into newer fields and I want to wish her Godspeed.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Varallo.

Mrs. VARALLO. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House and Brother Whip, I am very sad tonight knowing that I will not be here another Session, but I am happy at the thought that I have made so many good friends in this House that when I go back to Philadelphia those memories will hold for many, many years.

I want the Members of the House to know that Room 404 in the City Hall is their home when they come to Philadelphia. Thank you very, very much.

The SPEAKER. Since this is the last day that the lady from Philadelphia, will serve as a Member of this House, the Chair is asking her to preside during this closing session, during which she has added charm and grace and beauty. She will, like the Speaker, await communications from the Senate, and the Chair would hate to try to calculate the number of hours during the last thirty years he has spent awaiting communications from the Senate that were not worth receiving after you got them.

Mrs. VARALLO IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. McCANN. Madame Speaker, while the recess was on, I asked Senator McGinnes to give us a little of Galway Bay. I did not know whether we were going to start right now.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Senator is recognized.

Senator McGinnes sang "Galway Bay."

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-
CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1108, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" increasing the basis for reimbursement on account of instruction and changing the basis for reimbursement in certain cases.

And has appointed Messrs. WAGNER, ELLIOTT and SEYLER a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives, (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL No. 1108.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has appointed as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House, Mrs. REICHMAN and Messrs. POLEN and STROUP.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. McCANN. Madame Speaker, the Committee of Conference plans to send out communications to its conferees to meet on Monday, December 28, 1959, very likely in the House Appropriation Committee room.

House Bill 63 is returned with amendments. It is to go on the calendar.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR NON-CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

HOUSE BILL No. 1980.

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" further regulating the marking and counting of ballots.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has non-concurred.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments nonconcurred in by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL No. 1980.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has appointed as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House, Messrs. STONE, GAILEY and HOLLIDAY,

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair understands that the lady from Lehigh, Mrs. Markley, will favor us with a solo at this time.

Mrs. Markley sang Oh, Holy Night.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, this is Mr. Worley's birthday. We have in Francis Worley one of the unique and lucky people in American political government. His constituent is now on a peace mission, and I think Francis can be proud to have the President in his district. I know the President is proud to have Francis as his Representative.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps Mrs. Markley would lead in a happy birthday tribute, dear Francis.

Mrs. Markley led the Members in singing "Happy Birthday."

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Adams.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, it is very thoughtful, and I thank the Members and appreciate it very much.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to announce, if I may, and place in the record, the Conference Committee reports which may be completed during the period of the recess are to be submitted to the Chief Clerk's office, and the House is directing that the Conference Committee reports be placed on the House calendar for Monday, January 4.

Mr. Speaker, at this point our calendar will have for Monday, so far, three pieces of legislation, three more than I thought it would have.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state that while a specific date was made for the meeting of the conferees on House Bill No. 1108, the conferees by conference among themselves, of course, are privileged to meet together and discuss the situation at any earlier date they might elect.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1355.

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "The Penal Code" prohibiting the reduction of a charge of larceny to a charge of shoplifting and clarifying the provisions relating to embezzlement by public officers and others handling public money as herein defined and.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 18, 1959.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvenes Monday, January 4, 1960, at ten o'clock a.m., EST, unless sooner recalled by the President pro tempore; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvenes Monday, January 4, 1960, at twelve o'clock Noon, EST, unless sooner recalled by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. I rise to request concurrence in the resolution that says that the House shall convene at 12:00, noon on Monday, January 4, even though the Senate will be in at 10:00 o'clock. We probably will be waiting on the Senate for some of the reports, for signature of the bills and so forth.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-
CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1980, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" further regulating the marking and counting of ballots.

And has appointed Messrs. Whalley, Shafer and Mahady a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives, (already appointed) on the subject of the differences between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, January 4, 1960 at 12:00 noon EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:31 p.m., EST) the House adjourned.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JANUARY 4, 1960.

No. 127.

SENATE

MONDAY, January 4, 1960.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock a.m.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. JOHN DAVID TATE, Pastor of Market Square Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

O God, Who art, and wast, and art to come, before Whose face the generations rise and pass away, age after age Thy people seek Thee and find that of Thy faithfulness there is no end.

Those who have preceded us in these stately halls of privilege have walked by Thy guidance or permission, and rested on Thy mercy and forgiveness. So we, too, seek to conform to Thy justice and not to deviate from Thy rightness.

During the past year, we have felt Thy restraining arm, and for the times when we have been strong enough in conviction to heed Thee, we are thankful. For the times when we have been weak and self-indulgent, we do ask Thy forgiveness.

This Session of the Legislature is now to be history and we trust that Thou wilt magnify and prosper that which is worthy of our leadership, and that Thou wilt minimize and bring to nought that which we may have done which is displeasing to Thee.

We ask that Thou wilt bless the Members of this Senate. Especially, we pray for one in the Senate Library who is ill, that Thou might place Thy healing hand upon that one.

Much as we sometimes hate to admit it, Thou art the ruler yet, and we would learn how to honor Thee in rightness rather than to be dishonored by Thee for our ineptness. We pause then for this moment to acknowledge that Thou art God and we are but Thy servants, ruling by Thy permissive will.

Hear us as we honor Thee, through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr.

RUTH, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time, the Chair invites the gentleman from Carbon, Mr. Scott, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (William Z. Scott) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This report will be noted in the Journal and printed in full in the Appendix.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. SHAFER submitted the reports of Committee of Conference on HB 1980, which was laid on the table.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to HB 1508 and 2420.

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bills: SB 993, 1043, HB 900, 1508, 1675, 2150, 2170, 2420 and 2423.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, the day before the Liberty Bowl Football Game, I promised that I would introduce a congratulatory resolution when we returned to the Senate.

At this time, therefore, I wish to present this resolution and say that if any other Senators desire to cosponsor it, I will be very happy to have them join me.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL TEAM UPON WINNING THE FIRST ANNUAL LIBERTY BOWL GAME

Messrs. HAYS, TAYLOR, WHALLEY, SILVERT, MAHADY, LANE, MALLERY, BERGER, PECHAN and CONFAIR offered the following resolution (Serial No. 96), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 4, 1960.

Whereas, On Saturday afternoon, December 19, 1959, at the Philadelphia Municipal Stadium, the Penn State University Football team, THE NITTANY LIONS under the direction of Coach Charles A. "Rip" Engle ended a most successful season by turning back the challenge of the "Crimson Tide" from the University of Alabama by a score of 7-0, and

Whereas, By this victory, the prestige of Eastern Inter-collegiate Athletics was greatly enhanced and the reputation of Penn State as a national leader in football was further established, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extend its heartiest congratulations to the Pennsylvania State University 1959 football team, its coach, its captain, Pat Botula, All-American Richie Lucas and all its other members, and, be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit copies of this Resolution to Coach Engle and the members of the team.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, it seems to me that this group of men who upheld the prestige of Pennsylvania in the first Liberty Bowl Game, in Philadelphia, were primarily Pennsylvanians.

To show how Pennsylvania State University draws its roots from all segments of the Commonwealth, I would point out that this squad was made up of young men from twenty-five of the fifty Senatorial Districts of Pennsylvania. Therefore, Mr. President, in order for each of the Members to shove out his chest in pride, I have a little data here to read into the record.

Senator Mahady's District contributed six players to this squad; Senator Taylor's Districts, Senator Ruth's District and Senator Kopriv's District each contributed three players to the squad; and Senator Wade's District, Senator Watkins's District, Senator McMenamin's District, Senator Shafer's District, Senator Rooney's District, Senator Miller's District and Senator McGinnis's District each contributed two players to the squad.

The following Senatorial Districts each contributed one player to the squad: The list is headed by Senator Ripp's District, which contributed the All-American, Richie Lucas, from Glassport; Senator Silvert's District, Senator Keller's District, Senator Berger's District, Senator Confair's District, Senator Harney's District, Senator Mallery's District, Senator Lane's District, Senator Murray's District, Senator Kalman's District, Senator Propert's District, Senator Pechan's District, Senator Walker's District and, of course, my own Senatorial District, from the city of Dubois, which contributed the strong fullback, Sam Sobczak.

The PRESIDENT. Certainly, this football team is most representative of the Pennsylvania Senate. I can imagine a line forming to the right because of the gentlemen who wish to sign this resolution.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, you will notice that there is no one on that list from my Senatorial District. My boys go to Pitt. I represent the University of Pittsburgh and that is in my Senatorial District.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I certainly am very happy to vote for this very fine resolution. I know that we are all proud of Pennsylvania State University. However, since Senator Barr has just laid the groundwork, may I suggest to the Senate that we have a very, very wonderful football team in western Pennsylvania which defeated the Pennsylvania State University? The players on the football team of the University of Pittsburgh are mostly from western Pennsylvania. Therefore, we would like that to be noted.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Hays, do you desire a copy of this resolution to go to each member individually?

Mr. HAYS. I would like a copy to go to each member and the coach of the team.

The PRESIDENT. I hope you will be able to supply the names and addresses of the team members.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor, which were laid on the table:

CORONER IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF ALLEGHENY

Michael J. Eagen, resigned.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the resolution I am about to introduce has to do not with an investigation, but an over-all study of the Department of Highways.

As most of the Members of this Senate already realize, in years gone by, we have had various and sundry reports or studies of certain phase of our Department of Highways. Back in 1947, we authorized the expenditure of some $50,000 for a study by the Brookings Institute of Washington. Following that, we had a study known as the Berger Planning Commission. Their report was made in 1950, to the then Governor James Duff. Following that, we had a study made by the Joint State Government Commission of certain phases of the Department of Highways. More recently, we had a rather complete recommendation from the Automotive Safety Foundation in Washington.

Mr. President, our Department of Highways has grown fast. The increase in the number of automobiles and trucks, and the use of highways, has occasioned the very fast growth. We have always been very proud of our Department of Highways. However, with this fast growth, some weaknesses have developed. The Members of this Senate and the Members of the House have endeavored over the years to make an equitable distribution of Highway Funds which, after the vote of the people on November 6, 1946, were dedicated and limited to the use of highway purposes, only. After that time, the funds could not be used for any other purpose.

In casual observance, we find that only some fourteen counties, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, have any highways left, although practically all, except five or six, have some bridges which belong to the counties. Under the present law, we have been making an allocation of one-half of one cent to these counties. As recently as last week, the Auditor General's Department criticized one county as to whether or not the funds allocated to that county, out of the one-half of one cent, were spent on the highway system, in accordance with our Constitution. Let me say further that in the 746 miles which continue in Pennsylvania under the county system, more than 500 miles are now in one county. Five counties have a total of 11.56 miles. In other words, in five counties there are only 11.56 miles of county roads. Of course, many counties have none at all.

For that reason, Mr. President, I think it is time that we have a complete, over-all study of the highway situation in Pennsylvania. Also, in view of the fact that we are getting into the Federal Interstate and Military Highway System, a certain portion of our funds will go for that purpose.

I am, therefore, Mr. President, offering this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE HIGHWAY SYSTEM AND ALL ITS RELATED PROBLEMS

Messrs. WADE, KESSLER, PROPERT and BERGER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 97), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 4, 1960.

It is obvious that the highway system in our State, which is the tenth largest in the country, is in need of revision. Men who are familiar with the problems and complexity of a modern and efficiently managed highway network are well aware of this fact. On November 9, 1959 a resolution, asking for a study of the classification of all highways in the Commonwealth, was introduced in the House of Representatives by the Chairman of the Highways Committee but it still lingers in the Rules Committee of the House.

As far back as 1947, the problem of State and local highway financing was brought to the attention of the people of the Commonwealth. We spent approximately $50,000 to have a complete report made by The Brookings Institution of Washington, D. C. This report, which was very thorough and comprised approximately 250 pages, offered many recommendations which could have been followed but evidence indicates that very little was done in carrying out the suggestions.

In 1950, the Highway Planning Commission, with Senator James S. Berger as its chairman, dealt with the problem. Their report, which is entitled "Pennsylvania Highways—Today and Tomorrow," also made serious and well considered recommendations. They went into the problem of the present systems of State grants and came to the conclusion that the distribution pattern of grants was particularly unsound and needed to be revised, yet it seems evident that very little, if anything, has been done along those lines.

Under existing law, the counties receive a part of the money derived from the sale of gasoline and other fuels. This money is to be used primarily for highway and bridge purposes, yet there are only fourteen counties that maintain their roads and out of these fourteen, nine have a total of approximately eleven miles. It is true that some counties maintain bridges with the money received from the State but in four counties they have neither a county road nor a county bridge. Surely something should be done to determine why this money is still being sent to the counties when in many cases they do nothing but collect it and then turn it over to the municipalities.

As recent as August, 1958, another report, with recommendations for modernizing State policies and practices in relation to our highway system, was submitted by the Automotive Safety Foundation. Once again they suggested that we change our present highway system and establish a uniform plan whereby there would be a just and equitable way of determining what highways should be supported by the State and what ones should be left to the local governments. In the past, most sessions of the General Assembly passed legislation which added mileage to the State system but at the same time there were some deletions. It seems that in this session the plan was merely to add hundreds of miles of highways to the State system as well as many bridges. This certainly shows that the recommendations of the American Safety Foundation are not being carried out.

As we can readily see, Pennsylvania is without a plan for a uniform highway system that is just and equitable for all the areas of the State; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission investigate and study the highway system and all its related problems, including but not limited to the grants which are made to the local government for the maintenance of roads; and be it further

Resolved, That they determine what steps have been taken to comply with the recommendations and suggestions made in the various reports already submitted; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of such legislation, as may be necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to object to the immediate consideration of this resolution for the following reasons.

The gentleman, as Chairman of the Committee on Highways of the Senate, well knows that there have been a number of pieces of legislation sent to him this Session by the House, which have been recommended by the Secretary of Highways, that were in keeping with this automotive report. I think that it is a bad practice for us, because we cannot solve a problem among ourselves or through the committee system set up in the Senate, to ask for another committee to make another report.

After we spend all of this money to have the Joint State Government Commission make an investigation and present another report, what assurance do we have from this very same gentleman that he will even vote for their recommendations, or will try to enact such legislation?

This is certainly a rather odd way to handle a problem by ducking it. That is exactly what you are doing. You are asking the Joint State Government Commission to make one more report and have a copy of the report sent to all of the Members. The Campbell Report, which was made by the Comptroller General, was mailed out to every Senator here. I will not embarrass anyone by asking how many Members here have read that report, and I realize that it is not pertinent.

I saw Senator Wade raise his hand. He made a statement to the newspapers,—and if I am incorrect, I hope he will correct me—whereby he said there was going to be an intensive investigation as a result of this report. About a week or so later, a statement attributed to the same Senator—if I am incorrect, I hope he will correct me—stated that he was not going to make any kind of an investigation. He felt that one day would be sufficient in this matter, as he felt the Campbell Report did not cover the entire problem. If these are the kind of reports that we are going to rely upon, and these are the kind of recommendations that we are going to use as a basis for taking any kind of action, I think we are wasting the State's money and the State's time.

Road programs are not something that you can do within five or ten minutes or five or ten years. I believe that Senator Berger will be glad to advise us that the report he made took a ten year view of what was going to happen in this State, and all of those things that were reported in that report pretty well have come to pass. We have been pleading this Session that we do the same thing now for another ten years, because it will take almost a year or two before this report can be written. It is comprehensive. Is it the type of thing which goes into many, many facets of our program.

I would say to the Senator that he has enough material now in his committee, if he would be willing to hold hearings or be willing to take it up with his committee, to bring this entire problem before the Senate and the Legislature so that we can take proper action on it. The appointing of one more committee to take one more look at this problem, with one more report with thousands of pages of suggested legislation which nobody reads and which will not be enacted into law, I think is a rather sorry way to go about dealing with an important problem which faces all of us, as well as the economic welfare of this State.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, it is seldom that we have a lengthy debate on objection to the immediate consideration of a resolution.

I only want to say very briefly that, in part, what Senator Weiner said was true. It is not a good practice to refer problems which we are unable or unwilling to solve in the Legislature to the Joint State Government Commission. However, I cannot agree with the Senator on one point that he made, and that is that there are too many studies being made on this subject.

My suggestion would be that the subject is one which ought to be under continuous study at all times through a permanent commission. I believe that from time to time we have introduced legislation in the Senate to provide for a Highways Commission, headed up, if you will, by the Secretary, but at least a continuing body whereby there would be no lapse in the program as Administrations change from time to time.

Now as to one thing I do know about, Mr. President, the Report of the Highway Planning Commission, of which I was chairman, submitted in 1950, was projected over approximately twelve years. However so fast was the addition of vehicular traffic to our highways that in less than five years, the recommendations which we made were somewhat obsolete, even in that short period. It is very, very difficult to project and find the projections to be within the proper scope.

Therefore, Mr. President, I cannot say that the study by the Joint State Government Commission will not be useful. I believe that it will. However, I also say that I believe this subject should be one of continuing study rather than terminable at the end of the next Session, or whenever the report is made by the Joint State Government Commission.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will tell you the part of this resolution to which I object and that is the concluding paragraph, which states that the Joint State Government Commission conduct this investigation. I am in favor of an investigation. However, I am in favor of joining, as the Governor has stated he will join, with the Secretary of Highways in helping, because I want this to be done by the Senate and not by employees of the Senate.

I am confident that the results of this report will show just where the failure has been, and that is right over on the other side because legislation was not passed. Legislation has been sent over here in the last five years containing the things which need to be done for the highways. I will object to the end of my time to the Joint State Government Commission making this study. Let us do it in the Senate and the House. Let us have a thorough investigation. We have nothing to hide.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the Members discussing this resolution insist on using the word "investigation," which is all right and proper, but I would rather use the word "study." What we want to do is get down to a comprehensive study to know where we are going on our highway problems.

I must say to Senator Weiner, in all kindness, that I know he is interrupted continuously in his official position, and I observed that he was holding conversations which he cannot avoid, and certainly I am considerate of that fact. However, if the Senator had, heard what I said initially in presenting this resolution, he would have heard me refer to the Brookings Institute Report, for which we paid some $50,000 in 1947. It was recommended in that report that a comprehensive plan, projected over the years, be presented or be studied, and Senator Berger carried that out with his committee and reported back in 1950 to the Legislature and to Governor Duff. It was followed by a more comprehensive study in certain phases only. The study did not cover the phase of distribution of the money to the municipalities and to the counties, and many other phases, such as the additions to the highway system or deletions from the highway system.

As a matter of fact, more recently, fourteen months ago, we had the Automotive Safety Foundation Report, which, again, was quite comprehensive. I have a resumé of the recommendations in my hand. I think every Member of the Legislature perhaps received this report, although I do not know. Some of the major recommendations include acquisition of the right of way and factual data on needs. Let me read that paragraph:

"Begin immediately the collection of the factual data required for a comprehensive, statewide analysis of highway needs. The study should be made by the department, under legislative auspices to provide a base for the development of construction and maintenance programs, and for sound determination of policies and allocation of revenues by the legislature."

I think we would all agree that this is very comprehensive in itself. Another recommendation reads:

"Call a moratorium on legislative changes in the State Highway System. Direct the highway department by law to make a study and submit recommendations for reclassification of all roads and streets, in accordance with their function, traffic volumes and other pertinent data."

Other recommendations include reclassification, study of rural roads, traffic engineering and continuity of management, as follows:

"To minimize political influences on the operations of the highway department, which have been traditional in Pennsylvania, and which prevent continuity of either programs or personnel, separate permanently by statute the policy-making and the administrative responsibilities. This could be achieved by the establishment of a part-time highway commission, to be appointed by the governor and approved by the Senate, with specified policy-making duties and responsibilities . . ."

I do not want to burden the Members of the Senate on this, one of the closing days of the Session, by reading the entire report. However, I submit it will be very interesting to those who are interested in the development, on a sound basis, of our highway system.

I have further figures here. We have been confused by the fact that we now have a Conference Committee working on House Bill No. 2459, which would add to the highway system, contrary to the recommendation of this fine report.

Those are part of the reasons, Mr. President and Members, that I think it is time now that we go into all of the phases of this massive highway system, of which we are all justly proud in Pennsylvania. We want to keep it the leading highway system in the United States. We want to continue to be proud of it. We want it to be sound. We want the funds, which are allocated by virtue of a constitutional amendment, to put into the proper hands and distributed equitably and fairly.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us,—it may be that I did not hear him correctly—is this the 1947 report that you read, sir?

Mr. WADE. No, this is the 1958 report from the Automotive Safety Foundation of Washington, D. C.

Mr. WEINER. Do you subscribe to the points brought out in that report or the recommendations made?

Mr. WADE. That is a very touchy question, and I appreciate it, Mr. President. However, I want to say that I subscribe to part of it, but not in its entirety. There are parts of it to which I might subscribe if I had a good study by the Joint State Government Commission, reaching into areas which are not covered by this report. This report, for the sake of brevity, does not cover those points entirely.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, in that report, did you read to us about the acquisition of land and property, and recommendations made on that problem?

Mr. WADE. No, Mr. President, I did not want to burden my colleagues by reading this entire booklet.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, is that contained in the report?

Mr. WADE. It is, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Do you subscribe to that recommendation?

Mr. WADE. No, not entirely.

Mr. WEINER. Do you subscribe to any part of it?

Mr. WADE. Under certain conditions, yes, I would subscribe to changes in our method of acquiring property or paying claims.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, at any time you want me to stop asking question, just tell me and I will stop.

Mr. WADE. Thank you.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you please advise us if you voted this Session on House Bill No. 2388, which dealt specifically with the State highway law, making amendments thereto, and dealt also with the authorization for the acquisition of property necessary for present or future highways?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the answer is "no." I did not have an opportunity to vote on its final passage.

Mr. WEINER. Did you vote on that bill at any time, Senator?

Mr. WADE. I voted to return the bill to committee for further study.

Mr. WEINER. To which committee was this bill returned?

Mr. WADE. To the Rules Committee.

Mr. WEINER. Are you a member of that committee, Senator Wade?

Mr. WADE. I am not.

Mr. WEINER. Are most of the Members on your side members of that committee?

Mr. WADE. No, I would say not, Mr. President. My recollection is that there are only five Members on this side who are members of the Rules Committee.

Mr. WEINER. What is the total number of that committee—Do you know, sir?

Mr. WADE. My recollection is seven members.

Mr. WEINER. So that if five Members are Members of your side—I will let you confer with counsel, if you would like.

Mr. Wade. I would like to confer with the book, if I may.

Mr. President, according to my count, there are nine members.

Mr. WEINER. There are nine members. How many of them sit on the same side of the aisle with you, Senator?

Mr. WADE. Six members.

Mr. WEINER. Six. Actually, two-thirds of the committee are members who sit on the same side of the aisle that you do, sir?

Mr. WADE. That is correct, according to the History dated Monday, January 4, 1960.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, did you ever discuss this matter with the Members who sit on the same side as you do who are members of this committee?

Mr. WADE. Yes, Mr. President, certainly, I have discussed legislation with different members of that committee.

Mr. WEINER. Have you tried to have this bill rereported to the floor, so that all of us could have an opportunity to vote on it on final passage?

Mr. WADE. Not being a member of that committee, that would not be my prerogative, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, perhaps that is my fault. Please forgive me. I did not state the question correctly. The question I was asking was, did you ever try to ask the members of that committee, who sit on the same side of the aisle as you do, that this bill be rereported so that we would all have an opportunity to vote on it.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, my discussion on that phase of this bill was to the point of how far-reaching it was and how revolutionary it would be from our present practice of acquiring highway rights of way. Up to this time, on most of our roads, exclusive of the Federal Interstate Highways and the Turnpike, the procedure has been to take a long-term easement. This bill, as I recall it, would have permitted the Highways Department to buy land after they had determined to build roads in certain areas and proceed from there. However, that plan has been criticized in the States of Maryland and West Virginia. I have, if you wish me to read it, the criticism here in the report of Joseph Campbell, Comptroller General of the United States, to which the gentleman referred just a few moments ago.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not mean to get far afield. However, would the gentleman please advise whether he thinks the Campbell Report is pertinent to the problems which present themselves today in Pennsylvania as far as the Highways Department is concerned?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I ask the gentleman to repeat the question?

Mr. WEINER. I will be very happy to do so. Mr. President, does the gentleman feel that the Campbell Report is pertinent today to the highway problems which face Pennsylvania?

Mr. WADE. The answer is that certainly it is. Many phases brought out in this so-called Campbell Report, which is a resume in substance of the Automotive Safety Foundation Report, are pertinent. Here I have some of the criticism brought out in the Campbell Report against certain States—namely, Maryland and West Virginia—where the Legislatures have given to the executive departments of government their legislative prerogatives and, in turn, this Campbell Report criticizes the action after that legislation was passed.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us how old this report is?

Mr. WADE. The report was issued in October 1958 by the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Commerce. However, the Comptroller General of the United States transmitted the report in Decemebr 1959, some two to three weeks ago.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman for his co-operation in answering the questions. I would like to point out to the Members of the Senate that this report, by the gentleman's own statement in the newspaper,—if he was misquoted, I hope he will correct me—in many, many areas was inappropriate and it did not apply, as it was rather old in the fact that it did not face the modern problems that we now face. I am very happy to see the gentleman shaking his head in agreement with me, for a change.

I would also like to point out to this very same gentleman that House Bill No. 2388, which he, among others, voted to recommit to committee,—and, in a sense, this was the actual death knell of that bill—dealt with the problems which face the Highways Department, not only as to present problems but projected into the future the problems which we will face.

Just to have report upon report upon report certainly will not solve the problem. Merely introducing resolutions is ducking the action which the Senator himself does not wish to take, or which the members of his committee refuse to take on the problems that face us, because we, as an economic entity, in order to maintain our position must provide highways and must provide ingress and egress out of our areas which produce goods for the markets. Without these arteries, it is the same as cutting any artery in the living human being; the body must die. That is exactly what we are doing. A report will not heal the body, but action will. The action is not indicated in having another report or a number of witnessess, all of whom have a certain view which they wish to maintain or put forth.

I would suggest the gentleman that rather than have another study made, we take action on the present studies now before us.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, certain interrogations directed to Senator Wade, as Chairman of the Committee on Highways, seem to me might have better been directed by the Minority Leader to the Chairman of the Rules Committee, in which committee this bill reposes.

Mr. President, I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not he is a member of the Rules Committee.

Mr. WEINER. I am, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. I ask further, Mr. President, whether the gentleman is ignorant of the number of people on that committee.

Mr. WEINER. I am not, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. At least, the gentleman is not now ignorant of the fact, after being informed by Senator Wade.

Mr. WEINER. I might even say that I knew the number of members when I asked Senator Wade the question.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman whether or not he was aware that this bill had been recommitted to the Rules Committee.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have been aware that this bill was recommitted to the Rules Committee.

Mr. BERGER. I ask the gentleman whether or not there was a meeting of the Rules Committee, following the recommitment of the bill.

Mr. WEINER. There have been numerous meetings of the Rules Committee since the bill has been recommitted.

Mr. BERGER. Would the gentleman advise the Members of the Senate whether he made a request for this bill to be reported out again from the Rules Committee?

Mr. WEINER. I did not make a formal request to the Rules Committee, but I talked to some of the members of the committee and was advised that Caucus action had been taken on this measure and that the measure was dead so far as this Session was concerned.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, am I to understand that the gentleman did not make such a request at any meetings of the Rules Committee subsequent to the recommitment?

Mr. WEINER. I made no formal request.

Mr. President, at this time, I would like to make a formal request of the Chairman of the Rules Committee that this bill now be brought before us. I would be very happy to attend such a meeting. I believe most of the Members are here and we could hold such a meeting now; bring this matter to the floor and take action on it. I believe when it came back to the floor, it would appear on Second Reading. We could then pass it today on Second Reading and pass it on Final Passage tomorrow. I think we are contemplating having a Session tomorrow.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am sure that the gentleman is entirely sincere in his request. However, I am also sure that he will recognize the fact that it would be unusual, at this time, to call a meeting of the Rules Committee, when we are probably less than twenty-four hours away from final adjournment. However, I will take the request under advisement and will talk to the gentleman about it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this is a problem I have been facing all Session. I have been waiting for this advisement to take place in order for me to be advised about what the next step is going to be. Somehow or another, the advisement never reaches me and the bills never come out of committee.

The PRESIDENT. There being objection to the immediate consideration of this resolution, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTIONS

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON RULES FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 325

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 4, 1960.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 325, Printer's No. 999, entitled "An act providing for the regulation of lobbying; requiring registration of lobbyists, keeping accounts of contributions and of receipts and expenditures, reports and statements under oath by lobbyists and persons receiving contributions or expending money to influence legislation," having been referred to the Committee on Rules on September 23, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in conjunction with this resolution, I am going to offer a series of discharge resolutions and, in order to save time, I would like to discuss all of them at this time so that the Members will be advised about what problems we are voting on.

Senate Bill No. 945 would place industrial insurance agents under the Unemployment Compensation Act.

House Bill No. 325 would require registration of lobbyists. I realize that this is rather a harsh measure. However, it is not intended to hurt anyone. I think the gentlemen who come up here to perform their tasks, so far as legislation is concerned, should have no concern about this problem whatsoever. I am sure that if they deal on a high level,—and I have no reason to believe otherwise—they would have no difficulty in registering, or in naming the people from whom the funds come and how the expenditure is made.

House Bill No. 584 would increase the penalties for violation of the provisions of certain safety regulations concerning the operation of machinery in industrial establishments. As our society becomes more complex, as far as the industrialization of our civilization and communities is concerned, which grew out of the industrial revolution in this Country, I do believe that we need further tightening up of safety measures so that people will not needlessly be hurt or be needlessly left without a means of earning a livelihood.

House Bill No. 608 creates a Governor's Council for Economic Development. This is modeled after the Federal legislation which was signed by President Eisenhower. It is on the basis of a full employment bill. It is completely modeled after the National Act, reduced down to the State level.

House Bill No. 765 directs the execution of an interstate compact on mental health. This measure has been before us a number of times. It is an important measure and has been adopted by a number of States. It would permit Pennsylvanians who become ill in some other community to receive aid in that other community, rather than be brought back to Pennsylvania and dealt with here. This is an expensive procedure. Sometimes the difference in the time it would take to start the healing procedure may make the difference between a person returning to society, well and able to take care of himself, or spending the remainder of his days in a mental institution.

House Bill No. 777 creates a State Apprenticeship Council to formulate apprenticeship policies. I think all of us are aware of the fact that today, young men do not have an opportunity to be trained for a job because skilled people are wanted. Many young men do not have any background of schooling when they go to try out for a job. If they have a lack of schooling, some of them are unable to obtain a position. Some of the young men, at the age of eighteen or nineteen, are retarded and unable to get a job which is commensurate with their abilities, due to the fact that they have received no training in any kind of skill.

House Bill No. 1148 deals with the amending of the Occupational Disease Act, to provide compensation for disability caused by exposure to radiation hazards. It seems to me that it is almost needless for me to talk about this. I think all of us are aware of strontium 90, which is in our atmosphere. I think all of us are aware that atomic energy is moving into our industrialized society, and I also think all of us are aware of the hazards which that brings with it. For me to ask that this be done is almost a needless task. I think all of us are aware of the problems contained in this happening. I think all of us should be only too anxious to do something about it, rather than having to be urged by my colleagues and myself to do so.

House Bill No. 1412 requires prevailing wages to be paid in all public works contracts. This has been before us a number of times and each time it died in this Senate.

House Bill No. 1571 further imposes limitations on the employment of minors and changes the penalties and regulates the procedures. This also is almost needless for me to speak about, because as we are getting into a highly complex society and toward a shorter and shorter workday, we want every person who is able-bodied and who has the ability to earn a livelihood to do so. Minors should be removed from the labor market so that adult people, who have families for whom they must provide, have an opportunity to do so.

House Bill No. 1873 requires employers to furnish employees with instructions concerning their rights under workmen's compensation in the event of an accident. This basis of the law is that ignorance of the law is no excuse. However, how many of us sitting here, as lawmakers, know all of the laws that are on the books, know even all of the different turns and twists sometimes the law takes, or the amendments and repeals made in every Session? In any given Session of the Legislature, 3,000 to 4,000 bills come before us. Of that number, perhaps 500 to 800 become law. How many of us know all of these bills or all of the different manifestations in them. You certainly cannot expect a man working for a livelihood to keep abreast of all of this changing legislation, when his employer, through his own organizations, associations and Chambers of Commerce, is kept abreast of it by weekly bulletins. I certainly think it is very little to ask that a man be so instructed when he has any difficulties of that kind.

House Bill No. 1944 is an amendment to the Minimum Wage Act, revising procedures and appeals from the actions of the Wage Board and establishing supplementary minimum wages.

I think to talk about minimum wages on the State level, when on the national scale we have constantly talked about it, pleaded for it and have gotten different changes in the Act from time to time, seems almost a waste of my time and a waste of the time of the people in this body who are intelligent enough to realize the problems of the workingman today.

House Bill No. 112 amends the Workmen's Compensation Act by increasing the liability for burial costs. I do not think that needs any further amplifications by me. I think that stands on its own two feet.

House Bill No. 401, requiring railroads to furnish flag protection to all trains on the main track, also does not need further amplification by me.

I think one thing does need further amplification and it is one thing concerning which I would like all of you gentlemen to take note. Almost all of these bills, with the exception of the first bill which I discussed, are all House Bills. These bills have all been put into the hopper in the House, have come out of committees in the House, have passed the House and have come over here. I do not think that is an accident. I do not think it is even a happy coincidence. I think it is a deliberate act for us to carry out the platform pledges made by our Party during the gubernatorial campaign.

I believe that the Republican Platform also bears these very same pledges in many places; if not exactly in chapter or verse, I believe in the general tenet of their labor plank.

I cannot see how, after you plead and make known to the people exactly what you are going to do, you can refuse to take the action when already part of it has been taken for you and brought to your attention. I think to sit mute or to take no action at all on it certainly bespeaks very little for the abilities and for the desires on the part of the gentlemen sitting on the other side of the aisle, especially when they control all of the committees and especially when they have the majority vote to put through any bill with or without any Democratic votes from this side. I cannot understand this action or this attitude, especially when the platform of your Party has stated the position you will take on these measures.

I think it behooves us, at this time, at least to consider these measures, or at least those which we feel are applicable or which we can take action upon. I am sure that we can adjust the rules of this Body to take care of these measures if there is an earnest desire to pass this legislation to help the working people in our Commonwealth.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before requesting my colleagues to vote, I might point out to the gentleman that, by and large, these bills that he has enumerated here might be termed hardy perennials. They appear before us in one form or another about every Session, with the possible exception of one of two which appear to be new.

Mr. President, there is one bill here which would require employers to furnish employees with instructions concerning their rights under the Workmen's Compensation Act in the event of an accident. There is not too much objectionable about that. However, why in the world does the Department of Labor and Industry not issue a pamphlet to be handed out to employees going to work at any time so that they can have instructions as to their rights under the Workmen's Compensation Act? That is what the department is for, to disseminate information relating to the rights of employees and the various laws concerning the regulation of labor and management.

Any number of these bills, Mr. President, have appeared before us from time to time.

I would like, at this time, Mr. President, to inquire whether the Minority Leader will permit himself to be interrogated.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I inquire of the gentleman whether he is aware of the date.

Mr. WEINER. Today's date?

Mr. BERGER. Today's date; yes, sir. Would you inform us as to today's date?

Mr. WEINER. January 4, 1960.

Mr. BERGER. Will the gentleman inform us as to tomorrow's date?

Mr. WEINER. January 5, 1960.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, will the gentleman inform us as to his conception of the number of legislative days needed to pass a bill in this Senate?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the answer to that question is three days. However, I believe if the gentleman will allow me to elaborate—I do not mean to go beyond his interrogation—I stated in my remarks that we could adjust the rules of this Body if we were interested in passing this legislation to cover that contingency. I am aware of the fact that the days are numbered. However, I think we could adjust that among ourselves without any difficulty at all in order to pass this legislation if we so desired.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, while I seldom, if ever, disagree with my counterpart, nevertheless, I want to point out that in the Session of 1959, expiring tomorrow at high noon, we could not, even by suspending the rules, pass any of these bills which are presently in committee. They would be reported out today for the first time, and they could not be passed and read on three separate days in the open Senate. They could not be read twice on the same day, Mr. President. At least, in my understanding of the requirements of the Constitution, that would be impossible.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would hate to ask anyone to commit a mere perfunctory act. However, I think if the gentlemen were earnestly interested in passing this legislation, we could go through it and pick out those bills about which we feel there would be no problem. Let us bring them out on the Calendar. Let us pass them today. Perhaps we could suspend the rules and take care of the problem of first reading, have them on second reading today and, perhaps, read them for the third time tomorrow, if we earnestly wanted to do that.

Of course, if we have to have three legislative days and we are going to stick to the rules very closely, we are not going to be able to pass any measures other than those that are now right before us on the Calendar.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, not to belabor this point, but it is not a rule of the Senate that we would have to suspend. As I understand it, it is a constitutional provision, and there is no way I know of that this Senate can suspend the operation of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman was in the Senate early one morning when we were discussing the beginning of a new legislative day and the meaning thereof. I was told that the days of the Senate or the House are what the Members say they are. I do not know that this would be a real problem here, but I think it would be part of the solution to the problem which is before us.

One evening around 12:00 o'clock, I respectfully suggested to the Chair that we were in a new legislative day, and it was then that I learned that we did not have a legislative day. Legislative days were what the Senate or the House saw fit to call them.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, once again I must say that under that discussion, it was the end of a legislative day about which we were talking and not commencing a new legislative day. Consequently, Mr. President, I reiterate for the benefit of the Members of this Senate that under present Calendar considerations, it will be impossible, under any circumstances, to pass these bills for which Senator Weiner asks the discharge of committees.

Therefore, I would ask my colleagues to vote "no" on the resolutions.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

| | | | |
|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Mullin, | Sarraf, |
| Camel, | Mahady, | Murray, | Seyler, |
| DiSilvestro, | McCreesh, | Ripp, | Silvert, |

In the Senate, January 4, 1960.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 112, entitled "An Act amending 'The Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act,' approved June 2, 1915 (P. L. 736) increasing liability for burial costs" having been referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry on July 28, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

CALENDAR

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

HB 1971—Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1971, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "Liquor Code" authorizing the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels in cities of the first and second class under certain conditions.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I oppose the adoption of this Conference Committee Report. I certainly do not want to go into the reasons for or against the bill, as we did that pretty thoroughly here a week ago. At that time, the Senate amended the original version of this House Bill, and sent it back to the House for concurrence. The amendment which the Senate placed into the bill was a small one, a minor amendment in words, but certainly major in operation in that it changed the effective date of the voting in the referendum from the primary election to the general election. The House refused to concur in that amendment and, as a consequence, Conference Committees were appointed to act on the part of the House and on the part of the Senate.

The President pro tempore appointed me as one of the conferees on the part of the Senate. The Members of the Senate will note that I did not sign the Conference Committee Report.

This is not, Mr. President, in my opinion, a Conference Committee Report at all. Certainly, a Committee of Conference is for the purpose of compromising, if possible, the differences arising between the two houses, and to see whether or not a compromise measure could come out.

That Conference Committee met. I, myself, made six different proposals to them in an effort to compromise, none of which were accepted by the other conferees. The Conference Committee Report was then drawn up in exactly the same form in which it passed the House. I would submit to you, Mr. President, that if that were the course we were going to take, certainly the Senate of Pennsylvania should have merely receded from its amendment placed in the bill when it came from the House, and passed the original House version. That we did not see fit to do. We now have this report before us today.

I can only say to you, Mr. President, that in all of my service in the Legislature of Pennsylvania, I have never seen a more obnoxious bill presented for this Legislature to approve or to reject. I say to you, Mr. President, that we are embarking on a path that we will long regret in Pennsylvania. I am unalterably opposed, as are many of the people of Pennsylvania, to any further liberalization of the liquor laws, or any further desecration of the Sabbath.

Certainly, we stand in a very peculiar position today in Pennsylvania when this Legislature, in this 1959 Session, approved legislation that did away with certain of the commercializations of the Sabbath Day whereby we closed down the so-called discount houses and those business places throughout Pennsylvania which did business on the Sabbath, and for which I believe the Legislature should be commended. Yet, here we find ourselves today doing that on one hand and, on the other hand, doing something which, in my opinion, is far worse. It is only the opening door—the opening thrust, if you please—for the sale of liquor, not only in the hotels in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh but for the sale of liquor in the hotels in all of the counties of Pennsylvania. It is the opening wedge, if you please, for the sale of liquor in all establishments in Pennsylvania.

I cannot imagine, Mr. President, any retail dealer in liquor being satished with discrimination against him, whereby we say the hotels in the two large cities may sell liquor on Sunday, yet he cannot do it in his place of business. Understand, Mr. President, and so there is no misunderstanding, I am opposed to both of them selling liquor on Sunday. Certainly, this bill shows rank discrimination between the various types of outlets for liquor in this great Commonwealth of ours.

I would suggest to those of you who come from the other class counties, other than those counties of the first and second class, to think long and hard before you cast your vote for this measure, because if this passes there is no question that in the 1961 Session, there will be a general move afoot to open this for the hotels in all of Pennsylvania; and if that would be successful, in the following Session of the Legislature to open it up for all of the liquor establishments in Pennsylvania. Certainly, we have not come to the point when we cannot still observe the Sabbath Day. I think this would be a great blow to Pennsylvania and to the people of Pennsylvania if this were to be passed. I would urge all of my colleagues in the Senate of Pennsylvania to vote "no" on this measure.

In conclusion, Mr. President, may I respectfully ask of you, sir, that you instruct the Clerk, when he calls the roll, that only those people answering to their names be recorded?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this has been a rather interesting issue from the point of view that the basic problem involved in economics. Not being able to attack it on that basis, it has become what is known as a moral issue. I do not believe that this is the problem basically. I think what we have to look at is the realistic situation as it exists. We have the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh as islands in a sea, filled with economic advantages which are not available to these two communities. If these two communities die or wither, what is going to happen to the rest of the State? What will happen to vast areas which are not able to support themselves and which look to these two cities and the people living in them to provide the tax money that they need? This is the consideration.

In the city of Philadelphia, at 11 o'clock p.m., on Saturday, most of the traffic goes across the bridge over into New Jersey. This is money that is being taken from the city of Philadelphia. If it were a moral issue, if that were the problem, I would tell you to block off the Delaware River Bridge or the Benjamin Franklin Bridge, if you please, and the Walt Whitman Bridge, and contain your people in this area so that the moral atmosphere which you are trying to maintain is available. However, I think any other type of attitude is certainly one which is hypocritical and one which buries your head in the sand, because people will just not come to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. They will go out of the State into Ohio and out of Philadelphia into New Jersey.

They go up into New York and all of the areas close by where our highways take them.

You are saying this is a moral climate which we want to keep. The people who want to be moral will be moral regardless of what you have. This is plainly and simply a method of bringing convention business to both of those cities. Our passage of this bill does not guarantee that this measure will go through. All you are saying is that the people in these communities have the right of self-determination, because that is what referenda usually do. They allow the people to determine for themselves what they want to do by putting the matter to a vote. What could be more democratic than that form of determination?

Should we here, as a small group, not fully representing the area, decide for the area whether they should or should not have this? If the people in Allegheny County or Pittsburgh do not want this, they may simply vote against it and that is the end of the problem. The same thing is true of the city of Philadelphia.

There are many measures that appear on the ballot which do not always pass. There are many candidates who are nominated and who never get elected. The big problem facing us is merely allowing the people in these communities to decide for themselves. Anyone else who wants to do it, I think should have the right to decide for themselves to do so. I think to put this on a moral basis is certainly not facing the realistic situation as it exists, because this will bring in a great deal of convention money. It will also provide jobs for people in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh who do not now have jobs. I would much rather see these people work on Sunday, than for you and I to go on supporting them because they are unable to find employment anywhere. That is a duty that we owe to the people of this Commonwealth. I think it is a duty for them to decide what they themselves want.

I do not want to stand here and say that the city of Williamsport or any other area should not be able to do what is best for them or what they consider best for them. I think that all that is involved here. You are voting here as to whether the people of Philadelphia and the people of Pittsburgh shall decide for themselves what they want to do in this matter.

It may be that the referendum will be defeated. Perhaps the people will think like you do, Senator Fleming, that it is a moral issue, and will not want to vote in favor of this measure. That will be the end of the problem.

I am neither advocating nor not advocating this bill or the problem that you present. However, I think we cannot say we are not going to allow these people an opportunity to decide for themselves.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would appreciate a conference with Senator Weiner and Senator Fleming.

The Senate will be at ease a few moments.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will call the roll and only those answering to their names will have their votes recorded.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

HB 317—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I had hoped that this bill died with the year 1959, last month. At the risk of being a little repetitious, I do want to say just a few words in addition to what I said when the bill was defeated on Third Reading about three weeks ago.

Mr. President, the night that I spoke previously on this bill, I mentioned two or three reasons why we should vote against it. I would like to mention just two today, and those but briefly.

Mr. President, I said that the bill was premature because under this legislation, even if it passes, Pennsylvania not any other State will not get any money from the Federal Government before 1961.

On the last day of this legislative Session, we are hastily, I believe, considering a very vital and major measure. We have all of the first six months of 1961 to consider such legislation in an orderly fashion when we come back to our next Regular Session. Since the night that I made these remarks, there has been additional evidence presented to readers of newspapers throughout the Country as a result of certain hearings held in Washington on the Federal Highway Program, which highlights the fact that the bill is premature and we may never get any money from the Federal Government as promised by legislation at the last Session of Congress.

The most Pennsylvania could hope to get would be $10,000,000 over a period of thirteen years, provided Congress lives up to the commitments expressed in legislation a year ago.

Let me read just a portion of an editorial which appeared in the Wall Street Journal on Tuesday, December 29, 1959, under the heading of "Warning—Icy Road."

"That the Federal highway program is in a bad way is not exactly news. But just how badly the Government has got tangled up in its costly road network is plainly shown in an exchange of letters, made public last week, between Senator Byrd and Commerce Secretary Mueller.

"First consider some of the points made by Mr. Byrd, a highway expert of fifty years' standing:

"The highway project's 90-10 matching formula, by which the Federal Government puts up $90 for every $10 supplied by the states, is an open invitation to extravagance and worse. It encourages wasteful design and corruption. On the the latter point the Senator notes that Witnesses took the Fifth Amendments more than 200 times in Senate hearings on land grabbing on only a few projects in one state . . .

"In fine," say the Senator, 'our great highway programs were never before precipitated into such an inexcusable mess. The trust fund was broke and the integrity of the Federal Government was impaired. State highway programs all over the country were seriously disrupted and threatened with chaos.'

"And Secretary of Commerce Mueller, for his part, concurs that during the past year 'our main problem was to get out from under the chaos' resulting from the suspension of the pay-as-we-go policy.

"Mr. Mueller also goes further back into the history of the program to reveal some of the basic troubles. He writes: 'The most serious deficiency in the 1956 Highway Act is the lack of an adequate financial structure for the augmented highway construction effort. The revenue structure thrown together in 1956 has not been adequate to carry us through even this initial period,' even without the added difficulties created by last year's Congressional action."

Mr. President, when two of the leading people in Washington, who are familiar with the highway building program, agree that it is in serious financial difficulty, I say that merely highlights my previous statement that Pennsylvania, accepting this part of the Federal program at this Session of the Legislature, is acting prematurely.

Mr. President, I also, last month, remarked that I thought it was a further extension of the Federal Government's encroachment on States' rights. I believe my good friend and distinguished colleague, Senator Arthur Blass of Erie, was ill and not able to be present that night. I know that he has long championed the right of the States and the peoples in the States to determine their own destiny. Therefore, I would like to say for him, and to review for all of us, what has happened in recent years.

The Federal Government has moved into a great portion of the activities of the States to the point where there is some danger or some reason to fear that State Government may wither on the vine. The Federal Government is into the fields of unemployment compensation and various other matters of that type involving labor, to the point where we in the Legislatures of the United States must draw bills in conformity with the former acts laid down by Congress, so that our own initiative, our actions and our rights to act are severely limited.

The United States Supreme Court in recent years has taken State Government out of such fields as censorship and anti-sedition laws. Now here, for the first time, the Federal Government is coming into Pennsylvania, or any other State which accepts this program, in an effort to regulate a particular industry, the billboard industry, and is getting the right of eminent domain on over a million acres of Pennsylvania land.

I say that someday somebody, somewhere, has to say "no" to further encroachment by the Federal Government on the proper rights and jurisdictions of State Governments.

No Mr. President, I think that we here can do it today by voting "no" on this bill.

We admit that there is a problem with billboards. There are a great many decent citizens who are interested in trying to cure "billboard alleys," as they are called, where we see outside of our cities a great concentration of billboards to the point where scenic beauty is marred. However, let us do it the right way. Let us, as State Legislators, pass a law that would control sensibly billboards on every highway in Pennsylvania, and not just on those which are a portion of the Federal Road Program.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, let us today refuse to take the bait offered by the Federal Government, and, as many other States have done, vote down this legislation.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I hate to be in a position where I have to talk on every piece of legislation before us. However, because we are down to the end of the line, I feel that this is important legislation which we cannot let go by.

We must have our program formulated by June of this year in order to participate in the Federal funds which will be available in 1961. In order for us to do that, we must pass this piece of legislation today. This is the last opportunity we will have to do so. This measure has been advocated in both Party Platforms. I think a State, or any individual, who will obtain ninety dollars help for every ten dollars they put forth on their own local effort and turns down that help, or walks away from it, is making a gross error. I think there is nothing wrong in our having fine, unfettered highways.

Take for example the European Country of Switzerland. I do not think that you will see many large billboards running up and down that area. Might I respectfully point out to the gentlemen of this Body that the tourist business of this State and of this Country is greater than the number of people employed by the billboard industry? I have no lack of affection for the billboard people. I think they serve a very useful purpose. I have no lack of affection for the people who might be hurt by this bill. However, I think the bill, as it is written, now takes care of those particular problems that present themselves to us. I think that we should be in favor of this measure, because it helps our State, not only in keeping it beautiful but also in keeping the green landscape available to the peoples' sight. What good is our planning of large highways, large landscaping and general planning, if this is all going to be marred and marked before it is even completed? That is the reason we have zoning programs. That is the reason we have in our different municipalities, townships and boroughs an attitude toward keeping the rear in a certain sight and in a certain way. This would help that program.

I, therefore, ask my colleagues, in furtherance of the Administration's program—and I know that many gentleman on the other side favor this measure—to vote "aye" on this measure so that the State of Pennsylvania will be among those States that will be able to take advantage of the Federal moneys provided and of the opportunities granted to us.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I do not want to take too much of the time of the Senate on this occasion. However, I want to second the remarks made by our very distinguished colleague on the other side, Senator McMenamin.

Time after time, I have spoken against encroachment either by the Federal Government, the State Government or any other municipal government on the rights of the individual or the rights of the property owner. I just want to say this word; that I am voting "no" on this bill because I want to see liberty maintained in this Country, for which there is no substitute.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, when we previously considered House Bill No. 317, Printer's No. 2099, I pointed out that a letter was written on December 14, 1959, to Mr. Roy Schafer, who favors us with his presence here today, the Legislative Secretary to Governor Lawrence, and signed by Mr. J. R. Rezzolla. Some criticism was made after I read the letter and, therefore, I will not attempt to again read it. I do not think it is necessary.

I do want to point out to Senator Weiner and his Democratic colleagues, who have talked so long and so much about the bonus for which we might qualify from the Federal Government, and which Senator McMenamin has pointed out so ably is not in the offing at all—no State has ever received one single penny in bonus—that this bonus is not ten per cent, but it is one-half of one per cent. If we would qualify, the money has to be appropriated from the trust fund, which must be appropriated to the Federal Government from the General Fund, and which must be appropriated out of the trust fund into this special fund, according to Federal legislation, before any State can qualify for one penny.

As Senator McMenamin has so ably pointed out, the Highway Trust Fund is practically defunct. There is no money in it. We have read in the press of the long history of trying to raise funds in order to meet the obligations to the individual States. Now we are held out this bait, one-half of one per cent, which amounts to, as Senator Van Sant pointed out several days ago, a total of sufficient money to build less than five miles of road.

I return to this letter, dated December 14, 1959, written to Mr. Roy Schafer, from the Chief Counsel of the Highways Department, Mr. John R. Rezzolla. In it, he pointed out that in a conference held on December 11, 1959, with Mr. May, Counsel for the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, it was stated that this bill, House Bill No. 317, Printer's No. 2099, would not qualify Pennsylvania for a single penny of bonus if any were to be paid. Therefore, we certainly should not try to fool anybody, or fool ourselves, by voting for this bill in its present form.

Mr. Rezzolla further pointed out to Mr. Schafer that he was preparing amendments and would furnish them to the Democratic side of the house, which might be inserted into this bill, so that it would have a chance of qualifying for that bonus.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman who just spoke forgot to mention—and I am sure it was through inadvertence rather than by design—that he was among those who helped amend this bill as it came from his committee. He can very easily take care of that problem of the amendment to put the money back for the Federal funds, and I will be most happy to help him do so. However, I am afraid that this would, according to the Majority Leader, whose word I am very happy to take, help deter this bill from passing at all, and I would not want to see that happen. I am sure he would not either, despite his public expression here.

I think this measure is important to us. It means millions of dollars to our State. The farmer is not going to be hurt by it, and I can very happily demonstrate that to anyone who would like to have me do so. I can point this out under the bill.

I would like to point out to the gentleman from Erie that wherever the general good of all of the people is concerned, I am afraid, Senator, that the individual right may have to step aside, or at least be moved aside partially. That is not a deprivation of anyone's liberty. However, I think all of us are interested in the greatest good for the greatest number, and the greatest number of people here would prevail under this measure.

I am asking my colleagues to vote "aye" to support not only a Democratic Platform Pledge, but one made in the Republican Platform as well. I, therefore, ask my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support this measure.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I briefly point out to the gentleman who just spoke, our distinguished Minority Leader, Senator Weiner, that the Highways Committee of this Body lost possession of this bill on December 9, 1959, and that I, personally, have offered no amendments to the bill since that time? The letter, to which I referred, was dated December 14, 1959. Amendments were put into the bill in the Highways Committee by the committee. However, after that time, a conference was held in Washington with Mr. May, Mr. Rezzolla and Mr. Shane Creamer, who I believe also favors us with his presence today, and amendments were then suggested. These amendments have not been offered by the Democratic side of the Senate or by Senator Weiner or anyone else in this Body.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, if I were to offer these amendments now, would you support them?

Mr. WADE. Yes, I would be glad to vote for the amendments.

Mr. WEINER. Would you support the entire measure?

Mr. WADE. That is a matter to be decided later. I do not think that we should pledge our votes beforehand until we read the bill with the amendments in it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman. He has answered my question.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I would vote for a bill to fairly regulate billboards. I come from rural Pennsylvania, and the farmers in my area—a great many of them from whom I have heard—are opposed to it. Therefore, I intend to vote against the bill in its present form.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to take an undue length of time on this measure. However, I would like to refer the Senator to the measure itself. I believe the gentlemen who wrote him might be misinformed, because I can state from a letter from the Department of Highways, in answer to this problem, as well as from the measure itself, which indicates that the farmer will be protected not only from deprivation of the right of the use of his land, but it would be the same as any eminent domain or condemnation proceeding, if this were to take place.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR HB 2423

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was read as follows, considered and concurred in:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1960.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That HB 2423, be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

He also informed the Senate that the House has adopted Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1980.

HB 1980 TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Without objection, Mr. BERGER called from the table HB 1980, and received unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1980, entitled:

An Act amending the "Pennsylvania Election Code" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), further regulating the marking and counting of ballots.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

HB 2016—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, this bill smells to the high heavens. There has been a mysterious hand working around this Capitol in the last two years. I do not know whose child it is; it is too vague. However, I am very suspicious of this bill. I think our Secretary of Welfare can take care of anything such as this which might arise in Pennsylvania.

This looks like a pinch bill to me, and everyone knows what a pinch bill is. There has been too much pinching around this Hill. There have been nominations made and appointments made that were born out of foreign intrigue. I think they use some people who either play innocent or know what they are doing. Therefore, I am against this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, just to show what the powers of persuasion may do, I now move that House Bill No. 2016, Printer's No. 2113, be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, let us not be too fast on the "yeas" and "nays" here.

Mr. President, we seem to be having a little fun with this bill. Actually, I want you to know that in my opinion this is a very important piece of legislation. I think before the Majority Leader moved to drop it from the Calendar, we should have called it up for debate, discussed it in detail and then voted the bill down if that is the wish of the Members of the Senate. We have a juvenile problem in Pennsylvania. We have had it for years and, as the years go by, we are going to have a greater problem with juveniles.

I do believe that the sponsors of this legislation were very sincere in their approach. The bill passed the House by a nice majority. It seems to me that this Senate should not ignore this most important and most grave problem at the end of this Session. I do not think it is a very good business on the part of the Senate to arbitrarily drop this bill from the Calendar.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, when the new Session convenes tomorrow, I will be only too glad to explain any kind of legislation which smells like this bill.

I say again—and I will prove it anytime—that there have been appointments made around this Capitol for the last five or six years which follow the European technique.

I will be more specific when the time comes.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, if debate is in order on this bill, I would like to state that I believe the gentleman from Washington was correct in saying that the sponsors of this bill had a good purpose in mind. He certainly was correct in saying that the juvenile problem is one of importance. However, Mr. President, I think we should oppose this bill and I think it is a good move to drop it from the Calendar, because I believe we have here a bill which duplicates existing agencies.

At present, we have working as a going concern, and doing a good job, a commission which deals with these specific problems and which has almost identical functions to those proposed in this bill. I certainly do not mind myself, but because of the importance of the problem, I think it is a poor way to proceed by setting up two agencies which cover the same problem. I think only chaos could result. Certainly, the expenditure of money as authorized by this bill would not be warranted because we already have an able, working agency in this area, which has an appropriation for that purpose.

Therefore, Mr. President, in spite of the fact that I would agree that the sponsors were well-intentioned and that the problem is important, I do not believe the bill is necessary because of the existence of a prior agency which is doing a good job.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, tomorrow at 11:30 a.m., I will have to strike a balance on my work during the preceding year. There is no doubt that one of my outstanding experiences, from which I benefited, was working on the Pechan Committee. The Pechan Committee was a very important committee. Although I did not sign the report, nevertheless, I benefited from Doctor Pechan's tutelage, in co-operation with Senator Shafer, and from study of the Department of Welfare.

I came to the conclusion that in the person of Mrs. Ruth Horting, we have a marvelous administrator, and I pay her homage. The only way I can pay homage is to say that this is a duplication. She is capable of coping with the situation and we do not need it.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I do not wish to debate the merits of this bill. However, I would like to call to the attention of my good friend, Senator Lane, that we passed Senate Bill No. 725, and which was signed by the Governor. I am advised that this type of legislation would defeat the purpose of the bill which the Governor has already signed.

If my understanding of the bill is correct, nine judges are going to set up a commission to make a study of the juvenile delinquency problem and what have you. Therefore, I would like to call to the Senator's attention that regardless of whether the merits of this bill are good, it would certainly kill the intentions of the other bill, and the thoughts, I think, of the Governor in proceeding against juvenile delinquency. Therefore, this Foundation would not be necessary.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I find that for the first time in this Session, I am in agreement with the gentleman from Delaware County. This is a rare day. However, what he says is absolutely correct. He may have received a letter from the department the same as I did, which stated this very fact that they, in the department, do not feel they would like to administer this agency at this time. They feel maybe at some future date they would like to get into this problem, but not at this moment, due to the lack of funds and the fact that they already have in the Public Welfare Department an arm handling this very problem.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we can all voice our opinions. However, I thought that the Members of the Senate operated for the best interests of all of the people. We should not be servants of the various departments and bureaus of government.

I might say, also, Mr. President, that I have read this bill in detail. It passed the House by a vote of 147 to 3. In going over the legislation, I think it is very laudable, indeed. If this legislation should nullify the passage of Senate Bill No. 725, which I am informed has passed and is now Act 717, I still say that this is very good legislation, and I will be happy to sponsor such a bill in the next Session.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I say again that the language is beautiful. We have heard a lot of expression for youth centers and so forth in the past, and we found ourselves with a sneak attack.

You may wonder what I mean by this and you may think that it is farfetched, but I can explain it and I will explain it before any committee and on the Senate floor at the proper time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative and the bill was dropped from the Calendar.

HB 2286—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. BERGER.

HB 2413—Upon motion of Mr. BERGER, seconded by Mr. TAYLOR, and agreed to, the bill was dropped from the Calendar.

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a half-hour recess of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a half-hour recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, January, 5, 1960, at 10:30 o'clock a.m.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 6:10 o'clock p.m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, January 4, 1960.

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Gracious Father in Heaven, to Whom we look for the guidance and council we need to live our lives to the fullest: We are aware that another calendar year has passed and a new year has begun; and as we look back, we are conscious that many of the goals and aims have not been fulfilled; but we pray that Thou wilt bless the feeble efforts we have expended, and use our accomplishments to Thy honor and glory. In the closing hours of this Legislative Session, we humbly pray Thy guidance and counsel may be the cherished treasure of each one of us; and may the light of Thy truth ever shine within our hearts and lives. In thy precious name, we pray. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections and subject to correction on questions of personal privilege at a later date, the following journals will be approved: Monday, November 30, Tuesday, December 1, Wednesday, December 2, Monday, December 7, Tuesday, December 8, Wednesday, December 9, Monday, December 14, Tuesday, December 15, Wednesday, December 16, Thursday, December 17, and Friday, December 18, 1959.

The Chair hears none.

RESIGNATIONS

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communications which were read as follows:

January 4, 1960.

The Honorable Hiram G. Andrews
Speaker
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennna.
Dear Mr. Speaker:

This is to advise you that I have been elected Councilman-at-Large in Philadelphia, and therefore am tendering my resignation as a member of the House of Representatives, to become effective on January 4, 1960.

I will always remember my associations in the House of Representatives, together with the many pleasant memories which I will always cherish.

My kindest regards and best wishes to you, the members and officers of the House of Representatives.

Sincerely,
/s/ Mary
Mary A. Varallo

December 18, 1959.

The Honorable Hiram G. Andrews
Speaker, House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania
Dear Mr. Speaker:

In order for me to take my oath of office to my newly elected position as a magistrate in the City of Philadelphia it has become necessary for me to offer my resignation as a Member of the House of Representatives, from the thirtieth Legislative District, effective January 4th, 1960.

Respectfully yours,
Ralph M. Dennis

The SPEAKER. The Chair has a number of bills to sign and requests the gentleman from Cambria to preside temporarily.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1980.

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1980.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. This report has been printed and is on the Members' desks. It will be taken up under the proper order of business.

The House will be at ease.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mr. PARLANTE asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1960.

On December 3, 1959, Abraham M. Sigman, a former member of the House of Representatives, passed away at the age of 54.

Mr. Sigman capably represented the Second District of Philadelphia County from 1954 to 1956.

A graduate of Philadelphia Public Schools, South Philadelphia High School, The University of Pennsylvania and Temple University School of Law, Mr. Sigman, an attorney-at-law by profession, served the Commonwealth as counsel for the Department of Banking from 1939 to 1945. He also served as a Special Deputy Attorney General in the Escheat Division from 1958 to the time of his death.

The death of Attorney Abraham N. Sigman was a great loss to us. His contributions to the advancement and well-being of our Commonwealth and our pleasant association with him will long be remembered; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania expresses its condolence to the survivors of Mr. Sigman; his wife, the former Ida Freedman, his daughter Renee, his son Gerson, and his brother Joseph; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to his widow, Ida F. Sigman, at her home in Philadelphia.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Following the present conference we would like to make arrangements for respective party caucuses and also for lunch.

Mr. Speaker, by permission of this House, I will ask for a recess until 2:30 p.m. and state that the Democratic Members of the House will meet at a quarter to two in the new House caucus room for the purpose of a Democrat caucus.

We are receiving during this period messages from the Senate. We have at the present time a series of conference committees that are now in session. House Bill 1108, House Bill 2459, the highway bill, House Bill 1616, and I believe a conference committee on House Bill 1344.

We hope as the day goes by these conference Committees will either submit their conference committee reports to the House, or notify us officially that no report will be presented as they cannot agree, whichever the case may be.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, at the proper time, after the Minority Leader has given his notice officially to his Members, I will ask for a recess until 2:30 today.

STATEMENT BY MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the schedule of calling the caucus for a quarter to two is all right with us on this side of the House. We should also like to caucus at a quarter to two. That will mean approximately thirty or forty minutes for lunch. Then we would caucus until a quarter after two if that will be all right—about a half hour.

I might say this, the important thing really to come before our caucus would be any disposition of House Bill 1108 and it is conceivable that the conference committee will not be ready to report at that time. If they do report after we come back after our caucus we will probably ask for another caucus on that piece of legislation.

REPORT FROM JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

PENNSYLVANIA HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS, 1958

Mrs. MARKLEY presented the report of the Joint State Government Commission which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1960.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I have the honor to transmit herewith A Report of the Joint State Government Commission, 1959, dealing with Pennsylvania High School Seniors, 1958: Their Mental Ability, Their Aspirations, Their Post-High School Activities, A Technical Supplement.

Copies of this report have been mailed to members of the House of Representatives.

Respectfully submitted,
Baker Royer
Chairman

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that all the Democrat Members bring with them their House calendars when they come to the caucus today.

I am a little disturbed by the report that one of the conference committee members has been given me about House Bill 2459. For the purpose of the caucus I think they should know that Senator Kessler has sent a letter stating that he is in the hospital and cannot attend the highway conference. Senator Wade informs our Members that he does not know whether he can attend since Senator Kessler cannot attend, and that they are in Session and that he possibly cannot attend. If that is so, there are only a few more hours left until noon tomorrow and it looks like there may not be any highway conference committee report.

I am urging that the Republican leadership make sure during this recess that they contact the leadership in the Senate, and if Senator Kessler who is ill in the hospital cannot attend evidently arrangements be made for a conference committee meeting on the important highway packages.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate what the Majority Leader had to say about House Bill 2459.

I would like to say something about House Bill 1344. The present law requires a notice in all deeds where there has been a separation of the fees simple and the minerals. I understand there is a refusal on the other side of the House to even call a meeting of that conference committee and there is a validating clause in that bill which must go in, because that law has invalidated titles all over Pennsylvania. It is imperative that we get a validating clause. I think you had better give consideration to that bill and we will see what we can do on the other bill.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 2:30 p. m.

The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Willaredt for Mr. STECKEL for today because of illness.

Mr. Willaredt for Mr. DONALDSON for the week because of illness.

Mr. Willaredt for Mr. KUBITSKY for the week.

Mr. Willaredt for Mr. BUCHANAN for the week.

Mr. Willaredt for Mr. BRENNINGER for today.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1030, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire the surface or right of soil only of a tract of land in the Borough of Dunmore County of Revenue and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 63.

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) entitled "An Act consolidating and revising the vehicle code the tractor code the motor vehicle financial responsibility act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tracktors" prohibiting physical endurance contests and race or speed contests including commonly including those known as drag races on highways and prohibiting local authorities from establishing or maintaining roads highways or other property for such purposes and providing penalties and suspension of operating privileges.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, line 5, by striking out after the word "prohibiting" the words "physical endurance contests and"; page 1, line 6, by striking out after the word "contests" the words "including commonly" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "including those known as"; page 1, line 7, by striking out after the word "highways" the words "and prohibiting local authorities from establishing or maintaining roads highways or other property for such purposes;" Section 3, page 3, line 1, by striking out at the beginning of the line the words "physical endurance contest race or" and by inserting after the second word "contest" the words "including those;" page 3, line 2, by striking out the first two words "including those" and by striking out after the word "as" the words "a drag race;" page 3, line 3, by striking out the first two words "drag races;" page 3, line 5, by inserting after the word "of" the words "elapsed time superior performance or" and by striking out immediately thereafter the words "elapsed time superior performance or" and by adding immediately thereafter the word "speed;" Section 4, page 3, line 12, by striking out the following:

Section 4 Subsection (a) of section 1103 of the act is amended to read"

Section 1103 Powers of local authorities;

(A) Local authorities except as expressly authorized by this act shall have no power or authority to alter any speed limitations declared in this act or to enact or enforce any ordinance rule or regulation contrary to the provisions of this act except that local authorities shall have power to provide by ordinance for the regulation of traffic by means of peace officers or official traffic signals on any portion of the highway where traffic is heavy or continuous and may regulate or prohibit parking stopping or loading of vehicles except that parking meters shall not be installed at entrance to theaters hotels motion picture theatres or prohibit other than one-way traffic upon certain highways and may regulate the use of the highways by processions or assemblages and may regulate the kinds and classes of traffic and its turning on certain highways at all or certain hours and may regulate the transportation by motor vehicles of passengers for compensation within the limits of a city or from points in the city to points beyond the city limits and make and enforce regulations for the operation of such vehicles not inconsistent with this act and designate certain streets upon which such vehicles may be operated

"Provided however that any regulations of the kinds and classes of traffic on state highway routes within cities shall be subject to the approval of the secretary of highways first had and obtained

"Local authorities may designate any highways or any part of a highway under their jurisdiction a "play highway" and may close such designated highway to general traffic where interference to traffic will not be serious Such highways or portions of highways shall be used for play purposes and shall be clearly designated by appropriate signs specifying the hours between which such highways shall be closed to general traffic

"Local authorities shall have no power or authority to establish or maintain any section of road or highway or any other realty possessed by the political subdivision for the purpose of allowing the operation of motor vehicles in physical endurance contests or in race or speed contests including those commonly known as drag races"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to be recognized on this bill. I think this bill, however, should go to a Conference Committee to have certain defects in it corrected. We have been trying to agree to that in the last few minutes and I think we have amendments that would correct this bill and put it in proper form.

I do not know whether the sponsors of the bill, in view of the short time remaining for this Session, want it to go to a Conference Committee.

I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill and ask if a Conference Committee would be agreeable. If not, I think the bill should be defeated in its present form.

I will be glad to interrogate Mr. Kornick or Mr. Rigby.

Mr. KORNICK. I will consent to be interrogated, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Will the gentleman state whether he feels this bill could be corrected in the Conference Committee to meet the objections raised by members of the sports car groups, with which I believe the gentleman is quite familiar.

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what the wishes of the Senate members of the Conference Committee may be, but I am under the impression we have to vote to concur or non-concur before there can be a Conference Committee.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Would the gentleman agree that the bill in its present form would prohibit sports car rallies in which a sports car is run over a certain course, all within the proper vehicle speed limits, but yet a contest resulting by measuring the distance in elapsed time?

Mr. KORNICK. Mr. Speaker, as an ordinary layman I do not interpret it that way. I am of the opinion, myself, that it excludes sports car racing because they are not racing; they are confined within the law, going at 30 miles an hour, 25 miles an hour. So it does not include those people.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Would it not be preferable to spell that out in the bill, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. KORNICK. Probably, in the gentleman's opinion, but I think at this time the bill is all right.

Mr. Speaker, with your permission I will yield to Mr. Bowman on the other side.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I would ask Mr. Bowman the same question.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Delaware repeat the question so that I accurately understand it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether, in his opinion, this bill in its present form would prohibit a sports car rally in which various sports cars travel from point to point trying to attain a given speed over a certain course, and their time is based on elapsed time from point to point.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, any use of a public highway by a sports car or any other car in which one of the elements of the use of the highway is a contest involving elapsed time, superior performance or speed would, in my opinion, be in violation of this section.

I would request that I be recognized after the interrogation.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Assuming, Mr. Speaker, then that the definition which I just gave, and which I admit is rather loose, is a definition of a sports car rally, would the gentleman say that sports car rallies would be covered by this bill in its present form.

Mr. BOWMAN. I am not sure that I know what a sports car rally is. If a sports car rally uses the public highways for one of the three prohibited purposes in a contest, then a sports car rally is prohibited, yes.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. One other question, Mr. Speaker, this bill presently does not define vehicles to mean motor vehicles. Is it not correct, under a strict interpretation of this bill, that it would exclude soap box derbies?

Mr. BOWMAN. I do not necessarily agree with that. In a soap box derby conducted on a public highway, a soap box vehicle is, I think, within the definition of the Code; however, most are conducted on closed highways.

If the highway is closed I do not think it is then a public highway subject to this section of the bill.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Would it not be easier to merely add the word "motor" in front of "vehicle" to exclude this?

Mr. BOWMAN. It would, perhaps, help a little bit; not substantially, in my opinion.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that I think the bill in its present form should be corrected. I believe these objections which have been raised by many sports car owners—I sold mine last month incidentally—could be corrected and the bill could be put in proper form.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I, of course, have always advocated that we pass our legislation with as much preciseness as possible. However, if you note, this bill has already gone through six printings. I think in its present form it is fairly good legislation and should be passed by this House; that is, the amendments of the Senate should be adopted.

It is rather a strange thing, in my opinion, that this House should stand by and listen to the objections of certain groups who have a selfish interest in the use of the highways, listen to those interests and defeat this legislation while on the other hand we pass legislation requiring millions and millions of dollars in the name of safety. We have often heard on the floor of this House that if one life can be saved, if one personal injury can be avoided, it would be good legislation. I say to you it is time this House of Representatives begins to recognize the tremendous problem created by the carnage on the highways today.

This is perhaps not perfect. This perhaps will prohibit, under some person's interpretation, a soap box derby. If that is so, I do not think any law officer is going to arrest any soap box derby contestant. If these sports car groups do use the highways and are involved in a contest of speed, endurance or elapsed time, I do not see why they should have the privilege of using the highways because I think that will jeopardize the safety of all the other motorists. This is good legislation and should be adopted.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe they have cleared rather carefully the points of House Bill 63. Many of us commonly call it just a "drag racing bill."

I would like to say that I have made the request that we do concur in the Senate amendments. I ask that you vote in the affirmative in support of that motion. As the gentleman from Dauphin has so wisely stated, maybe it is time that we took a little more interest in our highways. If these sports car people have such a problem they can find another place to run their time races.

I know the real intent of this legislation, as well as that of the bill which was defeated the other day, is to prohibit drag racing on the public roads or highways in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and we say that we are opposed to drag racing. We are for highway safety and the saving of lives. With that I ask that we vote in the affirmative on House Bill 63.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, are there not now laws on the statute books of this Commonwealth that prohibit racing on the highways?

Mr. BOWMAN. Not in the full scope of the way the question is framed, no.

Mr. MAXWELL. Well, for my information, Mr. Speaker, and the information of the rest of the Members of the House, I would appreciate it if the gentleman would explain in what way, or why, racing on the highway is not now prohibited.

Mr. BOWMAN. The present Vehicle Code only covers racing in the broad, general sense of that word, under the reckless driving section of the Code. I do not have that section before me; however, it substantially provides that you may not engage in a physical endurance or speed contest on the highways. I think that is not precisely the language, but substantially the language. In enforcing that section we have found it difficult to interpret a drag race within that section, at least in the urban areas, and by that I mean these contests whereby two cars stop at a red light, and as soon as the light turns green put on the gas—I forget the common term; "burning the rubber," or "skidding the rubber," something like that—and they only carry their contest for a matter of 50 or 60 feet, or perhaps to the next intersection. Since that elapsed distance does not cover the distance required to clock speeding, our police officers are reluctant to use that section to arrest these people for that type of performance.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, could I enlighten the gentleman from Dauphin momentarily, even though Dr. Maxwell has the floor?

I do not know if this is the proper term, but in western Pennsylvania on what we call Route 51 out of Pittsburgh, coming up to Saw Mill at a stop light one of these beatniks drove up along side, looked at me and said: "Do you want to drag, big boy?" I never answered him, but I assume that is the proper language.

Mr. BOWMAN. To further answer, Mr. Speaker, the other problem we found this question of prohibiting drag racing was that if we increased the fine or the penalty under the reckless driving section to the penalty we would like to impose for drag racing itself, we would be increasing the penalty to too great an extent for all types of reckless driving. Therefore the new section was inserted to deal primarily and specifically with drag racing so that we could impose a higher penalty than we wished to impose with respect to all types of reckless driving operations.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. I knew I could depend on a fairly good resume of the law from Mr. Bowman. However, he has not quite answered the question specifically. And I do not think this bill quite settles the question of drag racing, either. I believe under our present laws we have enough on our statute books to take care of all types of racing and reckless driving.

There is one danger in this bill I would like to point out. It could happen to any Member of this House.

Two cars could start out from a stop light, neither one intending to race or drag the other one, as the terminology "drag racing" is defined. When you start out with a quick, short burst of speed, they call it a drag. Now any Member of this House could become involved in a so-called drag race innocently. He might just start out quickly from a stop light, a car opposite him would start out the same way, and a policeman would be standing on a corner and arrest them for drag racing when the gentlemen involved would have no intention of drag racing. That is one of the dangers of this bill I would like to point out.

Furthermore, I think this bill is unnecessary. I do not like to say this, but I think the bill was introduced solely for publicity purposes. I think the sponsors should be contented with the publicity they have received. And I think the bill should be defeated.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, after the definition of drag racing, which has been defined in one respect as leaving an intersection or traffic light, who would be the judge as to whether or not the motorists were drag racing?

Mr. BOWMAN. In the first instance, like any purported violation, or alleged violation of law, the police officer making the arrest would be the judge. In the final analysis, the judge of the court, if it were taken that far, would be the judge. In the interim, it would be the gentleman who would hold the high office that you do who would be the judge.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, we have thousands and thousands of policemen in this Commonwealth; some of them on traffic have been in uniform a week, maybe, or two weeks; others have a wealth of experience behind them. Do you believe this bill has the proper safeguards for the motoring public?

Mr. BOWMAN. I believe this bill has just as many safeguards as any other penalty provision of the Motor Vehicle Code. If you have an incompetent officer, he can arrest you for violating any one of dozens of sections of the Code. To me that is not an argument to be for or against this bill whatsoever; that is a problem of good administration of the police department.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, under the section covering speeding in the Vehicle Code, a motorist has to be trailed for a certain distance. Any officer or, as a matter of fact, any individual standing at an intersection or on a highway could prefer charges of drag racing under this bill. As has been stated here by another gentleman two motorists pulling away from a traffic light, might be so charged, would you not agree to that?

Mr. BOWMAN. No, I do not agree that if I were at a traffic light and pulled out at a reasonable and proper speed, under the circumstances, and some fellow was beside me, I thereby become guilty of drag racing. I do not agree at all.

If I want to beat him and get ahead of his pulling out from the intersection and engage in a contest as to whether he is going to get ahead of me or I get ahead of him, yes, I am drag racing and I should be prosecuted. That is hardheadedness, in my opinion, if you are only doing it because you say every time one starts from a traffic light, the other fellow says, I am going to beat the other guy if it is the last thing I do. That is precisely the type of thing we should prohibit.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, with quite some experience, both in the police field and in the field of a magistrate, I am afraid that this section as it is written opens up quite a possibility for prosecutions which should not be. It is left entirely to an officer's judgment as to the speed with which the motorist might leave a light, without any timing or without any safety provisions in it.

This bill has other deficiencies which have been debated by the gentleman from Delaware. We have been in Session here for a year and I think since this legislation comes before us we have had time to get this bill in proper shape.

I believe, too, in safety, but I am a little afraid of this measure in its present form.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Bowman, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BOWMAN. Reluctantly, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this debate has gone on so long I want to be sure that I remember the gentleman from Dauphin's answers to Mr. Lippincott's question.

This bill would prohibit sports car rallies which do not concern themselves with speeding in excess of the speed limit at any time?

Mr. BOWMAN. I find it difficult to answer because no one as yet has defined a sports car rally. Now if sports cars in any contest which involve any one of those three elements that I referred to, that is, elapsed time, speed, or physical endurance contest; if it is first a contest, secondly, if it involves any one of those three elements, then I say, if it is on the public highway, this bill would prohibit it, and, I also say, properly so.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, is a contest one for speed where the goal is to seek to travel between two points at an average rate of speed, that speed being within the speed limits, let us say, 40 miles per hour elapsed time for a mile distance in an area where you could go 50? Is that a speed contest? The person closest to 40 miles per hour is the winner.

Mr. BOWMAN. If he is competing with anyone else, I would say, yes.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Even though everyone competing were all traveling at a speed less than the regulated rate of speed?

Mr. BOWMAN. Yes, I would say it would be. I would hate to see, if I were a traveling motorist, dozens of sports cars coming down the road at 40 miles an hour, or 35 miles an hour, even though they start out at different times. I cannot imagine any contest where the sole purpose is for someone not to come out a winner but to merely say I am going to go from this point to that point, during an elapsed period of time without any element of a contest or any element of winning in it. If there is winning, as far as I am concerned, you are jeopardizing the safety of other people on the highway.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I think the problem here, for those who are interested in preserving the sports car rallies, is one of understanding what they are.

Unfortunately, I am not a sports car enthusiast; frankly, I cannot afford one. But as I understand it, the element of speed is relatively unimportant. It is much more important to be able to maintain a steady pace, be able to recognize road markings, be able to follow a map or a diagram of the course to be followed. As I understand it, there are contests where no two vehicles are on the road at the same spot at the same time. They all leave at different times.

As I understand, one of the rules of all these clubs is that they never violate the speed limits. I think what we are doing today is, we are trying to get at the evil of drag racing and at the same time we are throwing out what is apparently a beneficial sport engaged in by many Pennsylvanians, sports cars rallies. I think it is a shame we have not considered this a little more thoroughly.

I think Mr. Lippincott is entirely correct that the sponsors of this bill should permit us to vote no on this question so this can go into conference and be properly resolved, so that we can throw out drag racing and keep in sports car rallies.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1977

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1977.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1977, entitled: "An act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled 'An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of act relating to elections' providing a system whereby certain electors absent from or unable to attend their regular polling places may cast their votes and providing for powers duties and penalties in relation thereto."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

J. IRVING WHALLEY,
RAYMOND P. SHAFER,
PAUL W. MAHADY,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

CHARLES D. STONE,
J. DEAN POLEN,
ADAM T. BOWER,

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" providing a system whereby certain electors absent from or unable to attend their regular polling places may cast their votes and providing for powers duties and penalties in relation thereto.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1. Section 102 act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), known as the "Pennsylvania Election Code" is amended by adding at the end thereof a new subsection to read.

Section 102. Definitions. The following words when used in this act shall have the following meanings unless otherwise clearly apparent from the context:

(y) The term "absentee elector" shall mean any qualified elector of this Commonwealth properly registered and enrolled who (1) on the occurrence of any election is unavoidably absent from the county of his voting residence by reason of his duties business or occupation or who (2) on the occurrence of any election is unable to attend at his proper polling place by reason of illness or physical disability but shall not include a qualified elector in actual military service or a "qualified bedridden or hospitalized veteran" as defined in this section or any person committed to and confined in a penal institution or a mental institution.

Section 2. The act is amended by adding after Article XIII-A a new article to read.

Article XIII-B Absentee Voting

Section 1301-B. Absentee Electors. Any absentee elector of this Commonwealth may vote under the provisions of this act in any election held in this Commonwealth. An absentee elector may vote only for such offices and upon such question as he would be entitled to vote for or on had he presented himself in the district in which he has his legal residence and in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 1302-B Form of Application Certificate and Declaration. The county board of elections shall prepare and have printed a form all three parts of which shall be printed on one side of a sheet of paper not larger than eight and one-half inches by thirteen inches as follows:

Part 1. Application for Absentee Ballot (Voter complete two copies of Part 1 and deliver both to the chief clerk county board of elections in your county.)

I declare that I reside at (post office address of applicant) in the (voting district or precinct) of the (city borough town or township) in county Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that I am a registered elector entitled to vote therein at the next election that I am registered as a (if primary election give party enrollment otherwise leave blank) and that I hereby apply for an official absentee ballot for the reason that (1) I expect to be unavoidably absent from said county on the day of such election because of duties occupation or business (2) I expect to be unable to attend my proper polling place on the day of such election because of illness or physical disability on the advice of my physician whose signature appears below (mark out the reason not applicable.)

(Date of signature) Signature of applicant)

I declare that I have advised applicant as stated above. Send ballot to (Fill in if applicant is in hospital or confined away from residence).

(Signature of physician)

(Required only if reason (2) is not marked out in application above)

Part 2. Certification of Chief Clerk of County Board of Elections.

I certify that I have compared the foregoing signature of applicant with the signature of that name in the permanent registration records that I am satisfied that applicant is entitled to vote as stated in the application above and have no reason to believe to the contrary that I have this day issued to applicant an official absentee ballot envelopes and this certification and that I have marked the district register accordingly as prescribed by law.

(Date of issue) Signature of Chief Clerk
(County Board of Elections)

Part 3. Declaration of Elector (Voter complete this declaration after marking your ballot put your marked ballot in the small envelope seal the small envelope put the small envelope and this paper in the large envelope seal the large envelope and mail it).

I declare that I am the applicant whose signature appears in Part 1 hereof that I and I alone have secretly marked the official absentee ballot issued to me and that I have not and will not cast any other ballot in the election to which said official absentee ballot pertains.

(Date of signature) (Signature of elector)

Witness to elector's signature

(Signature of witness)

Section 1303-B. Manner and Time of Applying for Absentee Ballot. (a) Except as hereinafter provided any elector desiring an official absentee ballot for the reason that he expects to be unavoidably absent from the county of his voting resident on the day of election because of duties occupation or business shall appoint therefor in person to the chief clerk of the county board of elections and he shall then and there complete an original and a duplicate of Part 1 of the form prescribed by section 1302-B and deliver both copies of the form to the chief clerk any application for an official absentee ballot assigning such reason and not delivered to the chief clerk shall be void.

(b) Any elector desiring an official absentee ballot for the reason that he expects to be unable to attend his proper polling place on the day of election because of illness or physical disability shall signify that desire to the chief clerk of the county board of elections in writing signed by the elector and delivered to the chief clerk by any means. Upon receipt of such writing the chief clerk shall mail to the elector at the address stated in such writing two copies of the form prescribed by section 1302-B. The elector shall complete an original and a duplicate of Part 1 of such form and deliver both copies of the form to the chief clerk by any means.

(c) Any elector desiring an official absentee ballot for the reason that he expects to be unavoidably absent from the county of his voting residence on the day of election because of duties occupation or business and who is or expects to be so unavoidably absent during the thirty days preceding the day of election in which the ballot is cast shall signify that desire to the chief clerk of the county board of elections in writing signed by the elector and delivered to the chief clerk by any means. Upon receipt of such writing the chief clerk shall mail to the elector at the address stated in the writing two copies of the form prescribed by section 1302-B. The elector shall complete an original and duplicate of Part 1 of such form and deliver both copies to the chief clerk by any means.

(d) Every application for an official absentee ballot comprising the original and duplicate completed Part 1 on the form aforesaid shall be delivered to the chief clerk no earlier than the thirtieth day and no later than the seventh day preceding the day of the election in which the ballot is to be cast. All applications received at other times shall be void.

Section 1304-B. Issuance of Official Absentee Ballots Envelopes and Certificates Upon delivery to him of an application for an official absentee ballot as prescribed by section 1303-B the chief clerk of the county board of elections shall compare the signature and voting residence of the applicant upon such application with the signature and voting residence of applicant in the permanent registration records of the board of registration commissioners and if he is satisfied that applicant is entitled to vote as stated in the application and has no reason to believe to the contrary he shall enter in ink on the appropriate district register in the place provided to signify the applicant's having voted at the election the letter "A" and he shall sign Part 2 on both the original and duplicate of the application and he shall hand or mail to the applicant the following:

(a) One official absentee ballot which shall be in the same form as regular and official ballots except that it shall be printed upon blue paper and shall have printed on the back thereof in addition to any other matter now required by law the words "Official Absentee Ballot."

(b) A gummed envelope approximating the size known commercially as number six and three-quarters with the words "Official Absentee Ballot" printed upon it and nothing else such envelope is hereafter referred to as the first envelope.

(c) The original of the form prescribed by section 1302-B Parts 1 and 2 of which shall have been completed as aforesaid.

(d) A gummed envelope approximately the size known commercially as number ten on which there shall be printed as addressee the name and post office address of the county board of elections and in the upper left corner the words "Absentee Elector" Such envelope is hereafter referred to as the second envelope.

Section 1305-B. Balloting and Mailing. The elector to whom an official absentee ballot shall have been issued may cast the ballot in the following manner and not otherwise.

(a) He shall in secret mark the ballot with pencil crayon indelible pencil or ink.

(b) He shall place the marked ballot in the first envelope described in subsection (b) of section 1304-B and seal the envelope.

(c) He shall complete Part 3 of the form described in subsection (c) of section 1304-B and have his signature witnessed by a subscribing witness as that part requires.

(d) He shall place both the form and the sealed first envelope containing the marked ballot in the second envelope described in subsection (d) of section 1304-B.

(c) He shall seal the second envelope affix the necessary postage thereto except in cases where postage is not required and mail it in sufficient time that the day of the postmark thereon shall not be later than the day of the election in which the ballot is to be cast.

Section 1306-B. Absentee Voter's List. Not less than five days preceding the election the chief clerk shall prepare from the duplicates of completed Parts 1 and 2 of the forms retained by him a list for each election district showing the names and post office addresses of all voting residents thereof to whom official absentee ballots shall have been issued. Each such list shall be prepared in duplicate shall be headed "Persons in (give identity of election district) to whom absentee ballots have issued for the election of (date of election)" and shall be signed by him not less than four days preceding the election. He shall post the original of each such list in a conspicuous place in the office of the county election board and see that it is kept so posted until the close of the polls on election day. He shall cause the duplicate of each such list to be delivered to the judge of election in the election district in the same manner and at the same time as are provided in this act for the delivery of other election supplies and it shall be the duty of such judge of election to post such duplicate list in a conspicuous place within the polling place of his district and see that it is kept so posted throughout the time that the polls are open.

Section 1307-B. Canvassing of Ballot. The county board of elections upon receipt of a sealed second envelope shall keep it safely and shall deliver it unopened to the return board when it convenes to canvass the vote according to law. No such ballots shall be counted which are received in the offices of the county board of elections later than ten o'clock A.M. Eastern Standard Time of the second Friday following the primary election or the November election. The return board shall reject and mark "Rejected" without opening any such envelope bearing no postmark or bearing a postmark later than the day of the election. After opening the remaining such envelopes it shall reject and mark "Rejected" the contents of any such envelope if (a) it contains either more or less than the contents prescribed by subsection (d) of section 1305-B (b) the form referred to in subsection (c) of section 1305-B shall not be complete and regular on its face or (c) the signature of the applicant in Part 1 of such form does not correspond with the signature of the elector in Part 3 thereof. If the return board shall be satisfied that the contents meet the requirements prescribed therefore it shall announce the name of the voter of the absentee ballot and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge the same in like manner and for the same causes as the elector could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to cast his ballot. If there are no challenges or if all challenges are unsuccessful the form and the first envelope bearing the printed words "Official Absentee Ballot" shall be separated and such envelope together with all similar envelopes so separated shall be put into one depository at one time and said depository well shaken and the envelopes containing the ballots mixed before any ballot is taken therefrom. The return board shall then break the seals of such envelopes and record the ballots in the same manner as the election officer records votes and in so canvassing said votes the return board shall count the votes of all absentee electors taken as herein provided and add the same to the total result of the election in the county district precinct or ward accordingly as designated on each ballot.

Section 1308-B. Ballots to be Public Records. The ballots after being opened and duly counted by the return board together with completed forms received therewith are hereby designated and declared to be public records and shall be safely kept in the custody of the county board of elections for the period of two years and in case of a contested election the same may be opened and counted as in other cases.

Section 3. Article XVIII of the act is amended by adding after section 1852 a new section to read:

Section 1853. Violations of Provisions Relating to Absentee Electors' Ballots. If any person shall sign an application for absentee ballot or declaration of elector on the form prescribed by section 1302-B knowing any matter declared therein to be false or shall vote any ballot other than one properly issued to him or vote or attempt to vote more than once in any election for which an absentee ballot shall have been issued to him or shall violate any other provisions of Article XVIII-B of this act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000) or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year or both at the discretion of the court.

If any chief clerk or member of a board of elections member of a return board or member of a board of registration commissioners shall neglect or refuse to perform any of the duties prescribed by Article XIII-B of this act or shall reveal or divulge any of the details of any ballot cast in accordance with the provisions of Article XIII-B of this act or shall count an absentee ballot knowing the same to be contrary to Article XIII-B or shall reject an absentee ballot without reason to believe that the same is contrary to Article XIII-B or shall permit an elector to cast his ballot at a polling place knowing that there has been issued to the elector an absentee ballot he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1000) or be imprisoned for a term of one year or both at the discretion of the court.

Section 4. All acts and part of acts are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith.

The provisions of this act shall not be construed to repeal any acts or parts of acts authorizing voting by qualified electors in actual military service or qualified bedridden or hospitalized veterans absent from or unable to attend their regular polling places.

Section 5. Cities of the first class and counties are hereby authorized and empowered to appropriate the moneys necessary to carry out the provisions of this amendment.

Section 6. This act shall take effect January 1, 1960.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 3 Section 1215 of the act is amended to read
Section 1215 Method of Marking Ballots and Depositing Same in Districts in Which Ballots are Used (a) In districts in which ballots are used the elector after receiving his ballot shall retire to one of the voting compartments and draw the curtain or shut the screen or door and shall then prepare his ballot

(b) At primaries the elector shall prepare his ballot in the following manner He shall vote for the candidates of his choice for nomination or election according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office by making a cross (X) or check (✓) mark in the square opposite the name of the candidate or he may insert by writing stamping or sticker in the blank space provided therefor any name not already printed on the ballot and such insertion shall count as a vote without the making of a cross (X) or check (✓) mark

(c) At elections the elector shall prepare his ballot in the following manner He may vote for the candidates of his choice for each office to be filled according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office
by making a cross (X) or check (✓) mark in the square opposite the name of the candidate or he may insert by writing stamping or sticker in the blank spaces provided therefor any name not already printed on the ballot and such insertion shall count as a vote without the making of a cross (X) or check (✓) mark If he desires to vote for every candidate of a political party or political body except its candidates for offices as to which he votes for individual candidates in the manner hereinabove provided he may make a cross (X) or check (✓) mark in the square opposite the name of the party or political body of his choice in the party column on the left of the ballot and every such cross (X) or check (✓) mark shall be equivalent to and be counted as a vote for every candidate of a party or political body so marked including its candidates for presidential electors except for those offices as to which he has indicated a choice for individual candidates of the same or another party or political body by making a cross (X) or check (✓) mark opposite their names in the manner hereinabove provided as to which offices his ballot shall be counted only for the candidates which he has thus individually marked notwithstanding the fact that he made a mark in the party column and even though in the case of an office for which more than one candidate is to be voted for he has not individually marked for such office the full number of candidates for which he is entitled to vote if he desires to vote for the entire group of presidential electors nominated by any party or political body he may make a cross (X) or check (✓) mark in the appropriate square at the right of the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President of such party or body If he desires to vote a ticket for presidential electors made up of the names of persons nominated by different parties or political bodies or partially of names of persons so in nomination and partially of names of persons not in nomination by any party or political body or wholly of names of persons not in nomination by any party or political body he shall insert the names of the candidates for presidential electors for whom he desires to vote in the blank spaces provided therefor under the title of the office "Presidential Electors" In case of a question submitted to the vote of the electors he may make a cross (X) or check (✓) mark in the appropriate square opposite the answer which he desires to give

(d) Before leaving the voting compartment the elector shall fold his ballot without displaying the markings thereon in the same way it was folded when received by him and he shall then leave the compartment and exhibit the ballot to one of the election officers who shall ascertain by an inspection of the number appearing upon the right hand corner of the back of the ballot whether the ballot so exhibited to him is the same ballot which the elector received before entering the voting compartment If it is the same the election officer shall direct the elector without unfolding the ballot to remove the perforated corner containing the number and the elector shall immediately deposit the ballot in the ballot box Any ballot deposited in a ballot box at any primary or election without having the said number torn off shall be void and shall not be counted

Section 4 Section 1223 of the act amended June 19, 1939 (P. L. 450) is amended to read

Section 1223 What Ballots Shall Be counted Manner of Counting Defective Ballots (a) No ballot which is so marked as to be capable of identification shall be counted Any ballot that is marked in blue or blue-back ink [or by anything but] in fountain pen or ball point pen or black lead pencil or indelible pencil shall be [void and not] valid and counted provided that all markings on the ballot are made by the same pen or pencil and that all markings on the ballot are the same type of marking either a cross (X) or check (✓) Any ballot marked by any other mark than an (X) or check (✓) in the spaces provided for that purpose shall be void and not counted Provided however That no vote recorded thereon shall be declared void because a cross (X) or check (✓) mark thereon is irregular in form Any erasure mutilation or defective marking of the straight party column at November elections shall render the entire ballot void unless the voter has properly indicated his choice for candidate in any office in which case the vote or votes for such candidates only shall be counted Any erasure or mutilation in the vote in any office block shall render void the vote for any candidates in said block but shall not invalidate the votes cast on the remainder of the ballot if otherwise properly marked Any ballot indicating a vote for any person whose name is not printed on the ballot by writing stamping or sticker shall be counted as a vote for such person if placed in the proper space or spaces provided for that purpose whether or not an (X) or check (✓) is placed after the name of such person Provided however That if such writing stamping or sticker is placed over the name of a candidate printed on the ballot it shall render the entire vote in said office block void If an elector shall mark his ballot for more persons for any office than there are candidates to be voted for for such office or if for any reason it may be impossible to determine his choice for any office his ballot shall not be counted for such office but the ballot shall be counted for all offices for which it is properly marked Ballots not marked or improperly or defectively marked so that the whole ballot is void shall be set aside and shall be preserved with the other ballots

(b) At November elections a cross (X) or check (✓) mark in the square opposite the name of political party or political body in the party column shall be counted as a vote for every candidate of that party or body so marked including its candidates for presidential electors except for those offices as to which the voter has indicated a choice for individual candidates of the same or another party or body in any office block in which case the ballot for such office block shall be counted only for the candidates thus individually marked notwithstanding the fact that the voter has made a mark in the party column and even though in the case of an office for which more than one candidate is to be voted for he has not individually marked for such office the full number of candidates for which he is entitled to vote

Section 5 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this bill represents a rather radical departure from some of our voting procedures, and in order to have something clarified for the record I would like to direct a question to Mr. Stone, with whom I have discussed the matter.

Do I understand the purpose of this bill, and the import of this bill, is that if you start to use an X in your voting that the X must be used all the way through? In other words, if an X appears on one place in the ballot and a check mark in the other, that would invalidate the ballot?

Mr. STONE. That is my understanding, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. If they use check marks all the way through that is perfectly all right?

Mr. STONE. Once you start with a check mark you should continue that way, and the same with the X. The same is true with the type of pen or pencil that you start with.

Mr. TOMPKINS. In other words, if you use pencil you must use pencil all the way through?

Mr. STONE. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. If you use pen it must be pen all the way through?

Mr. STONE. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Any variation from that would invalidate the ballot?

Mr. STONE. That would be my opinion.

Mr. TOMPKINS. A pencil and an ink mark on the same ballot would invalidate the ballot?

Mr. STONE. Yes, sir.

Mr. TOMPKINS. An X and a check mark on the same ballot would invalidate the ballot?

Mr. STONE. Yes, sir.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Thank you.

Mr. STONE. The reason for that, Mr. Speaker, is that we have all been taught there is virtue in consistency.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON SENATE BILL No. 1115

Mr. SELTZER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the Conference Committee Report on Senate Bill No. 1115, Printer's No. 1667, entitled:

"An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912) entitled 'Bakery Law' changing certain definitions further regulating marking and labeling conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products."

was defeated by the House on Tuesday, December 18, 1959, be reconsidered.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Seltzer vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SELTZER. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Light vote on the final passage on this bill?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we have no objection, as we have stated all during the Session to reconsideration. I would like to ask whoever is making the reconsideration motion whether we will be voting on the bill when it is again brought up.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Seltzer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SELTZER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lebanon inform the House, on the reconsideration motion dealing with Senate Bill 1115, whether, when reconsidered, it will be brought to a vote immediately?

Mr. SELTZER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lebanon for the purpose of informing our Members clearly what bill they are voting on so that they will know their situation.

Mr. SELTZER. Mr. Speaker, the bill we are voting on is Senate Bill 1115, which changes certain definitions, conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture, and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products. It is a bakery bill with regard to the wrapping of baked goods delivered by bakeries using their own trucks.

Mr. Speaker, if there is any continued debate I would like to ask that the gentleman debate with Mr. Light on it as he is more familiar with the intent of the bill. I will answer any questions that I can.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if I remember correctly, Senate Bill 1115, as amended in final print form, was satisfactory to a certain number of Representatives in the House, and I believe one of the men who spoke in opposition to the bill was your fellow colleague from Lebanon County. I believe that your vote was in the negative.

Mr. SELTZER. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Have you reversed your position in support of the bill, or just for the purpose of reconsidering the bill?

Mr. SELTZER. I can only state for myself. I have changed my position on the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission to inform our Democratic Members that this is Senate Bill 1115, which originally had amendments dealing with the Allegheny County Health Department. After being recommended to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries, it was re-turned to the floor and amended to exclude those particular counties. It was the bill that I, myself, voted in the affirmative for and supported, dealing with the handling of bakery products as we had discussed in our caucus.

This would be the same piece of legislation now before the membership of this House on which the speaking opposition at that time, I believe, was led by Mr. Light of Lebanon County.

I am still in favor of Senate Bill 1115 in its final amended form, and I will again vote in the affirmative in support of this legislation.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, since we voted on this bill, Senate Bill 1115, several days ago, some information has been received by us over here that we did not have possession of at that time.

In the first place it is my understanding that the Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Foods and Chemistry, needs something of this type in order to enforce a part of their food law. The amendment that was under consideration several days ago is the amendment on page 6 beginning with line 8 down to the end of the page and continued on to the next page, and that amendment makes this entirely a "may" proposition. A bakery may appeal to the Department of Agriculture for a concession or for a modification. But at the same time, at the close of the amendment, there is a clause that is a guarantee that I think we should know about. It says there "limited to the sale of the bakery's own products and guaranteed by him to be in compliance with all pure food laws." If I am correctly informed, that last clause was inserted by someone from the Attorney General's office, or at their suggestion. I take this to mean that when a bakery desires to have a modification, or an allowance to modify its delivery, it must proceed in a proper manner, first to the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture. He investigates whether it is necessary to do this. He issues an order only when the bakery guarantees that it will comply with the pure food laws.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, I spoke against this bill the last time it was considered. I have been advised, and reliably so, that this bill will certainly prove a hindrance to the operation of county health departments in those counties where they have recognized health departments. I wish to put those Members from counties with their own health units, that this bill may be an encroachment upon the powers of that unit.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 2423 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. Price offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1960.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 2423, Printer's No. 2133, entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Secretary of Forests and Waters to convey one hundred sixteen acres more or less of land situate in Potter Township Centre County," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1616

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1616.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it has been a great deal of pleasure I assure you, to have served in this House of Representatives for a period of ten consecutive sessions or twenty years. During that tenure of office it has been a real pleasure for me to have served with all the fine Members of this Legislature. I think that every man in this House, during those ten terms, has been here with the idea of doing an honest, able, sincere job. I think every Member of this Session of the General Assembly is here for that same purpose.

When I hear that someone, a Member of our own body, tries to becloud the character and integrity of the Members of this House, it sort of rubs my fur the wrong way.

I have had sent to me about three copies of the Erie Times under date of December 30, 1959, and I would just like to read a couple of paragraphs from it to the Members of this House.

The Headline says, "Suspect Bribes Paid in County Pay Raise Bill."

Assemblyman Peter Schaaf told the Erie Exchange Club Tuesday he felt, "some green stuff" changed hands in connection with the state bill boosting salaries of a number of county officials.

"While the vast majority of the legislators are 'honest, hard-working men,' Schaaf said, he feels there are 'four or five bad pennies' who may have accepted cash in connection with the county raise bill.

Some of the raises were a little undeserved, the Assemblyman declared.

Many of us wanted to be a little selective about who was to get the increase. However, the county officials went to work. I feel some of the green stuff was paid to a few of the legislators.

Now, Mr. Speaker, a statement such as this can only put a cloud over this Legislature as a whole. The gentleman from Erie has been quoted in the Press that he believes four or five Members took bribes in connection with the salary raiser. Certainly there is nothing partisan about such a statement. Can he mean that the Democratic-controlled committees of this House have been bought? Can he mean that the Republican leadership in this House has been bought? Can he conceivably mean the Speaker of this House or the Majority Leader of this House have had their votes bought in order to get a bill through this Legislature? I say to you, Mr. Speaker, that such a statement can only bring a cloud over this entire Legislature, and I would like at this time to have the opportunity of interrogating the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie consent to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHAAF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Erie if this newspaper report is correctly recorded concerning his statement that some green stuff changed hands in connection with the bill boosting salaries of county officials. Is the gentleman correctly quoted?

Mr. SCHAAF. Substantially, I am, yes, sir.

Mr. HELM. You say there were four or five bad pennies in this House of Representatives who probably accepted cash in connection with this bill. Would you care to name those four or five bad pennies?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I am going to take a little time in answering that question.

I forget the precise wording of the quotation, but I think it was prefaced with the word "suspect" or "feel."

In a way I feel a little bit like a now-deceased United States Senator who used to wave laundry lists around. I had hoped that dead dogs would stay dead. This was a matter of local concern and local interest only. I am reliably informed that it was not printed elsewhere in the state. I sincerely regretted making the statement after it had been made. There are obviously, as the quotation indicates, a reflection of my personal feelings.

Also, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Helm has been gracious enough to set forth the report of the newspaper as to my feelings about the bulk of the Membership of this House. I think, although he has not read it, the article also contains a statement of my personal feelings and personal position of my own Membership in the House. I will not, nor would I ever, name specific individuals, but, nevertheless, the newspaper report does quote me correctly.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman by stating since he has refused, of course, to name the four or five bad pennies as he stated, to call to his attention, that it might conceivably be any Member of this House, and therefore, I think that does becloud the integrity of every Member of this House. That is my reason for my bringing it to the gentleman's attention. Does the gentleman then think he knows of any bad pennies in this House who might have accepted cash in connection with this bill?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I repeat, I do not know. I feel, I suspect, I apologize with all of my heart for the publicity which was given to these remarks. Somehow, I suppose, I will learn in time, but the publicity given was entirely out of proportion to the elapsed time, you might say, of those remarks. I apologize to each and every one of the 210 Members of this House for those remarks. Beyond that I can only say that the article is correct as to my feelings.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman and would like to tell the gentleman that of course my only intention in bringing this out is to clear the reputation of the Members of this Assembly. The gentleman must certainly know that there are two Republican Members from that county and there are two Democratic Members from that county, and even though, as the gentleman has stated, it may have been a matter of local publicity, it certainly could becloud the reputation of those Members from Erie County. Certainly, if it got state-wide publicity, which it probably can and will, it would becloud the integrity of every Member of this House.

I accept the gentleman's apology and I am sure every Member of this House will accept it. I want to point out that it can do nothing except lower the prestige of this House when some of these statements are made publicly.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, thanks to the interrogation of the gentleman from Armstrong, I am sure that this cloud will only become larger.

I have no compunction at all about making this apology as I did. There is much that could be said which is perhaps best unsaid.

I thank the membership.

COMMITTEE RECORDS

The Speaker. In accordance with the provisions of House Rule 29, the Chairmen of the Standing Committees of the House are required to file with the Chief Clerk bills and all other papers in the possession of the committees on final adjournment of the House, including Committee Record Books. The Chairmen are directed, at their earliest convenience, to comply with the provisions of this Rule.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. CLARKE, FOERSTER, FILO, BOIES, KAMYK, McLAUGHLIN, LEONARD, LUTTY, LAMB, SCHUSTER, J. J. MURRAY, JENKINS, WALSH, MIHM, MORAN, DEVLIN, GOLDSTEIN, STEVENS, THOMPSON, HAUDENSHIELD, EWING, RIGBY and RUDISILL offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1960.

Katharyne Ann Irvis, the wife of our colleague K. Leroy Irvis, died on December 26, 1959, following an attack of pneumonia. Solemn Requiem Mass was held at 12:00 noon December 29, 1959 at St. Paul's Cathedral, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Interment was in Springfield, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Irvis, born in Springfield, Massachusetts on December 21, 1921, attended Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, Teachers College of Columbia University, New York City, New York, and graduated with highest honors from Prairie View College, Texas. She was married to K. Leroy Irvis fourteen years ago on February 21, 1945 and shortly thereafter they moved to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Irvis early in life gained recognition as an outstanding athlete. In 1946 she won the National Women's Singles Tennis title of the American Tennis Association, the same title later won by Althea Gibson, a close friend. In addition she was women's tennis champion of both the New England States and the Bahama Islands.

Mrs. Irvis taught in the local schools in Pittsburgh and was active in social and charitable work in several cities throughout the United States, especially in Baltimore. Her great interest in politics was a continual source of help, inspiration and encouragement to her husband's career in government. In addition to her other activities Mrs. Irvis was active in the Urban League Guild of Pittsburgh, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, National Council of Negro Women, Democrats for United Action and the Anna B. Heldman Center, formerly Irene Kaufmann Settlement of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Irvis was extremely well liked in the community. Her tact and warmth paved the way in making friends with great numbers of people from all walks of life.

Surviving Mrs. Irvis are her husband, the Honorable K. Leroy Irvis, 2170 Centre Avenue, Pittsburgh 19, Pennsylvania, her parents Dr. and Mrs. William B. Jones, a brother Dr. William B. Jones, Jr., and two sisters Dr. Yvonne Jones and Zora Jones, all of Springfield, Massachusetts; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of this House of Representatives hereby extend their heartfelt sympathy to our friend and colleague, K. Leroy Irvis and the other members of her family in their hour of loss and grief; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to K. Leroy Irvis, 2170 Centre Avenue, Pittsburgh 19, Pennsylvania and to her parents Dr. and Mrs. William B. Jones, Springfield, Massachusetts.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Irvis.

Mr. IRVIS. Mr. Speaker, I am not a man ordinarily at a loss for words, but on this occasion the only thing I can find words to say is, thanks to the Members of this great House for both their courtesy and their condolence.

My sincere thanks to certain specific Members of this House, James Clarke, Thomas Foerster and Thomas Lamb, who, when I was incapable of thought or action, stepped in to protect my wife's memory and to help me.

I thank you very much.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. WEIDNER and YATRON offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1960.

Mahlon F. LaRue, a former member of the House of Representatives, died on January 1, 1960, at the age of 61.

Mr. LaRue represented the Second District of Berks County in the House of Representatives from 1935 to 1937.

Mr. LaRue, the operator of a hardware store in Shillington, Pennsylvania, since 1922, was a past president and director of the Shillington Savings and Loan Association, having served as an officer for thirty-one years and was a past president of the Isaac Walton League. He was also a member of the Masons, the Shrine, and numerous other fraternal and civic organizations.

The outstanding contributions of Mahlon F. LaRue to his community, his state and to his fellow citizens throughout his lifetime marked him as a man of exemplary character and one who will be sorely missed. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby extend their sincere condolences to the survivors of Mahlon F. LaRue upon his death; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to his widow, Kathryn (Bastian) LaRue, Shillington, Pennsylvania.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. SILVERMAN offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

Mr. RIGBY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 63.

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) entitled "The Vehicle Code" prohibiting race or speed contests including those known as drag races on highways and providing penalties and suspension of operating privileges.

SENATE BILL No. 993.

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1956 (P. L. 1987) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Highways with the approval of the Governor to erect and construct a toll bridge over the Monongahela River connecting the State highway system in Washington County with the system of State highways in Fayette County and to provide the necessary approaches and connections with such State highways; . . ." naming the bridge the William J. Lane-Eustice H. Bane Bridge.

SENATE BILL No. 1030.

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire the surface or right of soil only of a tract of land in the Borough of Dunmore County of Lackawanna Pennsylvania for the use of the Department of Revenue and making an appropriation.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1907 (P. L. 135) entitled "An act relating to the appointment of stenographers and assistant stenographers to report proceedings in the several courts of common pleas and orphans' courts courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery and courts of quarter sessions of the peace of this Commonwealth as well as before commissioners masters and special masters in chancery referees examiners auditors and other officers * * *" further providing for the giving of copies of notes of testimony in criminal cases.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 1043

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses on Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 1043.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1907 (P. L. 135) entitled "An act relating to the appointment of stenographers and assistant stenographers to report proceedings in the several courts of common pleas and orphans' courts courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery and courts of quarter sessions of the peace of this Commonwealth as well as before commissioners masters and special masters in chancery referees examiners auditors and other officers * * *" further providing for the giving of copies of notes of testimony in criminal cases.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. O'DELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think the majority of the House Members are business people; the majority of us have our own offices. I am sure that if we worked under some of the conditions that we work under here in Harrisburg we would get a new office.

I am thinking particularly about the telephones out in the anteroom. This afternoon I had occasion to place a long distance call. The long distance booths downstairs, have the new wall telephones and you have a small desk, you might call it, in the corner to put your papers on. I know that I have tried to use the telephones out here and if you have three or four papers they fall off the desk. Go by these sometime and see somebody with long legs sitting in there trying to hold papers.

I wonder if it would be possible—and I would like to compliment the Officers of the House, they have done everything within their power to make life for the Legislators easier—I wonder if it would be possible to have these desk phones ripped out of these four booths in the anteroom and have the wall phones installed and perhaps enlarge the little desk in the corner just a little bit. Many of us call different departments and we lay papers down on those desks, call telephone numbers and so forth, but it is pretty hard when the phone takes up the entire desk and do your writing on your papers on your lap. I wonder if anyone else in the House might have the same idea.

The SPEAKER. The Chair can assure the gentleman from Erie that before the General Assembly convenes next year considerable remodeling along the lines suggested, not only there but in other places, will positively be made.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mrs. MONROE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Officers and Members of the House of Representatives, I rise to thank each and every Member on both sides of the House for their nice feelings and thoughts that they expressed for me while I was away sick.

I thank you again and God bless you.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1960.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 2423, Printer's No. 2133, entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Secretary of Forests and Waters to convey one hundred sixteen acres more or less of land situate in Potter Township Centre County," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may we take a moment of time to enlighten the House as to our tentative plans for tomorrow.

I do not have an affirmative telephone call from the Senate at this point, but it was tentatively discussed that the House and the Senate would convene on Tuesday at 10:00 a. m. The Senate is still working, and in talking to Senator Berger on the phone, they do not yet have the time agreed to start tomorrow morning. The sine-die resolution to close out the 1959 Session would be transmitted from the House to the Senate and adopted by the Senate in the tentative plan, and the proper committees would inform the Governor and the Senate that the 1959 Session would be closing.

The new session would begin at 12:00 noon, but before that, up until 12:00 o'clock noon, we have the conference committee report on 1616, which is being printed now. We will vote on it tomorrow morning.

On House Bill 1108 the conference committee is again going into meetings and has been meeting all day.

On House Bill 2459, up to this point, unless there are some changes, I am somewhat disappointed for there have not been any meetings on the part of the Senate conferees unless they agreed to meet from this point on. Of course, Senator Kessler, a member of that conference committee, as I stated earlier, is ill. I had asked the Minority Leader to assist and try to see if this conference committee could not possibly meet. I hope that they do, and that they do present a conference committee report on House Bill 2459.

We will be receiving from the Senate the bill board legislation. We will be receiving, it is believed, House Bill 2388, with amendments to concur in, which deals in highways. Very likely we will be receiving two other bills from the Senate.

All of this is a part of the 1959 Session until 12:00 noon tomorrow morning. At 12:00 noon the new Session will begin. The Committees will notify the Governor and the Senate accordingly.

Sometime tomorrow, following that, I am going to ask for a Democrat Caucus because the conferees will be reporting the positions of items that pertain to the 1960 Session.

The Ground Rules Committee, as it is commonly called, has tentatively scheduled a meeting for 9:00 a. m. tomorrow. I believe that committee is Mr. Schwartz of Philadelphia, Mr. Bowman of Dauphin, Senator Ruth, Senator Berger and one other appointment.

The Governor will address the Joint Session at 4:00 o'clock. The speech will be brief and the Session will be over for this week, or as agreed to in whatever action the caucuses may take regarding interim periods, recesses or sine-die. Those will be the items that will be discussed in our caucus tomorrow and the Democrat Members will elect a new Member to the position made vacant by the resignation of our Whip, the Honorable Mary Varallo, who has been sworn in as a councilwoman in the city of Philadelphia.

With that in mind, we should be able to complete our activity tomorrow night in good time for this week. I ask now that all the Members of this House be here tomorrow morning so that we may move along on some of these items which may be controversial, but they will all have to be done before noon.

With that in mind, as we will wait for Senate messages, I hope the conference committees now working can complete their reports and present them, if necessary, during the evening to the Speaker or the Chief Clerk for the purpose of printing.

Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform us as to his desire regarding a caucus on House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099; regarding House Bill 2388, and also a reconsideration resolution, if it should be presented tomorrow on Senate Bill 1232, Printer's No. 1561, the bridge bill; and the conference committee reports that will be printed.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the answer would be that I would prefer that those matters lie over for the caucus tomorrow, that is, the bill board bill and House Bill 2388. You may offer the resolution on 1232 right now if you care to and perhaps put that on the calendar for tomorrow.

I want to announce to the Republican side that we will caucus tomorrow on the conference reports that you have mentioned, and we also would like to caucus tomorrow on these three bills that you have just mentioned.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, would the House, if it should convene at 10:00 a. m., we have from 10:00 to 12:00 noon in the present Session, may I ask the gentleman from McKean when he would plan to caucus so that we could tie our caucuses together in time?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I would be pleased to have the caucus immediately after the falling of the gavel tomorrow morning, 10:05.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

With that request the House will convene then very likely at 10:00. At 10:05, immediately following the prayer there will be a caucus on these items for a period of 30 minutes. Is that satisfactory, sir?

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to observe that in view of the corners that must be turned, the Leaders are going to be in a rather tight corner to make the curve because the Chair does not understand how it will be able to escape the duty of convening the 1960 Session of the General Assembly promptly at 12:00 o'clock noon.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, after a conference, we are going to request that this House convene at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. We are asking every Member of this House to please be here at the opening of the Session tomorrow and attend their respective caucus because House Bill 317, the billboard bill, will be debated and will be a controversial piece of legislation that will be covered as well as the Conference Committee Reports. They will be here. Some will be printed and, we hope, there will be one that will be printed during the night.

With that, Mr. Speaker, we would like to have our motion for tomorrow read at 9:30 a.m., hoping to get done before noon, sir.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might inquire, would it be possible for the leadership to limit the time of debate on particular motions?

Would the House stand for that?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I had in mind, and I hope it will be satisfactory, that when they caucus tomorrow each Party will get an indication of the number of people wanting to debate the bill and the length of the debate so that we can see whether it is only a matter of two or three people or many more. Then, we will try to set some rules.

I wanted to clear one point about Conference Committees. It is possible yet, not impossible, that the Conference Committee during the night may possibly write a report. I am asking that the Chief Clerk's office remain open, if necessary, to receive Conference Committee reports during the night. We will be able to notify each of the Chairmen of the Conference Committees so that should a report be received it will be printed during the night.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 2423 FROM GOVERNOR.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 4, 1960.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 2423, Printer's No. 2133, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Price vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PRICE asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend the title, page 1, line 3 of the title, by inserting after "convey" "at public sale."

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 4, by inserting after "convey" "at public sale in accordance with applicable law."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

HOUSE BILL No. 866.

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) changing names of State Teachers' Colleges.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

STATEMENT BY MINORITY LEADER

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I previously made the statement that we would like to have House Bill 317 on the calendar and caucus on it tomorrow. I believe on such an important question our caucus should decide the disposition of that bill and I would, therefore, like the privilege of calling a Republican caucus immediately for the purpose of considering the decision with respect to that particular bill and any other bill that we might be able to consider at this time. The caucus should last 20 minutes.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that our membership get House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099, out of the folders. This will be the controversial bill that we will discuss in our caucus immediately. I ask that all our Members please, when the motion is made, come to the House Caucus Room so we may find out who wants to speak for or against the bill, how many votes there are for and against the bill. That is House Bill 317, Printer's No. 2099.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair declares a recess for one-half hour.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 317.

An Act prohibiting the erection and maintenance of certain advertising devices along highways on the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways providing for the acquisition of such devices and property used in connection with such devices by the Secretary of Highways and providing penalties for violations.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out after the word "interest" the following: "to regulate the use of advertising devices adjacent to the national system of interstate and defense highways for the protection of the scenic beauty of lands bordering on such highways" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "and for the public welfare to promote the safety convenience and enjoyment of public travel and the free flow of intrastate and interstate traffic to protect the public investment in the national system of interstate and defense highways and to preserve scenic beauty adjacent to such system by controlling the erection and maintenance of advertising devices adjacent to that system"

Section 2, page 2, line 18, by striking out after the word "with" the words and figures "Public Law 627 the Federal aid Highway Act of 1956" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and figures "title 23 United States Code"; page 3, line 3, by striking out after the word "that" the words "the secretary of highways may in his discretion exempt from the provisions of this act" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "this act shall not apply to"; line 8, by inserting after the word "is" the words "now or shall be hereafter"; line 10, by inserting after the word "is" the words "now or shall be hereafter"; line 19, by striking out after the word "erected" the words "in the area in which" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "on the premises where"; page 4, by striking out after the word "system" on line 6 the following: "provided however that such advertising devices shall be approved by the secretary of highways as to their size and number"

Section 3 Renewal of Leases Prohibited No lease license contract or agreement for advertising devices prohibited by section 2 of this act which expires after the effective date of this act may be renewed but an option acquired before the effective date of this act may be exercised provided that no lease license contract or agreement entered into pursuant to such option may extend for a period of longer than three years from the date of the exercise of the option line 15, by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "4" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "3"; page 5, by striking out all of lines 3, 4, and 5, as follows:

(b) Condemnation as provided in this section shall be effective upon notice by the Secretary of Highways by registered mail to the owner of the property taken line 6, by striking out at the beginning of the line the letter "(c)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(b)"; line 9, by striking out after the word "section" the numeral "5" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "4"; page 6, by inserting at the beginning of line 1, the words "or agricultural products grown or produced"; by inserting after line 13 the following:

(d) The provisions of this act shall not apply to any sign painted on the surface of any building line 17, by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "6" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "5"; page 8, line 16, by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "7" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "6"; page 9, line 1, by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "8" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "7"; line 8, by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "9" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "8"; page 10, line 10, by striking out after the word "Section" the number "10" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "9"; line 8, by striking out after the word "act" the following: "and any person or persons who shall suffer such device to be erected or maintained on his property" line 13, by striking out after the word "offense" the word and number "section 11" and inserting at the beginning of line 14 the word and number "Section 10".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 317 has had a long and hard course through the House and Senate.

As you recall, during the debate on the bill in this body I was very anxious that the bill should pass in a form so that the legislation would qualify for aid from the Federal Government. At that time I was uncertain as to whether it would qualify.

The purpose of the bill has been changed in the Senate so that it will comply with the Federal Act. There are other provisions of the act as amended by the Senate which would perhaps make it uncertain of qualification. However, this bill has a two-fold purpose. First, to make it possible that the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will have its interstate highways not marred by billboards, and secondly, to qualify for aid from the Federal Government. Because I believe that the initial purpose is so important to this Commonwealth, and because I believe should the second purpose be doubtful of validity that it could return in a subsequent session, I urge every Member on both sides of the House to vote for House Bill 317 as amended.

No legislation is perfect, but I say to you that this is a step forward and by voting for it you will aid Pennsylvania to become a greater state.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was previously considered by the House we had considerable debate and were informed by the Chairman of the Highways Committee that this bill was originally introduced to bring some financial benefit to the highways and the highway funds of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I would now like to remind the Members of the House that because of the various amendments put into this bill, not only by the House but by the other chamber, that we are now totally unqualified to receive any funds from the Federal Government for the condemnation of land, if necessary, to prohibit the erection of sign boards and posters along the Federal highways. By passing this act, concurring in these Senate amendments, should the bill eventually be signed by the Governor, it would mean that we are mandating and directing the Department of Highways to expend these funds from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Highways funds and not to receive any reimbursement from the Federal Government.

We are in essence directing our Highway Department to spend the money that should be used for road construction to condemn certain rights-of-way in the use of the land along Federal projects. I certainly think there are some merits to the contentions of those supporting this bill from an aesthetic viewpoint, and although I do not agree with those gentlemen, they have some merit in their argument.

I say this, we should not direct our administration, our Department of Highways to take funds from the construction of our state roads, our secondary roads, our highways and use it for condemning 1300 and some feet on either side of Federal roadways for any purpose, whether it be signboards, service stations or any type of business. We are spending money that we should spend for road construction and you all know we need such moneys, and we should not be spending it so promiscuously on prohibiting some use of land.

I would like to call to your attention the statement of the Chairman of the Highways Committee of this honorable body, Mr. Comer, when he stated, I believe more or less for financial benefit, in answer to a question on what benefit this would be to the Commonwealth.

There would be no financial benefit, ladies and gentlemen. I might say that as the other chamber has amended the bill it makes it mandatory now that this bill shall not apply to municipalities where there are real estate regulations. I think all of us are familiar with our local municipal laws and regulations and we know that generally cities and boroughs have such regulations and generally township and rural areas do not have such regulations. So as the other chamber has amended this bill it now applies mainly, to townships but it will not apply to the cities and boroughs who generally have or may hereinafter as the bill states regulate the uses of the land.

I would also like to call to your attention an amendment by the other chamber which excludes, where it states on page 3, "where the land used is now or shall be hereafter clearly established as industrial or commercial." That would mean that you may erect sign boards and so forth along commercial or industrial properties but you may not erect such signboards on farmlands. Again, the farmlands are primarily discriminated against. I think that is possibly why the State Grange Association has come out in opposition to this particular legislation as it is now amended.

Along with these amendment, of course, were the original objection that many people had to the bill, that of the taking away of some income from property owners that they have when they lease their ground up to anywhere from $10 to $15 a year. I think now the way the bill is amended there is no possibility of the Commonwealth securing any funds from the Federal Government and that we should not here direct our Department of Highways to take road construction money and spend it buying someone's property.

Mr. McCORMACK. As you know, Mr. Speaker, when House Bill 317 was first introduced I was one of the sponsors of the bill. Sometime subsequently the bill had been so amended and changed and rather emasculated that I took a somewhat unprecedented step in asking leave to withdraw my name as sponsor.

I did that to dramatize in a sense what had been happening with respect to this bill board legislation, in the hope that at some subsequent time in this Legislative Session there would be a new bill or amendment that would restore the bill to its original form. We have this amended bill on the calendar now, and as you know it is in the closing days of the 1959 Session. I think at this particular time we should be practical. We are faced with the question of whether or not this Legislature should adopt a policy with respect to control of billboards along the interstate and defense highways of this Commonwealth. It is either some control or nothing at all. There is no time left for further changes in the bill, and we have here a bill that would at least set forth the policy of this Commonwealth.

Section 1 of this bill was amended originally and that was one of the reasons I withdrew, because it changed the legislative findings, but I think the legislative findings as further amended by the Senate should be imprinted clearly in our minds so we can decide at this particular time whether or not we want to accede to the wishes of those civic organizations throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that are vitally concerned with the menace that highway users are faced with in the form of multi-billboards, both in size and in number.

I think if we read the legislative findings today we cannot help passing this amended bill. The findings as amended are as follows: The General Assembly finds that it is in the public interest and for the public welfare to promote the safety, convenience and enjoyment of public travel and the free flow of interstate and intrastate traffic, to protect the public investment in the national system of interstate and defense highways and to preserve scenic beauty adjacent to such system by controlling the erection and maintenance of advertising devices adjacent to that system.

There is nowhere set forth in the legislative findings of Section 1 that it is the purpose behind this legislation to get money from the Federal government. I think when that was raised preliminarily, when this bill was before us previously, it was secondary to the original purpose. This is really the only purpose upon which we are called upon to approve this legislation, the findings in Section 1. I think they are valid findings, and I think we should concur and set forth once and for all that we are aware of the problem that exists and that subsequently we can amend this Act, if it becomes law, to conform with the findings by the Secretary of Highways and by this Legislature. So, I would ask that both sides concur.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I can concur very heartily with what the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Murphy, stated and I certainly disagree with my colleague from Allegheny County as to the proper exercise of lease powers as set forth in this bill. I do not think any state can take 660 feet of land away from either side of any kind of highway and say to that landowner, you cannot do with that as you see fit. Possibly 50 feet, yes, within the eyes of the traveling public, possibly 50 yards, but we are talking about 330 yards from each side of the highway, and that is a considerable distance, believe me. I do not think on Constitutional grounds this bill can ever stand up under those provisions.

I want to point out, too, on page 6, that subparagraph D, and I want to read it: "The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any sign painted on the surface of any building." Any building. Now, what is a building? Four brief sides, four posts to support it and a little roof over it. You paint a sign on it. Keep it up and you can erect a billboard. You mean to tell me that is going to correct scenic beauty in Pennsylvania to allow any landowner to put up any kind of a building that he wants to put up on his grounds and put an advertising sign on it? It does not restrict the size of the building, it does not restrict how many buildings he may put up to put signs on. There are no restrictions whatsoever. That paragraph completely nullifies anything you are trying to do toward scenic beauty and advertising billboards over this Commonwealth. It is a monstrosity with that section in it.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I listened with interest to the debate on this bill and its amendments and I am quite disturbed about the thought that some folks here in the Legislature seem to have about the privilege that should be given to the Highway Department to go out and condemn 660 feet on each side of the highway to, as I see it, principally make a more scenic highway.

I would like to inform the Members of the Legislature who seem to be interested in this type of legislation that while it may be rather harmless in a lot of ways in its present form it is just one of those methods of getting your foot in the door where you can go out and control the land that some farmer is trying to scratch a living out of and tell him what he can do or what he cannot do on a certain strip of land on that farm. I personally think it is so ridiculous that it is not worth the time of debate.

However, there are a lot of people here who think differently. If you will notice on page 6, beginning on 5 and continuing on page 6, where agricultural products cannot be advertised along his own farm, unless the Secretary of Highways so desires. Now, to me, that is going pretty far.

The people who are trying to make a living in agriculture today are having enough difficulty without having the state spend our tax money that should be helping on some of their dirt roads to go out and spend that same money along the better highways to make them look better for those people in the city who come out and drive over them principally for looks. I hope the people in this House will have a little thought for the farmer and oppose this bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, at this late hour on a Monday evening I know that the words I am going to say will fall on many deaf ears, for I am pretty well convinced of what the result will be here today.

I do want to correct a couple of things in the record. The section the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Farabaugh, spoke of, which is listed as section 4, subsection (3), beginning on page 5, deals with permitting the farmers to advertise their agricultural products. You read the first part of the section and then read subsection (3), it deals with that.

Then to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, evidently in the years of his lifetime in this Commonwealth he never heard of the old Mail Pouch sign on a barn, because if he reads subsection (D) and understands it, "The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any sign painted on the surface of any building," regardless of whether the building is located within a right-of-way range. He will find it deals with just that very old sign that I guess for a hundred years has been a part of Pennsylvania, where dear old Mail Pouch was painted on the side of the barn and said "Chew Mail Pouch," or something, I do not know, just what.

This is a step in the right direction. This legislation is no way near that legislation that we debated in this House many months ago, outside of the preamble section which Mr. Goldstein from Allegheny County debated and, I believe, even offered an amendment to similar to the words that you will find on page 2. I think we could pretty well agree in the end that perhaps that was needed.

This bill is a long way from the bill that we had written here in the House in which we stated clearly the position of the bill dealing with future roads on the interstate system, subsidized or aided by Federal funds.

But, Mr. Speaker, since this is the best that seems to have arrived in this House from the Senate, all I can say is that I ask that this House do concur in the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate, and vote affirmatively on the roll call—so that no one else will have to ask—slowly, clearly and very distinctly.

Mr. FARABAUGH. I would like to read one short paragraph to correct the statement that has been made here about what I said.

Section 4, Exceptions, Regulations of Secretary
(a) "The following advertising devices may be constructed erected and maintained subject to regulations which the Secretary of Highways shall promulgate relating to their location, number, size—"

So I was right in the beginning.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 866.

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) changing names of State Teachers' Colleges.

HOUSE BILL No. 1971.

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "Liquor Code" authorizing the sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages during certain hours on Sunday in hotels in cities of the first and second class under certain conditions.

HOUSE BILL No. 1977.

An Act amending the "Pennsylvania Election Code" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) authorizing and providing procedures whereby certain qualified registered electors absent from or unable to attend their regular polling places may cast their votes * * * further regulating the dates for furnishing information as to offices to be filled for filing and circulating nomination petitions and nomination papers and providing penalties.

HOUSE BILL No. 1980.

An Act amending the "Pennsylvania Election Code" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333) further regulating the marking and counting of ballots.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. SILVERMAN, SCARCELLI, PARLANTE, McKEEVER and McCORMACK RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, January 5, 1960 at 9:30 a.m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6:49 p.m. EST,) the House adjourned.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1959.

143rd of the General Assembly.

Vol. 36.

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1960.

No. 128.

SENATE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1960.

The Senate met at 10:30 o'clock a.m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, as we come to the end of a year and the end of a Session, and we look back over the past, we thank Thee for the many opportunities that have come to us to render service to Thee and to our fellow man. We know that because of human weakness, we have failed sometimes, but we pray that the many things we have done for good will far outweigh those instances in which we failed, and we ask Thy forgiveness.

As we go into a new year and a new Session, it is just like traveling a new road. Each turn will open up new opportunity, a new view, and we pray for strength and courage to meet all things that come to us in a manifold way. If it is a cross, we pray for the patience to bear it. If it is a crown, we pray for the humility to wear it, so that in all our doings and in all our thinking, we may be pleasing to Thee.

We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has adopted Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1977.

HOUSE NONCONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL

He also informed the Senate that the House has non-concurred in amendments made by the Senate to HB 317.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HB 317

Mr. BERGER. Mr President, I move that the Senate insist upon its amendments concurred in by the House to the foregoing bill.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the presence of the Senate signed the following bills: HB 866, 1917, 1977 and 1980.

resolutions reported from committee

Mr. BERGER, from the Committee on Rules, reported without amendment, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 97, entitled:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE HIGHWAY SYSTEM AND ALL OF ITS RELATED PROBLEMS

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of Senate Resolution, Serial No. 97.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, before we vote on this resolution, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the gentleman please advise us whether, by this resolution, he intends to investigate the Department of Highways?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the purpose of this resolution is to conduct a study of all phases of the highway situation in Pennsylvania and is not, in any sense, intended to call for an investigation.

I have here an amendment which I intend to offer immediately for that purpose.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise the Members of the Senate whether the amendment will strike out the word "investigate" and substitute the word "study," so that an over-all picture can be had as a result of this resolution, rather than looking into any particular department or phase of the department's work, thereby possibly hindering that work?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the amendment which I have in my hand strikes out the word "investigations" where it appears in the resolution. It does not substitute the word "study" because that word is already in the resolution.

Mr. President, I now desire to offer an amendment to this resolution.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend resolution, page 2, first resolve by striking out the words "investigate and".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Will the Senate adopt the resolution, as amended?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 97, ADOPTED AS AMENDED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt Senate Resolution, Serial No. 97, as amended.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted, as amended.

REPORTS FROM THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

Mr. MALLERY submitted the following communications and reports from the Joint State Government Commission.

The communications were read by the Clerk as follows:

The PRESIDENT. The communications will be noted in the Journal, and the Official Comments printed in the Appendix.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE FOR THE INTERIM

The PRESIDENT. The next order of business before the Senate is the election of the President pro tempore, for the interim.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President and Members of the Senate the criteria of a leader embody five cardinal principles: First, intellectual honesty; second, rugged individualism; third, diplomacy; fourth, tact; and fifth, adherence to the Golden Rule.

Mr. President, I am happy to nominate for President pro tempore of the Senate, for the interim, one who possesses all of these attributes, the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I deem it an honor on my part to have the privilege of seconding the nomination of the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor, for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate, for the interim.

Mr. MCGINNIS. Mr. President, I am glad to have the privilege of also seconding that nomination.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, at this time, I would like to place in nomination for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate, for the interim, the name of Senator Frank W. Ruth. This gentleman has served both in the Senate and in the House with distinction. He served as Floor Leader in the House, a leader here in the Senate, and has been a real stalwart to the Democratic Party as well as in the affairs of State.

It is my pleasure to place his name in nomination for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate, for the interim.

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I also second that motion.

NOMINATIONS CLOSED

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the nominations for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate, for the interim, be closed.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. On the election of the President pro tempore, for the interim, the Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and resulted as follows:

The PRESIDENT. The Honorable M. Harvey Taylor having received twenty-eight votes, and the Honorable Frank W. Ruth having received twenty-two votes, the Chair declares the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor duly elected President pro tempore of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a five minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus, to be held in the Conference Room at the rear of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a five minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. WAGNER submitted the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1108, which was laid on the table.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor, which were laid on the table:

MEMBER OF THE PENNSYLVANIA PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

November 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Robert W. Anthony, 1200 Seventeenth Avenue, Altoona Blair County, for appointment as a member of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, for the residue of the term ending April 1, 1963, vice Hon. Henry Houck, Pottsville, deceased.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF HARRISBURG STATE HOSPITAL

June 22, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following person for appointment as a member of the Board of Trustees of Harrisburg State Hospital, from September 26, 1957, for a term of four years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified.

Robert Lee Jacobs, Carlisle, Cumberland County.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF PENNSYLVANIA TRAINING SCHOOL AT MORGANZA

October 19, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following for appointment as members of the Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza, until the third Tuesday of January 1961, and until their successors are appointed and qualified:

Lynwood F. Blount, 1325 North Sixtieth Street, Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, to fill a vacancy.
S. Harry Galfand, 502 West Allens Lane, Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, to fill a vacancy.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE-ELECT, FOR THE INTERIM, TO THE ROSTRUM

The PRESIDENT. The Chair takes pleasure in naming as the Committee to Escort the President pro tempore-elect, for the interim, to the rostrum: the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Chapman; the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery; and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The committee will proceed in the performance of its duty.

'Whereupon, the President pro tempore-elect, for the interim, was escorted to the rostrum of the Senate.

ADMINISTRATION OF OATH OF OFFICE TO PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE-ELECT, FOR THE INTERIM

The PRESIDENT. The oath of office will be administered to the newly elected President pro tempore of the Senate, for the interim, by the Honorable William H. Neely, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

(The oath of office was administered accordingly.)

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I am not going to make any speech at this time. However, I wish to thank you gentlemen. I only have a few minutes to work on that contingent fund.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HB 1108 TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Without objection, Mr. BERGER called from the table HB 1108.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO CONSIDER REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HB 1108

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1108, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) providing a general standard reimbursement fraction for all purposes where reimbursement fractions are used; and revising the basis for reimbursement on account of instruction.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wish to oppose action on this bill for the following reason.

We have taken the position, during this entire Session, that unless there are the necessary funds to enact the legislation in front of us, then we would have to vote against it. We feel this is one of the ways to cut down on the deficit. We also feel that this is a rather shoddy way of doing business. You send over the money which you want spent, you authorize it to be spent and you direct where it should be spent. However, you do not send the revenue-raising legislation with it.

There has been a bill in the Finance Committee for some time; namely, the stocks and bonds tax. If that was unacceptable, there were other revenues which could have been raised. None of these have been acted upon. I believe the only thing the Governor can do on this measure is to veto it when it comes to him, because there is no money to enact or follow up this legislation. I am sure the gentlemen on the other side would not operate their own businesses in that manner. Therefore, I do not think we should operate the affairs of the Commonwealth in this manner.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think the Constitution states that any bill to be voted upon must be on our desks, I know this Report of Committee of Conference is not on our desks over here and, therefore, I do not know how we can vote upon this bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I asked for unanimous consent and if it is not received, then, of course, we cannot vote on this Conference Committee Report.

Mr. BARR. I will not give my consent, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Very well, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. There being objection to the immediate consideration of the Report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1108, the matter will not be considered at this time.

SENATE RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

Mr. ELLIOTT, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, January 5, 1960.

RESOLVED, That a committee of three Senators be appointed to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor, and inform him that the Senate is now ready to adjourn sine die, and to inquire if he has any further communications to make.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO NOTIFY THE GOVERNOR THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE

The PRESIDENT. Pursuant to the resolution just adopted, the Chair wishes to advise that the President pro tempore has appointed, as a committee to notify the Governor that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die, the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Elliott; the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade; and the gentleman from York, Mr. SEYLER.

This committee will proceed to discharge its duties immediately.

EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. MALLERY,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of considering certain nominations made by the Governor.

Which was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported from committee at today's Session.

NOMINATIONS TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I call from the table for consideration the nominations reported from committee today.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn sine die.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. This being the day and hour fixed by Concurrent Resolution for the final adjournment, and the hour of 12:00 m., Eastern Standard Time, having arrived, I hereby declare the 143rd Regular Session of the Senate of Pennsylvania adjourned sine die.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, January 5, 1960.

The House met at 9:30 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, Thou Whose providential care has watched over and protected us in days gone by, we turn to Thee this day with the outlook of those who have come to appreciate as well as recognize Thy care and concern. And we pray that this awareness may express itself in our dependency upon Thee, and our calling upon Thee for the help which Thou hast to give in all of life's problems and difficulties. Keep these stewards of Thine alert to their need of Thee, and by the presence of Thy Spirit enable them to use Thy assistance in the accomplishment of Thy will and way. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Subject to correction under questions of personal privilege, unless there is objection, the Journal for Monday, January 4, 1960 will stand approved.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1108

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1108.

The SPEAKER. This report is in print and has been placed on the Members' desks.

STATEMENT BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request permission to notify our Members to bring with them to the caucus the Conference Committee Report on House Bill No. 1108, Printer's No. 2138, which is on their desks. We will have a short caucus on the calendar, plus two bills, House Bill 317, the billboard bill which will be voted on again today, and Senate Bill 1232.

I would like to take a moment before the caucus to inform the membership of this House that they will be voting on House Bill 1108. When you vote on 1108 I request that you read it very, very carefully, because it is my belief that if you favor 1108 you will also stand up and vote for a tax bill, which outlines three specific tax measures to raise $16 million in funds to pay for 1108. It is absolute hypocrisy to stand up here and vote for 1108 and then not stand up and vote for a tax measure, when in the report of the Committee of Conference you will find the tax measures defined.

I do not know whether this report will pass this House or pass the Senate. I only know that I, individually, and many others, have checked this Conference Committee Report on 1108 and,—at least as indicated in a quick resume when I was briefed during the night—it is the intention of the conferees, who met all day yesterday and until some time last night in the neighborhood of 9:00 o'clock, to place 1108 on the Governor's desk.

When the sine die resolution is enacted this morning at 12:00 o'clock, the Governor then has a period of 30 days to act on this piece of proposed legislation. As I was briefed by the Conference Committee members, this bill would then be on the Governor's desk, and it outlines the three tax measures that would pay for 1108. Assuming that you place 1108 on, His Excellency, the Governor's desk today,—30 days would be approximately the 4th of February—by the fourth day of February you, would place on the Governor's desk the tax measure to pay for 1108. And you are bound to vote for one, two or three of the tax measures outlined in 1108, equivalent to approximately $16 million for one year, one payment to public education.

That is why I say to the Members here today that when you go to the caucus you will have in front of you an important decision to make. If you are for 1108, and are sincere in wanting to provide $16 million in new funds for public education, according to the plan outlined by the Conference Committee, then you will vote for either one, two or three tax measures defined in the Conference Committee report.

INTERROGATION

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. McCann.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to inquire of the Majority Leader if this Conference Committee Report has been submitted to the Attorney General and been approved as constitutional in the form in which it now appears before us?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to the Members of the Conference Committee, the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, or Mr. Stroup, or Mrs. Reibman. I cannot answer that question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might observe that it is not the usual matter for this House, prior to acting, to be fully advised by the Justice Department.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, whether it is the Justice Department, whether it is Legislative Reference Bureau or some other legal opinion, I am asking whether this report in the form in which it now appears before us constitutional. I do not think that we should be asked to vote upon a piece of legislation which might on the face of it be unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would again say, as the gentleman from Cameron well knows, that whenever the question of constitutionality is raised, the matter is referred to the House, the sovereign body, and not to any branch of the government.

The Chair might remark, incidentally, that if it was the desire of anyone to proceed in an unparliamentary fashion, the Chair would not have known a better way to go about it than House Bill 1108 in its present form.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I take it then the answer is that the House itself passes upon the constitutionality without the benefit of any advice.

The SPEAKER. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the Speaker. Now, may I further interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. There are three alternative tax proposals contained in this report. One is the increase in the corporate net income tax. Can the Majority Leader advise as to how much that tax would have to be increased in order to provide $16 million?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I think it would be well for me to yield to the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.

Late last night when they were telephoning me I did recommend that they secure the necessary amounts to raise $16 million, and I believe that in the night there were procedures being adopted to determine the percentage points. I will yield to the gentleman from Washington, and ask that he give us the information they may have secured by this time.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it would take approximately one-half percent for one year Corporate Net Income Tax. On the other taxes I do not, as yet, have the information.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the number two proposal is the removal of the manufacturer's exemption to the capital stock tax, is that right?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And you do not know how much that would produce?

Mr. POLEN. No. It was the feeling of the Committee that this was a one-shot proposition for a one-shot purpose and whatever fraction that would be necessary would be for one year, which is approximately $16 million. I do not, as yet, have the figures.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And number three; a flat tax paid on the amount of Federal Income Tax, enacted for one year. How much of a tax would have to be imposed?

Mr. POLEN. That is being explored to ascertain the amount that would be necessary.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Would the imposition of such a tax be constitutional?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, there are opinions both ways on that. I am not in a position to state. I would say that the other two taxes would be strictly constitutional. There might be a grave doubt on the third matter.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to further interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen.

I know it required a great deal of discussion. I know it has been a subject where there are very decided and divided opinions. But I would like to ask the gentleman from Washington if, when we voted on a four percent sales tax the whole amount of which was earmarked for educational purposes, there was not, at the time we voted on that tax, a provision for $28 million to apply toward 1108?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in a strict answer to the question, the answer would be no. I have previously given the explanation, however, that in a combination of taxes and appropriations outlined with an effective date of August 1, there was $28 million additional for schools, $4 million additional for hospitals.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Then there was calculated, at the time we voted for the four percent tax, $28 million, is that right?

Mr. POLEN. Not in the four percent tax, but in the entire tax package and in the entire appropriation package. There never, at any time, was $28 million exclusively in the four percent sales tax.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, what I am trying to get at is this: That at the time we voted on that tax the bipartisan committee had calculated $28 million among the tax packages, exclusive of the personal property tax, $28 million that we figured would be applied toward education. Not what showed up after the time we voted, but at the time we voted on the tax, we had calculated $28 million, had we not?

Mr. POLEN. No, Mr. Speaker, that is not correct as of the time we voted upon the tax. That was correct at the time the bi-partisan tax committee met and had the $28 million in there; that was correct at that time. But that was based upon an effective date of August 1, and also included other tax items which were subsequently changed by the other body.

Mr. TOMPKINS. When did we vote on that tax package?

Mr. POLEN. It was around the 20th or 21st of August, if I recall correctly. I know that it was about three weeks after the effective date we had originally set. All the estimates were based on the August 1 enactment.

Mr. TOMPKINS. What I am trying to get at is this: It was not until sometime after the four percent sales tax was voted upon and passed this House that we learned there would not be $28 million available to apply toward this educational program.

Mr. POLEN. It was considerably later when we learned that, because one of the items was the tax on bank shares, the gross receipts tax on gas companies. We had used in our estimates the two years that were in the bill when it passed the House. The bill was then in the Senate. However, the Senate changed that effective date to January 1, 1960, which reduced that amount. There was a loss of around $5.5 million due to the enactment of the four percent sales tax when it was enacted rather than being effective August 1.

I think that in the projections the gentleman from Cameron has used, they used cuts of $55 million in arriving at the $28 million, cuts to be made by the Senate. The cuts made by the Senate were approximately $42 million, so there was $13 million lost there. There was approximately $5.5 million lost due to the late enactment of the four percent sales tax. There was $5.8 million lost due to the fact that the Senate changed the gross receipts tax to a one year period rather than a two year period as it was considered by that committee. There was an actual over estimation of taxes on dry cleaning of about $4 million. When you add those all together you will see what happened to your $28 million.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am well aware of what the gentleman has said, but the fact still remains, so far as we on this side of the House are concerned, that on August 20, or whatever date it was that we passed the four percent sales tax, we passed it with the understanding and with the picture before us that there would be $28 million available. Now, this bill calls for $16 million available. Subsequent events may have changed that thing, but the fact still remains that we were promised $28 million at that time, were we not?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in the package of appropriations and taxes that we considered it is true we had the $28 million. At the time we voted upon the four percent sales tax we certainly knew that the estimates were based upon an August 1 enactment. It is true that subsequently other taxes were reduced by the Senate, which we did not, of course, know of when we voted on the four percent sales tax. But the point I would like to make to the gentleman is that this was a package of appropriation cuts and increased taxes, and it was not purely upon the four percent sales tax that this $28 million was to be raised.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, apparently we could argue all day long and get no further on the solution to this problem.

That is all, Mr. Speaker. I thank the gentleman. We will discuss this later on the consideration of this bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, at the proper time I would like to request twenty minutes for the purpose of a caucus, and I will ask that our membership bring with them the House calendar and 1108. We must act immediately on these bills, complete our caucus and return here, so that the Speaker of this House may sign all the legislation that will pass the House and Senate before 12:00 noon today, to be delivered to the Governor.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, since the Majority Leader has opened up this subject of 1108 and the fact that we have to go upstairs and decide on whether we want to vote for the bill with the idea of one of three taxes would be put on, I believe in answer to what he had to say I should give this impression.

I realize that the Conference Committee has done the best they could. I know that the Conference Committee in the last two or three days kept getting word from the Governor's office, there is no money, you cannot pass 1108 unless you pass taxes. I will veto it if you send it or put it on my desk. I know the Governor has said that and I am not going to blame the Conference Committee which has made the best of a bad deal. But the way it all adds up is, this is another squeeze play. You either take 1108 with the agreement to vote for one of three taxes or you do not get it at all.

This is another one of the famous squeeze plays of the Session. The Governor, in effect, has said to us, I have my appropriations, I am proud to say I have my program, it is signed, it is on my desk and the money is being spent, but I did not provide any money for the schools of Pennsylvania.

The last day of the Session, sure, you can have money for the most important thing in Pennsylvania: you can have a paltry $16 million but you have to stand up and promise you are going to vote for a corporate income tax and further drive business out of Pennsylvania, put the tax on capital stock again, or for the first time, pledge yourself to put a graduated income tax on the people of Pennsylvania.

In going upstairs now and asking our caucus to do this, I am sure I will have my tongue in my cheek. But I am just telling you what the innuendo is, what is handed to us here today on a silver platter, and it is the Governor's office that is doing it to us. He has his money for health, for mental health, and for welfare, for advertising this and that, and for keeping on 15,000 extra state employees, that money is in his pocket. But there is not a dime extra in the pocket of our schools of Pennsylvania, and here the last day of the Session, we can have a measly $16 million providing we, who have voted for taxes already and stood up and are being clobbered for it, must again say we are willing to vote for one of three taxes before next October.

I say it is a bitter pill to swallow and with that admonition we will go upstairs and we will caucus on this bill. I do not know how many people will vote for it, how many will stand up and say they will be willing to put on a graduated income tax. But once you put it on, it's on forever, remember that.

So, Mr. Majority Leader, you are saying, remember you have to vote for taxes. Mr. Tompkins pointed out here, we voted for taxes once; we voted for $28 million which we thought was available for the schools, and now the last day they say there still is not any money, you have to pledge yourself to vote for taxes for the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I listened with tongue in cheek because just a few days ago you had the opportunity to vote for another tax, for $55 million for education, and the Republican Senate said, no. They said no because the widows and orphans of this great Commonwealth did not want to provide the money for education. They are going to protect them. It was more important than education—$55 million; not $16.

It was not the Democrats that changed this bill. It was the Republican leadership of Pennsylvania that wrote the tax measures in this bill, aided by the Senate Republican Conferees of this Conference Committee. It was they who did not want to provide $55 million for education and waited until 9:00 o'clock the night before the Session was to adjourn.

The record will forever show that the people of Pennsylvania will decide when we take our case to them and say to them, you decide who is for education. It does not bother us to tax bonds and stocks or corporations to pay for public education, but you chose, no, and now today you will probably choose no again because your answer is only that the taxes for education can come from one field. We as Democrats are willing to provide for education out of stocks and bonds, corporation taxes, manufacturers' stock exemption, or the sales tax, which we did.

So you see our record is clear. We really are willing to support, and have proven that we will support public education this year, next year, and the years after that. But you will only support it when it fits within the groove of those taxes that you want to save for something more important, and there is nothing more important, in our opinion, than public education.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, before declaring a recess, desires to state that he is neither directly nor indirectly responsible in any way for the critical parliamentary situation that has arisen at this untimely hour.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann?

Mr. McCANN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, in his remarks a few minutes ago said that the people of Pennsylvania should pay for education. I would just like to have him clarify that statement by asking a question.

Does he believe that all the people of Pennsylvania should pay for public education?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the sales tax which is a major portion of the income of the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is clearly defined in the act as being for public education of the Commonwealth and if there is anybody other than the people, the greatest number of people of Pennsylvania, now paying their greatest share for education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the yield of sales tax, then I do not know how else we can decide it.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I am not discussing the sales tax. I would like to ask the gentleman if the personal property tax which he alluded to a while ago was collected from all the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. McCANN. It is collected from those people who have the necessary stocks and bonds and the yield, who are the people who will provide payment under that tax to be used for public education. In that case it would only be a portion of the people of the Commonwealth. Perhaps you and I, and others may not.

Mr. HELM. I would like to ask the gentleman if it applies to every county in the Commonwealth?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it applies to every county in the Commonwealth under the act, except the city of Pittsburgh. They now have the ten mills which those people have been paying for public education for many years, and in Philadelphia they have been paying two mills additional, while the rest of us have been paying only four mills in each county.

Mr. HELM. Then, I presume, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's answer to my question is that all the people of Pennsylvania should support public education through the personal property tax except the people of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, they already are, and the rest of us are not, paying their share in personal property tax. If you owned 10,000 shares of stock and you were a resident of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and you owned 10,000 shares of the same stock and were a resident of Kittanning, Armstrong County, you would pay far more for public education on the 10,000 shares in the city of Pittsburgh than you do in Kittanning, Armstrong County.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, that is purely and simply a local thing. They are paying that personal property tax for their local share of support for education. Now you are going to say to all the rest of the people in Pennsylvania, you are going to support education but we are not going to let the people of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia pay their fair share on the state level, is that not correct?

Mr. McCANN. No, we are going to go with them and pay the fair share all over the state, on all the stocks and bonds to the equivalent amount that everyone in the state would pay, which would be ten mills, as you know, whether you were in Pittsburgh, Greene County or Armstrong County. We are saying to them, you are paying it in the state fund, they are paying it in a local fund, but it is all for public education.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the gentleman is actually stating the question correctly. He is saying he is going to make everyone pay equally, but he still is making a special concession for the two large cities in the state of Pennsylvania so far as the public support of state education is concerned. That point I do not believe has been brought out in the discussion of personal property tax. Everyone is hiding behind the fact that it is those who have stocks and bonds pay it, or those who are widows and orphans and have small incomes. Actually, I believe, and I always have believed, that a tax should be borne equally by all the people of this Commonwealth.

I thank the gentleman.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I, too, want to join in the request for a caucus of twenty minutes.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. At the request of the respective Floor Leaders the Chair now declares a recess of twenty minutes for the purpose of Republican and Democratic caucuses.

The Chair hears no objection.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1108

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1108.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1108, entitled: "An act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled 'An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto,' increasing the basis for reimbursement on account of instruction, and changing the basis for reimbursement in certain cases."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

PAUL L. WAGNER,
DOUGLAS H. ELLIOTT,
HARRY E. SEYLER,
(Committee on the part of the Senate,)

J. DEAN POLEN,
JEANETTE F. REIBMAN,
STANLEY G. STROUP,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" increasing the basis for reimbursement on account of instruction and changing the basis for reimbursement in certain cases

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 1306 act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), known as the "Public School Code of 1949" amended September 7 1955 (P. L. 583) and February 17 1956 (P. L. 1067) is amended to read

Section 1306 Non-resident Inmates of Children's Institutions

(A) The board of school directors of any school district in which there is located any orphan asylum home for the friendless children's home or other institution for the care or training of orphans or other children shall permit any children who are inmates of such homes but not legal residents in such district to attend the public schools in said district [either with or without charge for tuition textbooks or school supplies as the directors of the district in which such institution is located may determine] When any home or institution having for its purpose the care and training of children and having non-resident children under its care is located in more than one school district educational facilities may be provided by either district as though the institution were located wholly in that district. If the district or districts in which the institution is located does not have facilities to accommodate the children in its schools or in a joint school of which it is a member the board of directors shall so notify the Superintendent of Public Instruction not later than July one. If the Superintendent of Public Instruction after investigation finds that neither the school district nor the joint school board if any can accommodate the non-resident inmates of the institution during the ensuing school term he shall direct the district and the joint school board if any to enter into an agreement with another school district or joint school board to accept them on a tuition basis.

Section 2 Sections 1307 and 1308 of the act are repealed. Section 3 Section 1309 of the act is amended to read

Section 1309 Cost of Tuition How Fixed The cost of tuition [in such cases] for any child attending a public school pursuant to section 1306 shall be fixed as is now provided by law for tuition costs in other cases except where for the accommodation of such children it shall be necessary to provide a separate school or to erect additional school buildings in which cases the charge for tuition for such children may include a proportionate cost of the operating expenses rental and interest on any investment required to be made in erecting such new school buildings the tuition herein provided for shall be paid annually by the Superintendent of Public Instruction [or the institution as the case may be] except when the inmate is not a resident of Pennsylvania in which case the tuition shall be paid by the institution.

Section 4 Section 2501 of the act amended July 13, 1957 (P. L. 864) and July 17, 1959 (Act No. 157) is amended to read

Section 2501 Definitions For the purposes of this article the following terms shall have the following meanings

(1) "District Pupils" [of a school district] shall designate all pupils who are residents of a given school district and are either enrolled in the public schools of the [Commonwealth and of adjacent states who are residents of a given school district except those pupils who are enrolled in the public schools maintained by the vocational school district the territorial limits of which include the school district "District Pupils" of a vocational school district shall designate all pupils enrolled in the public schools maintained by the vocational school district who are residents of the district] district or joint schools or area technical schools in which the district of residence participates or enrolled in other public schools and for whom the district of residence pays a tuition charge (i) under the provisions of sections 1372 2509.1 or 2562 of this act or (ii) in the case of pupils in average daily membership in a laboratory school of a State Teachers' College or attending public schools not located within this Commonwealth a tuition charge approved or determined by the Department of Public Instruction

(2) "Teaching Units" consist of twenty-two (22) high school pupils or thirty (30) elementary school pupils. Fractions thereof shall be fractional teaching units. If a district's pupil-teacher ratio exceeds thirty-three (33) its district teaching [unit] units shall be obtained by multiplying the total number of all teaching units as defined above by thirty-three (33) and dividing the product so obtained by the pupil teacher ratio of the district. High school pupils are those pupils in a secondary school program classified as such by the Department of Public Instruction but in no case shall include any pupils below grade seven (7).

(3) "Average Daily Membership" shall be computed in accordance with the rules of procedure as established by the Department of Public Instruction for the school term 1944-1945.

(4) "Minimum Instruction Subsidy" shall designate the minimum amount per teaching unit payable on account of instruction by the Commonwealth to any school district [or vocational school district] under the provisions of this act. The minimum instruction subsidy shall be one thousand dollars ($1000).

(5) "Maximum Instruction Subsidy" shall designate the maximum amount per teaching unit which may be payable on account of instruction by the Commonwealth to any one school district [or vocational school district] under the provisions of this act. The maximum instruction subsidy shall be [for the school year 1955-1956 four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) for the school year 1956-1957 five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) for the school year 1957-1958 and for each school year thereafter unless changed by act of the General Assembly] for the school year 1958-1959 [five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)] six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200) for the school year 1959-1960 and for each school year thereafter five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800). Provided That in the event that Federal moneys shall at any time be made available to the Commonwealth for school purposes the Superintendent of Public Instruction may from time to time increase the amount of the applicable maximum instruction subsidy to school districts [but not to vocational school districts] to an extent necessary to absorb the amount of any allocation of Federal moneys so that "maximum instruction subsidy" as hereinabove limited shall always have reference to payments made out of appropriations of Commonwealth moneys irrespective of any available Federal moneys.

(6) "Basic Account Standard Reimbursement Fraction" School districts' [or vocational school districts'] basic account standard reimbursement [fraction] fractions shall be computed annually in the month of December by the Department of Public Instruction.

In the case of a school district its basic account standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year [1955-1956 by subtracting from four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit by four one-thousandths (.004) and dividing the difference so obtained by four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) for the school year 1956-1957 by subtracting from five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit by four one-thousandths (.004) and dividing the difference so obtained by five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) for the school year 1957-1958 and for each school year thereafter unless changed by act of the General Assembly] 1958-1959 by subtracting from [five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)] six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit by four and [three-eighths] three-fourths one-thousandths [(0.004 3/8)] (.004 3/4) and dividing the difference so obtained by [five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)] six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200) for the school year 1959-1960 and each school year thereafter by subtracting from five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800) an amount determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit by four and three-eighths one-thousandths (.004 3/8) and dividing the difference so obtained by five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800).

[In the case of a vocational school district its basic account standard reimbursement fraction shall be computed for the school year 1955-1956 by subtracting from four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) an amount determined by multiplying the valuation per district teaching unit by three one-thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) for the school year 1956-1957 by subtracting from five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) an amount determined by multiplying the valuation per district teaching unit by three one-thousandths (.003) and dividing the difference so obtained by five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) for the school year 1957-1958 and for each school year thereafter unless changed by act of the General Assembly by subtracting from five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800) an amount determined by multiplying the valuation per district teaching unit by three and nine-thirty-seconds one-thousandths (.003 9/32) and dividing the difference so obtained by five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800).]

(7) "Subsidiary Account Reimbursement Fraction" The Department of Public Instruction shall compute the subsidiary account reimbursement fraction of each school district [and each vocational school district] annually in the month of December.

The subsidiary account reimbursement fraction of each school district and of each vocational school district shall be computed for the school year 1956-1957 and for each school year thereafter by subtracting from five thousand one hundred dollars ($5100) an amount to be determined by multiplying the school district's [or vocational school district's] valuation per district teaching unit by four one-thousandths (.004) and dividing the difference so obtained by five thousand one hundred dollars ($5100).

(8) "Capital Account Reimbursement Fraction" The Department of Public Instruction shall compute the capital account reimbursement fraction of each school district annually in the month of December.

The capital account reimbursement fraction of each school district shall be computed (i) by subtracting from four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) an amount to be determined by multiplying the school district's valuation per district teaching unit by four one-thousandths (.004) and dividing the difference so obtained by four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) and (ii) in the case of payments for every lease or contract entered into or approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction prior to August 26, 1953 and in the case of payments for every lease approved by the Department of Public Instruction on or after August 26, 1953, but prior to March 22, 1956 if the quotient obtained in (i) above is greater than five thousand nine hundred ninety-nine ten-thousandths (.5999) by multiplying the quotient obtained in (i) above by itself or if the quotient obtained in (i) above is less than six thousand ten-thousandths (.6000) by multiplying the quotient obtained in (i) above by fifty one-hundredths (.50). Provided, That if the quotient obtained in (i) above is negative it shall be treated as zero (0) or (iii) in the case of payments on account of buildings for which the lease is approved on or after March 22, 1956 or in the case of payments on account of the incurring of indebtedness by the issuance of general obligation bonds on account of buildings for which the general construction contract is awarded on or after March 22, 1956 if the quotient obtained in (i) above is greater than four thousand nine hundred ninety-nine ten-thousandths (.4999) by multiplying the quotient obtained in (i) above by itself or if the quotient obtained in (i) above is less than five thousand ten-thousandths (.5000) by multiplying the quotient obtained in (i) above by itself and by fifty one-hundredths (.50) and adding the product to the quotient obtained in (i) above multiplied by twenty-five one-hundredths (.25). Provided, That if the quotient obtained in (i) above is negative it shall be treated as zero (0).

(9) "Valuation". A school district's [or vocational school district's] valuation to be used for purposes of computing the basic account standard reimbursement fraction the subsidiary account reimbursement fraction and the capital account reimbursement fraction shall be the valuation placed upon its taxable real property by the State Tax Equalization Board.

(10) "Number of District Teaching Units for Purposes of Determination of Basic Account Standard Reimbursement Fraction Subsidiary Account Reimbursement Fraction and Capital Account Reimbursement Fraction." A school district's [or vocational school district's] number of district teaching units for purposes of determination of the basic account standard reimbursement fraction the subsidiary account reimbursement fraction and the capital account reimbursement fraction shall be obtained as follows (i) divide by twenty-two (22) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public high school during the preceding school term (ii) divide by thirty (30) the number of district pupils in average daily membership in a public elementary school during the preceding school term and (iii) add the quotients obtained under (i) and (ii) above except when the pupil-teacher ratio exceeds thirty-three (33) in which case the sum obtained under (i) and (ii) above shall be multiplied by thirty-three (33) and the product so obtained shall be divided by the pupil-teacher ratio of the district. No school district [or vocational school district] shall be credited with less than one teaching unit. No school district [or vocational school district] shall be assigned a basic account standard reimbursement fraction lower in value than the minimum instruction subsidy divided by the maximum instruction subsidy. All one-room schools operated in accordance with the provisions of this act shall if their operation is approved by the State Council of Education be credited with at least one teaching unit. The State Council of Education shall withhold its approval of any one-room one-teacher school unless (i) topography distance or condition of roads are such as to make transportation of pupils impractical or (ii) it is impossible to accommodate pupils in existing graded schools in the district or other districts or (iii) the district is financially unable to construct a consolidated school.

(11) "Actual Instruction Expense Per Elementary Teaching Unit Actual Instruction Expense Per Secondary Teaching Unit Actual Instruction Expense Per Joint Elementary Teaching Unit Actual Instruction Expense Per Joint Secondary Teaching Unit Actual Instruction Expense Per Area Technical School Teaching Unit" In 1958 in the month of September and thereafter annually in the month of September the Department of Public Instruction shall calculate for each school district for the immediately preceding school year the actual instruction expense per elementary teaching unit for elementary pupils educated in the district's public school the actual instruction expense per secondary teaching unit for secondary pupils educated in the district's public schools the actual instruction expense per joint elementary teaching unit for elementary pupils educated in the district's public school the actual instruction expense per secondary teaching unit for secondary pupils educated in the district's public schools the actual instruction expense per joint elementary teaching unit for elementary pupils educated in elementary schools of jointures of which the district is a member the actual instruction expense per joint secondary teaching unit for secondary pupils educated in secondary schools of jointures of which the district is a member the actual instruction expense per area technical school teaching unit for pupils educated in area technical schools in which the district participates the actual instruction expense per elementary teaching unit for elementary pupils residing in the district and educated in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth and the actual instruction expense per secondary teaching unit for secondary pupils residing in the district and educated in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth. In each case actual instruction expense per teaching unit shall be the sum of (i) and (ii) below but in no case shall include expenses for debt service capital outlay rentals of capital facilities and equipment salaries and expenses for school nurses for medical and dental services for driver education courses for reimbursable transportation of pupils for tuition paid to other school districts for reimbursable board and lodging in lieu of transportation for salaries of directors and supervisors of special education public school psychologists principals of special schools and assistants teachers of approved special classes for physically and mentally handicapped children clerks and assistants employed in programs for special education for school district contributions to the retirement fund and social security on behalf of directors and supervisors of special education public school psychologists principals of special schools and assistants teachers of approved special classes for physically and mentally handicapped children clerks and assistants employed in programs for special education for the cost of textbooks and supplies of the second class used in special education classes or schools for extension schools and classes for extension recreation activities for vocational extension education [or] for instruction of homebound children or expenditures financed by admissions fees charges or refunds (i) Expenses of general control per teaching unit Expenses of general control shall include salaries supplies and other expenses of the secretary's office commission or salary of treasurer tax collector auditors and legal service expenses of census enumeration and other expenses of business administration salaries of the superintendent of schools and clerks of the superintendent of schools expenses of supplies and other expenses of the superintendent of schools' office and other expenses of general control In the case of computation of actual instruction expense per elementary teaching unit for district pupils educated in the schools of the district and for district pupils educated in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth and actual instruction expense per secondary teaching unit for district pupils educated in the schools of the district and for district pupils educated in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth expenses of general control per teaching unit shall be calculated by dividing the foregoing listed expenses of general control of the school district by the number of teaching units based on the number of [all pupils who are residents of the school district and] district pupils who are in average daily membership in the public schools of the Commonwealth In the case of computation of actual instruction expense per joint elementary teaching unit and actual instruction expense per joint secondary teaching unit expenses of general control per teaching unit shall be calculated by dividing the foregoing listed expenses of general control of the school district by the number of teaching units based on the number of [all pupils who are residents of the school district and] district pupils who are in average daily membership in the public schools of the Commonwealth and adding thereto the quotient obtained by dividing the foregoing listed expenses of general control of the joint school [district] system by the number of joint teaching units based on the number of pupils who are residents of school districts that are members of the joint school [district] system and are in average daily membership in the schools of the joint school [district] system In the case of computation of actual instruction expense per area technical school teaching unit expenses of general control per teaching unit shall be computed by dividing the foregoing listed expenses of general control of the school district by the number of teaching units based on the [total] number of [all pupils who are residents of the school district and] district pupils who are in average daily membership in the public schools of the Commonwealth and adding thereto the quotient obtained by dividing the foregoing listed expenses of general control of the area technical school by the number of area technical school teaching units based on the number of pupils who are residents of districts participating in the area technical school and are in average daily membership in the area technical school (ii) Expenses of the school district joint school [district] system area technical school or such other school district within the Commonwealth in which the [districts'] districts pupils are educated as the case may be on account of instruction auxiliary agencies and coordinate activities operation of school plant maintenance of school plant and fixed charges and each separately for elementary and for secondary schools per teaching unit calculated by [dividing the sums of] summing (a) (b) (c) (d) [and] (e) and in the case of districts or joint systems which operate special classes or schools (f) below and dividing said sums by the numbers of elementary secondary joint elementary joint secondary and area technical school teaching units respectively based on the number of all pupils on an equivalent full-time basis in average daily membership in the public schools of the district or joint [district] system or the area technical school or other school district within the Commonwealth in which pupils of the district are educated as the case may be (a) expenses of instruction [to include] including salaries of supervisors and other expenses of supervisors salaries of principals and principals' clerks supplies of the principals' offices other expenses of supervision teachers' and all teacher-librarians' salaries textbooks library books supplies used in instruction including library supplies expenses of attending

Section 5 Section 2501 of the act is amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read

Section 2501 Definitions For the purpose of this article the following terms shall have the following meanings

(12) "Actual Instruction Expense Per County-operated Special Class Elementary Teaching Unit and Actual Instruction Expense Per County-operated Special Class Secondary Teaching Unit" For any school district the actual instruction expense per county-operated special class elementary teaching unit shall be the "tuition charge per elementary pupil" which the school district pays to the Commonwealth as provided in section 2509.1 of this act multiplied by thirty (30).

For any school district the actual instruction expense per county-operated special class secondary teaching unit shall be the "tuition charge per high school pupil" which the school district pays to the Commonwealth as provided in section 2509.1 of this act multiplied by twenty-two (22).

In the event that a "tuition charge per elementary pupil" or "tuition charge per high school pupil" has not been established the charge fixed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction pursuant to section 2509.1 and paid by the school district shall for the purposes of this clause be the "tuition charge per elementary pupil" or "tuition charge per high school pupil" as the case may be.

Section 6 Section 2502 and subsection (a) of section 2503 of the act amended July 13, 1957 (P. L. 864) are amended to read

Section 2502 Payments on Account of Instruction (a) Every school district [and every vocational school district] shall be paid by the Commonwealth on account of the instruction of pupils an amount to be determined by multiplying the numbers of elementary secondary joint elementary joint secondary [or] area technical school county-operated special class elementary or county-operated special class secondary teaching units each based on the number of [all] district pupils except kindergarten pupils who [are residents of the district and] are in average daily membership in the district's public schools joint elementary schools [or] joint high schools [or] area technical schools or special classes for handicapped children operated by a county board of school directors respectively and in the case of kindergarten pupils based on the number of equivalent full-time kindergarten teachers employed at the rate of one teaching unit per teacher and for the school year 1957-1958 and for each school year thereafter the numbers of elementary or secondary teaching units

[each based on the number of all pupils who are residents of the district and] on account of district pupils who are in average daily membership in the elementary schools or secondary schools of other school districts within the Commonwealth by the district's basic standard reimbursement fraction and [for the school year 1955-1956 by four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900)] [for the school year 1956-1957 by five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300)] for the school year 1957-1958 and for each school year thereafter] by the lesser of actual instruction expense per elementary secondary joint elementary joint secondary area technical school county-operated special class elementary county-operated special class secondary elementary educated in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth secondary educated in the public schools of other districts within the Commonwealth teaching unit each as the case may be or for the school year 1958-1959 [five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800)] six thousand two hundred dollars ($6200) [For the school year 1953-1954 and each school year thereafter teaching units shall be based on the number of all pupils except kindergarten pupils who are residents of the school district in average daily membership in the district's public schools and in elementary schools and high schools operated by joint boards of which the district of residence is a member and in area technical schools in which the district of residence participates. In the case of kindergarten pupils teaching units shall be one for each kindergarten teacher employed by the district] or for the school year 1959-1960 and each school year thereafter five thousand eight hundred dollars ($5800) Provided That for the school year 1957-1958 and for each school year thereafter [additional] teaching units [shall be based on the numbers of all] on account of district pupils except kindergarten who [are residents of the district and] are in average daily membership in the elementary schools of other districts in the Commonwealth or who are in average daily membership in the secondary schools of other districts within the Commonwealth [Further provided That in the case of such pupils teaching units shall be calculated on the basis of thirty-five (35) elementary pupils other than kindergarten pupils and twenty-six (26) secondary pupils per teaching unit respectively In the case of district kindergarten pupils in average daily membership in elementary schools of other districts in the Commonwealth the number of teaching units shall be the number of equivalent full-time kindergarten teachers employed by the district of attendance prorated to the district of residence on the basis of average daily membership.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section when because of sparsity of population road or climatic conditions or lack of other available high school facilities the State Council of Education has approved the continued operation of a small high school the district shall receive an amount based on a number of teaching units equal to the number of teachers approved by the State Council of Education as being required to provide a satisfactory program in such school provided that the number of teachers employed is not less than the number approved.

(c) For no year shall any school district [or vocational school district] receive less than the minimum subsidy per teaching unit [nor shall any school district of the first class A during the school year 1953-1954 for the school year 1952-1953 or during the school year 1954-1955 for the school year 1953-1954 or during the school year 1955-1956 for the school year 1954-1955 receive less per teaching unit than the amount received by any district of the first class].

Section 8 Section 2510 of the act amended July 13, 1957 (P. L. 864) is amended to read

Section 2510. Payments on Account of Extension Classes and Instruction of Home Bound Children Every school district regardless of classification shall be paid by the Commonwealth [for every school term of the school years prior to the school year 1957-1958 on account of approved extension classes and the instruction of home bound children an amount determined by multiplying the mandated minimum salaries of instructional employees conducting such classes and instructing home bound children by the district's subsidiary account reimbursement fraction and for the school year 1957-1958 and] for each school year [thereafter] on account of approved extension classes except adult extension recreation classes and on account of the approved instruction of home bound children an amount determined by multiplying the mandated minimum salaries of instructional employees certificated for conducting such classes and instructing home bound children by the district's subsidiary account reimbursement fraction.

Section 9. The provisions of this act shall not become effective until the effective date of one of the following taxes (1) increase of the corporate net income tax (2) removal of the manufacturer's exemption to the capital stock tax (3) flat tax paid on the amount of Federal income tax enacted for one year to provide revenue for educational purposes sufficient to meet the additional costs provided for by this act.

In the event this act becomes effective the additional payments to school districts under this act shall be made during the months of October November and December 1960.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1108.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of brevity I want to repeat what I had to say with respect to House Bill 1108 before we went up to caucus.

Since we had our caucus I have not changed my opinion on the situation that is presented before us. Here is a bill in the eleventh hour that we are supposed to vote for with our hands tied with respect to three tax measures. In other words, a bill by which those of us who vote for this are pledging ourselves to vote for one of these three tax measures whether we like them or not.

It seems to me that during the coming Session of the General Assembly and the speech of the Governor, this afternoon, where we expect him to outline a real great program for 1960, that if this bill should fail today, we in the next Session of the General Assembly could address ourselves to the school problem. You would not have to write a new formula, but you could make an appropriation to school districts just the same as you do in House bills for universities or any other institution in Pennsylvania. I grant you it would take 2400 appropriations, but it could be done.

In a few months we will know how much the sales tax and how much the CNI are bringing in, and we would not have to go through this farcical thing that we are being asked to do here today. All of us want to do the right thing by our schools. We have been preaching it and fighting for it all year long. The Senate, in August, said they would not pass the Personal Property Tax, but even so the Governor stuck to it and said it is that or nothing. The Ways and Means Committee did not bring out any other tax measures, and there we are now with a skimpy, measly $16 million for our schools, and then if we vote for that we are committing ourselves to further hurt business in this state or else put on a graduated income tax. That is my personal feeling about it.

Here is another thing. If this bill should fail now the question then would recur, would we agree to the bill as amended by the Senate, so all would not be lost if this Conference Report fails, as I understand it?

Therefore, I am asking as many on our side as possible to vote no on this bill. We have the next Session coming up; we can address ourselves to the sole problem of schools. I cannot conceive of anything coming up in the 1960 Session except education. We would have plenty of time to do a job and we can provide well for the schools, and, if necessary, enact taxes. But this is only a farcical thing that is put in front of us in the dying minutes of this Session, and I am personally not going to vote for it.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I think this Conference Committee Report that is before us can best be characterized by a phrase that the Speaker has used here on a good many occasions during this Session, this is a "patch on a patch."

There have not been too many times in this Session when I have found myself in agreement with the gentleman from McKean, the Minority Leader, and certainly I do not agree with all of his reasoning as to why he is not going to vote for this bill. But I feel it incumbent upon me to explain to the Members of the House why I also am not going to vote for this bill.

There has not been, in my opinion, any need greater in this state than some form of help to our local school districts from the state for the increased costs of public education. It is the most important problem in the state, in my opinion. I think, too, there are not many Members here in the House who would disagree with me when I say that the level of taxation, at the local level, has just about reached its limit. They must turn to the state for help. I say to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House, if we pass this bill now, if we adopt this Conference Committee Report, this will effectively end any hope for increased aid to our public schools in the year 1960.

I think this Conference Committee Report is a hollow mockery of what this Legislature should be doing in the field of public education. I say that it will be seized upon by those whose cry is "lower taxes at any cost"; it will be seized upon by them as the sole answer to our school subsidy problem, and we will have no action in the next Session of the Legislature on this important problem. I say we should put this off. We should consider the program thoroughly, we should enact an adequate program of school subsidies. To vote for this today, in my opinion, will foreclose that in this coming Session.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to concur wholeheartedly in what the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, said about this bill and also to find myself in one of those few, rare occasions when I concur with the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey.

We are saying to ourselves if we vote for this Conference Report there are only three forms of taxation by which we will bind ourselves to try to solve our educational problem in this Commonwealth. I think that is wrong.

Secondly, the steel strike has now been settled. We are in a position to gather information with the returns that will be coming in the early part of this year, as to just exactly what the revenue picture is going to be and with all the indications of the unprecedented business we are going to have during this year which is going to produce unprecedented taxes for us, why should we sit here and say we are now going to put a noose around our necks for one of three forms of taxes, when we have this prospective picture before us? I cannot understand it from the standpoint of logic, reason, good legislation or anything else. I think this Conference Report should be voted down.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I think this question has been answered at the respective caucuses, but I think it ought to be placed in the record.

If the Conference Committee Report on House Bill 1108 falls, what is the question that recurs?

The SPEAKER. The question would recur, in the opinion of the Chair, on the amendments of the Senate.

Mr. HELM. We would then be voting on concurring in the amendments inserted by the Senate in 1108?

The SPEAKER. That would be the decision of the Chair.

Mr. HELM. I would like to ask further then, suppose in the meantime the Senate has already adopted the report of the Committee of Conference, what then would be the status of House Bill 1108?

The SPEAKER. We would have to resolve the differences between the two Houses. We now have possession of the bill. If we do not act on it, if we do not adopt the report, and the Senate has adopted the report, the bill would fall.

Mr. HELM. The report is currently in the possession of both Houses, however, is it not? I saw a Senate calendar and they have the report of the Committee of Conference printed on their calendar.

The SPEAKER. The original bill is in the possession of the House.

Mr. HELM. I thank you. We will be voting now on House Bill 1108 as we received it from the Senate.

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN SENATE
AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1108, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) providing a general standard reimbursement fraction for all purposes where reimbursement fractions are used and revising the basis for reimbursement on account of instruction.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1108, Printer's No. 2127 be laid on the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the membership on this side to vote against the motion.

I can not see anything wrong in passing 1108 for $16 million without our hands being tied on the taxes. I think the Governor should sign it. We can be in session, we will know in a few months how much the corporate net income tax is bringnig in, we will know whether the unprecedented Christmas business is going to swell the take from the sales tax, and the Governor knows that this General Assembly will provide the money, if we are to provide it. Therefore I believe as I said before Christmas on this bill, that we can put this on the Governor's desk, he should sign it, and then if later on in 1960 we find out that there is not the money, surely the money will be provided. Therefor I am asking the membership on my side of the House, the Republican side, to resist the motion to lay on the table.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that all the Democrat Members of this House support solidly the motion to lay 1108 on the table.

May I say to you wth emphasis that 1108 with the amendments out of it will be vetoed by the Governor.

Now then, you have failed to provide the revenue. You did not vote for tax measures. You voted against 1108, it is on the record, because you did not vote for the taxes. My motion is now to lay the bill on the table and let it die there for 1959.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would remind the respective floor leaders that under the Rules the motion to lay on the table is not debatable. However, perhaps that is more honored in the breach than in the observance, particularly when there is no objection.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the door having been opened, I am going to walk in.

I oppose the motion to lay this bill on the table because of the fact number one, that I refuse to be intimidated by any statement made by the Governor with reference to what he intends to do with a bill before it reaches his desk.

Number two, there are certain items in this bill which are very important so far as formulas are concerned. If additional moneys are needed for this bill in the 1960 Session we can provide that, but let us not kill these formulas in this bill. At least that can go through and be approved by the Governor and he will have 30 days in which to do this. If the Governor holds this up for a 30-day period as he has a right to do before he acts on it, this problem may yet be resolved in the manner in which it should be resolved.

I say vote against laying this bill on the table. Let us at least get this thing in some shape where we can do something for education.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is asking for a verification of the roll. If they intend to use the remaining time on the verification, I wish to notify the House we will have to drop the bills that members on the other side are wanting to put through. I have no objection. You may proceed.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the verification is not to consume the time. We tried to keep the roll and could not. We want to be sure it is right.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, when we met there was no verification indicated. It was, on our side, a party line vote. I informed the Minority Leader, and we were willing then to accept a fast roll call. Should you care for a verification then the other bills will drop by the wayside. I have no objection. You make the decision now.

Mr. GOODRICH. I think we have time to take care of the other bills. I want the verification.

Mr. McCANN. A verification is asked for, and if the Member wants it then Mr. Price's bill and the other bills will drop by the wayside. You make the decision; you are asking for it.

Mr. GOODRICH. I withdraw the request for a verification of the roll.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. GOODRICH and A. W. JOHNSON and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

SINE-DIE ADJOURNMENT

Mr. McCANN offered the following resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 5, 1960.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that this 1959 Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn Sine-Die on the 5th day of January, 1960, at 12 o'clock noon, E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON GOVERNOR

Mr. McCANN offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 5, 1960.

Resolved, That a committee of three Members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to wait upon His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth and inform him that the House of Representatives has completed the business of the 1959 Regular Session and is ready to adjourn sine-di at 12:00 o'clock noon, and inquire whether there are any further communications he may wish to make to the House of Representatives.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to wait upon the Governor Messrs. McCANN, A. W. JOHNSON and LOPRESTI.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2423, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Secretary of Forests and Waters to convey at public sale one hundred sixteen acres more or less of land situate in Potter Township Centre County to the Juniata Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bills from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2286.

An Act amending the "State Public School Building Authority Act" approved July 5, 1947 (P. L. 1217) omitting the requirement that the written approval of the Department of Public Instruction be given to specific contracts and leases.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2286.

An Act amending the "State Public School Building Authority Act" approved July 5, 1947 (P. L. 1217) omitting the requirement that the written approval of the Department of Public Instruction be given to specific contracts and leases.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Conference Committee on House Bill No. 2459 be discharged from further consideration of the bill, that we recede from the Senate amendments non-concurred in.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, that was quite a fast play. I want to know what is going on.

Mr. McCANN. You listen carefully and you will know. That was the highway bill on which the conferees from the Senate would not meet, Mr. Wade and Mr. Kessler. I am moving to discharge the Committee of Conference, concur in the Senate amendments and send the bill to the Governor. It is Printer's No. 2128.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire as to the status of the bill at the present time. Who is in possession of the bill?

The SPEAKER. Unfortunately the Chair is not officially informed as to the status or the location of the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bill is in a committee of conference appointed by the House and the Senate. It is a House bill which was sent to the Senate, and there amended. The House did not concur in the amendments. The Senate insisted upon its amendments. It is in a conference committee. We are now receding from the position of nonconcurrence.

The SPEAKER. The official bill, the Chair is now informed, is in the keeping of the Chief Clerk who has sent for the bill.

Mr. HELM. Is the original bill in the possession of the House of Representatives?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct.

MOTION TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 2459, together with the amendments, be laid upon the table. I ask for a roll call on the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we are satisfied with the motion. If they are going to kill the highway bill we will go for the party line vote.

Mr. McCANN. As discussed with the Speaker I am asking all the Members on this side to support my motion. The vote will be 98 to 93. The bill still will not pass.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I rise to cast my own vote. Is this the omnibus bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, so that this is clear, this is the highway bill as it came from the Senate; with all the amendments that Mr. Comer put in it in the House, plus what the Senate put in in the Senate. I assumed that Allegheny County would be voting with me, both sides; Luzerne, both sides; Bedford, both sides and some other counties that are in there. I do not know whether I am right or not.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. I am voting aye.

Mr. McCANN. The motion made by the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, was to lay the bill on the table. I oppose this motion, and all of the party votes on our side will vote not to put it on the table. I assume some Republican votes are also against putting it on the table. Then I am going to make a motion to concur, and send it to the Governor.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I request a slow roll call.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I insist upon a slow roll call. We will kill the bill, yes.

The SPEAKER. Upon the direction of the House the time will be extended until we can pass upon these matters. We do not have time to complete the roll call.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. AUKER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, can you move the clock back to start a regular annual Session provided by the Constitution?

The SPEAKER. Upon the direction of the House the Chair will so do.

Mr. AUKER. The Chair does not have a direction from the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is going to ask for the direction of the House. The Chair is not going to decide that matter.

Is the House in favor of prolonging the Session by moving the clock back?

The House gave its consent.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FULMER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FULMER. Will the Chair advise the House as to the position of the Constitutional amendment which was passed by the voters of the Commonwealth in the last General Election. Were we directed to convene the 1960 Session at 12:00 o'clock noon?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will answer the gentleman.

We were to convene at 12:00 o'clock noon, and 12:00 o'clock noon is whenever this House says it is.

Mr. FULMER. As a point of further parliamentary inquiry, does the Constitutional amendment as passed by the voters of Pennsylvania give the authority to the 1959 Session to decide the time of beginning the 1960 Session?

The SPEAKER. The courts have decided that in matters of record the courts do not go behind the record. If the House says it adjourned at 12:00 o'clock noon on this day, that, as far as the record is concerned, is when this House adjourned.

Mr. FULMER. Mr. Speaker, perhaps my question is not clear.

I am not raising the question as to when we adjourn this Session, I am raising the question as to when we convene the 1960 Session. I wish the Chair would advise me how this body, which has not yet convened in 1960, can turn the clock back in the 1959 Session?

The SPEAKER. When the House convenes, the Chair will say. "The hour of 12:00 having arrived, the House will be in order."

Mr. FULMER. I thank the Speaker.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, was the context of your ruling, which was just on the floor for a vote, that this House has the power to override the Constitution of Pennsylvania?

The SPEAKER. No, it does not have the power to override the Constitution, but the House has the power to make the record upon which its judgments would be based if it were contested in the courts. The tradition in this House has been for very many years that the hour of the day is what the House decides it is. When the matter was put to the membership of the House as to whether we would proceed on the tick of the clock to organize the House, the vote on the floor of the House was overwhelming.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, is it not correct parliamentary procedure to appeal to the House from the ruling of the Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The Chair did appeal to the House as to whether we should proceed in accordance with the standard schedule, and the House by an overwhelming vote said yes.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I set my watch by the House clock before it was set back, and I at this time move that we adjourn forthwith.

Mr. AUKER. I second the motion, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHERMAN. I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I understand there was a motion by the Majority Leader made prior to any motion on the other side. Following that there was a motion made by either the Minority Leader or someone else on the other side. I think the motion made by the Majority Leader should have preference. His came first. I move the previous question based on a motion made by our Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. There is pending a motion to adjourn which takes precedence. The Chair will put the motion to adjourn as soon as he has signed the bills that must be signed. Then we will take a roll call on the motion to adjourn. If the Chair does not sign these bills before this Session adjourns, the bills fall.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to adjourn?

(During the calling of the roll, the following Senate message was received).

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 5, 1960.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that this 1959 Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn Sine-Die on the 5th day of January, 1960, at 12 o'clock noon, E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires, for the benefit of the Members, to state our present parliamentary position. This morning we adopted a resolution to adjourn sine die at 12:00 o'clock. That did not become effective until the Senate concurred. The Senate has now concurred.

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour fixed by Concurrent Resolution, adopted by the Senate and the House of Representatives as the time when this General Assembly shall adjourn sine die, I now declare this 1959 Regular Session of the House of Representatives adjourned without day.
